GOVERNOR TO SIGN EXPOSITION BILL.

Agricultural Park Appropriation Is Now Assured to Los Angeles.

Quarter-Million for State Building Will Be Supplemented by Expenditure of as Much More by City and County—Armory Going on Same Site—Great Triumph for Attorney Bowen.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gov. Gillett will sign the Stanton bill making an appropriation of $250,000 for an exposition building in Agricultural Park, Los Angeles.

He made this announcement late this afternoon to three Los Angeles men who came here for the express purpose of inducing him to sign the measure—Willis Booth, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Stoddard Jess, vice-president of the First National Bank, and ex-Mayor William D. Stephens, vice-president of the American National Bank.

There are three bills pertaining to the Agricultural Park improvement. One makes the appropriation for the exposition building; another enables the Sixth District Agricultural Association to lease portions of the park to Los Angeles city and county for fifty years for certain purposes, and a third enables the city and the county to lease land from the association.

Telegram Confirms.

Confirmation of the foregoing dispatch came to The Times last evening in a telegram from the three men named. The telegram is as follows:

"SACRAMENTO, April 17, 1909.

"The Times, Los Angeles:

"Gov. Gillett recognizes benefit to all California of State exposition building and other contemplated improvements in Agricultural Park, and will sign appropriation and enabling bills.

"STEPHENS, JESS and BOOTH."

Thus is crowned with success the untiring labors of former Councilman W. M. Bowen, who for about ten years has worked to save Agricultural Park to the people of the State, rescuing it from the grasp of designing schemers; then, with the title secure, seeking to improve the valuable, 110-acre tract for the benefit of the State in general and of Los Angeles in particular.

Mr. Bowen received a telegram from Messrs. Stephens, Jess and Booth, similar to that received by The Times. He probably was the happiest man in Los Angeles last night.

The signing of the bills will be followed at once by activity on the part of the directors of the Sixth District Agricultural Association, who will inaugurate the exposition building project. State Engineer Ellery will prepare the plans and specifications for the structure; in fact, through the efforts of Mr. Bowen, he already has made rough plans. The first installment of the appropriation will be sufficient to start the work, and more will be available as needed.

MASSIVE STRUCTURE.

A permanent and massive structure of steel and concrete in the form of a Maltese cross is contemplated. It will have a great arched roof, mostly of glass, and space will be provided in the building for each county that desires to maintain in Los Angeles an exhibition of its resources.

With the State appropriation assured, the Supervisors of Los Angeles county, through resolutions adopted several months ago, will make an appropriation of $150,000 for an art and historical museum to be placed on the same grounds.

The City Council has bound itself to follow suit by appropriating $100,000 for the improvement and beautifying of the grounds.

Then will follow the National Guard armory costing $100,000, the appropriation bill for which having been signed by Gov. Gillett a few days ago.

This will mean the expenditure of $600,000 on Agricultural Park within the next two or three years, creating a place of attraction that will have no equal on the Pacific Coast.

Since its introduction in the Assembly by Speaker Stanton early in the recent session of the Legislature the progress of the bill has been attended with alternating hope and despondency on the part of its friends.

Mr. Bowen was at the front practically all the time from the opening of the session until called home late in February by the lamentable death of his brother, C. C. Bowen. It was upon the author of the bill that the hardest work fell.

FIRST EASY, THEN HARD.

At first the Governor entered with spirit into the plan, and the bill, with the Speaker back of it, got through the Ways and Means Committee with little trouble, later passing the Assembly with a rush.

Its first real setback was met in the Senate Finance Committee. By the time the bill reached that body the call for special appropriations of all sorts, affecting every part of the State, was so great as to make it appear impossible for the measure to come out of committee. In fact, Chairman Leavitt announced that there was no hope for it.

With every county calling for large amounts, and with every State institution demanding largely increased appropriations, it appeared that there was no hope. Even the optimistic and tenacious Bowen began to lose heart.

The report went around the Legislature that there had been a combination whereby Los Angeles was to have its armory, but was to give up the exposition building.

By this time Bowen had been called home by the bereavement in his family and for several days he was unable to give his services to the cause.

Pretty soon, however, it was apparent from the Sacramento end that he had got busy. Linked with him in the work were Senators Hurd and Thompson, the latter recently appointed director of the Agricultural Association.

UNEXPECTED SUPPORT.

The result of the work at both ends of the line was that the bill was reported out of the Finance Committee with the recommendation that it pass. Then, wonder of wonders, Chairman Leavitt of the committee made a speech in its favor on the floor of the Senate. He was followed by Senator Wolfe of San Francisco, also in favor of the bill, which then went through the upper house with a rush.

But still the bill was not out of the woods.

Hundreds deep, the general and special appropriation bills were piled up before the Governor. To sign all of them would mean the bankruptcy of the State. The Chief Executive could not slight the demands of the existing State institutions, far greater than two years ago. Many special appropriations were called for that could not be ignored.

Time and again the Governor expressed his approval of the exposition building plan, yet he always qualified his promises of support with the statement that he would sign the bill if the money could be spared.

SUCCESS AT LAST.

Never did he "trim," yet there were times when he came out flatly and said he could not possibly sign the bill, as the finances of the State would not permit.

As he went through the pile of appropriation bills, signing this and rejecting that, he gradually worked toward the bottom, and the cheering telegram from Sacramento last night

NO COMPROMISE.

SMUGGLERS OFFER TO SETTLE WITH LOEB.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 17.—An offer to pay $50,000 to the United States government to settle the smuggling cases which the customs officials are now investigating has been made to Collector William Loeb, Jr., of this port. The offer was refused. The information is made public today by Harrison Osborne, counsel for Mr. Loeb.

Mr. Osborne said Collector Loeb had decided that there should be no compromise with the smugglers.

Mr. Osborne added that two attorneys, who declared they did not know who their clients were, had appeared before the collector with the offer to compromise. The attorneys stated their services had been engaged by men who claimed to represent the men who owned the property recently seized by the customs officers. The proposition included a proviso that the government should surrender the seized goods, amounting in all to about $50,000 worth of French gowns and laces.

Commenting upon the offer, Mr. Osborne said:

"While the government would profit by the offer, the collector and myself decided that under no circumstances should there be a compromise with those responsible for smuggling the goods. There is a principle involved. All the power of the Treasury Department and the office of the United States District Attorney is being directed to the arrest and punishment of the suspects."

It was announced that the goods would be sold at auction.

Besides using the names of Miss Nellie Grant and Mrs. John E. Mason, Mr. Osborne said the smugglers had shipped trunks full of goods to this city addressed to a woman of Pottstown, Pa., and another of Minneapolis. These women are believed to have no knowledge of such use of their names.

MISS GRANT IN IGNORANCE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—Miss Nellie Grant, daughter of Jesse R. Grant and grand-daughter of Ulysses S. Grant, and her aunt, Mrs. John E. Mason of this city, have been unable to throw any light upon the plot now being investigated by the New York customs officials to smuggle French gowns and rare laces into this country.

Upon the assurance of the two women that they knew nothing of three trunks held at the New York customhouse in their name, the trunks were opened and the valuable shipment was confiscated because the goods had not been declared for duty.

San Diego Man Admits He Put Dynamite Under Window of Home of County Official.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN DIEGO, April 17.—Charles R. Swaill, residing at Thirtieth and G streets, was arrested this afternoon, charged with being the man who placed a stick of dynamite beneath the window of Deputy County Clerk Edgar W. Dickenson's home two weeks ago.

Swaill had been suspected for some time, and a detective, who was closely watching him, saw him concealing something on his premises. Making a search, he found five sticks of dynamite, and the arrest of Swaill followed.

At the station he owned up that he had placed the dynamite under Dickenson's window, but said he only intended to scare him. He had a grudge against Dickenson, the prisoner admitted, as a result of a cow trade.

Shortly after his arrest Swaill wrote a note to his wife, making similar admissions.

SULTAN IS DESPERATE.

WADES THROUGH BLOOD TO DEFEAT YOUNG TURKS.

Abdul Hamid Willing to Destroy Empire to Overthrow the Constitution.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BABEK (Turkey) April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] I interviewed last night, secretly, one of the foremost leaders of the Committee of the Union of Progress, who laid before me details which to him were conclusive proof that Monday's revolt was the work of the Sultan himself.

According to my informant, whose name for obvious reasons I cannot divulge at this time, but whose good faith is unquestionable, the Sultan for months past has been expending large sums from his private fortune for the purpose of corrupting the army. He employed for this purpose as his emissaries cashiered officers of the old régime and non-commissioned officers.

Abdul Hamid got the clergy and the opposition newspapers to aid him in his work by preaching to the Young Turks of the bad Mohammedans "who had deceived the army throughout." My informant declared that Tuesday's indiscriminate firing, in which several hundred persons were wounded and nearly fifty killed, was due to direct orders from the Sultan, whose object was to terrorize the people, and bring about a reëstablishment of the old régime and make Parliament ridiculous.

REIGN OF TERROR.

A most horrible reign of terror then began. The committee leaders were ferreted out by the Sultan's spies, wherewith the country was again overrun, and shot down by soldiers in the crowded streets. Dozens of the brightest officers of the army have been murdered. The leaders have taken refuge in the house of English and American residents, which are beset by spies and soldiers.

The naval officers, whose guns have been trained on the palace for the last six months, were treated with especial cruelty. Boats filled with officerless soldiers visited all the warships and arrested the captains. The commander of the Aszarai was carried in a cab to the palace, where the Sultan himself ordered him put to death by atrocious tortures.

BELIEVE SULTAN INSANE.

All the captains arrested have since disappeared. By unloosing all bonds of discipline, the Sultan raised a demon which he will find it impossible to allay, but he does it with full knowledge.

"I will ruin the empire myself," he remarked, "sooner than be ruled by the Committee of Union of Progress. I'll ruin Turkey and myself together. I'll be the last of the Sultans." We have undoubtedly to do with madmen who are carrying the whole empire over a precipice.

Concluding, my informant said: "I saw the Sultan at Selamlik yesterday, and if a physiognomist you would see there a maniacal smile on the lips, a maniacal glitter in the eyes that gazed upon a disordered rabble of officerless soldiers."

EVADES CENSORSHIP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The foregoing dispatch, which was filed at Babek at 3:50 this afternoon and transmitted via Hungary, reached your correspondent here at his private address. All reference to Abdul Hamid were covered by conventional terms, designed to escape the censorship exercised over all newspaper dispatches reaching London from Constantinople.

With the situation admittedly so obscure as that now existing in Turkey, it is impossible altogether to disregard the statements, more especially so since the Times' correspondent at Constantinople, who has been on the ground for several months past, is an experienced journalist, and unlikely to transmit such astounding charges unless they were made on authority which he had every reason to consider unexceptionable.

YOUNG TURKS ARE MASSING FORCES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 17.—The Committee of Union and Progress has given convincing proof of its power and influence over the Third Army Corps.

Two military trains, each containing 300 infantry, arrived this morning from Tohatalje, about seventy-five miles from the capital, and four other trains are expected to reach that point within the next twenty-four hours.

Preparations are being made at Salonika for the dispatch of a number of additional trains for Constantinople.

After remaining a short time at Tohatalje, the two trains continued on to Spartakuleh, which is inside the line of fortifications at Hademkoi, forty miles from the capital, which was abandoned during the night by the artillery of the garrison.

TROOPS ARE GATHERING.

The Salonika troops evidently are collecting at Spartakuleh, where they should number not less than 7000 by tomorrow, with reinforcements that are coming from Adrinople.

Within a day or two the committee will have between 15,000 and 20,000 men within striking distance of Constantinople, where the mutinous garrison, having virtually discarded its officers and all discipline, certainly will not be able to offer resistance.

It is believed the Salonika battalions on their arrival here will demand the fulfillment of several conditions, which the Sultan and the new government will find it impossible to reject.

The advance of the soldiers has greatly impressed the public, and it is expected that some quick changes will be made among government officials.

The artillery at Hademkoi mutinied during the night. Seizing some of their officers and compelling others to don the uniforms of privates, they entrained for Constantinople to the number of 1200, in order to assure themselves that the constitution was be-

EARTHQUAKE IN MISSOURI.

Ground Heaves and Trembles, Terrifying Inhabitants of New Madrid County.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW MADRID (Mo.) April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The most severe earthquake experienced in twenty-five years shook New Madrid and other towns in New Madrid county at 12:23 o'clock this afternoon. There were two distinct shocks, thirty minutes apart.

The first was the most severe, causing the surface of the ground to heave and tremble in a manner that terrified the oldest inhabitants, who fear a second visitation of the terrific convulsions of 1812 that changed the entire topography of the surrounding country.

This section has never been entirely free from seismic disturbances since New Madrid had a similar quake to that reported today, six years ago, at the same hour of the day, which was followed by sixteen distinct quakes.

Fear Ex-President's Ship Is in Grip of Monsoon Storm.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MOMBASA (British East Africa) April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Theodore Roosevelt is promised a hearty reception on his arrival here Wednesday night. Officials and ordinary citizens alike will join to do him honor.

While great disappointment is felt over Mr. Roosevelt's decision to make no stop in this city on the way to his hunting trip, it is felt that he can be kept here long enough for a fitting demonstration in his honor.

Perils of all sorts are promised the former President of the United States during his hunt, but those who know the character of Mr. Roosevelt realize that new dangers will add zest to his travels, and that he will enjoy his hunt the more because of the obstacles to be overcome.

An alarming epidemic of smallpox has appeared in the section to be visited by Mr. Roosevelt, and despite all precautions the disease continues to spread.

DEADLY TSETSE FLY.

The tsetse fly, the carrier of the deadly fever that lays low the strongest man, is as numerous as ever, but this is a danger which Mr. Roosevelt expected, and he will come prepared to combat it with all means known to modern science.

Unrest among the natives along the northern boundary of Kenya province is assuming serious proportions, but the authorities have been prompt to strengthen the forces at the outlying stations, and it is hoped to prevent any grave outbreak. Risings of this kind in the wilderness are frequent, and form a constant peril to strangers.

Ferocious lions are reported haunting the line of the railroad. In fact, three big animals have driven men from their work at the Makindu station on several occasions recently. Efforts to trap the beasts have failed, as they make their visits only at night, when escape in the darkness is easy.

IN GRIP OF STORM.

Even before his arrival at Mombasa, Mr. Roosevelt is facing dangers new to him. At present the monsoon is blowing vigorously, and it is possible the arrival of the steamer Admiral may be delayed by the storm.

Nothing has been heard of the Admiral with the Roosevelt party since it sailed from Aden, Arabia, last Thursday afternoon, and there is no possibility of communication until the steamer comes in sight off this harbor, where it is due at daybreak next Wednesday. The latest instructions from Mr. Roosevelt were cabled here from Aden during his brief stop in that city.

It is planned to make a short stop at Mogadiscio, on the eastern coast of Italian Somaliland, on the way down, but no news could be sent from that point.

IS EAGER FOR HUNT.

In his message from Aden, Mr. Roosevelt indicated his desire to hurry along to where the big game is waiting, and he asked to be excused from the public reception and dinner planned for him in this city. He asked that

The young Queen is very anxious that this babe shall be born on the Prince Consort's birthday, which falls on Monday. But every preparation, and the etiquette of the Dutch court prescribes many, has been made to welcome the heir to the throne tomorrow.

Extraordinary interest is being shown by the representatives of the powers at The Hague. Each is striving to get the first information, so that the chief of his state may be the first to send congratulations.

PATTEN LAUGHS AT WILSON'S STATEMENT.

Admits Making Money in Wheat, but Says Secretary Is Wrong in His Other Assertions—Hints at Wall Street Influence in Washington.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Robber, rats! The wheat shorts are in Wall street, and it is pretty well known that Wall street has some influence at Washington. The only thing Secretary Wilson has right in his statement of Friday is that I am making money in wheat. I admit that."

Smarting under the charge that he has been conducting a corner and has been robbing the consumers of bread, James A. Patten, Chicago wheat king, thus turned back the charges of self-interest on Washington today.

The Napoleon of the pit arrived at his office under guard of three attendants, but said that he had lost no sleep over the threats that have been made against his life.

"Any one in the limelight, as I am now," he said, "becomes more or less a target for cranks, but I don't take their threats seriously."

WILSON IGNORED.

Despite the bearish attitude of Secretary Wilson, who insists that there is a reserve of 143,000,000 bushels of wheat in the United States, the market became stronger on all of the wheat options. May opened at $1.27½ and sprung at once to $1.28⅜. The opening was 1⅛ cents above the low mark of Friday, and bidding was lively. Offerings were light.

The July delivery opened at $1.17¼, one-fourth higher than Friday's close, and rushed immediately to $1.18 under pressure of heavy buying from a mysterious source. Brokers surmised that there was a Patten-Armour combination.

In the close of the market floor traders saw indications that Patten is carrying over his May corner into the July option.

While May closed ¼ cent below the high point of the day, July option was a half cent above the earlier high quotations, and 1¼ above the opening. The close for the day was, May, $1.28¼; July, $1.18½; September, [illegible].

In the closing hours for the trading Patten bought openly in May to support the market for July, but trade was light.

TOM LAWSON SHORT.

That Thomas W. Lawson of Boston is heavily short of May wheat was the gossip about the pit, where there was general indignation at the attitude he had taken in favor of governmental interference.

"Lawson always talks a lot," said C. H. Lamson, of Lamson Bros., "and his squawk is loudest when he is hurt worst. He is short a lot and will say about anything that will bring the price down. The state of the market proves that he guessed badly. He ought to take his medicine and keep still. Instead of that, he is trying, with other Wall street men, to influence Washington sentiment."

Patten defied Secretary Wilson and the Washington authorities to do their worst.

"They threaten to take the duty off wheat," said the big trader. "If they do it tomorrow it will not change the price one cent. The price in Chicago and in the United States now is on a parity with that in other parts of the world.

"I believe, and have believed for a long time, that the duty ought to be taken off wheat. The crop needs no protection. It is now 25 cents a bushel, and in ten years we will not be raising enough wheat for home consumption."

TIME FOR REST.

After a memorable speculative week, the tickers' "good night" was received at noon today with a deep sigh of relief from Board of Trade men, not to mention an army of laymen drawn into the vortex of the wheat pit by the publicity given James A. Patten, the bull leader, and his following.

"Good night" means a day and a half for quiet reflection on the great problem of the season, "will the public eat this year's or last year's wheat three months hence?"

Mr. Patten personally left the market to its fate today. From the view of the Patten crowd, it improved considerably, as prices advanced over a cent in May and July options. Mr. Patten lectured reporters, who, he alleges, have been more entertaining than accurate in their stories.

MAY DEAL CLOSED.

The week's place in speculative history is due to the practical passage of the so-called "May deal," and the active engagement of bulls and bears all along the line concerning the proper price for July contracts for wheat.

From this time on, the price of May wheat may fluctuate erratically, but it is stated that there will be little trading in it. The bears admit that Patten won in that struggle, and that he is arbiter of the price. However, few settlements for this delivery, it is said, remain to be made.

The price during the week ranged between $1.25⅝ and 1.28⅜, and closed today at $1.28¼. July, which went to $1.14⅝ under tremendous pressure on Thursday, closed today within a shade of the best prices of the week, $1.18⅝.

PATTEN HELD CAKE CORNER.

Wheat Speculator Once Dealt in Frosted Sweets at Church Fair.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. C. Bussey, an intimate friend of James A. Patten, the wheat speculator, is telling a story here of how Patten got a corner on cake at a social at the First United Presbyterian Church, Chicago, twenty years ago. The ladies at the social made Patten their target, and he was buying cakes for an entire evening, until his accumulated pile represented fifty of the frosted delicacies. Patten often referred to the incident as an object-lesson in high finance.

Whether this price is too high or too low cannot, of course, be known until the time for delivery on contracts.

Both Secretary Wilson and Mr. Patten have remarked that "time will tell," and "time," in the present instance, means the two months and a half from today.

That the fight between opposing interests will be one of the most exciting in the history of the Board of Trade, no one doubts. In the aggregate, it will be waged between those who believe in the accuracy of the government reports and those who pin their faith to the Patten side.

JEWS SUFFER.

The advance in bread prices hit 50,000 Chicago Jews today when the price of Jewish bread was raised by the Ghetto bakers from 4 to 5 cents a pound. Matzos, or Jewish biscuit, jumped from 8 to 10 cents a dozen, and half rye bread was raised from 5 to 6 cents a pound. Other Jewish bakers throughout the city are expected to take similar action.

DEFENDS PATTEN.

NOT GUILTY, SAYS ARMOUR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. Ogden Armour today came to the defense of James A. Patten, the wheat king, who is being bitterly assailed as operator of a "corner" in wheat, which has advanced the price of flour almost to famine figures. Mr. Armour says:

"Mr. Patten has not the corner in wheat, and his deal in the May future is not responsible for the rise in prices. The advance in the cost of wheat merely has discounted a serious shortage in the supply.

"It is true that manipulation on the Board of Trade may for short periods affect the price of grain, but it is only a very short time before quotations spring back to their proper levels."

"Do you think manipulation by Patten has had any effect in boosting wheat prices?" was asked.

Mr. Armour hesitated and then shook his head.

"No," he said. "We will have to look to the relation of supply and demand to explain the advance. There is very serious shortage of wheat."

"Mr. Armour," said the interviewer, "at the stock yards you buy live stock on the hoof and trading in futures is almost unheard of. If grain were traded in in the same manner, would not the effect of manipulation be entirely done away with, and the law of supply and demand left unhampered?"

"That's too deep a question to answer in detail off-hand," said Mr. Armour. "In general it can be said that the system of trading in futures in grain is here to stay. Congress, in my opinion, will never change it. It is too deep-rooted in our commercial system, and its benefits and legitimate use far outweigh the occasional abuses to which it may be subject. Why, it would be foolish to think of abolishing it."

TO BREAK CORNER.

DULUTH HOLDS KEY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Nat L. Moffitt, second vice-president of the St. Louis Merchants' Exchange, discussing the Patten wheat corner today, outlined a plan to break it.

"There are five and a half million bushels of No. 1 northern wheat at Duluth," Moffitt said. "The market there today is 2 cents per bushel lower than Chicago. Navigation will be open by April 15, and this wheat can be shipped to Chicago at a cost of 2 cents per bushel. This wheat can be delivered to Patten apparently at a small profit. If it is delivered the latter part of May it would be difficult for him to market it at a profit, as the new wheat usually begins to come in then. I know on good authority that a million and a half bushels have already been sold to be delivered to him, and the indications are that this plan will be tried."

WILSON STANDS BY FIGURES.

PLENTY OF WHEAT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 17.—There is sufficient wheat in the country at normal prices to make bread for the Americans up to the time when the new crop comes in. So declared Secretary of Agriculture Wilson today.

"And those who expect to keep prices up expect to get their money out of common people and consumers."

Secretary Wilson's remarks were in reply to statements of James A. Patten of Chicago. Mr. Patten not only discredited the department's estimate of the wheat crop but said that the supply of wheat was scarcer than the government's estimates show.

"The reporters of the Department of Agriculture are farmers living on farms and know, if anybody knows, and have knowledge if anybody has knowledge of the facts," declared the Secretary.

"We cannot whistle the men down the wind. If we seek an honest class of the community and hesitate to take the words of the American farmers we will not establish truth by going to the gamblers.

"The large majority of wheat has left the hands of the farmers," continued the Secretary. "A fictitious price has been created. The farmers are not beneficiaries of such conditions. They will naturally plant wheat and next year's crop is likely to be abnormally large when the gamblers will not be in the market and mischief will be done by disturbance of the crop system. In the corner of 1898, when wheat was run up to $1.85, the price was depressed the following year below 80 cents, the result undoubtedly of the upsetting of the equilibrium of the normal supply and demand."

To show that a scarcity of wheat in this country is not the cause for the present increase in prices, Secretary Wilson points that the amount of wheat produced in the calendar year 1908 was 665,000,000 bushels as compared with 634,000,000 bushels for the crop year 1907, making 31,000,000 bushels more for the last crop year than was found the previous year. After calling attention to the department's report which indicated that the amount of wheat on farms, on March 1 last, was about 143,000,000 bushels in round numbers, the Secretary states that an analysis of the wheat movement after March 1 in past years indicates that the yearly estimate of the percentage of crop on farms at that time has been about 8 per cent. below the actual percentage.

TO MEET HALF WAY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 17.—The Japanese government will aid in every way possible the Chicago Associations of Commerce in its trade extension programme on Chicago Day at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, which occurs June 12, according to T. Tanaka, Japanese Consul at Seattle, who is here. It is the intention to meet the special train of Chicago business men in Portland, accompany it to Seattle, and there arrange a meeting with leading Japanese citizens both from Japan and the Northwest, to discuss ways and means of promoting trade between Chicago and the Orient.

FALL BREAKS NECK.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 17.—Death came to Bartholomew Flynn, a former member of the Police Department yesterday, on the steamer Starrucca which is moored near the river mouth. Flynn was employed by a private detective agency, and was assigned to guard the steamer from attacks of striking sailors. While talking with Capt. John Clark he fell into a hatchway and broke his neck, according to the police.

DOG COMES BACK.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 17.—"Fitz," a stray doy that has been cared for by the Beta Theta Pi Fraternity at Evanston during the last few weeks, evidently thinks the boys are good hosts, for after being carried to Milwaukee in an attempt to lose him, he has returned footsore and hungry. He covered the distance of seventy-odd miles in less than twenty-four hours. After Fitz had shown a disposition to attack strangers the fraternity boys determined to get rid of him, and gave him to a student who took him to Milwaukee and dropped him.

STOP MARRIAGE TRADE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

LANSING (Mich.) April 17.—Senator Bradley proposes to introduce a bill aimed at doing away with the marriage industry at St. Joseph, Mich. It provides that no marriage licenses can be issued on Sundays or legal holidays. This is to stop the Sunday rush from Chicago to Michigan lake ports.

FOR FULL-WEIGHT LOAF.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 17.—City Sealer Kjellander has begun a canvass to ascertain the weight of loaves of bread sold by dealers throughout the city. Owing to litigation over the city ordinance requiring bakers to give full-weight loaves to customers, Mr. Kjellander is powerless to begin proceedings, but he announces the data he obtained will be used in a further effort to prevent bakers from selling short-weight bread. Several months ago Judge Windes held that the bread ordinance was unconstitutional, and an appeal was taken by the city to the Supreme Court. A decision is expected within the next few weeks, and if Judge Windes's opinion is sustained, Mr. Kjellander proposes to urge the passage of a new ordinance.

FORGETS HIS MANNERS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 17.—Because he failed to observe a rule of bar-room etiquette, Herbert E. Milk occupies a cell in a police station. He drank his liquor before W. J. Groth, a saloon-keeper, who was treating, had poured out his own drink, and a fight ensued in which the host, it is alleged, was stabbed several times by Milk.

CHARITIES UNITE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 17.—The two principal charitable institutions of Chicago have been consolidated under the name of the United Charieties of Chicago, a union of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society and the Chicago Bureau of Charities. Charles H. Wacker was named as president of the new organization and Granger Farwell and Mrs. Potter Palmer, vice-presidents.

if possible arrangements be made for his special train to await him at the pier here, as he desired to travel directly to the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease, on the Athi River, where he will spend the first fortnight of his visit in the protectorate as the guest of Sir Alfred.

It is expected by European residents, however, that Mr. Roosevelt will consent to spend a few hours in Mombasa before proceeding into the interior. All are desirous of seeing the man famed the world over as the head of the great American republic.

Plenty of game and excellent prospects for a lively hunt are guaranteed by Maj. Louis L. Seaman, who has just returned from a hunting trip uu the country. Maj. Seaman is to start soon for Uganda on an elephant hunting expedition.

SMALLPOX IS BAD.

It is at Nairobi that the epidemic of smallpox that Mr. Roosevelt may have to dodge, made its appearance. At last reports upward of forty deaths have resulted in the quarantine camp. On Juja ranch, where Mr. Roosevelt plans to spend some time as the guest of George McMillan, the owner, there have been three deaths from smallpox already.

Gifts of every description, useful as well as ornamental, begin to pile up here, awaiting the arrival of Mr. Roosevelt. It is deemed certain he will accept none of them. Business firms have sent samples of their wares and wealthy residents have proffered articles known to be needed and probably overlooked by the hunter from America.

Mr. Roosevelt has made it a rule not to encourage such gifts, and probably will insist on buying the various supplies and equipment he finds he will want.

DIES AT WORK.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Although he knew he was dying, James Kiernan, a motorman on the Fourteenth-street crosstown surface line, remained at his post until his car passed his bridge house, then he staggered to the porch and died. Kiernan was 38 years old, and had suffered from heart trouble for some time. When he started on his last run from the East River terminus yesterday afternoon he told his conductor that he thought the end was near, but that he would remain at the controller until he arrived at his room.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—James H. Grabbing up the sack the men made a dash for a buggy near by, which one entered, while the other made his escape.

NAVAL ORDERS CHANGED.

Entire Pacific Fleet to Proceed North for Opening of Seattle Exposition.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

MARE ISLAND NAVY YARD, April 17.—The orders issued recently by the Navy Department for the cruisers West Virginia, Maryland, South Dakota and California to come to Mare Island early in May have been revoked and the vessels will not arrive until June 13.

Word has been received from Washington that the entire Pacific fleet will proceed north upon the completion of the target practice at Magdalena Bay, to participate in the opening ceremony of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle. It is expected that the cruisers will reach the Bremerton navy yard on June 1, and that those assigned to Mare Island will sail from there on the return trip, June 13. The original orders called for a stop of twenty days at Mare Island before going north.

It is stated that the work of installing fire control systems on the big cruisers will occupy the yard here for between forty and sixty days. Other necessary repairs will keep the cruisers here probably for four months. The entire torpedo fleet, beside the colliers and auxiliaries, have also been assigned to Mare Island for repairs.

The collier Saturn, Capt. Nowell commanding, now coaling at California City, preparatory to returning to Magdalena Bay, will sail for that port on Monday, carrying a full cargo of coal and some stores for the fleet.

FIRE VICTIMS MISSING.

ONE MORE ADDED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—One more body taken to the morgue during the night made six of the known dead, as the result of yesterday's fire in the St. George Hotel. The remains were those of D. S. Cartwright, a mechanical engineer of Salem, Or., who succumbed to his terrible burns at the Receiving Hospital. The search among the ruins of the hotel for bodies believed to be buried under the débris is being continued.

Of the other bodies at the morgue, two have been identified as those of W. H. Johnson, a miner from Texas, and Thomas O'Brien, a saloon porter. Six persons known to have been in the hotel at the time of the fire have not been accounted for and several others whose names were not on the register of the place have been reported as missing.

Coroner Leland is taking steps to compel the immediate removal of the débris, so it may be determined whether or not more bodies are entombed.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—Three women, who fainted when fire, which destroyed a small laundry, threatened [illegible] to the Blenheim apartment-house, in which they lived, were rescued by policemen about midnight. The latter rushed into the apartment-house as soon as the flames were discovered, and warned the sleeping inmates. Some of the women, who stopped to dress, were ejected by the bluecoats, and the three who fainted—Miss Mary Coleman, Mrs. Ella Hogan and Miss Maud Landley—were carried out.

Miss Landley was found unconscious in her room on the third floor. Another woman attempted to leap from the second story, but was restrained by an officer.

LOSSES AT PENRYN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Word has been received at the headquarters of the Earl and Producers' Fruit companies in this city that their packing-houses at Penryn, Placer county, were totally destroyed by fire Thursday night, together with a large amount of box lumber and fruit baskets in the building of the Producers' Fruit Company. Both companies have begun preparations to rebuild as rapidly as possible, as the new packing-house must be ready for use by the time the fruit shipping season opens, and cherries will soon be ripe. The fire may interfere with early shipments. The Producers' company lost about $5000, and the Earl company about $2000, both firms carrying insurance.

Marysville Prisoner Confesses to Arson, Hoping to Be Cared for by State.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MARYSVILLE, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William Heath, who surrendered himself to the police here a few days ago, and confessed to setting fire to a dry kiln in the Durst hopyard at Wheatland, wants to become a convict or an inmate of an insane asylum. He is trying to force himself into some State institution where he will be cared for, and is not particular what institution it is.

The Lunacy Commission found he was not insane, so it is up to the District Attorney to press the arson charges. Heath shows intelligence, and claims his desire to become a convict is based upon the knowledge that he cannot resist liquor, and that when he has access to it he cannot work or take care of himself. He says he was a good citizen in civil life, but fell when he became a soldier in the war with Spain, having taken to drink and other vices that resulted finally in his receiving a "bobtail" discharge.

SAN JOSE, April 17.—A convention of 500 fruit growers was called to order in the Garden Theater this morning by E. F. Ede, county organizer for the Farmers' Education and Co-operative Union, a national organization of farmers and fruit growers, of which seven local branches already have been organized in this county.

He described the education of the farmers in the cotton belt and its financial results, and also outlined the work that has been done in the grain districts of the Middle West.

This afternoon a local organization for the San José section was formed.

The shot passed only a few inches over Welty's head. Taking advantage of the confusion, the robber escaped through a side entrance.

BOLD CRIME.

ROBBERS WORK BY DAYLIGHT.

Hold Up Office and Shoot President.

Seize Sack Containing Big Sum and Flee.

Policemen in Automobile Capture Ex-Convict.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—James M. Thompson, vice-president of the Thompson Bridge Company, with offices at No. 103 Main street, on entering the office today with a sack containing $1290, which he had just drawn from the Bank of California, saw that the book-keeper had been tied to a chair, and, on turning his head, was confronted by two masked men, one of whom shot him through the chest, inflicting a serious wound.

Grabbing up the sack the men made a dash for a buggy near by, which one entered, while the other made his escape.

Thompson had obtained the money for the purpose of paying off his men. As he fell to the floor, the men rushed into the street, and one of them, carrying the sack of coin, jumped into a buggy which was standing near by. Police Officer J. B. Tower took up the chase, and was followed in a few minutes by Policemen Hayden, McGrath, Egan, Sergt. Mahoney and Capt. Conboy in an automobile. The chase proceeded down Main street to Market and through Drum street and up Jackson to the corner of Sansom, where the buggy was stopped by obstructions placed in its way by citizens. Here the man was captured and placed under arrest.

During the shooting William Curtis, an employé of the H. S. White Machinery Company, received a stray bullet, but was not seriously hurt.

The man who was taken into custody has been identified by the police as Francis H. Gorman, recently released from San Quentin.

Thompson, who has an even chance of recovery, has identified Gorman as the man who shot him.

William Rosengren, book-keeper for the Thompson Bridge Company, was alone in the office when the robbers first made their appearance. He noticed that one wore a slouch hat of dark color, pulled down over his forehead, while over the faces of both were pieces of black cloth with holes cut through for the eyes.

Before the book-keeper could make any resistance, a revolver was held at his head and he was warned to remain quiet. He was then securely tied to his chair with a rope which one of the men carried. A search of the office for valuables was in progress when Thompson arrived and the shooting began. The first bullet fired pierced the hand of Thompson, who quickly drew his own revolver and returned the fire. Several shots were exchanged before Thompson received a wound which rendered him helpless. Hundreds of people participated in the pursuit of the fugitive robbers in whose capture they materially aided the police.

Francis Gorman, the man in custody, shot and killed Morris Nugent at the corner of Third and Howard street on December 22, 1896, when he was only 17 years of age. He was convicted of manslaughter and served a ten years sentence at San Quentin. The police are looking for "Kid" Horton, who has been an associate of Gorman and was seen this morning riding in the latter's buggy.

NAVAL ORDERS CHANGED.

Entire Pacific Fleet to Proceed North for Opening of Seattle Exposition.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

MARE ISLAND NAVY YARD, April 17.—The orders issued recently by the Navy Department for the cruisers West Virginia, Maryland, South Dakota and California to come to Mare Island early in May have been revoked and the vessels will not arrive until June 13.

Word has been received from Washington that the entire Pacific fleet will proceed north upon the completion of the target practice at Magdalena Bay, to participate in the opening ceremony of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle. It is expected that the cruisers will reach the Bremerton navy yard on June 1, and that those assigned to Mare Island will sail from there on the return trip, June 13. The original orders called for a stop of twenty days at Mare Island before going north.

It is stated that the work of installing fire control systems on the big cruisers will occupy the yard here for between forty and sixty days. Other necessary repairs will keep the cruisers here probably for four months. The entire torpedo fleet, beside the colliers and auxiliaries, have also been assigned to Mare Island for repairs.

The collier Saturn, Capt. Nowell commanding, now coaling at California City, preparatory to returning to Magdalena Bay, will sail for that port on Monday, carrying a full cargo of coal and some stores for the fleet.

FIRE VICTIMS MISSING.

ONE MORE ADDED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—One more body taken to the morgue during the night made six of the known dead, as the result of yesterday's fire in the St. George Hotel. The remains were those of D. S. Cartwright, a mechanical engineer of Salem, Or., who succumbed to his terrible burns at the Receiving Hospital. The search among the ruins of the hotel for bodies believed to be buried under the débris is being continued.

Of the other bodies at the morgue, two have been identified as those of W. H. Johnson, a miner from Texas, and Thomas O'Brien, a saloon porter. Six persons known to have been in the hotel at the time of the fire have not been accounted for and several others whose names were not on the register of the place have been reported as missing.

Coroner Leland is taking steps to compel the immediate removal of the débris, so it may be determined whether or not more bodies are entombed.

WOMEN PANIC-STRICKEN.

SAVED BY POLICEMEN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—Three women, who fainted when fire, which destroyed a small laundry, threatened to communicate to the Blenheim apartment-house, in which they lived, were rescued by policemen about midnight. The latter rushed into the apartment-house as soon as the flames were discovered, and warned the sleeping inmates. Some of the women, who stopped to dress, were ejected by the bluecoats, and the three who fainted—Miss Mary Coleman, Mrs. Ella Hogan and Miss Maud Landley—were carried out.

Miss Landley was found unconscious in her room on the third floor. Another woman attempted to leap from the second story, but was restrained by an officer.

PACKING-HOUSES BURN.

LOSSES AT PENRYN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Word has been received at the headquarters of the Earl and Producers' Fruit companies in this city that their packing-houses at Penryn, Placer county, were totally destroyed by fire Thursday night, together with a large amount of box lumber and fruit baskets in the building of the Producers' Fruit Company. Both companies have begun preparations to rebuild as rapidly as possible, as the new packing-house must be ready for use by the time the fruit shipping season opens, and cherries will soon be ripe. The fire may interfere with early shipments. The Producers' company lost about $5000, and the Earl company about $2000, both firms carrying insurance.

SEEK CONVICTS' CELL.

Marysville Prisoner Confesses to Arson, Hoping to Be Cared for by State.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MARYSVILLE, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William Heath, who surrendered himself to the police here a few days ago, and confessed to setting fire to a dry kiln in the Durst hopyard at Wheatland, wants to become a convict or an inmate of an insane asylum. He is trying to force himself into some State institution where he will be cared for, and is not particular what institution it is.

The Lunacy Commission found he was not insane, so it is up to the District Attorney to press the arson charges. Heath shows intelligence, and claims his desire to become a convict is based upon the knowledge that he cannot resist liquor, and that when he has access to it he cannot work or take care of himself. He says he was a good citizen in civil life, but fell when he became a soldier in the war with Spain, having taken to drink and other vices that resulted finally in his receiving a "bobtail" discharge.

FRUIT GROWERS MEET.

Five Hundred Gather at Call of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN JOSE, April 17.—A convention of 500 fruit growers was called to order in the Garden Theater this morning by E. F. Ede, county organizer for the Farmers' Education and Co-operative Union, a national organization of farmers and fruit growers, of which seven local branches already have been organized in this county.

T. W. Welch, State organizer, stated that the union had been organized for six years, and has a membership of 3,000,000 people in twenty-six States. He described the education of the farmers in the cotton belt and its financial results, and also outlined the work that has been done in the grain districts of the Middle West.

This afternoon a local organization for the San José section was formed.

BANK ROBBER FAILS.

Fires Shot at Bank Secretary, Narrowly Misses Him, and Escapes in Following Confusion.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE, April 17.—A daring but unsuccessful attempt to hold up the American Savings Bank and Trust Company at the point of a revolver was made by an unidentified man shortly before noon today.

Commanding Arthur Drew, the paying teller, to "come through with some money, young fellow!" only to see the teller dodge behind the grating, the would-be robber directed the same command to Harry Welty, secretary of the bank, firing immediately. The shot passed only a few inches over Welty's head. Taking advantage of the confusion, the robber escaped through a side entrance.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Close Land Fraud Cases.

HELENA (Mont.) April 17.—United States District Judge Hunt today announced that on April 27, he would go to San Francisco, where for six weeks he will sit on the appellate bench of the appeals division. He will go by way of Portland, and close up there what are known as the land fraud cases.

Break Ground for Hotel.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 17.—As a climax to negotiations which have been carried on for nearly two years, ground will be broken today at the corner of Fourth south and Main streets, preliminary to the erection of a $1,500,000 hotel, the stock for which was fully subscribed at a meeting held in this city yesterday. The stock is largely held by Salt Lake capitalists, headed by Samuel Newhouse, who is president of the company.

Flagship at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—Rear-Admiral Swinburne, in command of the Pacific fleet, arrived here, today on his flagship, the West Virginia, which was accompanied by the armored cruiser Pennsylvania. The rear-admiral with the two warships will remain in port to welcome the cruisers Aso and Soya of the Japanese training squadron, due to arrive April 25. ount Denounces Iswolsky's Balkan Policy.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ONDON, April 17.—[Exclusive Dis- ch.] One of the most significant nptoms of Russian politics, which ewd observers believe will be a ding factor in European affairs in near future, is the desire of the ctionaries for the return of Count gius de Witte to power.

y degrees the disfavor in which y held him immediately after the clusion of the treaty of Portsmouth been replaced by confidence. They cket him with Durnovo, whom also y wish to advance in the counsels Nicholas. Advices from St. Peters- g tell of persistent reports there t the members of the right in the ma are planning a coup aimed at overthrow of Stolypin and the re- ilitation of Witte.

hat Witte is going to return to ac- e statesmanship is acknowledged by recent utterances. He has de- nced Iswolsky brutally for his dling of the Balkan business, rging him with holding back from Czar the text of Germany's propo- until too late to avoid humilia- n for Russia. Discussing his spe- ty, finance, he has accused Ko- visoff, the financier, of being per- a non grata in the monetary cen- s of Europe and America. On ques- ns of internal administration he nds an overt reactionary.

Witte has seen many of his ene- s disappear, and with consummate ft, he is explaining away his for- r role as a progressive constitution- st.

DISSENSION.

BRITISH LABOR PARTY IS HOPELESSLY SPLIT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Labor party, which three years ago seemed to have an opportunity of becoming the most powerful political factor in England, is today split into factions, which are attacking one another with the utmost fierceness. These unfriendly camps are also troubled by disputes in themselves.

The Independent Labor party, which assumes to be the only true representative of labor in Parliament, wrangled in public at its great Easter conference in Edinburgh. The revolt against the leaders was headed by a callow young Socialist, Albert Victor Grayson, M.P.

The national administrative council, in its report to the conference, excomunicated Grayson. The conference referred the excommunicatory message back. Keir Hardie, James MacDonald and Philip Snowden, all M.P.'s, and Glassier, who formed an inner ring of the Independent Labor party known as the national administrative council, thereupon resigned. The meeting wobbled and passed a vote of confidence in them, but this did not placate them. With the general election not far off the Independent Labor party has an empty treasury and under recent court decisions cannot use trade union funds for Parliament purposes. At the end of the conference, four-sevenths of the council had resigned and the membership was disintegrated by bitter personal enmities.

QUITS AMERICA.

WHITELAW REID MAY MAKE ENGLAND HOME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Whitelaw Reid, the American Ambassador, and Mrs. Reid tell their friends they will make England their permanent home. They will continue to rent West Park, their country place, but probably will give up Dorchester House, their town residence, where they have given many brilliant entertainments. It costs enormously to maintain Dorchester House, and to be mistress of it has taxed Mrs. Reid physically.

The Earl and Countess of Granard, formerly Miss Beatrice Mills, may succeed the Reids in Dorchester House. The splendid residence can be had at a reduced rent now, probably, as property values in Mayfair have declined. The only objection the Granards have to taking the house is that Lady Granard's health is none too robust. Her recent vigorous round of entertaining has left her almost prostrated.

John Ward and his wife, formerly Miss Jean Reid, have not yet settled down in their country seat, Chilcote Park, which Mrs. Reid is preparing for their occupation.

TURKISH TROUBLES.

ing maintained and that the Sultan was alive.

TEA FOR MUTINEERS.

They marched to the War Office, where they were entertained at tea and refreshments, afterward proceeding to Parliament. Here they listened to reassuring speeches by the acting president of the Chamber, and several prominent Deputies.

In the square facing the House of Parliament, prayers were offered and the Sultan was cheered.

The whole scene, which was most dramatic, passed off with perfect order. The men subsequently returned to Hademoki with the Parliamentary deputation.

The British Vice-Consul at Alexandretta telegraphs that the most disturbed condition prevails there, and requests the instant dispatch of a warship. It is reported that serious disturbances have extended throughout the vilayet and Adana, although details are lacking.

MANY ARE SLAIN.

A telegram received today from the Vice-Consul at Adana reports a great loss of life and property at that place, but it adds that disorders have practically ceased in the town.

Serious attacks have been made on the Christians at Tarsus, and part of the town has been burned. A school, thought to be the American school, was saved. No additional news has been received regarding the fate of the missionaries.

A British warship is now on its way to Mersina.

Reouf Pasha, who was at one time Vali of Saloniki, has been appointed Minister of the Interior in succession to Adil Bey, and given a temporary place in the hastily-formed Cabinet. The position of Minister of Police, vacated by the former occupant on the demand of the men of the force has been given to Ali Pasha, a well-known army officer.

Edhem Pasha, the Minister of War, and the priests went among the troops urging them to a strict observance of discipline and respect for the constitution. This has had a quieting effect. The Boslem Theological Association, which has branches everywhere in the provinces, is preaching conciliation.

The casualties from stray bullets during the mutiny of Tuesday and Wednesday were much heavier than was at first reported. Most of the wounded were removed by friends, but in addition to the score of men killed, it appears that upward of 500 persons were more or less seriously shot.

Nn confirmation yet has been received of the reported killing of two American missionaries at Adana. The latest intelligence sets forth that several hundred Armenians and Moslems were killed in Adana, and that that quarter of the town was finally overwhelmed and destroyed by flames. The British Consul at Mercina was wounded in the arm while endeavoring to quell hostilities.

ARMENIANS SLAUGHTERED.

It appears that the Armenians made a good fight, and defended their quarter of the city against the fanatical Mohammedans, but, in spite of their brave resistance, they were driven back, and their opponents sacked their homes. Three hundred Mohammedans armed with rifles left Adana by train for Tarsus, about twenty miles away. Since the departure of these men communication with Tarsus has been interrupted. Grave apprehension is felt regarding the situation there. The information in the foregoing dispatches was received in consular advices that have come in here this morning.

TROOPS READY TO MEET YOUNG TURKS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] During a stormy session in the chamber this afternoon, four battalions of troops returned from Tchataliga, on the railroad line, twenty-five miles west of here, from which point they had retreated before troops from Salonica loyal to the Young Turk committee.

The four battalions, with artillery, marched, their bands playing, to the Chamber of Deputies and halted. The session was interrupted, the Deputies going to the windows to learn what the commotion meant.

The major commanding the troops asked Nake Pasha, the Chamber's temporary president, for orders. The president told him that several deputies were about to go to Tchataliga on a special train to assure the troops advancing on Constantinople under the Young Turks that the constitution will be upheld and to try to pacify them.

Thereupon the battalions marched to the Yildiz Kiosk, the Sultan's palace, and cheered the Ottoman ruler.

Three generals, Mahmoud, Khouchid and Hpdjas, were sent to Tchataliga to meet the Young Turks troops coming from Salonica and persuade them to turn back, but their efforts were futile, and the generals returned here.

Wild rumors are flying about that larger bodies of troops are marching from Salonica, Adrianople and other points to Tchataliga, where they will unite and advance on this city. Even the most intelligent people are alarmed by these rumors.

Marchioness Pallavicine, the Austrian Ambassador's wife, had announced her intenttion to leave the city tomorrow, but she declares now that she will not leave while such danger threatens her husband.

Many heads of families sent away their wives and children today. The Young Turk committee declared if victory is theirs they will spare no one, and that they will hang the traitors, including the highest, on trees opposite Parliament.

FEAR MASSACRES IN THE BALKANS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VIENNA, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Since early today no telegrams of any kind have come from Constantinople. Salonika causes great anxiety, as the latest reports from there indicate a serious situation.

The Young Turks are determined to march on Constantinople, but should the Adrianople and Salonika army corps both withdraw from Macedonia it is feared that there would be internecine massacres of the Servian, Bulgarian and Turkish population.

There is a recrudescence of the hostile feeling in Servia against Austria as the result of the situation in Turkey. The Belgrade newspapers are clamoring for war. Believing that the government in Constantinople will refuse to recognize the annexation agreement and that consequently the Bosnian question will be reopened, Austria will keep its large army in Bosnia and will not withdraw the reservists pending a solution of the troubles in Turkey.

SOLDIERS MURDER SCORES OF OFFICERS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BERLIN, April 17.—A special dispatch to the Frankfurter Zeitung from Constantinople, says sixteen officers of the War Academy have been assassinated, and that Izzet Fuad Pasha, also has been assassinated at the palace.

A dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger says that 200 officers of the War Academy have been murdered, and all the officers of the Guard Cavalry. A dispatch to the Tageblatt from Sofia says reports from Mustapha, which is twenty miles northwest of Adrianople, near the Bulgarian frontier, declare that Turkish soldiers have had a serious collision with Bulgarian citizens and that considerable bloodshed resulted.

A dispatch to the Morgen Post from Constantinople says the news of the approach of the troops from Salonika created terror in the suburbs of the capital. One artillery regiment stormed a passenger train and forced the passengers to alight, but later a military train was prepared and the troops left in that.

The semi-official Nord Deutsche Allegemeine Zeitung, takes a rather optimistic view of the future Turkish agitation. It says:

"Possibly when the troops who have hastened to Constantinople obtain conviction the constitution is in no danger the crisis will be peaceably settled."

AMERICAN ARRESTED AS SPY BY SULTAN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) April 17.—George Knox McCain, formerly publisher of the Colorado Springs Gazette, but now a resident of Philadelphia, was arrested in Constantinople yesterday by the Sultan's soldiers, on suspicion of being a spy.

The news was cabled to his nephew here, E. E. Overhold, by Mrs. McCain, who is traveling through Turkey and Russia with her husband. Details of the arrest are not contained in the cablegram, but it is supposed Mr. McCain was taking photographs or motion pictures of the Turkish troops and fortifications.

AMBASSADOR SLAIN.

TROOPS PRESS ON CAPITAL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PARIS, April 17.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Temps says that Gen. Izzet Fuas, former Turkish Minister at Madrid has been killed because he was a member of the Committee of Union and Progress. The police are searching for all members of the committee. A delegation of three generals was sent down to Tchatalja to meet the troops coming from Saloniki, and persuade them to turn back. Their efforts were futile and the generals have returned to Constantinople.

Ten other battalions of soldiers are on their way to the capital.

SITUATION WORSE.

Advices from Constantinople state the situation in Adana has become much worse; that a number of cities have been burned, and that Tarsus has been almost blotted out.

The dispatches further stated that a French factory had been sacked and that the peasants were coming down from the mountains and massacreing the Armenians.

Two British warships have arrived at Besika Bay near Dardanelles. A Russian squadron is cruising in the Black Sea, ten miles off the Bosphorus.

ITALIAN CRUISER SAILS.

ROME, April 17.—The Italian cruiser Francisco Ferrucio, at present at Bangazi, Africa, has been ordered to Mersina for the protection of Italian interests there.

LIFE'S SEAMY SIDE.

MURDER TO HIDE MURDER.

Bowery Crime May Protect Benny Adelson.

Los Angeles Prisoner Held for New York.

Theory That Crook's Gang Is Aiding Him.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 17.—On the theory that the arrest of Benny Adelson in Pasadena, Cal., yesterday may have had something to do with the crime, the police today are investigating the shooting of Billy O'Brien, a well-known East Side character, in front of Steve Brodie's saloon on the Bowery early today. O'Brien was shot through the heart, and died instantly. The man who fired the fatal shot escaped.

It was at first believed the murder was the result of a quarrel, but when it was learned that O'Brien was known to be a witness in the shooting of Joe Reilly in Pell street, in 1905, in connection with which Adelson is reported to have been arrested yesterday in Pasadena, the authorities turned their attention to this phase of the case. The report became known along the Bowery and O'Brien's probable appearance as a witness against Adelson was freely talked about.

O'Brien had had a dispute with a man and a woman in one of the resorts and is said to have struck the woman. When he left the place some time afterward he was shot down, his assailant escaping through an alley.

Four men were detained by the police today in connection with the killing of O'Brien. Three of them were New Yorkers and the fourth gave his name as Patrick Donovan of Whiteman, Mass. Donovan told the police that he was near-by when the shooting occurred, and saw the murderer run away.

Donovan was later held with Joseph Juchnowreky, one of the men arrested, in $1000 bail to await the inquest. Detectives this afternoon went to the Brooklyn navy yard and on board the battleship Nebraska arrested Edward Purcaro, 25 years old, and charged him with the murder of O'Brien.

It is the belief of the Pasadena police that by a system of espionage New York crooks last night took summary means to dispose of the chief witness against Benjamin Adelson, alias Joe Hill, and known on the Bowery in New York as "Sheeney Benny," on learning from Los Angeles members that he had been arrested in Pasadena, and was held under the charge of attempting to take a diamond stud from the shirt bosom of a G.A.R. veteran attending the recent encampment in this city.

While held by Chief of Police Favour until his record could be looked up, it somehow became known that the efforts of the police to find a more serious charge, which would insure a longer prison sentence, had developed that Hill, the name he gave when arrested, answered the description of Sheeney Benny, wanted in New York for the murder of James Reilly, alias "Hobnail" Reilly, on February 1, 1905, during a quarrel over "Chinese-eyed Flossie," a notorious woman of the tenderloin, with whom both were in love. Adelson has been arrested in several large cities, and served State prison sentences for pick-pocketing. He is known to be one of New York's most skillful dips, and is thought to be allied with a gang, which boasts of members in every large city of the Union. The murder committed Friday night in New York City was that of William O'Brien. Press dispatches and private information received by the police department say that O'Brien was mixed up in a sham brawl in a Bowery saloon. The men responsible for the brawl are believed to be confederates of Adelson, acting under instructions from the Pacific Coast to remove O'Brien, whose testimony would convict Adelson should he come to trial.

Up to yesterday morning there was a shade of doubt entertained by Los Angeles and Pasadena officers regarding Hill's identity, even though his description tallied exactly with Bertillon measurements issued from New York as a means of accomplishing Adelson's arrest on a murder charge. This doubt was removed, however, by the appearance at Pasadena police headquarters of a man giving the name of Edward Adelson, who declared the prisoner his brother. Edward tried to convince the local police that it was all a huge joke. He stated the New York police wrongfully suspected his brother of the murder of Reilly.

The story wouldn't wash, however, and the telegram from New York, interrupting Edward's yarn, is being strictly followed out by the local police.

The wire read: "The principal witness in Adelson case murdered this morning. Hold prisoner for more details." Adelson was given the first degree at the Los Angeles station Friday. After he was photographed, A. E. Adams, chief of the identification division, asked Hill if he had ever been "mugged" before. The answer was negative; but, when Adelson was confronted by his photograph, with the word "murderer" printed across the bottom, he crumpled up in his chair and afterward remained silent.

Adelson was arraigned before Justice H. H. Klamroth yesterday morning, charged with pick-pocketing, and was held in $5000 bonds for appearance Friday in preliminary examination. He is now locked up in the Los Angeles County Jail.

POKING FUN.

CABINET IS THE BUTT OF GRIDIRON JOKERS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The broiler of the Gridiron Club, that famous organization of newspaper men was kept busy tonight serving up wit and humor at a special dinner complimentary to the new administration.

The dinner was given in the banquet hall of the New Willard.

Almost the first thing to greet the guests was a handbill distributed by some speedy messenger boys, announcing that there would be a great minstrel show by all-star performers, including vocalists, comedians and "Cabinet officers."

This show was the hit of the evening.

In true minstrel fashion, with all the accompaniments of dusters and a more or less discordant band, a troupe of club talent paraded through the hall before going on the stage.

"Eating Through Georgia" was the opener, and it ran like this:

"Sound the good old dinner horn, we'll sing another song,
About the trip that Taft once made when, with digestion strong
He ate his share of everything that they would bring along
As we went eating through Georgia."

Then there ensued some lively conversation between the middle men, who posed as the "Vice-President" and the "Speaker of the House," and the "Cabinet Officers," who composed the balance of the troupe.

After a good deal of sparring over what was the meaning of "dead literature," and whether it referred to Sanscrit or Aztec, the end men declared it to be the President's messages.

"Say, Mr. Vice-President," a member of the "Cabinet" inquired, "do you remember the morning when all those boilers blew up and scared a lot of people?"

"Oh, yes, I remember it perfectly, but I do not see why it should have scared anybody. It was merely a big noise."

"Yes, that was it. Everybody thought Mr. Roosevelt had come back."

"Please leave the dear old trusts alone; they are seeing things at night," was the title of a song by James S. Henry of the Philadelphia Press.

Secretary MacVeagh was classed among the fifty-seven varieties of Democrats and reformers who had great difficulty in remembering when registration day came along.

This discussion was cut short by some references to the tariff which it was stated was being talked pro and con.

"Indeed!" remarked the "Vice-President" with evident surprise.

"Yes," replied the end man. "Pro means for the trusts. Con is what the consumer gets."

The White House cow, now already famous, was made the subject of one of the best stunts of the evening. Attended by a dairy maid, a splendid imitation of the bovine was lead into the room.

It was discovered that the milk pail was minus the lacteal fluid and in its stead were found numerous articles, among which was a bottle tagged with a testimonial from Senator Aldrich, as follows:

"We used this medicine on the tariff bill and removed all Payne from it instantly."

A burlesque on Uncle Tom's cabin was a funny stunt. Eliza was depicted as fleeing across the ice holding in her arms two children, Maximum and Minimum, wrapped in the tariff bill and pursued by the howl of the Gray Wolves of the Senate.

Attorney for Grandmother of Missing James Shepard Cabanne Says He Believes Lad Will Be Returned in Few Days—Police Hunt for Youngster in Dayton.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William H. Clopton, attorney for Mrs. Julia Cheney Cabanne, grandmother of James Shepard Cabanne III, who was kidnaped Thursday from her home in this city, said tonight that he believed that not only Mrs. Minnie Leonard Cabanne, the boy's mother, who is suspected of the kidnaping, is in St. Louis, but that Broughton Brandenburg, journalist, whom she claimed to have married after securing a divorce in Honduras, is also in the city, and that they are holding the boy, but will return him within a few days.

"We have no further information to give out tonight," he said, "but such is my belief."

Clopton discredits a story tonight that a boy answering the description of the missing boy was seen on an interurban car going from Indianapolis to Dayton today.

ON TRAIL OF BOY.

PEDDLER GIVES POLICE TIP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DAYTON (O.) April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] On tip of J. W. Randall, a crippled peddler of Sleveland, who says he noticed a boy answering the description of James Shepard Cabanne, on an interurban car coming from Indianapolis to this city today, police are searching Dayton for the missing St. Louis boy.

The police are working on a theory that the boy is being brought here by some one employed by persons they believe interested in hiding the lad. The man with whom Randall says he saw the boy, was dark-faced and was described by Randall as an Italian. The boy was restive, frequently asking how soon they would get there, Randall reported. He said the actions of the man and boy indicated that they did not know each other well.

Broughton Brandenburg, reported to have married Mrs. Cabanne, formerly lived in this city. He is declared by New York authorities to be absent from that city, where action in connection with the publication of Grover Cleveland's alleged Taft-Bryan interview is in progress.

ALLEGED KIDNAPER FLITS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PADUCAH (Ky.) April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although officers, heavily armed, fancied they had surrounded the camp of Robert Lee Hawkins and his three companions, wanted for kidnaping the fifteen-year-old son of James Estes of this city, the man escaped late tonight with the boy. He is thought to be making his way down the Ohio River towards Cairo, with the defeated officers in pursuit.

While young Estes was visiting an uncle in Birmingham, Ala., last week the boy was kidnaped, it is alleged, by Hawkins, who formerly resided here. Hawkins, two comrades and the boy were located in a camp about fifty miles below here today.

Three detectives left Paducah in a gasoline launch for the camp. At the same time officers left Wickliffe, Ky., about the same distance below the camp, to meet at the camp and try and arrest the trio. In some unknown way Hawkins learned of their coming and escaped from the camp with the boy.

Her husband, who was one of the attorneys who secured the acquittal of Edwin Gardiner in San Francisco for the murder of a negro, will also act for the defense, which will be directed by United States Senator W. O. Bradley.

This will be the first time a woman attorney has ever appeared in an important case in Kentucky.

Hargis has at his command $40,000 for his defense. This includes all of his mother's part of the estate left by the parent, whom he killed.

State Senator Bender of Labettt county will present the marble slab for the tablet.

Maj.-Gen. Bell Announces Intention of War Department to Train Infantry and Cavalry Arms.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 17.—Proficiency in marksmanship on the part of the enlisted men of the army is sought by the military authorities. To this end, after a thorough test made by the Board of Ordnance and Fortification of the War Department, it has been decided to use the sub-target gun machine and recording rifle rod outfits in the training of soldiers in the use of small arms.

Maj.-Gen. J. Franklin Bell, chief of staff, has issued a circular to the service stating the ordnance department will issue on requisition, one sub-target gun machine to each squadron of cavalry and battalion of infantry, and not to exceed ten recording rifle rods and outfits for small arms, sighting and aiming instructions to each troop of cavalry and to each company of infantry, coast artillery, engineers and signal corps.

About $50,000 has been spent by the department for this apparatus.

With the sub-target gun machine soldiers may practice shooting indoors without a rifle range and without the use of shells. The machine may be described as a rifle with a captive bullet, the course of which from rifle to target is visible. The objective target is located sixty feet from the marksman. The gun holder is so constructed that it is impossible to secure a point of rest with which to steady the gun in aiming.

The rifle is held, aimed and discharged in the ordinary way. No ammunition is used, and all danger from accident is eliminated. A needle pierces a small sub-target in the exact spot aimed at on the object target.

Islands in Harbor of Portland, Me., Have First Commercial System Working to Main Land.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND (Me.) April 17.—The islands of Casco Bay, which heretofore have been isolated so far as telephone connection is concerned, have the distinction of inaugurating the first commercial wireless telephone system in the world.

Four of thirty stations that are to connect the islands with this city have just been opened. Owing to the rocky bottom and swift tides in the bay it has been impossible to lay wires for the ordinary telephone system.

A new tuning apparatus will be used which it is claimed will make wireless telephones more private than the wires are now.

Logansport "Drys" Patronize Peru Stores.

Peru "Wets" Buy Goods in Logansport.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A bitter commercial war has broken out between the "wet" city of Logansport and the "dry" city of Peru and "dry" sympathizers in the former are patronizing Peru merchants and wet sympathizers in the latter are going to Logansport to spend their money. The Logansport Business Men's Association, which espoused the cause of the "wets" in the recent local option election, has petitioned the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to run week-end excursions to the city and has purchased 10,000 interurban tickets to be used in attracting buyers from the dry territory.

Today a delegation of Logansport ladies visited Peru and waited upon the merchants, asking them to advertise in the Logansport papers. Every member of the delegation purchased a spring outfit and arrangements were made by some of them to have staples in the way of groceries sent to them by interurban cars.

There will be twelve local option elections within the next ten days and the wet and dry cities are flooding the territory with statements as to the effect of local option on business. Statistics have been gathered in all the dry counties of arrests for running blind tigers and these are being sent out in circular letters to all counties where elections are to be held.

In Delaware county, containing the populous city of Muncie, a bitter fight is in progress between the wets and the drys with school children engaging in frequent fights on the streets over the question.

LIQUOR IN OKLAHOMA.

Gov. Haskell Will Reopen State Dispensaries, Numbering Eighty, by Proclamation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GUTHRIE (Okla.) April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gov. C. N. Haskell will issue a proclamation, probably next Tuesday, reopening the State liquor dispensaries throughont the State, a total of about eighty, all working under the supervision of the State dispensarian in Guthrie, William M. Fleming of Ponca City, recently appointed.

Several attempts were made to have the recent Legislature repeal the dispensary act, but none were successful. An opinion tonight by Atty.-Gen. West holds that druggists in Oklahoma may have whisky in their places of business for their personal use, but none to sell or for pharmaceutical purposes.

RAISE CASH FOR ALMA MATER.

Cornell Alumni Form Organization for That Purpose Along Lines Adopted by Other Colleges.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 17.—Cornell alumni has organized a body to be known as the Cornellian Council, whose purpose shall be to promote systematic donations to the university on the part of the alumni.

The movement was started last fall, but the organization was not perfected until yesterday, when a meeting was held of the Cornell alumni in this city.

In a nutshell, the plan is to induce every alumnus or former student to give a stated sum to his alma mater each year. This is similar, in a general way, to the plan in vogue in Princeton, Yale and Harvard.

According to the preliminary arrangements of the Cornellians, the council shall be composed of fifty members, ten at large and one appointed from each of the last forty classes. Each year the newest class names a member, who displaces the member from the oldest class. The terms of office are for five years, and the members are appointed by classes at each of their five-year reunions.

There is to be a paid secretary to do the soliciting. This work will be supervised by a committee of five.

Princeton committee has totaled more than $4,000,000, and as Princeton has approximately 8000 graduates or former students, while Cornell has 18,000 or more, the Cornellians are sanguine as to the result of their project. It is hoped to raise at least $50,000 in the first year.

MADISON MAIDS PLAY VALET TO AMBASSADOR.

Daughters of President Van Hise, Finding Mr. Bryce's Footwear Outside His Door at Their Home and Having no Man Servant, Put on a Polish That Scores.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADISON (Wis.) April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A very interesting story anent the visit of Ambassador Bryce in Madison last June, when he delivered the baccalaureate address at the commencement exercises at the University of Wisconsin, has just been made public.

During his stay the distinguished Briton was the guest of President Van Hise, at whose home every preparation had been made for his reception. Janet and Hilda, daughters, the former a student at Bryn Mawr, 20 years of age, the latter a girl of 16, were especially interested in these preparations.

The test of their hospitality came in a rather surprising manner. When Mr. Bryce retired for the night he set his boots outside the bedroom door, according to the English custom, to have them polished. The Van Hise household, however, does not boast of a man servant. As Janet and Hilda were passing the hallway on their way to their boudoir, they spied the boots outside the guest room.

The girls immediately saw the funny side of the situation, and carried the boots to the kitchen, where they polished them up. The girls said nothing about the affair, but when the same thing occurred the next night they could not control their mirth. The Ambassador must have heard the girls laughing, for at the breakfast table he asked them the cause of the mirth, and on being told, Ambassador Bryce enjoyed the joke immensely.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

COBLESKILL (N. Y.) April 17.—Mene, the Esquimaux boy, and sole survivor of the band brought south by Commander Peary, is here with Mrs. C. W. Carker, for whom he has a great attachment, because of her kindness to him when his father died.

It has been reported from New York that Mene was on his way to the Arctic regions again, but he apparently has no definite plans for such a trip. He is in poor health, and Mrs. Carker says that he can remain at her home until he recovers or decides to go elsewhere.

The strange lad probably will not resume his study in Manhattan College, New York.

OLUMBIA AN EASY VICTIM.

x Lengths Separate Shells at Finish Line.

efeated Oarsmen Show Very Little Real Class.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) April 17.—With powerful and finished stroke, the Harvard 'varsity crew defeated a aker and less expert crew from Columbia on the Charles River today, by full lengths in a race of a mile and ven-eighths.

After the first few strokes, there was ver any question regarding the outome. As if impelled by a powerful mo-, the Harvard eight swept proudly wn the Charles River basin before 000 people on the river bank, and ot like an arrow across the finish e.

Behind them trailed the Columbia ll, with the oarsmen plunging their e and white blades into the water a vain effort even to keep up with flying Crimson shell.

Despite the almost perfect river conions, the Columbian boat rolled like knockabout in a heavy sea, and it s with difficulty that Coxswain ckwood kept the nose of his boat aded down the course.

Harvard's veteran crew showed all dash and force which wore out le at New London last year, while exhibition of Columbia, even to ach Rice, was disappointing.

The start came almost exactly at 4 lock. With the firing of the pistol, Crimson shell was the first to get ay. Both crews hit up the stroke ove 40, and for a hundred yards more ed side by side. Then Harvard be- to draw away. Columbia conued the high stroke for a few min- longer, but present Capt. Cerussi opped back to 36. At the quar-mile Harvard was half a gth to the good and at the half- flag there was open water between boats. The Harvard boat gained adily, the Crimson stroke decreasing 32, and at one time as low as 28.

Under Harvard bridge dashed the mson crew, with 5000 people watch-. Ten seconds later the Columbia ll swept underneath, and the two ws started down the last mile of course. The water was now gher than in the upper reaches of river. The motion had no effect atever on the Harvard shell, but the steadiness of the Blue and White t was the feature of the race from point on. Stroke Sargent of the rvard crew again dropped the stroke ow 30, but when the mile and a half was reached there were five gths of water between the boats.

Coming down to the finish, Columbia s the first to spurt, but there was gain on Harvard. As the finish line s neared Sargent called upon his n for the last effort.

Up went the Havard stroke, while ern the Columbia shell wobbled untainly. The red flag fell, and Harhad won.

Nineteen seconds later the Columbia ll rolled across the line like a spent ner.

Coach Rice said his men could not m to get together. The Columbia rsmen showed despondency after the e, but would not discuss the result. The time of the race was:

TOO MUCH M'CREDIE.

EWING WOULD LIKE PORTLAND FRANCHISE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. Cal Ewing is sore at the McCredies and he went on rec-rd today as wishing he could kick hem out of the league and take the ortland franchise himself. He fur-her says he has been treated like a og while in Portland, by the Mc-redies and that they not only passed im up like a white chip but that he had to run his face to get into the pening game there Tuesday. He said oday:

"What I have had handed to me by he McCredies on this trip is more han I care to stomach, without a word of protest. I'd like nothing bet-er than to retire from the presidency f the league, taking the Portland ranchise away from the McCredies nd run the club myself. Portland de-erves better treatment than it has een getting. As for any claims Wal-er McCredie may make about my giv-ng Portland the worst of the deal bout Shinn, about umpires and about number of other things, all I can ay is that Walter amuses me. I don't ake him seriously in the least. But udge McCredie, the head of the Port-nd club, has a fine nerve to talk bout getting the worst of it from me. wouldn't treat a yellow dog the way he has treated me during my present visit to Portland. I suppose he will explain that it was a mere oversight not to extend the courtesies of the club to me on the opening day. I confess it kept the judge very busy gathering in the pasteboards to the grand stand that afternoon and I don't suppose I ought to feel particularly sore about that.

"I suppose I ought to feel unperturbed because Judge McCredie has passed me up like a white chip all the time I have been here. I came up here to see what the situation is like, and thought they would say something to me about it, but they didn't. They have something to say in the papers but that's all. From some of the things that have been said about me here I expected to be torn to shreds and eaten alive the minute I reached town, but everybody in Portland except the McCredies has treated me fairly.

"Nothing would please me better than to get the Portland franchise and I know where there is plenty of money to buy it and give Portland what is coming to the town in more ways than one, with treatment the sporting public of the city is not getting today. I don't care a snap for the presidency of the league. I would get out of the job in a minute if I could."

SAM M'VEY BEATEN.

Big Oxnard Black Fighter Trimmed by Joe Jeannette in Paris in Fifteenth Round.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the greatest fight witnessed in France since John L. Sullivan and Charley Mitchell drew at Chantilly in 1888. Joe Jeannette of New York tonight defeated Sam McVey of California in the fiftieth round of a finished fight. A great crowd witnessed a game exhibition of heavyweights, the contest lasting for three hours and a half.

McVey had the better of the fight up to the fortieth round and in both the twenty-first and twenty-second rounds he had the New Yorker so groggy that he barely could keep on his feet. Jeannette bore the punishment bravely and recuperated in a wonderful manner. McVey had almost worn himself out after forty rounds and by this time the New York fighter was coming back. By effective infighting he gradually beat the Californian and practically had him knocked out when the fight ended, McVey's seconds throwing up the sponge. Jeannette was the favorite in the betting and the purse was $6000.

It is understood that Jeannette now intends to issue a challenge to Jack Johnson for the championship of the world.

IMPURE BLOOD THOROUGHLY CLEANSED

Relieved of All Impurities Through the Use of Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

The blood is a thick, opaque fluid of a rich, red hue in the arteries, and a purplish blue in the veins. It derives its color from numerous small bodies floating in it which are called red corpuscles. If the blood be examined under a microscope the red corpuscles will appear as thin, circular disks, floating in a transparent, nearly colorless fluid.

These red corpuscles number 5,000,000 to the cubic centimeter, but it often happens that they become very much diminished in number, a condition known as anaemia or leukoaemia. There are also other circular bodies in the blood known as white corpuscles, but which are much less numerous than the red.

The red corpuscles are the stimulating and animating elements of the blood. They absorb oxygen in their passage through the lungs, and convey it to the tissues of the body, where combining with food elements absorbed from the stomach, it evolves animal heat.

Whenever the kidneys fail to properly filter the blood of its impurities, or whenever constipation occurs, the impure foreign matter collects in the blood-current, is carried to all parts of the system in the circulation, and is usually deposited in the form of pimples and other eruptions upon the skin.

Most of these eruptions appear upon the face, for the reason that the skin there is thinner than anywhere else. Many people commit the error of trying to cure the pimples or eruptions by the application of salves and lotions, which is a great mistake, as the cause of the trouble is deeper seated, and the skin disease is simply the outward manifestation of the impure condition of the blood within.

Calcium Sulphide is the greatest blood purifier in existence. Instead of driving the blood impurities out through the pores, it sends them out through the proper channels—the kidneys and intestines.

STUART'S CALCIUM WAFERS contain calcium sulphite, combined with other powerful alteratives or purifiers, which act rapidly and powerfully upon the morbid products of the blood, expelling them completely, preventing their return, and incidentally removing pimples, boils, blackheads, carbuncles, tetter, ringworm, scurvy, and all other skin blemishes.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS ADOPT STRONG RESOLUTIONS.

Arrangements in the Making for the Fitting Celebration of the Date Sacred to the Memory of the Nation's Dead—Various Organizations to Participate.

At a meeting of the Spanish War Veterans, held on Friday night at the Armory, strong resolutions were adopted with reference to the proper observance of Memorial Day.

They bemoan the fact that the true purpose and intent of the day is largely misconstrued, and that it is being devoted to recreation, to the destruction of the lofty patriotism that inspired its establishment. The resolution calling for the proper observance of the day, reads thus:

"That we call upon all loyal citizens, fraternal societies and organized bodies, to use every earnest effort to impress upon the public the real purpose for which the day is sacredly set apart, in order that we all may join with patriotic fervor, in showing our high regard for the services of these heroes of our country who, though not here in life, influence us by their worthy example to love of country. Let not their brave services be forgotten upon this day so especially set aside to decorate the honored graves wherein their bodies rest, but let us bring to our recollection their valiant deeds, and, as we keep their graves green and decorated with flowers, may we also truly venerate and respect Memorial Day by remembering the nation's dead."

This resolution was sent broadcast, and attention will be called to the policy of the Police Commission to refuse license to sports of any character where an admission fee is charged.

Memorial Day falls on Sunday, and the organizations taking part in Friday night's meeting will attend service at the First Baptist Church at 11 o'clock a.m., when Dr. J. Q. A. Henry will preach a patriotic sermon. The Auxiliary of Roosevelt Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, will also attend this service.

The Memorial Day exercises will be held on Monday, which becomes the legal holiday. A parade will be formed at the Armory, Eighth and Spring streets, at 9:15 o'clock a.m., and headed by a platoon of police, with a battalion of the National Guard as escort of honor, will march to Central Park. The following organizations will be in line:

Seventh California Veterans Association; Roosevelt Camp, No. 9, United Spanish War Veterans; Society of the Army of the Philippines; Gen. H. G. Otis Camp, No. 34, and Admiral Glass Camp, No. 36, United Spanish War Veterans, and the Los Angeles Camp of the Veteran Army of the Philippines.

At the Seventh California monument in Central Park an invocation and Memorial Day address will be delivered and the graves of the dead will afterward be strewn with flowers.

The young veterans will coöperate in every way with the veterans of the Civil War. The following committees have the arrangements in charge: Seventh California Volunteers' Association, P. C. Heydenreich, W. G. Schreiber, H. B. Light; Roosevelt Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, P. C. Mulqueeny, W. W. Cooper, B. A. Harbour, T. C. Galbraith, R. E. Swem; the Los Angeles Camp of the Veteran Army of the Philippines; Gen. H. G. Otis Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, F. H. Crumbley, Henry Batie; Admiral Glass Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, Dave Wyckoff, L. J. Amon, M. R. Bowe. An additional committee of members from the various societies was appointed to confer with the Grand Army of the Republic, as follows: P. C. Mulqueeny, P. C. Heydenreich, F. H. Crumbly, B. A. Barbour, D. Wyckoff.

VALLEY LANDS GOOD SECURITY.

LARGE SUM OF MONEY WILL BE LOANED ON PROPERTY.

Representatives of Eastern Insurance Company Make Two Days' Trip of Inspection and Will Report Favorably—Work on Septic Sewer System Started.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

EL CENTRO, April 17.—Of great importance to the development of Imperial Valley lands is the action of a committee representing the Union Central Life Insurance Company of Cincinnati, and the financial correspondents of that company. They made a general investigation of the valley, in order to report on the advisability of making extensive farm loans here.

The committee is composed of Louis Breiling, treasurer of the company, and Clifford B. Wright, president of the Union Savings Bank & Trust Company of Cincinnati. They were accompanied on their two days' journeyings through the valley by automobile by James L. Lombard and Norman Lombard of the firm of Lombard & Sons, San Francisco, and H. C. Griswold of El Centro.

These eastern men were amazed at the results already accomplished and the great fertility of Imperial Valley ranches. Their report to the company will be wholly favorable to the placing of a large sum of money in loans on valley property. One of the members of this investigating committee stated that he is confident that final receipts will be regarded as sufficient title to the land. Loans are to be made for ten years at reasonably low rates of interest.

SEWER WORK STARTED.

Actual construction of El Centro's septic sewer system was begun yesterday morning by Frick & Ware, the Los Angeles contractors. They have brought to El Centro a corps of nine expert sewer men and their steam ditch digger. The time limit for completion is the middle of July, but the contractors believe they will be able to cut three weeks off this.

SCHOOL CONTRACT.

The board of directors has awarded to Frank Koetsch of Imperial the contract for the erection of El Centro's two-story grammer school at a cost of $18,912. It is probable the work will be relet by the contractor to J. L. Travers and H. H. Peterson, who have erected most of the larger buildings of El Centro. The building is to be completed and ready for use by the opening of the schools next fall.

NEW YORKERS GATHER.

Empire State People Listen to Speaker and Writer from the Banks of the Hudson.

The New York State Society met last night in Maple Hall, Fraternal Brotherhood building, and packed the place to suffocation. There was an elaborate programme of music and recitations, and an address by George W. Burton, who once lived on the picturesque banks of the Hudson.

Mr. Burton has been a resident of California for many years, has traveled widely in this country and in Europe, and is one of the most interesting reminiscent talkers in Los Angeles. Since the early days when he was a schoolmaster, he has been a newspaper writer, and his description of the Grand Cañon of the Colorado, and of other great works of nature, are classics in their line.

Although the hour was late when he was presented to talk last night, he was heard with rapt attention as he recounted in vivid language his boyhood recollections of the Empire State. Mr. Burton has just compiled his writings in book form, including a series of articles on conditions in European countries, and other subjects, most of which have from time to time appeared in the columns of The Times.

PRESIDENT IS PLANNING TRIP.

Summer Journey West Is Up to Congress.

Mr. Taft Himself Is Anxious to Visit Alaska.

Tour Will Probably Be Made After Next August.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 17.—President who believes that the Chief Magistrate of the nation should keep in as touch with the people as the duties and requirements of the office admit, is planning a notable trip during late summer and early autumn, provided Congress decides to continue annual appropriations of $25,000 for traveling expenses allowed during the ing years of the Roosevelt administration.

The plans for the summer as far into heated term as August 15, have been completed. Mr. Taft hopes to leave Washington as soon as he can arrange matters, after the adjournment of Congress, and has been told that the extra session will end June 1. The President will go direct from the White House to his summer home at Burgess Point, Beverly, Mass., and spend two months or more there, quietly and as free from official worry as possible. He will devote most of vacation to golfing and motoring, and perhaps will take a short cruise along the northern coast.

The reassembled Atlantic fleet of sixteen battleships will maneuver off the New England coast during the summer and the President undoubtedly will go out to see some of the work of the ironclads.

WESTERN TRIP EXPENSIVE.

The trip the President desires to take to the West during the late summer will be entirely too expensive to be paid for out of his own pocket. An outline of proposed itinerary has been given to a high railroad official, and an estimate requested. It is said the cost would be in the neighborhood of $15,000 to $17,000. If he goes West at all the President will include Alaska in the journey. He will probably sail from Seattle on a vessel of the navy or revenue-cutter service. No President has ever visited the far northern Territory which for so long has been part of the United States. The President has been invited, and is particularly anxious to attend the following gatherings:

The annual encampment of the G. A. R. at Salt Lake City; the Trans-Mississippi Conference at Denver.

The National Irrigation Congress at Spokane, and the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle.

In addition to his proposed visit to the Rocky Mountain States and to the Pacific Coast, the President's tentative plans for the trip include a long trip through the Southwest and the of the South itself.

TRAVEL ON WARSHIP.

the vessels of the Pacific which includes eight first-class cruisers of the type of the Carolina and Montana, which used on his recent trip to will be stationed in and about Puget Sound during the exposition, and the President undoubtedly would make the trip to Alaska on one of these. Returning from the north, he probably would land at San Francisco, and there begin his journey along the southern border line.

Mr. Taft has often spoken of an Alaskan trip, but it has not been definitely known until now that he has decided positively to make a visit there of any trip he may take to the Pacific Coast. Mrs. Taft, who is as fond of traveling as her husband, would accompany the President on the trip.

IS FOND OF TRAVEL.

Western and southern Senators and Representatives are particularly anxious to have the President visit their sections, and will do all in their power to provide the necessary funds. They believe that such a tour as the President proposes to make should be regarded as an essential factor in the universal desire to keep the people in close touch and sympathy with the central government.

President Taft makes no secret of his fondness for travel. He believes it to be the only way of obtaining a proper view and perspective of such a big country. Mr. Taft's stay at Beverly will be interrupted by a few short trips to fill speaking engagements he has already made and others which he has under consideration.

Two splendid new motor cars, ordered some time ago, have just arrived at the White House garage, making three machines in all now at the President's disposal. The President and Mrs. Taft both are looking forward with pleasure to motoring long distances over the splendid New England roads.

FOR COAST DEFENSE.

Maj. John Cree Ordered to Honolulu in Charge of Artillery Division.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 17.—By the establishment of the artillery district of the Department of California, designated as the District of Honolulu about July 15, Hawaii's defenses will be greatly strengthened.

Maj. John Cree, now at Fort Preble, Me., was today ordered to the presidio of San Francisco to assume command of the coast artillery troops under orders to proceed to Honolulu.

RAISINS TO PRESIDENT.

Congressman Needham Starts Celebration of Day in Washington.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Congressman Needham, in the name of the Raisin Day Committee, has presented packages of California raisins to the President, the Vice-President, the Speaker of the House and the Secretary of Agriculture, with the request that they be used on Raisin Day.

NO POKER WELCHING.

President Will Not Appoint Men Who Fail in Debts of Honor.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Taft administration has barred welching poker players from Federal officeholding. At least no man charged with this offense will be appointed to a judgeship, according to a precedent just established in the case of a southern candidate for the bench.

A delegation of the kickers called at the White House to file their objections with the President, the chief complaint being that he didn't pay his poker debts.

A subsequent visit to the White House convinced the members of the delegation that they had won their point and had completely knocked out the welching candidate.

It is the intention of the War Department to send only two companies of the coast artillery to Fort Ruger, Hawaii, at this time but provisions are being made for a four company garrison.

Maj. Cree, with his troops, will sail from San Francisco about July 5. When the present plans of the War Department have been carried out the defenses of Honolulu will be manned by forty-five officers and 1056 men of the coast artillery corps. There will be seventeen mortars, six 12-inch guns and seven 3-inch guns in the batteries.

DISMISS INDICTMENTS.

United States District Attorney Abandons Six Postoffice Cases—Eight Others Remain.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 17.—United States District Attorney Baker today abandoned six cases growing out of the sweeping postoffice department investigation of 1903.

Among the cases dismissed because of lack of evidence are the indictments against August W. Machen, who was general superintendent of the free delivery service; Thomas W. McGregor, who was one of his assistants; Maurice Runkle, charged with conspiracy in connection with the contracts for mail bags, and indictments of Machen, George H. Huntington and Isaac M. McKiehan, involving contracts for package boxes.

The indictments charging bribery of government officials, which were returned against McKiehan, Huntington, John T. Kupper and William C. Long also were nolled.

Eight cases remain and are yet to be acted upon.

UNIQUE ENGINEERING.

CUTTING BELOW SEA LEVEL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Officials in charge of the Isthmian Canal work reported to the War Department that some of the most unique engineering projects in the entire construction have just been undertaken.

One is the excavation belo w sea level in the Mindi hills, near the Atlantic entrance to the canal, and the other is the dredging from Limon Bay at the mouth of the canal on the Atlantic side of the Mindi hills. The dredging is made difficult by reason of the fact that for two miles the channel runs through a bed of silt overlaying sandstone. The excavation below sea level is being carried on by means of two pumps keeping the cut dry.

PLANS LONG CRUISE.

WORK FOR PACIFIC FLEET.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Navy Department is working out plans for an extended cruise next summer of the eight armored cruisers comprising the Pacific fleet. They will sail in August, and will go as far as the Philippines, the probable intention being to keep them at sea for six or seven months, during which time they will have steady practice of one kind or another to bring them up to the highest state of efficiency. They will be back in time for spring target praceice.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Immediately after the suspension of the Union National Bank of Oakland, Cal., a few days ago, Comptroller of the Currency Murray ordered the suspension of Bank Examiner Charles G. Reed, pending an investigation to determine whether the bank was insolvent during the time Mr. Reed had examined it, and reported it solvent. A full investigation of the condition of the bank for some time past will be made by the Comptroller.

Bill for Census Money.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The census appropriation, providing $10,000,000 for the expense incident to the first two years of the collection of data from the thirteenth census, will be introduced Monday by Representative Tawney, chairman of the Appropriations Committee. The total estimate of the expense for obtaining the census will be $14,000,000. The bill will also provide for several deficiency appropriations.

Bids will be opened shortly for the purchase of this explosive, which, it is estimated, will cost about $1,000,000.

All men are not born equal. Nature doesn't cast from moulds. She's an artist. She never repeats herself—her trees never bear the same number of leaves, her plants never grow two pieces of fruit that exactly match. She puts a dab of individuality in everything she creates, especially Man. Opportunities are equal, but ability to grasp them vary with the individual. The world is filled with 22-caliber cartridges trying to explode in 30-30 rifles. No system will ever be conceived by man that will overthrow the basic laws of the universe, first among which is that of competition, which has prevailed since the cave-man began to test his prowess and to measure it against that of his neighbor. There are big duties and little tasks, offices of direction and of obedience and there must be big men and small men to perform them. An army must have its chief, its consulting aids and its ranks. There must be cog wheels as well as fly wheels on every machine. Each watch must have its mainspring, and each government its supreme head. All that the doctrine of equal rights can hope to accomplish is that the man who is most deserving shall be placed where he should be. Until the last page of the last volume is written in the Book of Years, merit alone will rule the earth. In merchandising, as in everything else, merit wins. Do you suppose we have found it necessary to have five big stores in order to supply the great and growing demand for Silverwood goods if we did not give more than others do for the same money, not only in value, but in kindness, polite attention, good service, etc.? You can buy hats, clothing, underwear, shirts and hosiery in dozens of stores in this community, but it's the genuine, honest satisfaction of knowing you get your money's worth that makes you loyal to us. Gang of Teamsters Frightened from Victims by Revolver Shots Fired in Air by Police.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 17.—Disorder occurred here today in connection with the strike, which members of the International Association of Teamsters have instituted against certain trucking firms. The men demand higher wages and recognition of their organization. An attack was made at Gouverneur slip on a wagon belonging to Jackson Bros., but the attacking party was frightened off by two revolver shots fired in the air by a policeman.

Cornelius Shea, who looked after the interests of the striking teamsters in Chicago two years ago, assumed charge of the teamsters' affairs here today. The leaders of the strikers declare that by Monday 1000 teamsters will be out.

FROM THE WHEAT.

OR WEIGHTS ADOPT SCALE.

aster Bakers Act on Sizes for the Loaves.

ill Ask Oven Operators to Maintain Prices.

ity Sealer Presents His Idea to the Mayor.

Local bakers will meet the economic problem confronting them as a result of the high prices of flour, due to a shortage in the wheat supply and the Patten corner in the speculative market by fixing a uniform standard of weights and prices, which will reduce the size of a majority of loaves sold. The prices to the consumer will remain at 5 and 10 cents. The bakers propose to bind themselves by an agreement to maintain the scale, and not to sell to each others' customers for a period of sixty days.

They say such an agreement will be legal under an amendment to the Cartwright anti-trust law, passed at the late session of the Legislature. Profits of the retailer will be reduced from 5 to 20 per cent. A committee will draft the agreement in conformity with the scale adopted at a meeting of the master bakers last night, and it will be, doubtless, ratified at a meeting next Wednesday evening.

In opposition to the plans of the master bakers, City Sealer of Weights Green yesterday presented to Mayor Alexander a communication urging the enactment of an ordinance requiring all bread to be sold by weight.

A uniform scale of weights and ces for bread—thirteen twenty-six-nce loaves and twenty-six thirteen-nce loaves for $1—is the plan agreed on by the master bakers of Los Anles at their meeting at No. 517 South oadway last night. An agreement is be drawn up which all bakers in city will be asked to sign binding m to maintain prices and not to sell each other's customers for a period sixty days.

his agreement will be drawn up by committee which will meet at the ion League Club Monday afternoon 2 o'clock and will be presented at meeting of the master bakers next dnesday night for ratification. A re of the 150 bakers in the city were sent at the meeting last night, but se represent about three-fourths of entire output of bread.

SAY IT WILL EQUALIZE.

he master bakers contend that the scale will merely equalize prices. ead will continue to retail at 5 and cents a loaf, but the consumer who been getting a fourteen-ounce loaf 5 cents will get an ounce less, and se who have been paying the same ce for eleven and twelve-ounce ves will be benefited accordingly. e larger proportion of the bread d, however, is in fourteen-ounce ves. The bakers say there have n no sixteen-ounce loaves made ce the present high prices for flour in, the weights having been cut adually.

The brunt of the movement will fall on the retailer, who has been mak- profits all the way from 30 to 50 cent. The new scale will allow 30 cents on every dollar's worth bread he buys, or a selling profit of out 22 per cent. Because of the keen mpetition some of the bakers have en selling as many as twenty-eight, irty, thirty-two and even a larger mber of eleven and twelve-ounce aves for $1. These prices were made give the retailers a large profit as inducement to handle certain ands.

The meeting was organized by the ection of William D. Meek of the eek Baking Company as chairman. e question of admitting newspaper n was brought up and it was deded to make it an open session, the akers declaring that the questions to considered are of vital interest to e public and they have no desire do anything that would be unfair the consumer.

Those present were called upon in rn for their opinion regarding the st means of giving the bakers a ir profit, which it was declared they e not getting under the present high ices of flour due to the shortage of heat and the Patten corner in the eculative market. C. S. Bradford ve it as his opinion that the present gh prices would not continue longer an it is possible to obtain accurate atistics on the new crop of wheat. e does not expect prices will go gher. There may be another adance of 20 cents a barrel in the price flour, he thinks, but he did not prect it. There is no wheat to be milled this State, he said, and many mills the Middle West are closed because ey are unable to get cereal to grind.

FOR LARGE LOAVES ONLY.

A strong sentiment developed in the scussion that followed in favor of aking only large loaves. Alexander othergill made the proposition and it ceived the approval of many of the her bakers, but it was overcome by e practical issues raised. It was ntended that there is a demand for cent loaves which would have to be et in some manner, which objection as met by a suggestion that the aves be made so they could be roken in halves. When it was rought out that the change would volve a big expense to the bakers n buying new pans, however, the roposition was dropped.

The communication of S. W. Green, ity Sealer of Weights and Measures, resented to Mayor Alexander, proosing that an ordinance be introuced in the City Council requiring all read to be sold by weight was disussed and C. S. Bradford proposed hat the bakers declare in favor of uch an ordinance, but Mr. Bradford was the only one who voted in favor f it. Objection was raised to such n ordinance on the ground that it would be illegal and it was further stated that it would not give the baker a chance to protect himself during periods of high prices for flour such as now prevails.

The question awaiting action on the proposed ordinance by the City Council was also brought up but the bakers decided that it might be weeks before it could be passed and that they would suffer in the meantime. Sentiment was unanimous for immediate action and C. W. Stone declared that if the bakers did not get together now they never would.

ONE PLAN ADOPTED.

Several propositions to fix the weight and prices of bread were then put to a vote and all were defeated save that made by George H. Barnes who presented the uniform scale which was adopted. This provides for twenty-six ounce loaves, thirteen to be sold for $1 and thirteen-ounce loaves, twenty-six to be sold for $1. It was further decided that all other goods retailing at 10 cents be sold at a uniform price of 8 cents.

C. W. Stone's proposition that the scale be put into the form of an agreement to be signed by all the bakers binding them to maintain prices and not to sell to each other customers for a period of sixty days was then discussed and adopted. A similar agreement, Chairman Meek said, was put into effect eight years ago when it was found necessary to advance prices as a result of the bakers' union forcing a higher schedule of wages. Mr. Meek suggested that in Seattle the master bakers and the union worked together to maintain uniform prices and that the union might assist in a similar movement here.

COMMITTEE TO DRAW.

A committee consisting of C. S. Bradford, George H. Barnes, William Meek, C. W. Stone and Alexander Fothergill was appointed to draw up an agreement which will be presented at a meeting next Wednesday evening for ratification. This committee, which will meet at the Union League next Monday at 2 o'clock p.m., will propose any modifications in the scale agreed upon which may be deemed advisable.

A question raised as to the legality of the proposed agreement was answered by Chairman Meek, who declared that it would be strictly within an amendment to the Cartwright law passed at the late session of the Legislature.

SUGGESTS BREAD LAW.

CITY SEALER'S IDEA.

A bread law for Los Angeles is suggested by S. W. Green, City Sealer of Weights and Measures, in a communication sent to Mayor Alexander yesterday. This law, he recommends, should provide that bread should be sold in two-pound loaves, or any multiple or aliquot part thereof, and let competition and public discrimination fix the prices.

Mayor Alexander said, after reading the communication, that he believed the recommendations were valuable, and that he would send a message to the Council at its next meeting urging that body to take action. The Mayor will probably suggest that the new law require all loaves to be stamped with their exact weight so that the public will know what it is buying.

In his communication the sealer calls attention to his report of April, 1908, when he showed that 5-cent loaves then selling weighed from eleven to fourteen ounces and 10-cent loaves from twenty-one to twenty-five ounces. Flour was then $5 a barrel and he deemed the prices charged too great, admitting a profit of 70 per cent. to the retailer. Now he finds that flour, because of the spectacular boosting of the price of wheat, is $7 a barrel, and he declares the bakers are now willing to sell a loaf, weighing uniformly eleven ounces, for 5 cents. This, he says, is an admission that his contention of a year ago was correct and that prices, according to weight, have always been too high.

The sealer does not hold that the Council has the right to regulate the price of bread, but he does hold that it may regulate the manner of sale, and this manner may be proper identification of the weight of each loaf.

What if a specialist in catarrhal afflictions, a real physician of character and integrity, should offer to cure you of catarrh, or nothing to pay?

You would jump at the chance. Of course you would. You would be foolish if you didn't.

And now that the makers of Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me), the Australian Inhalation Cure, that has actually cured more cases of Catarrh than all the catarrh specialists of America combined, say to you that Hyomei will cure your catarrh, or you can have your money back, what are you going to do? Are you going to be prejudiced and narrow minded just because the offer is not made by a physician?

Are you going to continue to suffer with snuffles, crusts in the nose, watery eyes, mucus in the throat, and all the annoying and distressing conditions that accompany catarrh, when all druggists guarantee Hyomei to cure you or money back?

HYOMEI INHALER

Do you know what Hyomei is? Let us tell you: It is the concentrated extract taken from the pine and eucalyptus trees of Inland Australia where catarrh, asthma, croup, hay fever or consumption were never known to exist.

And Hyomei is so pleasant to use; you'll like to use it; when you breathe it in it has such a soothing, healing effect on the inflamed and germ ridden membrane. In five minutes you get such wonderful relief that you know that at last you have a cure.

A Hyomei outfit, which consists of one bottle of Hyomei, a hard rubber pocket inhaler and medicine dropper and simple instructions for use, costs only $1.00, and extra bottles of Hyomei if afterward needed cost 50c.

And besides catarrh, remember that Hyomei is guaranteed to cure asthma, croup, bronchitis, coughs, colds, sore throat and hay fever, or money back. Hyomei is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

How to Cure Constipation Without Pills or Medicine

For the Benefit of Times Readers, We Are Pleased to Publish Pr Midgley's Wonderful, Clean, Straight Talk On the Folly Of Using Drugs to Cure Constipation.

For the benfit of Times readers is published a timely and interesting talk by Prof. T. H. Midgley on a point which is most vital to every man, woman and child in this country—the way to stop the spreading danger of chronic constipation. All that is said is true, and evidences of it are many and varied, as shown in hundreds of letters, some of which follow, from those who have done as he advocates.

Most Diseases Caused by Constipation.—Sewage for the Brain.

"It goes to the brain naturally, and to every part of the body, every organ being fed on this polluted blood or sewage. It goes to your face in the form of pimple-poison and breaks out on the skin, it goes to your head and gives you headache and dizziness, it goes to your brain and makes you drowsy, it weakens the stomach and causes dyspepsia and bad breath, it goes to the liver and causes biliousness, it goes to the kidneys and eventually gives rise to Bright's Disease, it goes to the heart and makes it thump, it goes to the eyes and robs them of their luster, it makes your nerves flaggy and weak and out-o'-sorts, and this is the advance agent of all kinds of disease, which you couldn't get at all if there was pure, rich, red blood flowing in your veins and your whole body was in prime condition.

24-Hour "Habit" All-Important.

"Although it is one of the simplest things in the world to cure even the worst case of chronic constipation, yet nearly every other man and woman you meet is positively so stopped up as to be hardly able to think clearly. To get the habit every 24 hours regularly works wonders. By the habit I don't mean the cathartic habit, but I mean that natural, easy move that every one ought to have without being obliged to make a rush for the pill box every night.

Must Quit Pill Habit.

"You young and middle aged men and women who eat and drink everything you like, and you old men and women who are addicted to pill eating to keep your overdue bowels going, you don't realize that there would not be one-hundredth part of the disease on earth today if your bowels were absolutely regular.

"You can shake your fist at almost any old disease known if you've got the bowels that do business every 24 hours. This is plain talk, but any doctor will tell you the same thing, only he may be more particular in his language and it won't make the impression on your mind.

Cathartics Can't Cure Constipation.

"It is true that cathartics sluice out the bowels clean, but they also sluice out the bowel-moving juice of secretion which Nature has put in every good bowel to make it work easy and right. When this natural lubricating fluid is cleaned out, your bowels become mere dead pipes. Then you get a bad case of constipation, and pills are swallowed to do the moving. This goes on, ever and ever again, and this is why so many are constipated.

"Take it for granted that you would like to quit taking pills and drugs, castor oil, cascara, jalap, gamboge and all other cathartics and consider my new rational method that has cured so many.

How You Can Stop Constipation Forever.

"If you will do as I say you can get rid of your constipation right now and forget about it ever after.

"Forget forever that there are any pills, powders, or potions for moving the bowels. They will move themselves if you will just give them a start the 'Midgley Way.' You will never realize how gratifying it is to have regular bowels and how fine it feels to really live, until you have tried it.

"My Rational Method includes a remarkable system of bowel exercises for which I send careful directions, with engraved cuts, to show just how the exercises should be taken. These exercises are so easy that they are used without difficulty by delicate women and very elderly people, yet they are so scientific as to stimulate the relaxed bowel muscles and reduce them to normal activity in a remarkably short period. No restrictions are placed upon the diet, though I do This wonderful Pomolo Fruit is as pleasant to the taste as oranges, and I supply it in a concentrated form from which all harmful acids are eliminated, so that it insist on the use for a time of a certain concentrated Fruit Food called 'Pomolo,' which I have discovered to be possessed of a marvelous tonic and strengthening effect on the entire digestive system, not only sharpens the appetite, but helps to digest starchy foods and thus prevents the formation of gas in the stomach and bowels—but I cannot go into details here.

"I am willing to tell any one, who will take the trouble to ask me, just exactly how to use this simple method, and how to be cured right at home, so that it will no longer be necessary to dose with any kinds of harmful drugs and acids. I have published a book which contains this Midgley Method in detail; and as it would be impossible to tell you in this brief space what it contains, I will send this book to any man or woman who is interested enough in a cure to send me a few postage stamps so as to pay the bare cost of sending it."

For the benefit of our readers we have taken the trouble to pick out at random a few of these letters and publish them. For instance, Mr. F. G. Jackson, who had almost become a mere skeleton and had suffered for 10 years, cured himself in a few days by the "Midgley Way."

"Jackson, Old Boy, You're Looking Fine."

Mr. F. G. Jackson, Mining Engineer of the American Flag Quartz mine at Comptonville, Calif., says: "Prof. T. H. Midgley, Dear Sir: I took your advice. I have gained 10 pounds in weight and my friends remark as I meet them, 'Jackson, old boy, you're looking fine.' I tried almost every kind of patent medicine for 10 years to no good. Your advice has proved marvelous. I was almost a skeleton, but now I feel as young and hearty as I did 20 years ago. I thank God and Prof. T. H. Midgley."

Had Tried Every Kind of Medicine.

Miss Ella Cea, of Boone, Ia., says: "I have been a constant sufferer from that dread disease, constipation, all my life, and had tried every kind of medicine and had consulted many different doctors, but none proved successful. At last I concluded to give Prof. Midgley's drugless treatment a trial. I did so, and at the end of one month was entirely cured. My general health grew better, and at present am in the best of health. Can say it is a wonderful cure and a help to anyone suffering as I was."

Suffered 20 Years, Cured in 30 Days.

Mr. Geo. E. Barker, 39 Bailey St., Boston, Mass., writes that he had been troubled with constipation for 15 or 20 years, and had tried almost every drug in the market. He cured himself in one month the "Midgley Way."

The Opportunity of a Lifetime.

This method offers the greatest opportunity to be cured of chronic constipation that you have ever had come to your notice.

You would be amazed to see the array of letters that are received daily by this benefactor of mankind. These letters are from worn-out, pill-ridden patients who have tried the "Midgley Way" as the last desperate effort, and to their surprise have been easily and quickly cured.

Mrs. Morgan Parkhurst, of Gerry, N. Y., suffered for 30 years and cured herself in 30 days, and so on down the list.

Was Near Death.

Thos. Needham, 1528 S. 44th Ave., Chicago, says: "I suffered fro constipation for 10 years. I tr cathartic on the market in vain could do nothing, and death see By following your advice I cure permanently in just one month."

Cathartics That Increase stipation.

"Aloes, calomel, croton oil, sagrada, jalap, gamboge, blue cynth, asafetida, senna, epsom ative mineral waters, podophyll oil, nux vomica, hyoscyamus, and other acids and drugs physicians know about, cause the bowels and increase chronic tion instead of curing it.

"It is not necessary to depend one of these sinful drugs; and sure as you do, you help to paraly bowels. You can have them mov day regularly without taking any paralyzers, if you will only fo my idea, which has already pro cessful in hundreds of cases cured."

Doctors Admit "Drug

The Chief Clerk of the Penn Railroad Company, located at New wick, N. J., says: "I have suffe chronic constipation for the years, taking most all of the potions I ever heard of. At became so bad I decided to give position with the railroad, as I days were numbered.

"One physician told me that he, as others, were powerless to cure pation with drugs, saying that gatives inflame the bowels and paralyze them. I followed your have not spent a penny for drug sort and I am cured."

Look Out for Your Ne

There is hardly anything which the nerves as quickly and surely ular bowels. Most people who nerves and are run down are constipated. It is surprising in a time a man or woman can strong body by being absolutely and taking Prof. Midgley's trea proves that he finally found a way to sign the measure.

EXPOSITION BILL.

As quoted in the telegram from the Los Angeles committee that visited him yesterday, he views the project as one of benefit to all of California—not to any one section. It is on this broad ground that he signed it.

"Certainly I am pleased with the outcome of the fight," said Mr. Bowen last night. "It has been a hard struggle, but the result has justified all the energy and time put forth. Southern California and the entire State never will have cause to regret the act of the Governor in signing the bill. The fight appeared hopeless at times, but I have felt that we should win at last."

LONG, BITTER STRUGGLE.

Mr. Bowen's entry into the Agricultural Park fight began in 1900, during his first term in the City Council. He became interested in the matter through a project that was broached for the purchase of a portion or all of the property for a city park. Several citizens agreed to subscribe liberally toward paying for the land. As an attorney, the Councilman started an inquiry as to the worth of the title to the big park, then under control, as now, by the Sixth District Agricultural Association.

But a "rump" association within the State association had been formed by a small coterie of men, who were charged later with attempting to throw the park into private ownership. They had discovered that the State title was not secure, and that it might be obtained at little cost.

Mr. Bowen carried on his investigation for three years, hampered by politicians, threatened with all sorts of dire consequences, ridiculed by an evening newspaper, and laughed at by many persons who thought he was chasing a chimera.

STARTS LEGAL DOINGS.

Alone, however, he persisted, and in 1903 he submitted a report to the Governor, to the effect that some of the directors were holding office without right.

This started the legal battle for possession of the park—the State on one side and the members of the "rump" association on the other. The State won in the Superior Court, and several years after Mr. Bowen had begun his fight, the Supreme Court confirmed the decision of the lower court, resting full title in the State.

But this did not end the battle. In the Legislature of 1907 a bill was introduced that threatened to tangle the situation as badly as ever. It was due only to Bowen's watchfulness that this bill was killed.

Again, at the recent session of the Legislature, a similar attempt was made, but Bowen was "on the jub," and he squelched that bill as he had throttled the other.

The placing of the exposition and other buildings in the park will put an end to all future schemes on the part of those who in the past apparently would stop short of nothing but filching the property.

GOVERNOR'S COURAGE.

It is understood that tremendous pressure was brought to bear upon Gov. Gillett by influential persons in the northern part of the State to prevent him from signing the appropriation bill. Jealousy of Southern California, not to say hatred, was largely responsible for their action, and by every possible device they endeavored to show the Chief Executive that he would err in signing the measure.

But the Governor was courageous throughout the entire controversy. When it appeared at first that there would be insufficient funds to justify the appropriation of so large an amount for the project, he plainly told the Los Angeles contingent that he feared he could not approve the bill.

Later, however, when it appeared to him that the money would be available and that the exposition building and other contemplated improvements would be of benefit to the State at large, he left out all sectional considerations and boldly told the objectors from the North that he would sign the bill, 'spite all their groans and threats.

APPROVED BY RIPLEY.

President of Santa Fe Thinks New Device to Prevent Railroad Accidents Is Effective.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN BERNARDINO, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President Ripley and a party of Santa Fé officials who arrived here today, think railway accidents can be eliminated by means of the F. J. Simmen apparatus. They spent the entire day at the plant operated by the inventor at Perris. It is believed the Santa Fé contemplates installing the safety device on its system.

The railroad had experimental apparatus installed on the eighteen-mile branch line between Perris and Highgrove, near this city. By means of a third rail, located half a mile on each side of stations, the dispatcher has entire control over trains, and can bring them to a stop at will if the engineer does not do so on signal.

Mr. Ripley and his party left tonight for San Francisco, and will make a trip of inspection through the northern part of the State. Oregon and Washington will also be visited.

G.A.R. FEAST ON ELK.

BILLINGS (Mont.) April 17.—Three hundred members of the G.A.R. and friends attended the State encampment here, and were treated to an unusual feast when they were served with elk steak, elk roast and stew, at an elaborate banquet last night. Two large elk donated from the famous herd of Paul McCormick, were prepared for the occasion.

SHOES

Retailed at Wholesale Prices

$4, $5 and $6 Grades Sell at $2 and $2.50

The Factory Shoe Parlors have just opened their retail rooms in Los Angeles, which give the public a chance to buy their shoes at wholesale prices.

This firm brings forth an entirely new idea in shoe selling. They secure the drummers' samples and factory surplus stocks direct from the leading eastern manufacturers. These shoes are purchased in quantities at a very low figure, shipped to the Factory Shoe Parlors direct from the maker, which cuts out the middle men's profits. Then, in locating, as this firm has, on the sixth floor of the Parmelee-Dohrmann building, 444 S. Broadway, they also cut out the enormous rent of a main floor location.

This places them in a position to put out some phenomenal shoe values, and a large number of people are crowding their shop every day, buying $4 up to $6 shoes for $2 and $2.50. Prices are never more. The shoes are high-grade, standard makes in men's, women's, misses' and boys', all new, plain and stylish high and low shoes, pumps and short vamp ties—in fact, almost anything in footwear. Save the address—it will save you dollars. 614 Parmelee-Dohrmann bldg., 444 S. Broadway. Open Saturday night.

PASADENA.

ETERNAL PEACE FOR WAR HERO.

COL. MONTGOMERY ANSWERS LAST ROLL CALL.

Death Removes President of Commonwealth Artillery Association—In Battle With Three Burglars Patrolman Wounds One, But Fails to Capture Any—Crown City Notes.

Office of The Times, No. 28 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, April 18.—With his last words expressing the wish to be present at the forty-eighth annual banquet of the Commonwealth Artillery Association at Philadelphia, Col. James E. Montgomery, aged 82 years, president of the association and a war hero several times promoted for gallantry, died at his home, No. 445 Bellefontaine street, yesterday evening. Col. Montgomery was captain of the Commonwealth Artillery Company of 100 men who enlisted at the commencement of the Civil War and served throughout. Early in his military career in the Union army, he was promoted for gallantry and, ranking as colonel, became a member of Gen. Grant's staff. Of the 100 men he led into the war, ninety became officers before its close. There are but forty survivors.

When Admiral Farragut made his famous cruise around the world, Col. Montgomery accompanied him as his secretary. He published a book on the voyage, entitled, "Admiral Farragut's Cruise." At the Seven Days' battle, Col. Montgomery was captured by the rebels and herded with a number of prisoners under guard to be sent to Libby prison. En route he escaped, returning to the Union lines, where, by his valiant service, he obtained ample revenge for the indignities to which Union prisoners were subjected.

After the war, Col. Montgomery practiced his profession as civil engineer and was prominent in the construction of the Pennsylvania Railroad. He was a member of the engineering corps which installed the famous horseshoe curve.

Col. Montgomery served as United States Consul at Brussels, Leipsic, Trieste and Geneva. He traveled widely and circled the globe several times.

He was a polished scholar of high attainments, was well known in Grand Army circles and was the unanimous selection of the Loyal Legion of Southern California for its president. He was also a member of Corona Lodge, F. & A. M., of Pasadena.

Funeral announcements will be made at a later date.

WATCHMAN WOUNDS THUG.

In a battle with three burglars early this morning at the Tod Ford residence, No. 257 South Grand avenue, Harry Warner of Freeman's detective patrol, winged one of his adversaries, but failed to catch any. The wounded man left a trail of blood leading into the Arroyo Seco, which was followed at daylight, but was lost in the brush. The two uninjured men left a plainer trail as far as the Ostrich Farm at South Pasadena, where it was also lost. Los Angeles police, Pacific Electric car conductors, Sheriff's office and others were notified by telephone to watch for the appearance of the men yesterday morning. The surveillance established did not prove successful, and the men are still at large. Warner was riding on his beat and turned into the drive going around the Ford residence, his bicycle making little noise as he approached the rear. Suddenly a spurt of flame leaped out of the darkness and Warner heard a bullet zip past his ear. Falling hastily from his bicycle, he saved his life by lying perfectly still in the driveway. Thinking he had killed the watchman, the burglar ran and gave Warner a chance to spring to his feet and open fire. He shot four times before the fleeing men disappeared over the arroyo bank. It is believed the burglars were attracted by notices that Tod Ford and family had closed up their Pasadena residence and gone to Europe. They expected to find rich loot in the deserted mansion.

LINNARD WILL STAY.

D. M. Linnard, manager of Hotel Maryland, yesterday denied the rumors to the effect that he would resign as manager on June 1, when the hotel is to be closed for the season. The denial was strengthened by a statement of the stockholders, who intimate that contracts may be entered into securing for Mr. Linnard the management for the next ten years. The rumors are believed to have arisen from reports of Mr. Linnard's proposed withdrawal from the Hotel Virginia in Long Beach.

SITE ASSURED.

Every stumbling block in the way of the final purchase for the government of the site at the corner of Worcester and Colorado has been removed by the prompt payment of all subscriptions by private individuals, making up the extra $50,000 added to the equal sum the government agreed upon as the purchase price. For some time there was considerable doubt on the part of those engineering the sale of the site that the purse could be made up in time to turn over certificate of title to the government.

Seed Beds Laid Out at Hermosa Beach, Manhattan Belvidere, Long Beach and Newport.

REDONDO BEACH, April 17.—E. S. Matteson of Los Angeles, an experienced tobacco grower, and B. H. Hiss of Hermosa Beach, have laid out ten and one-half acres at Hermosa Beach, Manhattan and Belvidere and will experiment in the culture of tobacco. Five acres at Hermosa Beach and five at Belvidere will be irrigated, while on the half-acre at Manhattan the owners will rely upon the moisture of the earth.

The seed beds have been started. Air-tight sheds will be erected for the curing of the plant. The growers expect to transplant the seedlings about the middle of May, and a crop is expected about the latter part of August.

Mr. Matteson has engaged in the culture of tobacco in the South and East for the past twenty years and is confident that the soil and climatic conditions of Southern California are particularly well adapted to the raising of high-grade tobacco.

He has started about seventy-five acres in tobacco throughout Southern California. In addition to the Hermosa and Belvidere farms he has planted the seed at Long Beach, Old Orange, Newport and Anaheim.

ADDS FORGERY TO MISDEEDS.

RELATIVES OF ROY CARR ARE THE SUFFERERS.

He Is Accused of Using Their Names—Young Man Is Fugitive from Justice and Whereabouts Is Unknown—Angeleno Is Victim of Threadbare Bunco Game.

LONG BEACH, April 17.—Developments in the suits instituted yesterday by Mrs. Wickersham to have certain deeds set aside because they are said to be forged and fraudulent, indicate that young Roy Carr, who is now a fugitive from justice, having forfeited a bond of $1000 to escape trial for issuing checks without funds to meet them, has added forgery to his other misdeeds and used his relatives to further his plans, hoping thus to escape punishment. Mrs. Wickersham, who brings the suits and who says her name has been forged, is Carr's cousin. Carr handled most of the Wickersham money and got away with it. Mrs. Matterson, one of the parties mentioned in the crooked deeds, is his own mother, and ignorant of the use of her name.

One of the suits brought yesterday is against Roy Bartow and Mrs. Matteson. Young Bartow is in San Francisco, but H. G. Ravenscroft, his brother-in-law, who handles his business, says the suit is with their consent. They hold a certificate of title clear to December 2. The deeds bear date of December 14, and were transferred December 17. Mrs. Wickersham came down from Los Angeles last week and, explaining Carr's probable crime, asked for a quitclaim deed. Ravenscroft refused this but advised her to bring suit and prove her claim. When this is done they will be in a position to recover their money from the notarial bond of Carr, he having signed all acknowledgments on the suspected papers in his official capacity as a notary public.

Carr is at present a fugitive from justice and his whereabouts is unknown.

AN EASY VICTIM.

Edgar Treadwell is the latest victim of a threadbare bunco game. He had secured passage on the Ella for Mexico and while waiting for sailing time took a stroll about West Long Beach. He met two companionable strangers and was soon interested in a card game. The men were arrested by a confederate who posed as an officer. The latter consented to let Treadwell off for $35 bail money, all he had, and then the men disappeared. Treadwell realized that he was buncoed as soon as he recovered from his scare, but it was too late, as the crooks crossed to the other side of the bay. Treadwell was left penniless and had to send to Los Angeles for money to continue his journey.

A party of fifty Prussian Mennonites were passengers today on the Tilton trolley trip. They represent 5000 families and are en route to Bakersfield to look at a big tract of land offered for a colony site.

Coward was walking along Ocean avenue near Daisy street last night, a boy suddenly darted from a tree shadow and snatched at her purse, but Mrs. Coward retained her hold and shoved the boy away. The lad made a second attempt and this failing he turned and ran to the beach, where he disappeared.

LOSES IN LIFE'S RACE.

Part Owner of Small String of Horses at Arcadia Commits Suicide by Taking Poison.

ARCADIA, April 17.—George W. Poole, sometimes called "Bishop" and also "Senator," by trackmen, part owner of a small string of horses, was found dying in stable No. 25 at 7 o'clock this morning. He took a large dose of carbolic acid, and to make death certain, deeply slashed his left wrist. Dr. L. N. Wheeler of Monrovia was summoned and arrived within a few minutes, but Poole was beyond medical help.

In a note to a friend he gave a list of credits and debts and turned over to him $200, all the cash he had left. He requested that his accounts be adjusted and asked to be buried at Monrovia.

Poole was about 50 years of age, and is said to have a wife and daughter in Kansas. He and a partner in the East owned a small string of inferior horses and the season's winnings were hardly sufficient to pay expenses. It is said the partner forwarded money for the transportation of the horses to New York and they are to be shipped day after tomorrow. Poole appeared cheerful when seen by acquaintances late last night. Coroner Hartwell ordered Undertakers Reynolds and Renaker of Monrovia to care for the remains.

PROSPERITY AT SAN DIMAS.

Steady Demand for Orange Groves and Many Houses to Be Built—Fruit Shipments.

SAN DIMAS, April 17.—E. O. Thompson, today, sold a twelve-acre orange grove and home on Bonita avenue, to H. R. Schisler of Pomona, for $12,500.

C. N. Hawley has sold a thirteen-acre orange and lemon grove to Rev. G. D. Tangeman, a retired Congregational clergyman, for $31,300.

J. P. Spencer has sold a nine-acre three-year-old orange grove to Harvey Middleton of this place, for $9500. James A. Johnstone, a ten-acre three-year-old orange and lemon grove to Don Johnson, for $11,000. Walter Aspden, a four-acre orange grove to G. C. Loyd, for $7500.

Never before in the history of this town has there been so much activity in the building trade as at present. The lemon growers have erected a $40,000 packing-house that is one of the largest and best equipped in the world. The ranchmen, after prosperous seasons, are putting up more substantial and attractive homes.

San Dimas has now more than twenty-five homes which have cost $6000 each.

Dr. E. W. Montgomery of Winnipeg, Canada, has joined his family here and will erect a $10,000 residence on the bluff overlooking the town. Plans are being made for three other large residences on the bluff, near the home of A. A. Russ, which is one of the most beautiful in Southern California.

During the past week thirty-four carloads of oranges and twenty-five of lemons have been shipped from here.

BOOST MERGER AT A BANQUET.

OCEAN PARK'S NEXT MEETING WILL BE CONVIVIAL.

After the Dinner Speechmakers Will Tell of Advantages to Be Gained by Consolidation—All Sections of Beach Will Be Represented on Toast List.

OCEAN PARK, April 17.—Preparations are being made for the next meeting to promote the consolidation of the cities of Ocean Park and Santa Monica. This is to be a semi-social session. It will be in the form of a banquet, and ladies are to be invited. There will be a toastmaster, and good speakers will be assigned to deliver brief talks on different phases of the all-absorbing question. Every aspect of the proposed union will be touched upon in an honest endeavor to convince of their error any of those who may still hold to the opinion that consolidation would not be for the best interests of the greatest number of people. At the banquet it is expected will be seated the members of the Councils of the two cities and representative citizens from the southern, central, northern and eastern sections. There will be talkers from all sections of the beach and the belief is that the result of this friendly commingling will do much to advance the interests and prove a great aid to the ultimate success of the movement. Those who doubt the great good that is expected to follow the union of cities and the unity of residents will have it demonstrated to them that the project is an unselfish, broad-gauge attempt to harmonize the interests of the whole beach.

Under one of the Legislature's new laws, the question of municipal aid for the beach band and financial assistance for the Commercial Club in the advertisement and promotion of seaside interests is solved, provided the Trustees deem it advantageous to take advantage of the provisions of the enactment. According to this law, the Trustees are empowered to expend such sum as they shall deem proper, not to exceed 5 per cent. of the property tax levy in any one fiscal year, for music and promotion. Santa Monica, with a freeholder charter, is this year utilizing 5 cents of her tax levy for this purpose, and good results are being obtained.

R. H. Dow has just returned from Sylvanite, N. M., where he met W. W. Coolbaugh, who recently went into the new mining camp. Coolbaugh was successful in locating a number of promising placer prospects and believes he has struck it rich.

SOUTH PASADENA, April 17.—City Attorney Carson has been notified by the lawyers for the Southern Pacific Railroad that the company recognizes this city's right to prevent the building of a fence across Marengo avenue at its entrance to Garfield Park. The company attempted to erect a barrier a few weeks ago, and was stopped by the city on the ground that Marengo avenue was a dedicated street.

Others who assisted were James Rice, violinist, Mrs. Walter Raymond, Mrs. Grace Bannerman, and Abraham Miller, soloists, and Mrs. Frank Cattern, reader.

The religious meetings under the auspices of the Christian Church of this city, held in the tent on the library lot, are growing in interest and size. Dr. Shepard is greatly assisted in his work by Mrs. Princess C. Long who is a singing evangelist. As an additional attraction Sunday Miss Vivian of New York, a harpist, will play.

Mrs. R. P. Shepard of Pomona is visiting friends here.

SANTA MONICA, April 17.—The remains of Archie C. Johnson, formerly a merchant of Santa Monica, will be brought back to this place from the lonely spot on the Illinois River, in the wilds of Western Oregon, where they now rest. C. W. Everett Holman and George Ward of Grant's Pass, Or., have been enlisted and a pack train has been started down the Illinois River from Grant's Pass. The trip will take six days of the hardest kind of travel over rough mountain trails.

Johnson was swept from his horse and drowned over a year ago while fording the Illinois River with one companion. The latter escaped. The body was recovered after having been in the water some time, but the settlements were so far away it was thought best to bury the remains and ship them here later.

MURDERED MAN WAS ENGAGED.

Arthur S. Dow, who, according to a dispatch in The Times of this morning, was murdered yesterday at Newberry Mountain, near Searchlight, was formerly and for several years a resident of this beach. He at that time made his home with his mother, residing on Kinney street. He was about 29 years of age and had devoted several years to mining and prospecting. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, and that organization at Searchlight has been requested to make investigation concerning his death and to send the body to this city for burial. The murdered man was engaged to Miss Ellis Cox, whose home is in Ocean Park.

TRAVELS FAR BY HERSELF.

Little Girl Journeys Alone from Stratford, England, to Santa Barbara.

SANTA BARBARA, April 17.—Word was received from New York today that a popular and much-petted passenger on the Cunarder Campania, which got in yesterday, was 13-year-old Lillie Ella Bailey, who is journeying alone from Stratford-on-Avon to Santa Barbara to visit her mother, whom she has not seen in five years. Little Lillie has been living with her grandmother.

Some years ago her father disappeared and has not been found in spite of the long search made for him. The child was sent to England to live. Recently the mother wanted her with her again, and the grandmother started her on her long journey alone. She traveled on the steamer in care of a stewardess and on her arrival at New York was turned over to the representatives of a transcontinental railroad.

NEW EDIFICES.

CHURCH PLANS ARE RECEIVED.

UPLAND PRESBYTERIANS NOW WILL STUDY THEM.

Methodist Building Also to Be Doubled — Citrus Fruit Packing Houses Report Busiest Week in Their History—Big Warehouse for Vineyard Company.

UPLAND, April 17.—The plans for the proposed new Presbyterian Church are in the hands of the Building Committee here. The structure is to be principally of brick. The Methodist Church is also to be practically doubled in size.

PACKERS BUSY.

The past week was one of the busiest in the history of local packing-houses, the Ontario-Cucamonga Exchange sending forward from this place an average of over eighteen cars daily. There are a number of independent shippers. It is estimated there will be an increase of 300 cars from Upland this season, over last, and the total of oranges and lemons for the season is expected to reach close to 3000 carloads.

Rev. J. B. Leamon of the Brethren in Christ Church will leave Tuesday for Dayton, O., to conduct evangelistic services. He will return the latter part of May.

N. T. Franklin has purchased of Mr. Sumner of Los Angeles ten acres of orange land on West Tenth street for $18,000.

TREES MUTILATED.

The disgraceful mutilation of beautiful shade trees on upper Euclid avenue is complained of by property owners, especially up San Antonio Heights way. Permission to trim shade trees inside the city limits must be secured from the Trustees. The promiscuous granting of these has led to the suggestion of placing this work in the hands of a competent man. In some instances, the beauty which has required almost twenty years to bring about has been ruthlessly destroyed in a very few hours by some butcher with a sharp ax but little judgment. Charles D. Adams, a resident of the upper mesa territory, has been suggested for the position.

HUGE WAREHOUSE.

The Italian Vineyard Company is erecting a large stone storage warehouse on its property at South Cucamonga. The building is to be a mammoth one, 400x180 feet. Upon its completion the company expects to be able to handle all the grapes in that vicinity. Evidently the prohibition wave has no terrors for this company.

The annual gathering of the Ladies' Association on San Antonio Heights was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary Tays, and was attended by almost 100 residents.

Twenty new members were received into the Methodist Episcopal Church here last Sunday. Dr. A. C. Welch is pastor.

WEIRD.

DISAPPEARANCE STILL PUZZLES.

BY 'PHONE AND MAIL MYSTERY IS DEEPENED.

Friends Believe Santa Ana Produce Man, Who Has Not Been Seen Since November, Met With Foul Play. Untruthful Messages Received Concerning Him.

SANTA ANA, April 17.—For several weeks officers have been trying to find R. A. Sporn, a produce man who roomed at the Vendome lodging-house, but who disappeared on November 17.

Sporn's friends believe the missing man met with foul play. About four weeks ago, George B. Salkeld, proprietor of the Vendome, received a letter from Fullerton, purporting to be from Sporn. It stated that he had fallen in with horse traders at Tustin and had been "doped" by them, and that when he recovered consciousness, he was alone in the mountains, minus his watch and $60. He asked Salkeld to forward his trunk to him. Salkeld suspected there was something wrong and instead of sending the trunk sent a registered letter. This has never been called for, though advertised.

J. W. Inman, an upholsterer who knew Sporn well, received a mysterious telephone message recently, telling him that the produce man is in a hospital at Riverside. This is not the case.

The matter has been referred to Dist.-Atty. Davis. Sporn's trunk is still here, together with a photograph of his dead wife and child.

He was five feet, six inches high, weighed 160 pounds, had sandy hair and mustache and blue eyes, and was about 32 years old.

W. E. Chilson has resigned as a rector of the Bolsa drainage district, and the Supervisors will probably appoint J. H. Stewart as his successor.

Enos A. Mills, a representative of the forest service, lectured at the City Hall tonight, under the auspices of the Tri-Counties Reforestation Committee.

DIES AT GREAT AGE.

Mexican Woman, Supposed to Be Hundred Years Old, Passes at San Juan Capistrano.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, April 17.—Old "Chola Martina," as she has been known to two generations of residents of the Mission Valley, died in her adobe house yesterday afternoon. About her centered many traditions of this village. Hundreds of visitors in years past sought to snap their cameras at her deeply wrinkled face, but none succeeded unless they had first crossed her palm with silver.

She came here eighty years ago from Sonora, Mex., where she was born. For a long time she had lived in one of the old mission adobes, south of the Hotel Mendelson with her husband, Tomas Burruel, who died about a year ago. She was supposed to be 100 years old. Her picture appears in George Wharton James's book, "In and Out of the Old Missions."

It is said that she once saved the life of Juan Flores, the celebrated leader of desperadoes.

The block will be put up by Miss Helen M. Collins of Los Angeles, who owns the lot situated at the corner of Ocean avenue and Main street. It will cost $10,000. It will be the most substantial improvement made here in some time.

A lodge of the Woman's Relief Corps with a membership of thirty-three was instituted this week with Mrs. Adelia Gardner as president.

How To Brown Hair Without Detection

Mrs. Potter's Walnut-Juice Hair Stain Can Be Applied in a Few Minutes Every Month.

There is a way of staining gray, faded or bleached hair any shade desired, from a beautiful rich brown to almost black, so that it is difficult if not impossible, for even experts to detect that the hair has been treated in any way.

This preparation has the tremendous advantage over hair-dye of containing no silver, sulphur, lead or other poisons which invariably cause hair-falling. It has no odor, no oil, no sediment and no grease, and does not rub off on the clothing. It makes the hair grow out fluffy and luxuriant.

A liberal amount as a laboratory trial package of this walnut-juice hair stain, together with booklet on hair, is sent by Mrs. Potter's Hygienic Supply Co., 541 Groton Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio, in plain, sealed wrapper, if you will send twenty-five cents in stamps or coin, and if it is desired to continue the treatment, full sized packages may be obtained at drug stores for one dollar a package.

It is applied in a few moments with the comb, and it stains nothing but the hair, and stains it evenly from tip to root. It produces any shade desired, from a beautiful rich brown to almost black.

One bottle of this walnut-juice hair stain can last a year.

Mrs. Potter's Walnut Juice Hair Stain is recommended and for sale in Los Angeles by Owl Drug Co., 320 So. Spring and 6th and Broadway, 622 So. Broadway.

LIBERAL EDUCATION.

HIGH ART SHOWN IN MERCHANDISE.

EXHIBITION AT COULTER STORE DELIGHTS THRONG.

First Occasion of Kind in West. Nothing for Sale, But Hundreds of Employees Answer Questions. Beautiful Assortment of Useful and Ornamental Articles.

At the big store of the Coulter Drygoods Company on Broadway, yesterday evening, there was a magnificent display of merchandise, and the beauty and variety of the goods delighted the many hundreds of men and women who called to view them.

This was the first "merchandise display" ever held in the West. The management of the popular establishment was prompted to give it by the unusual excellence of the goods offered in all lines this year. Guests enjoyed it the more because of the attentiveness of the more than 400 salesmen and saleswomen. The latter were all attired immaculately in white, and each wore a bouquet of violets.

Visitors were free to handle the most costly stuffs, and the employés of the store were ever ready to answer questions or furnish explanations, but not a dollar's worth of anything was to be purchased at any price yesterday evening. The occasion was not a sale, but an exhibition.

In all the twenty-nine departments efforts to plase the eye of the public were made, and most successfully, for the various managers and assistants had worked wonders.

The house-furnishing department, because of the variety of articles to be found there, was, perhaps, the most interesting one. Rugs of countless patterns were there in rich profusion. Curtains, pictures, panels and ornaments were exhibited in the most effective manner, while the full lines of beautiful furniture and other household goods were fascinating.

It would be impossible to describe the elegance of the textile goods on exhibition. The stock of Irish linen carried by the firm leaves nothing to be desired, and the head of that department manifested rare good taste in its display. And then there were silks, satins, velvets and other goods that set feminine hearts aflutter, to say nothing of ribbons and millinery that it was worth a day's journey to see.

The merchandise display was, in brief, a liberal education, and words of appreciation and praise were heard on all sides.

LEAP SAVES LIFE.

Santa Barbara Man in Path of Speeding Taxicab Jumps for the Hood and Hangs on.

Presence of mind saved the life of C. S. Mathews of Santa Barbara, last night when a speeding taxicab bore down upon him as he was crossing Hope street at Seventh street.

The taxicab was driven by R. E. Rogers and going at high rate of speed. It was almost upon Mathews, who was hurrying to catch a car, before he saw it. He leaped for the hood and held on for a dozen yards or more. He was rolled to the gutter but escaped with slight injuries.

ROBBERS TAKE CASH.

Joseph Ritch of No. 3645 South Park avenue was held up and robbed by two masked men last night. The highwaymen stopped Ritch on Thirty-seventh street. One held a gun at his head while the other searched him, securing $10 and a gold watch.

HEROIC ELEVATOR MAN.

Runs Car Through Flame and Smoke and Rescues Entrapped Factory Girls in New York.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 17.—Fire in the Empire building at Broadway and Bleeker street late today entrapped 125 girls working on one of the upper floors. All were rescued, however, by the elevator man of the building, who ran his car repeatedly through the smoke and flames, and carried the young women down. Others, fleeing down the fire escapes, reached the street unharmed.

The fire was quickly extinguished, and did little damage. It started in a stock of feathers on the first floor. On the tenth floor the girls were at work. The dense smoke was carried quickly up the elevator shaft, which was open, and at the bottom of which was Tony Sarino, the elevator boy, and his car. Sarino shot his car through the smoke to the top of the shaft, and bravely made more than a half-dozen trips to the street level, bringing many of the girls to safety.

PROF. W. E. KING, Los Angeles' celebrated psychic, is permanently located here. His honesty, test of time and 23 years' continuous practice as a psychic have proved beyond all doubt that PROF. W. E. KING is the leader of his profession.

LIVE AND LET LIVE.
Never before in the history of occult science has a man of PROF. W. E. KING'S professional standing consented to place his services at the disposal of the public for such a nominal consideration. Realizing that this city has been overrun with pretenders and that many of its citizens are anxious to visit a genuine psychic PROF. W. E. KING has decided to place his consultation fee within the reach of all.

EXTRAORDINARY PSYCHIC POWER, combined with his superior knowledge of occult force, enables him to read human life with unerring accuracy from infancy to old age; his powers are wonderful and indisputable; his advice is reliable, his information clear, concise and to the point; will tell you every hope, fear, ambition, better than you could tell it yourself.

IF YOU ARE GOING TO SEE A PSYCHIC WHY NOT SEE THE BEST?
As the best is always the cheapest in the end. Better consult no psychic at all than one who is unable to help you, as false prophets do more harm than good, as they leave you in a worse condition than before by their false advice, based upon guesses; but PROF. W. E. KING has an established reputation; testimonials and credentials from thousands of your own citizens and friends.

"Arise! Throw off thy shackles!" Exchange sorrow for joy, darkness for light. "Be master of your own destiny."

SUCCESS AND HAPPINESS, pointed out to all. The grand results obtained by those who have consulted W. E. King is positive proof of his superior power to reveal the mysteries of the future. When truth is revealed, as it always is when they consult the peer of all life readers, the universal expression is, I am satisfied and happy since I consulted W. E. King.

Call and he will guide you with certainty higher than human power; tells you the truth, good or bad.

FROM LILLIAN RUSSELL, THE WELL-KNOWN ACTRESS.
I was greatly impressed with PROF. W. E. KING'S reading. His powers are truly marvelous. He develops in one a force that enables them to attract people, to interest them and to please them to their good and to your advantage without the least effort on one's part. His advice and assistance have been of great benefit to me.

FROM A PROMINENT MINISTER.
I desire to bear evidence to the genuineness of PROF. W. E. KING'S work. God gives to us an intuition whereby we may guide our lives. That PROF. W. E. KING possesses this guiding power to a marvelous degree is evident. The fact that his clients are his warmest and truest friends is alone a tribute to his sincerity and honest methods in dealing with all. He has rendered me immeasurable assistance. Rev. W. C. Jessup.

FROM M. ROTHSCHILD, THE WELL-KNOWN FINANCIER.
For the past five years PROF. W. E. KING'S advice and assistance has been of great benefit to me. I have tested nearly every psychic in this country, and find PROF. W. E. KING'S advice reliable and far superior to any that I have ever met.

To Whom it May Concern: We take great pleasure in recommending our brother, PROF. W. E. KING, as a psychic of good standing, having to our knowledge been fully developed in all the various phases of mental psychicship. We cordially recommend him to any individual or society that may need his services.
Dr. John Westerfield,
President Indiana State Association of Spiritualists.
Chesterfield, Ind., September 4, 1896.

MRS. MASSON,

the noted palmist of London, Eng., may be consulted at 322 S. SPRING ST. (over Owl Drug Store,)
by those desiring CAREFUL, CONSCIENTIOUS AND SCIENTIFIC HAND-READINGS FROM ONE OF THE FOREMOST PALMISTS OF THE DAY.

The earnest student and thinker will soon learn in his investigations along psychological lines, that that which pertains to occult phenomena proper can readily be distinguished from crude and oft-exposed SLEIGHT-OF-HAND TRICKS, the most common of which is the telling of the subject's name, age, etc., AFTER HE HIMSELF HAS WRITTEN THAT INFORMATION.

PALMISTRY, HONESTLY PRACTICED, WILL NOT tell you your name, but it WILL give you information of considerably greater value in every-day life.

Your vocation, your present line of work, matters of health and domestic life, financial conditions, success and prosperity, can all be told you through scientific palmistry, WITHOUT A SINGLE QUESTION, WRITTEN OR VERBAL.

MRS. MASSON DOES NOT APPEAL TO IGNORANT SUPERSTITION, BUT TO THE FINEST INTELLIGENCE.

HIGH-CLASS PATRONAGE SOLICITED.

PEDESTRIANS.

WIN MATCH OF WALKERS.

PRIZE FOR SIX-DAY RACE GOES TO WELFARE AND MORGAN.

First Honor for the Highest Individual Score Goes to Brunich—Two of the Contestants in the Girls' Race of the Previous Week Appear on the Track Also.

Welfare and Morgan won the $100 offered as first prize in the six-day walking match held at the Southern California Exposition, which race ended at 11:30 o'clock last night. They led the race from the first day, when the Tatatoo brothers dropped out of sight through the back door of the building.

The second prize of $50 went to team No. 5, Mitchell and Sparks, who piled up a total of 300 miles and two laps in 87 hours and 30 minutes, to the winners 379 miles and four laps in 98 hours and 10 minutes.

The first prize for the highest individual score went to Brunich, who had 245 miles and 2 laps to his credit in 55 hours and 55 minutes. Second place for the individual scores was captured by Welfare, with 197 miles and 9 laps in 52 hours and 45 minutes. The time made by Brunich also includes that made by his partner Hayes before he quit the first day of the race.

	Miles.	Laps.	Time on Floor.
Morgan and Welfare.	379	4	98hr. 10m.
Mitchell and Sparks..	328	3	87hr. 20m.
Brunich (single)	245	6	55hr. 55m.
Staggs (single)	247	0	74hr. 10m.
Cline (single)	200	2	55hr. 40m.

Team scores for yesterday:

Morgan and Welfare	59	9	15hr. 45m.
Mitchell and Sparks..	48	3	13hr. 20m.
Brunich (single)	39	2	7hr. 35m.
Staggs (single)	25	1	7hr. 30m.
Cline (single)	25	6	7hr. 5m.

If Hayes, who started out to be the walking partner of the German, had stayed in the race, and only done ten miles a day, the team would have defeated Morgan and Welfare for first place at the finish.

Brunich showed remarkable endurance and grit in winning first individual place, as his feet have all week been much blistered, and swollen to twice their normal size. He went on the path at 10 o'clock in the morning, after a breakfast consisting of a carrot or a couple of bananas, and walked steadily until 5 or 6 o'clock in the evening, when he would take for supper an orange or a handful of nuts.

In the early part of the race he became distrustful of the doctor who has charge of the men, as the doctor had tried to force him to take some beef tea. Then he took his meal when the medical man was not around.

The Tatatoo brothers, who quit after the second day, had the highest scores when they stopped and stood a good chance of winning the first prize. But as before showing up and entering the contest they were tramping around the country, making their living by catching snakes for the circuses and tattooing the men in the lumber camps, the prospect of spending a week in one town did not appeal to them and they left by way of the back door taking with them the outfits the management had bought for their use in the race. They left a bill of over $12 for Manager Newman to settle.

On the second day of the contest, Sparks sprained his knee in making one of the turns on the course, and despite the doctor's orders to leave the race he stuck the entire week with a knee swollen to twice its normal size. He will probably be laid up for the next month.

Two of the contestants in the girls' race of the previous week, came on the path yesterday, to try to show the men how to walk, Miss Webb getting in twenty-seven miles and six laps in an even seven hours, and Miss Harvey twenty-seven miles and one lap in eight hours and thirty-five minutes. Stagg at the end of the race was in the best condition of any of the men, although at the beginning he limped badly for a few days.

Near the close of the race Sparks came on the track and despite his bad knee led the German a merry chase for the last fifteen minutes.

The individual scores for the week are:

	Miles.	Laps.	Time on floor.
Brunich	213	6	45h. 15m.
Welfare	190	9	52h. 45m.
Morgan	179	5	45h. 25m.
Mitchell	164	9	41h.
Sparks	163	3	46h. 20m.
Stagg	157	3	62h. 20m.
Cline	145	0	41h. 15m.

The individual scores for yesterday are:

	Miles.	Laps.	Time on floor.
Brunich	39	2	7h. 35m.
Welfare	31	6	6h. 15m.
Morgan	28	3	6h. 45m.
Sparks	27	4	7h. 15m.
Cline	25	6	7h. 5m.
Stagg	25	1	7h. 30m.
Mitchell	20	0	6h. 5m.
Mazie Harvey	27	1	8h. 35m.
Odessa Webb	27	6	7h.

In the last ten minutes of the race, Brunich became excited, and, breaking into a run, started down the track. Mitchell, who was taking pace from him, not to be outdone, also started to run. As they would pay no attention to the orders of the judges to stop, word was given the others to go as they pleased, and the finish was run off in great style. All those who finished will, besides the prizes, receive $20 each. Brunich gets $10 extra for the highest individual score.

PRESIDENT OPENS DRIVE.

Accepts Offer of Mayor of Tokio for One Thousand Cherry Trees to Line Esplanade.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 17.—President and Mrs. Taft attended today the formal opening of "Potomac Drive," Washington's new esplanade and driveway, which skirts the Potomac River south of the Monument grounds.

The opening was one of the most brilliant outdoor events ever witnessed in the national capital.

The President and his wife appeared in one of the White House automobiles, and after circling the drive, remained for a half hour, reviewing the parade around the course.

Largely through the interest of Mrs. Taft this drive is to be made a great gathering place for the people of Washington. In the afternoon the Philippine constabulary band gave their concert there. A cablegram has been received from the Mayor of Tokio offering 1000 flowering Japanese cherry trees to be planted along the banks of the Potomac. President and Mrs. Taft have accepted the offer.

Size of the Mammoth.

The question has frequently been discussed of late. The most recent contribution comes from F. A. Lucas, who says that the American species known as the imperial mammoth reached a height of thirteen to thirteen and one-half feet, being, as far as he knows, the tallest species of elephant on record. This mastodon rarely reached a height of nine and one-half feet, but it was a much more heavily-built animal than either the mammoth or the Indian elephant.—[Philadelphia Record.

FOR CHARITY.

GIFTS MANY FOR ORPHANS.

Much More Money Needed for New Home.

About Twenty-four Thousand Dollars Raised.

Active Efforts for Pure Air for Children.

About $24,000 of the $75,000 needed to be raised within this month for the new building for the Los Angeles Orphans' Home has been contributed. The site, a five-acre piece at Colegrove, has been donated by Charles Stimson of Pasadena on condition that the $75,000 needed for a building be assured by May 1.

That the children cannot be kept in good health in the institution in its present location is the belief of the management. This is partly due to the constantly-infected condition of the neighborhood. Unmoral influences have begun to crowd upon the home at its present place and it seems to be impossible to keep the little ones wholly free from such contamination.

The site at Colegrove, which has been conditionally donated, is free from such influences. At that place the children would be able to romp where the air is pure and where evil influences would not reach them. They would have plenty of room in the home and ample space in the playground.

The women who manage the home will appreciate the gift of any sum. That contributions sufficient to make up the $75,000 needed for this charity will be forthcoming is not doubted, but it is urged that they be made at once rather than when the time limit is about to expire.

Those in charge of the collection of the amount particularly request that no money that is collected at any of the stores be paid to any person not presenting an order signed by Mrs. E. A. Bryant. Subscriptions may be left with cashiers of stores and hotels in which cards of the home are displayed. Mrs. Sale is receiving contributions at Coulter's store, and Mrs. Balch will be at her apartments in the Angelus Hotel from 1 to 2 o'clock on the afternoons of Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays to receive donations to the fund.

Following is a list of donors and amounts:

The building plans include a symphony hall and children's theater, in addition to the quarters for art training, and a large piece of land, centrally located, must be acquired.

VANISH.

BRIDES-TO-BE MISS MATES.

TWO ENGAGED YOUNG MEN DROP OUT OF SIGHT.

Mystery Attaches to Both of the Cases and Police Search in Vain for the Whereabouts of the Prospective Grooms—One Tells Friends of Suicidal Intentions.

The police are searching for two bridegrooms-to-be who have mysteriously disappeared on the eve of their weddings. J. L. Schryner, who lived on Ruth avenue, disappeared more than three weeks ago. He was to have been married last Thursday night.

The groom failed to appear, the police could not find him, and the wedding was postponed indefinitely. Mrs. James Prout, mother of the girl to whom Schryner was engaged, believes that the young man is dead. The police are skeptical on this point, and state that Schryner is probably living in some distant part of the country.

The young man's sudden dropping out of sight is a deep mystery. He had good habits. He had worked steadily for the Pioneer Truck Company for several years and was in good standing with that concern. He had been a constant caller at the home of his sweetheart, and was apparently deeply in love with her. He left one night, stating that he was going to Hollywood before going to his apartments. That was the last seen or heard of him.

Thomas Hunyet is the second young man who disappeared a few days before the time set for his marriage. Hunyet, according to the report at police headquarters, quarreled with his sweetheart, who lives near Eastlake Park. They had a little disagreement and Hunyet became despondent. He returned to his blacksmith shop at No. 605 East First street. A number of his friends heard him remark that he thought he would end his troubles by jumping into the ocean. The police have been unable to secure any clew to his whereabouts.

To this meeting representatives of all charitable, philanthropic, fraternal, social and civic organizations are invited.

Hemb of the fire department, who was recently promoted and transferred from hose company No. 3 to engine company No. 14, at Thirty-second street and Central avenue, was pleasantly surprised Thursday night by members of the hose company, who called at his home and presented him with a gold monogram ring, appropriately inscribed. Among the firemen present were: A. C. Stammer, M. McCormick, F. Potatzka, Dan Doty, F. Richbert and A. Chapman.

Drug Store Opening a Great Success.

One of the newest mercantile establishments which reflects great credit on Los Angeles and sets a new standard here among many beautiful shops, is the Vance Drug Store, located in the Armory building, 8th and Spring. Yesterday—the opening day—the new store was crowded with buyers. The excellent values offered, the handsome appointments and perfect service assures this store a prosperous future.

One of the features to attract the ladies is a large rest room, with free telephones, stationery, etc., where the women are always welcome to come in and take advantage of the accommodations.

Particular people, who want the best the market affords in drugs and sundries at reasonable prices, should visit this beautiful new store.

WHAT CORCORAN RANCHERS SAY ABOUT CORCORAN

After many years of agricultural experience in the Waukena District which adjoins Corcoran, I can truthfully say that that is a wonderfully productive section. I am today producing on my large ranch prolific crops of grain, alfalfa, grapes and a wide variety of fruits. Conditions are ideal for successful ranching here. The climatic conditions and the water supply are all that could be wished for. I can heartily recommend the Corcoran District to all prospective ranchers, and I extend a cordial invitation to all to visit my property. (S. S. HAUGH.)

I purchased my Corcoran ranch two years ago after carefully investigating the various agricultural districts of California. I chose Corcoran because of its splendid natural advantages. I have devoted my time to grain, alfalfa, chickens and turkeys and have had excellent success. I can strongly recommend Corcoran to all prospective ranchers. It is filled with opportunities. The soil, water and climatic conditions are ideal. (C. M. HUTCHISON.)

I take pleasure in speaking a kind word for Corcoran in a general way, and especially with reference to its fitness to be an important center of the grape industry of the San Joaquin Valley. I regard Corcoran land in every way equal to the best districts about Fresno and Hanford, which are the most favored sections for the raisin industry. I have for nearly 20 years, been prominently connected with the raisin industry—especially in seeding, packing and marketing raisins. I am familiar with the conditions of the raisin market, the climatic requirements, soil and other essential conditions. I can say unhesitatingly that there is no better district in any of the three leading counties, Fresno, Tulare and Kings, where one can make an investment that is more likely to result profitably than in the district about Corcoran. Raisin growing is one of the most profitable industries in California. Vineyards, when fully developed, require less labor to secure a liberal profit than any other agricultural industry. Vineyards will thrive continuously for 30 years or more. (E. C. CHADDOCK.)

I have put in one year demonstrating the growing of sugar beets at Corcoran in Kings County, and taking everything into consideration, I feel justified in saying to my friends or to any stranger, that the sugar beet industry is bound to be a success, providing the land is summer fallowed or the development of water, of which there is an abundance, and which can be done at a very nominal expense. The ground should be irrigated September and October and planted in September and never later than January. The demonstration I made last season was mostly on land that had never been plowed and was therefore in no condition to expect or warrant a large yield or tonnage. The percentage of sugar is immense—perhaps the best in the State. The tests made this season were from 20 to 30 per cent. (MAJ. P. S. CARR.)

Bought 160 acres in October, 1908, within five weeks had all planted to alfalfa. Gas well cost less than $200; supplied all the heat, light and fuel necessary for family use. Secured what I consider to be a practically perfect stand of alfalfa and the best stand I ever saw in a very extensive experience. Consider conditions for raising alfalfa excellent. Do not think alfalfa can be produced anywhere of better quality and cheaper. Outside of work on our own place, have been busy with our teams every working day. (E. N. JOHNSON.)

Our soil is a sandy loam and black tule—ideal for asparagus culture. Our product has received the unqualified approval of prominent Canned Goods experts. Fresh Corcoran asparagus is now being shipped daily to the Los Angeles markets, where it is receiving top-notch prices.

The Beet land is none too good for asparagus, and as there is plenty of it here we hope soon to have our acreage sufficient for a pack of several hundred thousand cases annually. Peas, black-eye beans, onions, cabbage, cauliflower, eggplant, melons, squash, potatoes, berries, grapes, etc., are all successfully grown and can be raised on a large scale, as the markets justify. Last, but not least, our success with alfalfa is most unqualified. Two cuttings, of two tons of hay to the acre, with 250 lbs. of seed to the acre threshed out, is all any farmer wants or can ask for. (D. W. LEWIS.)

Alton B. Parker for Bond Holders' Trustees, Declares There Is Defaulted Interest of Nearly Half a Million—Corporation Controls Forty Per Cent. of Output.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

IOLA (Kan.) April 17.—On application of Alton B. Parker, acting on behalf of the Trust Company of America, trustees for the bondholders, J. O. Rogers was today appointed receiver for the Lanyon Zinc Company, one of the largest smelting works in the world.

Mr. Rogers is president of the Lanyon companies. The petitioners declared that there are still outstanding $1,783,000 in the company's bonds on which there is defaulted interest amounting to $483,000. No interest has been paid on the bonded debt, they declare, since 1905.

The Lanyon company controls over 40 per cent. of the entire zinc output of the world. The company holds stock in numerous other companies, including among the largest the Colorado Zinc Mining Company.

PAID HIGH FOR ORE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PUEBLO (Colo.) April 17.—F. B. F. Rhodes, superintendent of the zinc smelter of the American Smelting and Refining Company in this city, said upon being told of the failure of the Lanyon company that he had looked for something of the sort among the smelters of the Kansas and Missouri districts, because first, they had been paying a greater price for zinc ore than smelter officials in the West believed was warranted by existing circumstances.

Mr. Rhoades did not think that the receiverships would do injury to the zinc industry in this State. He said he doubted whether the Lanyon company controls 40 per cent. of the zinc output, as has been alleged.

OPPOSITION TO OIL ON SANTA BARBARA BEACH.

Opinion of Attorney-General Favors Union Oil Company in Its Efforts for Pipe Line to Dolphins at Some Distance from Shore—May Forecast War Secretary's Decision.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to a dispatch from Washington tonight, Atty.-Gen. Wickersham has given an opinion to the Secretary of War to the effect that the War Department is powerless under the law to prohibit the proposed construction of a pipe line into the Pacific ocean here, unless the proposed construction is an obstruction to the navigation of the harbor.

This opinion in the matter of the application of the Union Oil Company is a hard blow to this city, which made a stiff fight against the pipe-line franchise. The opinion will be taken to forecast the decision of the Secretary of War in favor of the company.

The Union Oil Company has been shipping its oil into here by railroad. Last fall it purchased fifteen acres on the mesa west of the city and just outside the city limits. Then it applied for a franchise to lay a pipe line from the shore out to sea a distance of 2000 feet to "dolphins" at which tank steamers would moor and discharge their cargoes through the pipe into storage tanks to be erected on the mesa land.

In this move the people of Santa Barbara saw grave injury to their beautiful beach. The matter came before a hearing in the Potter Theater and the demonstration was such that it left no doubt in the mind of the ACT AND COMMENT.

A CITY growing so rapidly as Angeles is at the present time are important transforma- taking place from year to year, month to month. With of population, new business grow up on a scale larger or as the natural trade increases with the thickening of population older districts business extends along certain streets that serve arteries. The street-car lines play important part in this matter of , even to the very center of city.

Arterial Street.

from the center of the city rly and westerly, First street is of the longest arteries in all Los street numbering begins at and First and along this east west street in every direction must take place from time to . Below Los Angeles street to the over the river First street is ing all the time a more import- place of business. A good many business blocks have been con- cted there even very recently. Be- the bridge easterly there is not change until the flat is passed the high ground reached. From to Evergreen Cemetery the cor- are being utilized for business very rapidly. The next -country car line is at Fourth on Boyle Heights, and here new business structures are be- built on a great many blocks. The th of population on Boyle Heights last couple of years has been as fast as in any other portion the city. New population extends the way out to the very bounda- of the city and even beyond there.

Future of Hill Street.

rewd real estate operators have their eye on Hill street for some nths past, since the prospect of neling the street north from First Sunset boulevard has been talked As the completion of this work ws near, with a certainty of the in- urban car lines coming in that way, talk of the future of the street is imated. Undoubtedly this will make considerable change all the way First street to Central Park at th. The whole northwestern por- of the city, the East Hollywood untry and on out to Hollywood, and down to the beach, will come rough this Hill street tunnel down the terminus of the Los Angeles- cific Railroad Company on Hill near rth. That will undoubtedly affect future of the street in a business very materially. Some time or the tunnel will be driven west- the car depot, and when is completed, nearly all the the Los Angeles-Pacific system operate through it to the beaches nta Monica and near there. The ct of the Hill-street tunnel on busi- on this street will come imme- ately and that of the great tunnel stward may be delayed for some rs. But the development certainly mises much for the future of this eet.

fluence of the Highways.

Work will begin before many days the construction of one of the good ds leading south from the city to ng Beach. This will begin about ere Moneta avenue reaches the uthern city limits and go from there to the seaside. This is going to affect business on Main street more or less from the center of the city to Moneta avenue and out this last thoroughfare southward. Moneta avenue really should be Main street, and from where the bend takes place in Main street, turning off southwesterly ought to be Moneta avenue. The name makes little difference, but the straight road does make a great difference in the value of the property beyond the fork. Main street south of the junction of Moneta avenue is looked upon as merely residence property for all time to come. From that point into the center of the city Main street is regarded as all business property some time in the future. Many good corners are being used for business on Moneta avenue from where it branches off from Main street southward, while scarcely a single instance of such use of corners is found on Main street. The consequence is that Main street frontage is worth from about $50 down to $30 a foot, with a little higher price occasionally for a corner. But the corners on Moneta avenue are worth two or three times as much. When the highway is built from the limits of the city to Long Beach there will be a good deal of traffic out Main street to Moneta avenue and out that to the beach by way of the new road. The grade is an easy one all the way from the beach to the center of the city. In time to come there will be a great deal of freight as well as passenger traffic between the city and the beach along this highway, and Main street and Moneta avenue are likely to be the artery by which it will all pass. Every one of the roads built radiating from the city is going to affect the value of property on the city street leading from the end of the road to the city center. Population growing each side of this thoroughfare and the traffic along it will give opportunity for the establishing of much retail business along these much-traveled streets.

Future Hard to Forecast.

The rapid growth of the city makes it difficult to see clearly ahead some cases where little business centers will spring up. It is plain that First street, Seventh, Pico, Washington and Jefferson will have a great many business houses upon them of a retail kind to the very limits of the city. The Good Roads Committee is planning now for right of way for one of the good roads which will go out from the southwest corner of the city to the beach at Santa Monica. The matter is being discussed with large property-holders along there, but it is a little indistinct yet just what direction it will take. Wherever it comes into the city it will determine the route from there to the city center, and whatever street it brings into such constant use will be a place of considerable business. The effect of building a system of roads will have a great deal of influence upon the future of the city generally. The law creating the good roads movement failed to provide for certain things which will become necessary in the future. The members of the Good Roads Committee are trying to arrange for some of this outside of the law. They are taking up with the property-owners along the lines the matter of immediate planting of trees. The only road provided for by the law is a macadam highway, the specifications being laid down in the law and the width of the roadway to be built.

The highway to the harbor constructed in this way will suffice for all ordinary uses for a few years. It is the only type that could be built now. But by the time it is worn out it will be replaced undoubtedly by a brick roadway which will permit of the expeditious hauling of auto trucks carrying merchandise from the ships to the city. It is easy to see the influence that such traffic will have in the way of creating business on whatever streets lead to the business center.

GOOD WORK.

REALTY BOARD LEGISLATION.

IMPORTANT NEW LAWS PASSED LAST SESSION.

One Relating to Street Improvements and Assessments Most Vital. Provides for Quick Action—Central Highway Bonds Approved by State Federation.

Senators H. M. Hurd and N. W. Thompson were guests of Los Angeles Realty Board Thursday at a meeting and luncheon held at the Westminster Hotel, and addressed the board on legislation accomplished at the recent session.

All the legislative bills introduced at the request of the Realty Board and of the State Realty Federation were passed. One of them confers upon judges the power of authorizing payment of commissions on sales of property belonging to the estate of a deceased person, provided, that a contract is made between the executor or administrator of the estate and any bona-fide real estate agent. Others which were drawn by City Attorney Leslie Hewitt relate to street improvement proceedings and the assessment of damages in connection therewith. The chief benefits attained by the enactment of the latter are as follows:

First—An opportunity is given to owners of property in an assessment district, who are not parties to the action for condemnation, to intervene and contest the report of the referees. Under the present law owners whose interests may be greatly affected have no voice in the proceedings.

Second—The value of property assessed or damaged in such proceedings is to be fixed as of the date of the order appointing referees or setting the case for trial, instead of at the commencement of the proceedings, as at present. Some times a year or more elapses before referees are appointed, and the consequence has been that values have been unsettled, and sales and private improvements delayed.

Third—The time during which it is permissible for the City Council to abandon proceedings in a given case is materially extended.

Fourth—The compensation of the referees is to be fixed by the court, and their necessary expenses allowed, whereas, under the existing law, an arbitrary fee was provided which was often insufficient to obtain competent service, and which in practice, has resulted in the evasion of the law.

Fifth—Provision is made for the compensation of property owners on the district assessment plan in case of damage resulting from the improvements of streets, alleys, etc. It will apply, particularly, to streets in which extensive cuts or fills are necessary.

In addition to the explanation of the above bills, Senator Thompson called attention to the measure providing for the issuance of $18,000,000 bonds for the purpose of building good roads throughout the State, and more particularly a great central highway from one end of California to the other, including connection with nearly all the county seats. Both he and Senator Hurd commended this bill which was introduced at the instance of Gov. Gillett, and expressed the hope that the bond issue would carry at the next general election.

They also urged the desirability of friendly coöperation with the northern part of the State, and spoke of the ready assistance offered by the members of the Legislature from San Francisco in the passage of the bill appropriating $250,000 for an exposition building in Agricultural Park, Los Angeles.

Senator Thompson said that much had been done at the last Legislature toward abolishing sectional ill feeling, and he commended the efforts of the State Realty Federation, of which Los Angeles Realty Board is a leading member, along the same lines.

Senator Hurd predicted that within a few years all territory between this city and the ocean would be joined to Los Angeles as a result of the consolidation bill. In connection with his visit, as a member of the committee to inspect San Pedro and Wilmington harbors, he mentioned the Islais Creek (San Francisco) proposition, and heartily advocated the proposed bond issue by the State for the opening of Islais Creek, which, he said, he believed would ultimately cost the State nothing, as the improvements would repay the bonds.

He also commended the bill which makes possible the opening of Fifth street, in this city, through the Normal School property.

President Farish in referring to the expected arrival in this city of the State Board of Equalization, stated that he understood it to be the policy of this commission to obtain the assistance of the local realty boards in the principal cities in making assessments, and he urged members of the board to respond readily if appointed upon committees for this purpose.

A joint meeting of the Governing Committee of the Realty Board and of the State Board of Equalization will be held to discuss assessments and valuations, and it is expected that this conference will play an important part as to future taxation.

VALUABLE CORNER SOLD.

Fine Property at Sixteenth and Hill Streets Changes Hands for Hundred Thousand Dollars.

Burbank & Baker have purchased through the agency of Black Bros. and Choate & Stumpf, the southeast corner of Hill and Sixteenth streets, fronting 130 feet on Hill by 102 feet on Sixteenth street, for a consideration of $100,000. The property is improved with a twenty-eight-room flat building, an eight-room house and a six-room cottage, yielding a good rental. The grantor is the Title Insurance and Trust Company.

It is the intention of the purchasers to erect in the immediate future a modern pressed brick apartment building, for which plans are now being prepared.

WILL BUILD FINE HOME.

Bryan & Bradford have sold to W. I. Hollingsworth, well-known real estate man, a lot 150x200 feet, in Westmoreland Place, in the block opposite the palatial residences of A. P. Johnson and E. P. Bryan. Mr. Hollingsworth paid $20,000 for the lot, and is now planning one of the handsomest homes in the city.

APPLE LANDS SOLD.

Hundred Acres of New Subdivision at Beaumont Are Sold in Two Weeks. Planting Active.

Excellent demand for Beaumont apple lands and city lots is reported, the sales for the week totaling $6300, divided among eight individual purchasers. Apple Valley acreage was sought by the majority of the buyers, and at this, the second week the tract has been on the market, the sales have reached over one hundred acres, valued at $17,500.

For watering Apple Valley and other new tracts, Los Angeles contractors are now estimating on supplying over 30,000 feet of steel pipe, from three to twelve inches in diameter. Active steps for the trenching of these new water mains is now in progress, and a large force of men and teams will soon be put to work. Several carloads of cement will also be supplied by local dealers for making cement conduits and laterals several miles in length.

Planting of fruit and timber trees is active with the expansion of the watered area to the degree that 30,000 additional eucalyptus and over 20,000 apple and other fruit trees have recently been ordered. Much small fruits, such as loquats, pomegranates and large fields of blackberries, strawberries and raspberries, are being planted.

Supervisors have agreed to extend the area of oiled roads in the Beaumont district in order to facilitate the marketing in near-by towns of apples and other fruits until there are now over eighty miles of graded streets and fifteen miles of oiled roads.

Demonstrating the advantage of stereopticon lectures in the development of country districts, the stereopticon lectures on Beaumont have been attended daily by an average of 150 homeseekers. The weekly excursions have also been well patronized, the patrons including investors from many eastern States.

CHINO RANCH SALES.

Fine Alfalfa Lands Attract Large Investments—Dairy Man Makes Big Purchase.

Important sales made by the Chino Land and Water Company on the Chino ranch, during the past week, are as follows:

One hundred acres to W. H. Jackson and Jay N. Ward of Illinois, for $14,000. This land is located three miles east of Chino, in the artesian belt. The purchasers expect to seed this land to alfalfa in the near future, and will develop water.

G. R. Wilson of Compton purchased 480 acres for $12,000. Mr. Wilson has been in the dairy business during the last fifteen years, and has selected this land, being part of the hill portion of the Chino ranch, for the purpose of grazing dairy stock. This land is located only a few miles from the La Habra branch of the Pacific Electric Railway, which affords excellent facilities for shipping milk to Los Angeles.

The Chino Land and Water Company has just placed on the market a new subdivision of the town of Chino. The property consists of acre and half-acre lots, with water piped to each lot, and is located near the Southern Pacific depot and the factory of the American Beet Sugar Company.

434 South Hill street.
MONEY—TO BUILD WITH—AT 6 PER CENT.

We are making loans at 6 per cent. to our clients for whom we are building, and can handle several more good loans where owners have clear lots.

NOW IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY.

We will erect a bungalow, or larger house, according to your own plans and desires, on your lot, and furnish the money to build with at 6 per cent.

We want you to call and get acquainted with our Mr. Thomas Preston, superintending architect, an architect of high standing and reputation in Los Angeles building circles. Mr. Preston for several years past has been at the head of the architectural department of the Los Angeles Investment Company. His ability and experience are at command without charge or cost to you.

If we build for you there will be no charge for the plans, no fees, no bonuses.

OUR PLAN IS THE MOST businesslike and favorable to you of any offered today.

YOU ARE NOT REQUIRED to deed your lot to us. It remains yours.

YOU ARE NOT REQUIRED to accept only a lease and option agreement, under which you are to receive your title back after a time in the future. No exigencies of our success or failure, panic or physical catastrophe imperil you. There are no heirs or successors, executors or administrators, or other intervening circumstances to cause you to worry. If we have joined the "great majority," there will be no "estates" to look to for your title. WHEN YOUR PAYMENTS ARE COMPLETED YOU DO NOT LOOK TO US FOR YOUR HOME. You get an absolutely clear title from the trust and title company of your own choosing.

THE BEST HOMESITE.
THE BEST HOMESITE.
THE BEST HOMESITE.

OUR IDEA OF THE BEST HOMESITE IS A LOT 60 TO 100 FEET WIDE, OF DEPTH TO SUIT UP TO 200 FEET, ON A HILL TOP, IN THE WESTERN DISTRICT.

THE BUILDING PROTECTION SHOULD BE SUCH THAT ONLY HIGH-CLASS HOMES ARE BUILT WITHIN SEVERAL BLOCKS OF YOUR LOCATION.

AT LEAST TWO SYSTEMS OF CAR LINES SHOULD BE AVAILABLE, TO AFFORD CONVENIENT SERVICE AND TRANSFERS.

THE HOME SHOULD BE CONVENIENT TO THE GREAT SUBWAY RIGHT OF WAY, WHICH AFFORDS FOR THE NEAR FUTURE VERY QUICK TRANSIT TO AND FROM THE BUSINESS DISTRICT.

ASPHALT PAVEMENT SHOULD EXTEND FROM THE BUSINESS CENTER OF THE CITY TO THE HOMESITE.

THE STREETS SHOULD BE WIDE, SAY 100 FEET, WITH BROAD PARKINGS, 20 FEET IS ABOUT RIGHT, AND CEMENT WALKS NOT UNDER 7 FEET IN WIDTH.

THERE SHOULD BE A VARIETY OF SHADE AND ORNAMENTAL TREES, SET IN AT LEAST 4 ROWS ALONG THE WIDE PARKINGS.

THERE SHOULD BE AN ATTRACTIVE VIEW, UNOBSTRUCTED NOW, AND, MORE IMPORTANT, WHICH CANNOT BE OBSTRUCTED IN THE FUTURE.

THESE AND OTHER ADVANTAGES EQUALLY DESIRABLE ARE ALL ENJOYED IN VICTORIA PARK, THE HANDSOME RESIDENCE PARK BEING RAPIDLY DEVELOPED IN THE EXCLUSIVE WESTERN SECTION.

IT IS OF INTEREST TO EVRY ONE WHO NEEDS, OR WILL NEED, A FIRST-CLASS HOMESITE TO SEE VICTORIA PARK. TELEPHONE FOR AUTOMOBILE APPOINTMENT, OR TAKE PICO HEIGHTS CAR (NOT WILTON PLACE CAR) TO THE PROPERTY.

PRESENT PRICES ARE VERY LOW, AVERAGING ONLY ABOUT $40 PER FRONT FOOT, WHILE OTHER SIMILAR PROPERTY BRINGS $100 TO $150. FRONTAGE IN VICTORIA PARK WILL SOON BE ADVANCED TO ITS INTRINSIC VALUE.

VERMONT-AVENUE VILLA TRACT

The new electric car line, over which the yellow cars, 5-cent fare, will run on 54th street, directly through this tract, is fast approaching completion.

It is absolutely guaranteed that cars will be running over this line soon.

Before they commence to run we are able to offer lots at prices that will certainly make a good profit for the investor.

As an example of what has already been done, the corner of Vermont and 54th was recently purchased by a wide-awake business man for $2350, an advance of about 50 per cent. over its original cost.

RESIDENCE LOTS ON THE CAR LINE facing 54th street, between Vermont and Budlong avenues, can be had now for $825. Lots one block from the car line are $775.

Only a small cash payment required and long time for balance.

Take San Pedro Interurban car on Third or Hill streets directly to branch office, S. W. Corner Vermont and 54th st., or Grand-ave.-West 48th-st. car to Vermont and walk south to 54th st.

Eighty happy, contented families already there and more coming every day!
This wonderful development means stability. It means increased values in the near future for those who buy now.
Today we are selling Cudahy Ranch land at $400 upward an acre.
If you tried to buy land from any Cudahy Ranch owner he would ask you at least 25 per cent. above what he paid. But we do not believe there is a single piece of Cudahy Ranch property on the market for resale.
Buyers are holding on to their acreage because it is the very best investment in the West at the present time.
Why don't you buy an acre or two now, build your home on it and enjoy the country life, as 80 other families are doing?

WHAT YOU CAN DO ON A CUDAHY RANCH ACRE.

Said sale will be made on Monday, the 3d day of May, 1909, at the hour of 11 o'clock a.m., in the offices of Sutherland & Barbour, Rooms, 7, 8 and 9 of the Farmers' National Bank Bldg., corner of Mariposa and I streets, in the city of Fresno, County of Fresno, State of California, at which place written offers of bids will be received.
Terms of sale—One-fourth cash, gold coin of the United States; balance in three equal installments payable respectively, within one, two and three years from date of sale; interest on deferred payments, 6 per cent. net; certified check for 10 per cent. of first payment to accompany bid.
Dated April 3, 1909.
FRANK A. CURTIN, Trustee.

The land above referred to is immediately adjacent to the Hite ranch. The latter body of land, consisting of 2100 acres, was sold at auction last fall to settle the estate, and was purchased by a syndicate of Fresno men, who paid $45 per acre cash for same. They are now retailing the land at from $75 to $100 per acre, and have sold more than one-third of the tract at that figure. The soil of the land to be auctioned May 3 is quite similar to that of Hite land. There is a valuable water right that goes with the land that gives the owners thereof one-seventh of the water of the Crescent Canal. This water right is conservatively estimated to be worth $6000. This land will positively be sold to the highest bidder, No limit, no reserve. Further particulars regarding sale will be furnished upon application to the trustee.

Next Excursion to
The Great Yaqui Valley (Sonora, Mexico)
leaves Los Angeles, May 1.

Make your reservation NOW.

Only 15,000 acres of this incomparable land at $25 per acre.

It won't last long. In less than four months American farmers (mostly Californians,) bought over 26,000 acres of this land. The rush to the Yaqui is now on. Join the procession.

Can you get high-class IRRIGATED land at $25 per acre anywhere in the States? It is not to be had. That's why the Great Yaqui Valley, with its deep, fertile land, level as a floor and its canal, big enough to float a steamboat, already constructed and delivering water, is attracting a host of live, far-sighted American farmers. Will you be one of the early birds and get this land NOW at less than a third of its value?

I stand by the following statements and will pay your expenses if upon inspection, you don't find them to be facts.

Land that you can't beat.
An abundance of water for irrigation.
A railroad to take your products to market.
A steady market at good prices.
A seaport close at hand.
A climate that grows things every day in the year, and that compares favorably with any part of California.

Ask our tomato growers how much money they are making this year. Yaqui Valley tomatoes are the only ones now in the market. Next year we will have winter vegetables of all kinds, such as tomatoes, beans, cucumbers, eggplant, chile peppers, alligator pears, etc., in the market all winter. And we will have a monopoly of the market.

If you don't like vegetable growing, let us show you the profits in corn, alfalfa and hogs, wheat and barley. Alfalfa yields 10 tons to the acre, and is now selling at $15 per ton gold.

Did you read the Sunday Times, March 24? Do it now. Page 1, second section. All about the millions Americans have invested in the Great Yaqui Valley.

Our special Pullman car, which left last Tuesday for the Yaqui, was crowded. If you want to join the May 1 excursion you should make your reservation AT ONCE. See me for further particulars.

ORANGE GROVE BARGAINS

IN THE

FROSTLESS BELT.

CLAREMONT,

UPLAND,

SAN DIMAS.

Having had 15 years' experience growing oranges and lemons here, I am in a position to give the investor valuable information.

I examine every grove listed and call special attention to the following:

ORANGE GROVE BARGAINS.

10 ACRES—$23,000; splendid grove, every tree perfect; 1 acre Valencias, 9 acres navels, private pumping plant; beautiful 8-room house, finished throughout in white cedar, complete in every particular, as a home place; this has few equals; location ideal; near the foothill boulevard and the extension of Pacific Electric R.R.; a magnificent view which can never be obstructed; grove has just been heavily fertilized; is in splendid condition; will pay 15 per cent. net.

10 ACRES—$15,000; all navels; an ideal home place; has always been kept in the very best condition; good 6-room residence and barns and garage.

This property only recently listed for the first time. Orchard is a sure income producer, and a high grader.

10 ACRES—$12,000; 1 acre Valencias, balance navels; small ranch house; a good full-bearing grove at Claremont, near the foothill boulevard. Buyer gets half interest in one of the best wells in this section of the orange belt. Reservoir and pipe line included. Grove has been fertilized, and personal care, together with this abundance of water will make this orchard a record breaker in a short time. There is a good building site on this property.

FRANK WHEELER,
CLAREMONT, CAL.

15 ACRES—$26,000; all navels; $4000 crop included if sold soon. Grove is full bearing and the fruit has always graded high. Free canyon water; double right. Situated on one of the main boulevards near Claremont; 10 minutes' walk to the college; new 7-room house, with gas and modern conveniences; good barn; will consider small city property in trade, if same is A1; a snap.

18 ACRES—$26,000; $6000 crop included; a magnificent full-bearing grove; first time listed. Has just been heavily fertilized. Free canyon water; 10 acres are navels, 8 acres are lemons, and the balance seedlings. The seedlings are prolific bearers. No buildings. This property is close in, and a fine investment.

FRANK WHEELER,
CLAREMONT.

22 ACRES—$30,000; 15 acres lemons, 100 Valencia trees, balance navels; lemon and Valencia crop included at this price. Neat cottage and barn. For lemons this grove has no superior, and the property is a first class income-producing proposition; good water right; location one of the finest citrus districts in the south. Owner is advancing in years and desires to retire. He has listed this choice income property with me for the first time, at a sacrifice. This is one of the biggest bargains of the season.

20 ACRES—$35,000; all navels; a magnificent grove; every tree perfect; crop is never less than 10,000 boxes annually. This year it is 12,000 boxes. Fine new 9-room house, teams, implements and wagon included. This grove is located on one of the finest boulevards in Southern California.

I have several other groves for sale at reasonable prices. Let me take you in my auto over the finest roads in the State, and inspect these groves for yourself; they will bear the closest investigation. I have groves of all sizes, from 3 acres to 370 acres, and can satisfy the most exacting buyer.

FOR SALE—
Lemon or Orange Groves.

FOR SALE—
SPECIAL SALE OF EXTENSIVE CITRUS HOLDINGS. BY J. A. FITCH, POMONA, CAL.

I CAREFULLY INVESTIGATE GROVES AND OTHER PROPERTIES BEFORE ADVERTISING THEM. PROPERTIES I ADVERTISE WILL BE FOUND JUST AS REPRESENTED.

CONSIDERING LOCATION, SOIL, THE VALUABLE APPURTENANT IRRIGATION WATER RIGHTS, THE ABUNDANT AND CHEAP WATER SUPPLY, COSTING THE CONSUMER ABOUT 50c PER ACRE PER ANNUM, CONDITION OF PROPERTY, ETC., THIS IS ONE OF THE CHEAPEST ORANGE GROVES IN CALIFORNIA; IT COMPRISES NEARLY 68 ACRES; ABOUT 57 ACRES SET TO WASHINGTON NAVEL ORANGES; BALANCE SOME 11 ACRES IN LEMONS, MOSTLY EUREKAS; IN FULL BEARING; ABOUT 15 ACRES OF THE ORANGES ARE LARGE BUDS, ABOUT 15 ACRES ARE COMING 7 YEARS OLD; BALANCE FULL BEARING, ALL IN FINE CONDITION; EXCEPT ABOUT 2 ACRES. WITH PROPER CARE INCOME SHOULD ANNUALLY MATERIALLY INCREASE, AS THE BUDS AND YOUNGER TREES BECOME OLDER. FINELY LOCATED NORTH OF THE SANTA FE RAILWAY ON SAN ANTONIO AVE., THE MAIN BOULEVARD BETWEEN POMONA AND CLAREMONT. PROPERTY FRONTS SAN ANTONIO AVE. ON THE EAST NEAR CLAREMONT, AND EXTENDS WESTERLY TO NORTH POMONA, WHERE THE IMPROVEMENTS ARE LOCATED, NEAR PACKING HOUSES AND THE SANTA FE DEPOT; THE PACIFIC ELECTRIC RAILWAY FROM POMONA TO CLAREMONT, SOON TO BE CONSTRUCTED, WILL RUN VERY CLOSE TO THE SOUTHERN BOUNDARY OF THE PROPERTY.

HAS NEVER BEFORE BEEN ON THE MARKET. WHY IS IT FOR SALE NOW? THE OWNER, A WEALTHY, SUCCESSFUL ORANGE GROWER, IS ADVANCED IN YEARS, AND HAVING OTHER LARGE REALTY AND BUSINESS INTERESTS DEEMS IT BEST TO NOW CLOSE OUT HIS ENTIRE CITRUS GROVE HOLDINGS AT A QUICK SELLING PRICE, AND ON EASY TERMS; PRICE $100,000; $40,000 OR MORE DOWN, DEFERRED PAYMENTS 6 PER CENT.; NO TRADE OF ANY KIND CONSIDERED; A STRICTLY SALE PROPOSITION; THIS IS A FINE PROPERTY TO SEGREGATE INTO SMALL GROVES OR FOR A SYNDICATE TO HANDLE; SATISFACTORY ARRANGEMENTS CAN NO DOUBT BE MADE WITH THE SUPERINTENDENT NOW RESIDING ON THE PROPERTY, AND WHO FOR YEARS HAS SUCCESSFULLY MANAGED THE GROVE, TO CONTINUE SERVICE.

ABOUT 7000 LOOSE BOXES ORANGES STILL REMAIN ON THE TREES; ALSO A HEAVY CROP OF LEMONS; THIS GOES TO BUYER, TOGETHER WITH 4 HORSES, WAGONS, IMPLEMENTS, SOME 3000 LEMON BOXES, ALL EQUIPMENT NECESSARY TO RUN THE RANCH; BUYER HOWEVER TO PAY ALL EXPENSES INCIDENT TO THE CARE OF THE PROPERTY SINCE DATE OF RECENT LISTING, SUCH AS FERTILIZATION, ETC.; THE IMPROVEMENTS CONSIST OF A GOOD LEMON PACKING HOUSE, A LARGE CEMENT STORAGE RESERVOIR, IN PERFECT CONDITION, WHICH COST SOME $6000; CAPACITY ONE AND ONE-HALF MILLION GALLONS OF WATER; DWELLING HOUSE AND BARN.

THIS IS ONE OF THE BEST AND CHEAPEST WATERED ORANGE GROVES IN CALIFORNIA; THE VALUE OF THE WATER STOCK APPURTENANT TO THIS GROVE IS ESTIMATED TO BE WORTH ABOUT $20,000 ALONE, BEING OVER 13 INCHES LOOP & MESERVE CANYON WATER STOCK, ESTIMATED VALUE $1500 THE INCH; STOCK IN THE FRUIT ASSOCIATION WORTH SOME $500 ALSO INCLUDED.

INCOME ORANGE GROVES IN GOOD CONDITION IN THE VICINITY OF THIS PROPERTY ARE FIRMLY HELD AT $1500 TO $2000 THE ACRE, AND ARE SELLING AT THIS FIGURE, AND IN SOME CASES ARE BRINGING HIGHER PRICES. ONE 10-ACRE GROVE NEAR THIS PROPERTY ON SAME AVENUE, WITHOUT ANY IMPROVEMENTS, OWNER HAS RECENTLY REFUSED TO SELL AT $22,000; ANOTHER NEAR BY GROVE WITH GOOD IMPROVEMENTS, HOWEVER, SOME 15 ACRES, WAS SOLD APRIL 7TH FOR $40,000; GOOD, WELL LOCATED ORANGE AND LEMON GROVES, WITH GOOD SOIL AND BEST WATER RIGHTS, IS THE BEST INCOME INVESTMENT IN CALIFORNIA TODAY. WHY LOAN YOUR MONEY AT SEVEN AND EIGHT PER CENT WHEN BY JUDICIOUSLY INVESTING IN GOOD ORANGE GROVE PROPERTY IT WILL EARN YOU DOUBLE AND IN SOME INSTANCES TREBLE THIS AMOUNT ON THE INVESTMENT? EVERY ORANGE GROVE OFFERED FOR SALE WILL NOT DO THIS; IN MANY CASES THE PRICES GROVES ARE HELD AT ARE TOO HIGH TO INSURE THIS RATIO OF PROFIT, BUT IF YOU BUY A GROVE RIGHT, WHICH INCLUDES PRICE, LOCATION, SOIL, WATER SUPPLY, CONDITION OF GROVE, ETC., AND WILL PROPERLY CARE FOR IT, YOU CAN SAFELY CALCULATE ON HIGHLY SATISFACTORY RETURNS UPON THE INVESTMENT.

THIS PROPERTY HAS HITHERTO HAD THE BEST OF CARE, AND IS NOW IN GOOD CONDITION FOR NEXT SEASON'S CROP. THE COMING SEASON IT SHOULD PRODUCE AT LEAST 20,000 LOOSE BOXES OF ORANGES, NOT COUNTING THE LEMONS. ORANGE GROVES ARE IN GOOD DEMAND, AND UNDER THE PRESENT PROTECTIVE TARIFF AND THE PRESENT IMPROVED METHODS OF HANDLING AND MARKETING THE ORANGE CROP, THE DEMAND WILL LIKELY CONTINUE. DURING THE PAST WEEK I HAVE CLOSED DEALS FOR ORANGE GROVES AMOUNTING TO $75,000; SOME OF THE BUYERS ARE LOCAL PEOPLE, WHO HAVE RESIDED HERE AND GROWN CITRUS FRUITS FOR SOME TIME, AND ARE WELL ACQUAINTED WITH CITRUS FRUIT CONDITIONS.

I PURPOSE SELLING THIS PROPERTY AS SOON AS POSSIBLE, AND THE LOW PRICE AND EASY TERMS OFFERED SHOULD QUICKLY BRING A BUYER. ANY PERSON INTERESTED, MEANING BUSINESS, AND FINANCIALLY ABLE TO PURCHASE IT, SHOULD AT ONCE COMMUNICATE WITH THE UNDERSIGNED AND INVESTIGATE THE PROPERTY WITH AS LITTLE DELAY AS POSSIBLE.

FOR YEARS I HAVE BEEN IN POMONA SELLING ORANGE GROVES, LEMON GROVES, RANCHES AND POMONA HOMES, AND BEING THOROUGHLY POSTED ON ORANGE GROVE VALUES, AND POMONA VALLEY REALTY, I PRONOUNCE THIS PROPERTY A FIRST-CLASS BUY FOR THE MONEY, AND IF IT WAS NOT FOR REASONS AFORE STATED, THE PROPERTY WOULD NOT NOW BE ON THE MARKET.

IF YOU WANT SMALLER GROVES, RANCHES, COUNTRY PROPERTY OF ANY DESCRIPTION, OR A HOME IN POMONA, THE CITY OF BEAUTIFUL HOMES, AND A CITY THAT IS GROWING BY LEAPS AND BOUNDS, I HAVE IT, ALL SIZES AND PRICES IN REAL ESTATE, BIG LIST, MANY EXCLUSIVE PROPERTIES.

EVERY HOMESEEKER AND INVESTOR SHOULD HAVE A COPY OF MY LATE REAL ESTATE BOOKLET, DESCRIPTIVE OF ORANGE GROVES, RANCHES AND POMONA REALTY NOW AT "TIMES INFORMATION BUREAU," S. SPRING ST., OR ON REQUEST, MAILED FREE FROM MY OFFICE IN POMONA.

If you are looking for a ranch or grove at a bargain I have it. If you want a big interest on your investment, I can show you the property. If you want a ranch in a district where it will advance rapidly in value, I can deliver it.

Why buy a ranch at a fancy price where it can never advance a dollar. Why not buy one that will increase rapidly in value. There are ranches in every locality that are bargains. I know how to find them, and have them to submit to you.

THIS SNAP
will increase in property value 50 per cent. in the next four to five years.

Good large convenient barn, tank house, chicken corrals, etc. This is an exceptional place and easily cared for. The land and trees without improvements are worth all that is asked for it.

These are all bargains, and if you are looking for a ranch home you won't make a mistake on any of these. I have other bargains. Ranches in all the best districts; ranches that range in acreage and values; walnut, apricot, alfalfa and large tracts of acreage close in; ranches with extensive and expensive improvements; as small as you like or as large as you want; I accept no ranch for sale unless it is up to the standard in every respect. MANHATTAN.

FOR SALE—
I offer special inducements to builders in my beautiful, new ocean front tract, between Manhattan Beach and Hermosa. I am spending a great deal of money in improving this tract—more proportionately than the government is spending at Panama or the City of Los Angeles is spending on its Owens River enterprise—and the early buyers at the opening prices will receive corresponding benefits. The NEW BOULEVARD will go through the center of this tract. I want 100 houses erected this season and will get them if advantages, prices and terms will do it. You can't afford to let this get away from you for I mean business.

31 OZ. GOLD OR $644.77 PER TON.

MR. FRANK COLE BROUGHT IN 40 LBS. OF IT. WE HAVE IT AT THE OFFICE. NOW, WE WANT TO TAKE THIS RICH ORE OUT; WE NEED A HOIST FOR THE MINE, WE NEED AN ORE TEAM, WE NEED A GOOD LARGE STAMP MILL, AND WE WANT A LOAN OF $5000 TO GET THESE THINGS AND PUT ON MORE MEN TO GET OUT THIS RICH ORE. IF YOU HAVE $5000 OR CAN RAISE IT, SEE ME. WILL SATISFY. STOCKHOLDERS OUGHT TO HELP ME RAISE THIS MONEY AND MAKE THE ANACONDA A DIVIDEND PAYER.

EDWARD MACDERMOTT, 114 S. BROADWAY. PHONES A5342, 21186. 18

FOUR FOR ONE WITHIN 12 MONTHS IS a conservative estimate of the probabilities in Clark Copper. The Mexican property just acquired will justify employment of 300 men. The return of Engineer E. M. Clark shows a great quantity of ore, containing from $5 silver and $4 copper to $230 silver and $60 copper to the ton. The property has yielded over $15,000,000 and history of two adjoining properties proves there are many millions more back of and below ore now in sight. Lester Scott, manager, writing from property says: "Could not ask for better prospects to make large producing property in very short time." Gold never declines in value. Copper, oil and all other commodities drop in price, but gold, never. You take your gold to the United States mint and receive sacks of $20 gold pieces in lieu thereof. The Searchlight-Parallel Company holds some of the best gold-bearing grounds in the Searchlight district. From mill tests made, it shows that bullion can be produced from the ores in paying quantities. The stock is a good purchase at prevailing prices.

PROMOTERS—FINANCIAL AGENTS— MONEY RAISING BECOMES EASY, QUICK, inexpensive when you provide absolute security in gold for the return to investor of his entire investment, providing enterprise does not "make good."

Gold security costs little.

Sells stocks higher. Protects company's finances. Earns it money. Requires no property investigation. Minority investor cannot be "frozen out." Cannot lose his money. If your proposition has merit, don't lose time hunting capital. It comes to you, plenty of it. My correct financial plan solidifies the one weakness in capitalizing—safety. Barrclough told the court that his violation had not been intentional and that the milk if stirred up would be found to be up to standard. He paid a fine of $10.

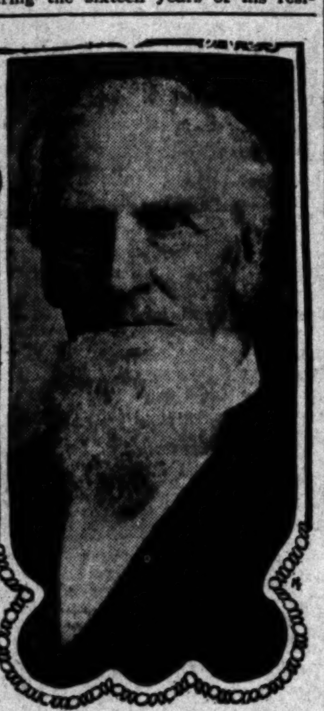
DEATH FROM SLIGHT CAUSE.

AGED DR. PATTEE CALLED TO FINAL REWARD.

In Midst of Preparations to Go on Visit to France He Meets With an Accident—Spent Half-Century in Ministry of Methodist Church. Was a Friend of John Brown.



Rev. C. R. Pattee, who died in this city yesterday.

Rev. Dr. C. R. Pattee, well known in Methodist circles of this city for many years, died at the home of his son, Frank A. Pattee, yesterday. While active in the First Methodist Church during the sixteen years of his residence here, he remained a member of the Kansas conference, with which he was connected when he left Topeka to come to California.

The deceased was making preparations to visit his son, Elmer, in Paris, France, meaning to start from this city on May 1, but he injured himself by a fall some days ago, from which acute peritonitis developed, and resulted in his death.

Dr. Pattee was a native of Canada, where he was born eighty-two years ago, but at the age of 12, his father having died, removed with his mother to Vermont, where he was ordained to the ministry when he was but 19 years of age. He was in the active ministry forty-nine years, having retired when he came to Los Angeles sixteen years ago.

He first labored as a missionary in the home field among the Adirondacks. He later was a pastor in New York, Waterford, Pa., Geneva, O., Wisconsin and Kansas, his last charge being at Cherryvale, Kan.

He enjoyed an intimate acquaintance with John Brown, in the days before the Civil War, and found pleasure in talking about the stirring times that preceded the great conflict.

Dr. Pattee, in his later years, became an enthusiastic collector of mineralogical and conchological specimens, in which connection he was of service to several colleges, but particularly to the University of California.

He leaves three children, Frank A. Pattee of this city, Elmer Pattee, an artist, in Paris, and Wilbur Pattee, of Davenport, Iowa. Charles A. Pattee of this city is a nephew.

The funeral will be held at the First Methodist Church on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Charles Edward Locke.

Equal to the Occasion.

FARMING LANDS AT LOMITA IN SAN PEDRO DISTRICT
Where the Rancher Makes Money Both Ways

The wise farmer and gardener of today looks for future value of his land as well as present crops. No other lands in Southern California hold such marvelous promise for the future as those of Lomita, in the San Pedro harbor territory. Millions expended all around them cannot help increasing their value wonderfully. They parallel the shoestring strip. They are close to the new ship canal now dredging into Bixby Slough. The electric line station is close by at Weston street. They are adjacent to the new and thriving town of Lomita. They have the advantage of two great markets, Los Angeles and San Pedro.

They Are Productive to a Most Remarkable Degree

The soil is fertile and the water abundant and cheap. Soil experts and specialists have selected Lomita lands in preference to all others. One ranch of forty acres for asparagus has been secured recently. Another of twenty acres winter rhubarb will be planted. Hundreds of acres are being planted in tomatoes and vegetables. Thirty acres have been set out in walnuts. The very choicest and most productive lands to be had. Every foot of it has a great mercantile and commercial future also.

DEMAND GOOD OTHER PLACES.

Orange Grove Sales Continue About Redlands.

Consolidation Bill Induces Buying at San Pedro.

Near-by Suburbs Report Much Activity.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

REDLANDS, April 17.—The unprecedented rush for orange acreage at enormous prices which prevailed throughout this section during the winter is slowing down somewhat, although frequently good sales are made, all at nice round figures, and invariably at an advance over the former selling price. Many of the buyers of the past winter do not care to dispose of their groves. According to prices received for oranges, lemons and grape fruit this season, the groves are good property to hold even at the high prices paid. The fruit has been of fine quality this year, and the demand has been great and at top prices. The trees are now in full bloom and the entire valley is laden with the heavy odor of orange blossoms.

Samuel S. Sewall, a shipbuilder of Bath, Me., purchased of H. B. Auchincloss, a fine orange grove of thirty acres on the heights, paying $65,000. Mr. Auchincloss retained two and one-half acres around his home. The trees are about twenty years old. They are all Washington navels and are in prime condition. An excellent water right goes with the grove. Mr. Sewall is a brother of Frank Sewall of East Highland, and has been visiting in Southern California for the past few weeks. He has become so attached to the place that he has bought this fine grove intending to build a handsome home on it and to occupy it as a winter residence.

The Darnell grove which Clarence Chamberlain bought about three months ago, has been purchased again, this time by A. N. Dike, a local realty dealer. Three-fourths of the trees are navels, and one-fourth Valencias. The crop last year amounted to 4000 boxes. The grove comprises eight acres and is improved with a good dwelling. In the deal Mr. Dike gives as part payment his residence at No. 303 West Fern avenue, and valued at $5000. The residence has been sold by Mr. Chamberlain to Miss Alice Curtis.

W. H. Burke has sold to E. A. Josselyn, the two-story house at No. 341 Fourth street. F. W. Wood has sold to Dr. R. J. Smith ten acres in West Highland for $18,000, the seller retaining this year's crop of oranges. The grove is set partly to Valencias and partly to navels all in full bearing. This year's crop was valued at 600.

A. L. Brewster of this city has purchased of Pierre Casson of San Bernardino an alfalfa ranch of twenty-five acres, the price paid being about 000. Mr. Brewster gives in exchange his residence on East Central avenue and Grove street valued at 000. Mabel E. Cooper has sold to C. Wyckoff a lot in the Columbia tract for $800.

Inspector Grates in his report of building permits for the month of March finds a record of one permit granted for each working day during the month, or twenty-seven in all. The total estimated cost of these buildings is $42,778. The highest estimate was for $21,000. Never before has there been so much building going on in the city.

John McIntosh has bought the Stead orange grove on East Lugonia avenue paying therefor $20,000. This is the highest price paid for a grove in that section. The grove is a ten-acre one and is set to navels in full bearing, which are fifteen years old. The place has averaged 6000 boxes during the past two years. The place has no buildings upon it. With the purchase goes an excellent water right.

IMPROVING GLASSELL PARK.

The Gilchrist Investment Company is improving the Glassell Park tract, which lies just beyond the city limits at the junction of the Eagle Rock and San Fernando valleys, with eleven attractive modern bungalows, each one a model of individuality and design. Glassell Park is one of the beautiful tracts in this vicinity. Each bungalow being built commands a superb view, revealing a vista of verdant valley and rolling hills, back of which towers the majestic range of the Sierra Madres with their caps of snow. The bungalows are being built for sale, and contain from five to six rooms. They are all built on solid concrete foundations and are constructed for durability as well as beauty.

L. M. Edmunds, secretary of the company, is also building a home on this tract, which is decidedly unique in construction. Erected on a triangular lot, the house conforms to the shape of the lot, thus leaving a court in the center. The house is of old mission style, built of concrete and wood, with pergolas and spacious porches.

INDUCES PURCHASES.

CONSOLIDATION BILL REASON.

SAN PEDRO, April 17.—Real estate agents report a greater inquiry for property of all classes in San Pedro than at any time during the past three years. The inquiry is not speculative, but comes from those who are looking for permanent investments, and who realize that San Pedro has a future that makes present prices seem reasonable.

Dealers are almost unanimous in the belief that the large number of sales made during the past month were made solely on the bright prospect for immediate consolidation with Los Angeles. Nine out of ten inquirers, dealers say, do not hesitate to say that their interest in San Pedro real estate lies wholly in the likelihood of consolidation. A comparison of the number of inquirers now and the number before the passage of the law by the Legislature a few weeks ago, permitting consolidation, leads many dealers to believe that as soon as consolidation is effected, there will be a wonderful activity in property of all kinds.

The following sales are reported by George H. Peck & Co.: A 25-foot business lot on Sixth street, to Bertha [illegible]cock, for [illegible]00; lots 22 and 23, block [illegible], E. M. Denton of Waitsburg, Wash., $3000; lot 18, block 1, Esperanza tract, with five-room house, Fred Fie[illegible], Wilmington, $1800; lot 23, block 8, Carolina tract, Blanch Bouckhout, $500; lot 24, block 8, same, Della Higgins, [illegible]0; lot 3, block 7, and lot 12, block 6, Ocean View tract, to Fannie Tomlinsen; lots 19 and 20, Pacific Improvement tract, improved with cottage, to O. S. Ihrig, for $2250; lots 15, 16 and 17, Ocean View tract, to R. M. Britten, of Toledo; lot 17, block 60, J. M. Keagy, $1800.

STRIDING AHEAD.

TROLLEY BRINGS BUSINESS.

GLENDORA, April 17.—Glendora, since the advent of the Pacific Electric Railroad, about a year ago, has made big strides ahead. Building is active. There are at present twelve or more modern residences in course of construction, ranging in price from $1500 to $3000. With the Pacific Electric depot and the reinforced concrete bridge across the wash on Michigan avenue, Glendora has the appearance of employing an army of busy workers.

The reorganization of water companies has placed the water systems upon a basis that insures an abundant supply for domestic and irrigating purposes.

The acquisition of desirable acreage and inside properties and the erection of almost palatial homes is indicative of the faith prevailing in the future possibilities of this foothill town.

TWO NEW CHURCHES

The First Christian Church building committee has accepted plans prepared by G. A. Howard, a Los Angeles architect. The building will cost $15,000. It will be built on the corner of Broadway and Sixth streets. The church will be of veneered brick to the top of the windows.

The Santa Ana Commercial Company has let a $4500 contract to C. McNeil for the erection of a mill and warehouse addition to the company's laundry and creamery on West Fourth street, the Santa Ana Commercial Company and the Santa Ana Grain Milling Company having consolidated.

Why Did Cawston Ostrich Feathers obtain prize medals at the great expositions all over the world in competition with the best that is produced in their line?

Because

CAWSTON'S plumes and boas are made from the feathers of the male birds only. That this is true you must take our word for, as it is only by wear that the actual worth of a feather is proven.

The class of feather one usually buys upon which the maker is ashamed to put his name can generally be relied upon to be made of the poorer feathers from the female bird and will not hold either its curl or color.

CAWSTON'S trade-mark is attached to the quill of every Cawston plume and boa and that means that the woman who buys from Cawston is getting the best that money can purchase.

In buying from Cawston not only are you getting unsurpassed quality but you are buying from the man who produces the feather and finishes it in his factory at the farm in South Pasadena; you are therefore saving two profits.

CAWSTON'S factory is the largest of the kind west of New York; the most skilled workers that could be found in the world are employed both in the feather department and the dye shops.

These same skilled workers will take

Would you invest $50.00 in a proven oil company if this $50.00 would net you an income of $25.00 annually for life? Would you pay 20c for this stock if within thirty days it were to be worth $1.00 or more per share, besides yielding for you each year an income equal to one-half the amount invested in the stock? We will pay all the way, and remember that we will not obligate you to buy one dollar's worth of this stock, unless you so desire. We will not obligate you to even state that you will buy any amount of the stock. All we want to do is to get you to the property, convince you of its intrinsic value, and create the same enthusiasm for it in you that we ourselves have, and you will then sell yourself as much of this stock as you can possibly carry, and we will help you to carry it. Every person we have taken to the property adds to our great chain of pleased and satisfied clients. Here is what has been said by a few that have already gone to the property at our expense:

TEMPLOR RANCH OIL COMPANY.

Lincoln Mortgage & Loan Co.,
656 Pacific Building,
San Francisco, Cal.

Gentlemen: Have just returned from the Sunset property after taking two parties over the field.

One of the parties, Mr. Neff, I took from here. Mr. Neff is engineer at the City Hall in this city, and was highly pleased with the property and contracted through your Mr. Boyer for 3,000 shares of stock. The San Francisco party, which was composed of Mrs. Norton of Napa and Mr. and Mrs. Clopton of San Francisco, was highly pleased with the property, and I understand, from conversation I had with Mrs. Norton this morning, that she intends to take 5,000 shares of stock. Mr. Clopton told me he also intended to take stock, but I do not know how much. It is a very important thing to me, and I think should be a flattering one to you, that the boys in the derrick are still buying more stock. Mr. Ross, the superintendent in the field, took 2,000 shares yesterday. Mr. McGee, one of the drillers, increased his order from 500 to 2,000, in addition to which two of the boys on the California King, operating on the Yellowstone property just east, and who have no interest in the company financially or otherwise, also bought stock amounting to 2,000 shares. All of this stock was sold without solicitation on the part of anyone. In fact, the boys had their applications made out on paper when I arrived there yesterday, as they were afraid the price would be advanced, and they wanted to get in before that time.

The formation becomes more favorable every day. The well is 1665 feet deep and going nicely. I do not think there is a shadow of a doubt but that we will get a good well. Yours as ever, (Signed) A. G. NICHOLS.

Dear Sirs: I have just returned from an inspection of the Lady Washington Oil Co.'s properties at Maricopa in the Sunset District, and certainly I am convinced as much as any man could be that this well No. 2 of the Lady Washington Oil Co. will be one of the biggest in the Sunset field.

They are going through the same indications that the nearby wells have passed through, and which are now producing out of one well more than 400 barrels per day.

I went over the district carefully, and I don't see how you can miss the oil, and my convictions are so strong that I have now bought all the stock I can at present.

Thanking you for the courtesies extended on the I am yours very truly,

PRODUCTION PER ACRE.

The government experiments at Yuma gave per acre 3330 pounds of cotton, of the popular Egyptian Mit-Afifi variety, and 3050 pounds of the standard long staple Upland varieties.

It was found in case of the Egyptian, that several years were necessary to acclimatize the plants produced from imported seed before a satisfactory strain was developed. At first the plants grew very large with but few bolls or fruits, but careful breeding and seed selection has overcome this to such an extent as to make assured the successful growing of this immensely valuable crop. Side by side with the Government experiments were grown several varieties of Upland cotton, which yielded no better than the more valuable Egyptian. The cost of the growing of Egyptian and Upland is the same except for the picking which, because of the smaller bolls of the Egyptian, costs about one-third more for this variety.

Seed from acclimatized plants of the Egyptian, however, is not now obtainable in quantity sufficient for commercial planting, therefore the plants are limited to the growing of Upland until such time as acclimatized Egyptian seed can be produced. The bringing of Upland seed from cotton growing districts will be fraught with some danger of introducing diseases and pests from infested areas; reasonable precautions, however, should obviate this danger.

Los Angeles & Mt. Washington Railway Co. Grades Entrance to Incline.

A noteworthy improvement has been made by the Los Angeles and Mt. Washington Incline Ry. Co. at the entrance to the incline railroad. The company, at its own expense has graded the street from Marmion Way to Glenwood avenue. The corporation deserves commendation for this valuable complimentary improvement. The incline cars are almost completed.

They have been painted the same shade of red as the Huntington suburban cars. Details of the public opening of the new road will be announced next week in the big special edition of the EAGLE.

Mrs. Caroline Newcomer, a prominent tourist from Eldora, Iowa, purchased Lot 15 in Block 3 and Lot 4 in Block 8, this week. These sites are ideally located in one of the most charming parts of Mt. Washington. Mrs. Newcomer told the "EAGLE" that after thoroughly investigating all the desirable living places in Los Angeles and vicinity, she found nothing that could favorably compare with majestic Mt. Washington, from any residential standpoint. "This property certainly has a brilliant future," said Mrs. Newcomer, "and I am delighted with the two beautiful lots that I have purchased."

Gorgeous Sunsets From Mt. Washington.

A sunset from the summit of Mt. Washington is something worth seeing. As Old Sol goes down just behind the Santa Monica Mountains, the color effects reflected back on the Sierra range are magnificent to behold. The last points to reflect the delicate color tones are "Old Baldy" (10,080 ft.), San Jacinto (10,900 ft.) and "Gray Back" (11,600 ft.)

These high points continue to hold the reflection when all is nearly dark in the valleys below. After sundown, it is a novel sight to watch the lights of Los Angeles, Pasadena and the beach towns loom up like twinkling stars. It's worth your while to watch a sunset and the coming of twilight from any part of Mt. Washington.

Cotton Culture for Imperial Valley.

AN INDUSTRY THAT WILL EVENTUALLY BRING A HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS A YEAR TO COLORADO RIVER PLANTERS.

[SPECIALLY CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES.]

COTTON is one of the great staples of the world. It is its clothing material. Next to the food crops, it is of the greatest importance to all except the extreme savage tribes of the darkest corners of the Earth. For years the United States has had practically a monopoly of this great staple. Seventy per cent. of all the cotton grown in the world is produced south of the Mason and Dixon line in the United States; because of this, six hundred million dollars per year has been paid into the pockets of the farmers, and those who market the cotton in these States.

Cotton, like many other of the great field crops, tends exceedingly to vary or sport. Even the well known varieties are difficult to perpetuate. In some places the varieties are as numerous as the larger and more careful planters; each planter having a variety of his own which, if kept up by constant seed selection, soon becomes known, and is considered by the planter as a personal asset.

The only two types that need be considered in connection with cotton growing in the valleys and on the delta of the Colorado—are the Upland and Egyptian. Conditions are so nearly similar in the Colorado River country to those of Egypt, that it has long been thought possible to grow the high-priced Egyptian cotton there. Experiments of recent years with this type as well as Upland, has demonstrated that both are an experimental success. At the same time settlers of the Imperial Valley have made experiments with Upland cotton which have been most flattering results.

PRODUCTION PER ACRE.

The government experiments at Yuma gave per acre 2330 pounds seed cotton, of the popular Egytpian Mit-Afifi variety, and 3050 pounds of seed of the standard long staple Upland varieties.

It was found in case of the Egyptian, that several years were necessary to acclimatize the plants produced from imported seed, before a satisfactory strain was developed. At first the plants grew very large with but few bolls or fruits, but careful breeding and seed selection has overcome this to such an extent as to make assured the successful growing of this immensely valuable crop. Side by side with the Government experiments were grown several varieties of Upland cotton, which yielded no better than the more valuable Egyptian. The cost of the growing of Egyptian and Upland is the same except for the picking which, because of the smaller boll of the Egyptian, costs about one-third more for this variety.

Seed from acclimatized plants of the Egyptian, however, is not now obtainable in quantity sufficient for commercial planting, therefore the plants are limited to the growing of Upland until such time as acclimatized Egyptian seed can be produced. The bringing of Upland seed from cotton growing districts will be fraught with some danger of introducing diseases and pests from infested areas; reasonable precautions, however, should obviate this danger.

COTTON PESTS AND DISEASES.

All varieties of cotton are subject to fungus and bacterial diseases, and the attacks of insect pests. The greatest menace the cotton industry of the United States has encountered is the boll weevil, an insect pest which came into Texas from Mexico. This pest has gradually extended its depredations, until nearly all of Texas, much of Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas are now infested. This insect, as well as the diseases, may be brought into this new region with seed, and thereby a great prospective industry ruinously handicapped in its very inception. Every bit of seed brought in should be most carefully inspected and fumigated. Negligence or false economy at this stage of the industry will deprive unborn generations of their just revenues.

The demonstration that cotton growing, especially of the more valuable Egyptian varieties, will be a success on the delta and valleys of the Colorado, is one of most valuable potentialities. Its effects will be far-reaching and of the utmost value, not only to the intensely fertile region where its growth will take place, but to all of California and the Pacific Coast.

LAND AVAILABLE.

There are, in the valley near Yuma, which will shortly be irrigated by the government, approximately 75,000 acres of land eminently suited to this crop; in the Imperial Valley, 275,000 acres are at present available, and nearly as much more land that some day may be utilized; across the Mexican boundary about a million acres, making altogether fully a million and a half acres of land—the peer of any in the Northern Hemisphere, in location, climate, natural fertility, and natural transportation facilities. Experiments have shown that with intensive cultivation, two bales per acre, of 500 pounds each, can be produced of the Egyptian Mit-Afifi variety. The average price on the Boston market, for this cotton for the past ten years has been 15 cents per pound. This price would make the yield of two bales per acre bring the grower an annual revenue of $150 per acre. If in the years to come one-third of the available acreage be planted, a yearly revenue of $75,000,000 will thus be obtained from the fiber alone. Cotton is one of the few known things upon which there is no import duty levied by the United States government, so that the product of the Mexican lands would find a ready market in this country.

A STAPLE MONEY CROP.

Perhaps no other known plant will so completely fill the present and imperative needs of the farmers of this region. It is a staple money crop, one of the most alkali resistant plants, and has a seed which is of great value as a stock food. At present the principal industry of the region is stock growing; the animals now reaching maturity on the abundant alfalfa. The grade, however, would be much improved by some finishing fattening feed. It has been demonstrated that cottonseed is the best of beef producers, and its value for this purpose will be scarcely less than that of the fiber in the manufacturing industries. The country is now crying aloud for some concentrated finisher for its cattle. Comparative feeding tests by the Mississippi Experiment Station have shown the value of cottonseed as a feed, compared with corn at 40 cents per bushel, to be $16.75 per ton; allowing the ordinary prices prevailing in that State for the fertilizer contained in the manure, coming from this feeding, it would be worth $9.00, making $25.79 the total value to the farmer of a ton of seed. The value of the seed alone would here go far toward paying the cost of production.

SEED IS VALUABLE.

While the soils are extremely fertile, and with each irrigation receive a great amount of plant food from the irrigation waters of the Colorado, yet under the intensive farming that some day will be practiced, fertilizers will be necessary, and their value cannot be overlooked. It is safe to say the annual value of the seed from the 500,000 acres that may be grown will be $10,000,000.

With home-grown cattle, pastured on alfalfa and fattened on cottonseed or cottonseed products, the Southwest will be able to produce beef equal to, or better than the best corn fed.

The Gulf of California gives to this whole region cheap water transportation at its very door. The cotton can be brought to the ports of San Diego and Los Angeles, where employment may be given to the thousands of operatives necessary to convert the raw cotton into materials of commerce. Factories will spring up and a most valuable industry be added to Southern California's growing manufactures. The coming years may well see cotton bring to the planters of the Colorado River country $100,000,000 annually and a like sum distributed in wages and dividends from the factories.

REVEALED.

TRY TO HIDE SUICIDE FACT.

CONDITIONS CONCEALED BY DEAD MAN'S RELATIVES.

Aged Head of Family Ends His Life by Hanging Himself—Members of Household Explain That They Thought That It Might Prevent His Descendants Joining Any Lodges.

Fearful of the disgrace which they thought would come upon the family because of the suicide of one of its members, the relatives of John Zeigler of No. 230 West Avenue 21 failed to report his self-destruction to the police yesterday.

The body was sent to the Los Angeles Undertaking Company with the statement that Zeigler had died of old age. An investigation showed the rope marks about the neck, and the police were detailed to look into the case.

Zeigler committed suicide Friday night. He had been despondent for several days and late Friday afternoon hurt his foot while chopping wood. He complained of the hurt at the dinner table and after the members of the family had retired they heard him moving about. They thought he had arisen to dress his foot and paid no attention to his movements.

Yesterday morning the old man could not be found about the house. When his wife went to a little shed on the rear of the lot she found her husband's body swinging from a rope attached to one of the rafters. Benjamin Zeigler, a son, cut down the body and had it removed to the undertakers.

The old man had secured a small window rope, hardly big enough to suport his weight, and had stood on a small box while he adjusted the noose. He kicked the box from under him and strangled to death. He was 86 years old. He leaves a widow, a daughter and two sons.

When Detective Jones investigated the case yesterday afternoon the relatives told him that they thought the suicide might prevent the descendents from joining any lodges and for that reason they wanted to keep the facts quiet.

Industrial Independence.

MISTAKE PARIS HAS MADE BY ALLOWING TRADE-UNIONS TO GET THE UPPER HANDS.

TRADE unionism allowed to get control of the industrial conditions would result in the industries of every city being ruled by a petty tyrant intent only in wringing every possible dollar out of the operators. The time to keep industrial disturbances down is all the time. One concession to unionism means, a little later, another concession, until the operator finds he has little authority over the business interests he has created, and which are maintained by his financial responsibility. An illustration of the domineering attitude unionism will assume whenever allowed its own way is seen in the action of the Electricians' Union of Paris, which has actually placed in command of the lighting resources of the city a man who hesitates not to plunge the city into darkness and leave it there if wage demands be not at once conceded.

Emil Pataud, the absolute ruler and despotic governor of the Electricians' Union, is an absolutely cold-blooded dictator, who sits enthroned in his little private room at the headquarters of the union, more inaccessible than the President of the French republic. After ascending a narrow, dark staircase, you are met at the door at the top of the landing by a man who gruffly inquires your mission. If your answer satisfies him, you are ushered into another room; not, as you expect, to meet the great man, but to be challenged by another attendant. Again you are severely questioned, and if the object of your visit meets with this second attendant's approval, you are shown into a little office which opens into the private room of the dictator. There you meet his private secretary and at a word from him, you are in the presence of the most important man in France at the present moment.

Pataud jumped into prominence in 1907 when he startled Paris by plunging the gayly-lighted city into utter darkness. The pride of Paris—her boulevards—took on the appearance of country streets, and their grandeur and magnificence were made grotesque by hastily devised means of lighting. After a short experience of this inconvenience the authorities yielded to Pataud's demands, and Paris was once more illuminated.

In June last, he made another attempt, but the previous lesson was still fresh in the minds of the authorities and they quickly acceeded to his demands. By this time, however, many hotels, clubs, shops and newspaper offices, realizing their inability to cope with a man who, by a word, could plunge the entire city in darkness, planned to place themselves beyond his autocratic control. They provided themselves with electric lighting plants of their own, and rested content, believing that so far as they were concerned, they were safe. Non-union men were placed in charge of the plants and the proprietors felt with glee that they were in a position to defy Pataud.

The Hotel Continental, in the heart of the city, much patronized by Americans, was one of those which felt a supreme contempt for Pataud. Consequently, it was a great surprise to the management when Pataud presented himself at the hotel office. He tells of the incident himself:

"The managers of the Hotel Continental did not know that their non-union men had been won over by us and had long since joined our union. As the men felt they were under-paid for their long hours of labor, they applied to their employers for an increase of salary. The managers gave them a slight advance. The men were dissatisfied, so a little later they appealed to me. I was asked to see the managers and to demand a further increase of a franc (twenty cents) a day.

"I told them I would see that they got it. That evening I went to the hotel, gave my card to the page and told him to present it to the manager. In a few minutes he returned and said to me very curtly that the manager was busy and could not be seen. I am not used to indignities of that kind. I turned to the boy and said, 'Tell your manager that he will regret his impertinence and it will not be many minutes before he sees his mistake.'

"He found out before a half hour was over what my words meant. Suddenly without warning, every light in the hotel was turned off. Frantically then did the manager rush about to find the cause of the complete darkness. He ran to the electricians and immediately realized by their attitude, which was most defiant, that they had struck. This was his first intimation that he had been employing union men. A number of big dinner parties were to take place there that evening; what should he do? The only way out of the dilemma was, of course, to seek me. Now came the turn I had hinted at to the page. The worried and harassed manager flew for an automobile and with a bribe to the chauffeur of a good 'pourboire' if he went like the wind, he soon reached my office. I was waiting. I expected him. Excitedly he begged me to return with him and instruct the electricians. 'They shall have their franc a day,' he told me, but I wished to prevent future complications, so I drew up a document stating that the increase should be given and also that the strikers were not to be discharged for their attitude in demanding more money. Willingly and enthusiastically did the now amiable manager agree.

"The document was signed and at a signal from me, the hotel in a second was in a blaze of light. And so," continued Pataud, "will we act in the future."

The matter did not end there, however, for although the manager of the hotel signed the paper he did so with his tongue in his cheek. The committee of administration of the Hotel Continental have taken very decided measures. It was agreed to discharge at 4 o'clock a few mornings later all the electricians. A letter signed by the counsel was addressed to the procureur of the republic. The letter affirms that a signature was signed under threats; therefore, Pataud has committed an offense of extortion.

Strikes Good Things to Avoid.

There should have been no violence at all in connection with strikes. When men go out on strike they declare to their employer that it is impossible for him to secure the labor he requires without their assistance. They wager their means of livelihood on that contention. The law allows men to so gamble. But it does not allow them anything more. The law requires that men whom the employer finds willing to take their places shall be free to do so peacefully and quietly. They have the same right to take the work as the striker had to leave it. Mr. Mitchell admitted this in his speech when he declared: "The striker must refrain from hostility toward the men who have been imported into his town to take his place." Is that the usual conduct of the men who go out on strike? Strikes cannot be legislated out of existence, for the law cannot make any man work any more than it can make a horse drink. If there is any moral uplift in a strike it is in the lesson it teaches those engaged, on either side, that strikes are good things to avoid. It is the same lesson an infant learns when he touches a hot stove. There may be no moral lesson in it, but the experience is usually most convincing.—[Montreal Gazette.

Strikes Develop Lawlessness.

During the past week two instances have occurred to show the lawlessness unionism incites in its devotees when they go on strike. In Chicago, a non-union tile setter named Kennedy was attacked and beaten into insensibility by four union thugs. Kennedy had his skull fractured and was beat and kicked until he lost consciousness.

The other instance occurred at Orange, N. J., where a man who was merely seeking work in a hat factory was set upon on a trolley car, and severely beaten, the conductor and motorman aiding in the assault.

The instance is yet to be learned of a strike, any length of time continued, that has not resulted in violence by the unionites who had voluntarily given up their jobs.

LABORER LOSES LEG.

Leaps from Southern Pacific Train on Which He Attempts to Beat His Way.

Juan Sotello, a Mexican laborer, was frightfully maimed yesterday afternoon, when he fell beneath the wheels of a train of the Southern Pacific Railroad at Los Angeles and Alameda streets. Sotello had been in the city only a short time and was in the act of leaving to get work in the country when the accident occurred. He jumped on the train at Alameda and Aliso streets and sat down on the steps.

He had no money to pay his fare and he was beating his way. The train was bound for the racetrack and some noise made within one of the coaches frightened the laborer. He thought the trainmen were coming after him and he leaped off. His feet slipped and he was thrown beneath the wheels and his legs were crushed. He was hurried to the Receiving Hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the left leg above the knee and the right foot. He was later removed to the County Hospital.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Contrary to the opinion of a number of egg dealers, the market which was firm before Easter, has become more firm after that holiday. It was supposed that a decline would result after the last week in Lent, when the market is very active and all the eggs obtainable are marketed. Receipts have not been as heavy this week as last, and that, with the strength of the market throughout the United States, has caused prices here not only to remain steady, but to go higher. Yesterday case count local eggs advanced ½ cent, with receipts of 535 cases. Similar advance was reported from the north and from middle western markets. The number of eggs going into storage has been smaller. In Chicago only about 90,000 cases have been stored, against 134,000 cases last year at this time. The season in Kansas, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Nebraska has been late, and packing for storage is only beginning, the weather having made the production light until now. In Kansas, dealers are asking up to 20 cents a dozen on storage stock, f.o.b., the point of packing. This would bring the eggs to almost 23 cents laid down in Los Angeles.

Butter is still 47½ cents a pound on creamery extra. There is little creamery first grade coming in. Prices have been unaltered in more than two weeks, and the market is showing little strength under the heavy receipts of the past few days. Yesterday 54,554 pounds were reported in. All of the surplus is going into storage.

Cheese has been on the rise. The top prices on most of the eastern as well as local and northern are reached, according to one of the large cheese dealers. Arrivals are good right along, and the demand has not been very heavy during the past week. Yesterday's arrivals were 9923 pounds.

Potatoes are very firm. Receipts have fallen to an exceedingly low plane, and Oregon shipments here have practically been discontinued. It is reported that the Oregon market is cleaned up on shipping stock, and that all the spuds left will be used for consumption in that State. In the East potatoes are scarce, and it will be the middle of June before any are harvested. The new potatoes here are arriving regularly and in quantities which insure Los Angeles a good supply of spuds even if the other parts of the United States suffer a famine. Two cars totaled receipts of yesterday.

Two cars of Bermuda onions were also shown in arrivals. The Bermudas are showing up better than early in the season as far as quality is concerned. Prices are down to $1.00 on Texas and about the same amount per crate on Imperials.

Arrivals of beans were a trifle heavier than on any day in three weeks, about half a car. The sales of the product are regular and good at prevailing high prices. Sweet potato receipts have not been large, and most spuds of this kind now on the market are produced within wagon-hauling distance of the city.

There were no changes in vegetables. The market on asparagus has been steady, but the demand has been falling off. Lettuce is very plentiful, and there has been considerable consigned to the dump heap in the last few days. Cabbage is more firm and cauliflower is high, the season for it being past. Cucumbers are down, and the best are only bringing a little more than $2.

SELLER'S CONTRACTS FEATURE.

Deals in Home Telephone Preferred Puzzle Brokers on Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

Deals in Home Telephone Preferred on seller's contracts was the feature on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday. After the sale of 10 shares, regular delivery, at 62.00, a block of 10 was transferred at 61.50, seller fifteen days, and 40 shares changed hands at the same price, subject to the thirty-day seller contract. The close was at 61.50@62.00, off ½ and 1 point, respectively. The common was inactive, and unchanged at 15.00@18.00.

Why preferred was sold subject to seller contracts puzzled brokers. Some thought it a way of forcing action on public service company rates. The contracts were made "dividend coming," but the first one will just carry the stock over to the dividend period. Books will close on May 1.

Union Oil stiffened slightly in price, and 20 shares were sold at 104.25. The close was at 104.00@104.25, up 1-4 point in the bid, and off 1-8 in the asked price. Union Provident closed at 103.00@103.50, up 1-4 and off ½ point, and United Petroleum at 105.00@105.50, up 3-4 and ½ point, respectively.

Globe sold at 23¼, and closed at 23¼ bid. Ten shares of Associated changed hands at 37.00, and the stock was quoted at 36.50@37.12½, off ½ and 1-8 points, respectively. One thousand shares of Central went at 91.

On the mining call, 1000 shares of Clark Copper were sold at 18.

MINING MARKET IMPROVED.

Goldfield Leaders Close Higher on Los Angeles-Nevada Exchange and Trading Fairly Broad.

Combination Fraction also gained on sales of 600 shares and final quotations were 1.13@1.14.

Deals in Florence were made at 3.42½, and the stock was quoted at 3.37½@3.42½, up 7½ points in the bid.

Goldfield Consolidated was handled to the extent of 200 shares at 8.25, and the close was at 8.25@8.30.

There was light trading in Eureka at 3 1-4@3 1-8; Duplex Contact, at 4½; Golden Eagle, at 2 7-8; Searchlight Parallel, at 3; and Bonnie Clare, at 3½.

SAN FRANCISCO LIST.

DAISY ABSORBED WHEN OFFERED.

SHOWS MORE LIFE THAN OTHER GOLDFIELD LEADERS.

Deals on Curb Reported—Issue Closes Higher in East Than in North—Tonopahs Quiet, Except Midway and Belmont—Market Disappointing at Week-End.

[Special Service to The Times by B. F. Taylor, 524 Citizens' National Bank Bldg.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—While the mining market showed considerable activity today, there were very few changes in quotations. Daisy showed more life than any of the other Goldfield stocks, opening at 40 bid, selling up to 43, and closing at 42 to 43. Wingfield was on the floor and it was rumored that he was picking up the stock. All that was offered from the East was readily absorbed and the close showed a gain of 3 cents over last night's level.

Silver Pick opened at 26 bid, and closed at 27, unchanged.

With the exception of Midway and Belmont, the Tonopahs were quiet. Both of these issues showed considerable strength, and large orders in brokers' hands were unfilled at the close.

Goldfield Consolidated closed off 12½ points from yesterday, and Florence, 2½. Combination Fraction was unchanged, at 112½@115.

There were no changes in the Bullfrogs, Manhattans, or stocks of outlying camps.

Daisy was offered on the curb last night at 40 cents and under, and was picked up by brokers who had orders for 30,000 shares at 40. The close on the New York and Boston curb was above San Francisco figures.

Taking it altogether, the close tonight was a disappointment. The market started with a good show of strength Monday, and big things were predicted, especially for the cheap stocks, but hopes were unrealized. As compared with Thursday, when the exchange adjourned over the Easter holidays, Goldfield Consolidated shows a loss of 30 points; Florence 5, and Daisy 5. Jumbo Extension is up a point, Combination Fraction broke even, Booth is up 2, Silver Pick 11, Kewanas 1, Red Hills 2, Belmont 1, Midway 7, Montana lost 3 points, West Ends are unchanged, Coalition is off 22 points, Nevada Hills gained 4 points, Pittsburgh Silver Peak is weak, 58 being the best bid, and the stock was offered yesterday at 58.

The Goldfield Consolidated Mines Company, which comprises several of the smaller Goldfield properties, has installed a large hoisting plant, new ore bins of large capacity, and is preparing to open up the property on a most extensive scale. A spur is to be built from the main line of the railroad to the ore shoots.

The Gold Bar property, which is part of the C. O. D. Consolidated, is shipping forty tons of $100 rock every week.

Following are closing bid and asked prices, with sales, on the formal call:

Boston Copper Market.

BOSTON, April 17.—Following the weak London market, the New York market opened weak, carrying many stop orders and forcing out some weak accounts. After this was completed, however, better support appeared and the market continued strong up to the close, which was the highest of the day. The New York market probably will open strong Monday, and if it does we would recommend sales for a turn. There will be no Boston market until Tuesday. SHARES AND MONEY.

STOCK MARKET STILL UNEASY.

MANY SELLING ORDERS FOLLOW SHARP REACTION.

Unfavorable Bearing of Wheat Corner on General Conditions as Well as Reflex Action of Foreign Marts Cause Speculators to Feel Unsettled—Gold Outgo Is Large.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 17.—The stock market today gave further evidence of some unsettlement of speculative sentiment. The sharp reaction of the day before, and the argument of the unfavorable bearing of the wheat market situation on stocks had the effect of bringing in selling orders.

Part of these were executed in the market before the opening hour, and the prices in New York, opening on a par with London, or below, represented considerable declines from the level at which the market closed last night. The professional traders worked for a reaction.

Foreign markets were still disturbed to some extent by the troubles in Turkey.

The gold outgo to South America, together with considerable syndicate activity in connection with bond floatations, has led the lenders of money on time to attempt an advance in rates of interest, but borrowers held off and the result was a great decline in the money market.

Reading was exempt from its recent weakened depression in anticipation of a possible decision on Monday on the commodities clause case. Central Railroad of New Jersey rose buoyantly with helpful effect on Reading and the coalers generally.

The pronounced strength in the rally made a strong closing at general net gains.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,430,000. United States 2's coupon and the 3's advanced 1-4 per cent. on call during the week.

This leaves the visible supply disappearing relatively less rapidly than it has for the past month or so. The volume of receipts and the expected arrivals show a fair run next week, but at the same time the spot markets are extremely steady, and New Orleans will probably show 9000 or 10,000 bales sold at 1-16 to 1-8 higher than yesterday's figures. Should the market advance on Monday we would advise profit-taking, as we believe lower prices, probably the 10 1-4 cent level, may again be reached."

The late selling yesterday was spot interest. The Chronicle weather report is favorable. Weather reports by telegraph to us this evening from the South are on the whole favorable. M. M. Stephens, 50 years of age, a day yard watchman in the employ of the Los Angeles-Pacific Railroad Company, was almost instantly killed yesterday afternoon by a work train in the north tunnel near Temple street.

Stephens was walking the track, going toward Sunset boulevard. He saw the work train approaching and stepped to one side of the track. He slipped and fell beneath the wheels. The body was dragged fifty feet. The right arm was cut off at the elbow, the skull crushed and the lower limbs torn. An inquest will be held Monday at the Pierce morgue. Stephens lived on Olive street near the tunnel. He had no family.

FOENSMEIER SET FREE.

Los Angeles Oil and Mining Man Dying in Chicago Jail Shown Mercy by the Court.

Justice was tempered with mercy by Judge Clifford of the criminal court in Chicago yesterday when he freed Theodore Foensmeier, a mining engineer, and general manager of the Minnehaha Oil Company of Los Angeles, because of illness from which he was slowly dying in the County Jail.

The circumstances, according to a special dispatch received by The Times last night, were similar to those which led to the freeing from imprisonment last Wednesday of Benson Bidwell, the aged inventor of "cold motor" notoriety, who was near death in the same institution. Foensmeier was arrested in Boston last October on a charge of having obtained $2000 for a fake gold mine from Thomas Gunness of Bardsville, Minn.

MOUNTED MEN AT DRILL.

Forty Members of Troop D, N.G.C., Skirmishing Near Devil's Gate Today.

Forty men of Troop D, N.G.C., left last night for a ride and day of drill in the foothill country near the Devil's Gate.

Horses were brought in from the country yesterday morning, and "boots and saddles" was sounded at 7 o'clock. The command rode out the old Mission road to Pasadena and then down through the network of crossroads to the Arroyo Seco. Then the river bed was followed to the Devil's Gate, where camp was pitched for the night. Capt. James Gunn and Lieuts. McComas and Hesselberger are the officers.

The troopers will practice outpost duty, advance and rear-guard drill and flanking movements.

Capt. Gunn has secured permits to take his men over 800 acres in the neighborhood of the Devil's Gate.

TERRITORIAL GROWTH.

ARIZONA CITY IS NOW BOOMING.

DEVELOPMENT IS GREAT ABOUT PHOENIX.

Modern Town Fast Rising in Rich Agricultural Section—Rural Population Doubled in Five Years—Fine Business Blocks Built—Los Angeles Architect Furnishes Many Plans.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.] PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 17.—An era of most substantial improvement has begun in Phoenix. The older style of house, built on the cracker-box plan, is departing, and the newer buildings, both for business and residence, are becoming notable for neatness of design and for concessions to the local climate. At least one hundred residences are now in course of construction, and the residence sections are being extended far beyond what was once thought the limits of the city's growth.

The country is growing even faster than the city, as the larger farms are subdivided in preparation for full acceptance of the terms of the irrigation act. The rural population around Phoenix has doubled within five years. On the four rural delivery routes from the city, aggregating nearly one hundred miles, 870 families now are served. Two of the routes handle about 30,000 pieces of mail each a month, while almost every box takes a daily paper. Most of the farms, within three or four miles of Phoenix, are being cut into small tracts for suburban homes. One such division will be that of a quarter section just sold by Mrs. J. C. Adams, north of the fair grounds, the purchaser being Dr. J. C. Norton, who paid $150 an acre. Four hundred acres lying between Scottsdale and the river, was sold last week by L. E. Sampson to the Rural Settlements Association, represented by George E. Maxwell, who will found a colony. The land is well situated for orange culture, and will be passed by the new cross-cut power canal planned by the Reclamation Service.

Probably the finest building ever constructed in Arizona exclusively for banking purposes is that which has been occupied by The Valley Bank of Phoenix. It is of reinforced concrete, [illegible]x137 feet in size, of a single story, twenty-six feet in the clear, and is absolutely fireproof, with no wood, save in the furnishings. It faces south, in the center of the block, on Adams street, between Center street and First avenue, in the newer business section of Phoenix. The structure was built for the bank by Dwight B. Heard, a local capitalist. The architect is Thornton Fitzhugh of Los Angeles, the builders the Arizona Construction Company of Phoenix. Security is assured by massive steel, dynamite-proof doors, with time locks and double combinations. Within are specie safes, tellers' safes and safety deposit boxes. The building has been designed for comfort in any season. The same system of ventilation that warms the air in winter, will serve to cool and purify it in summer. Air is drawn through a box of dampened coke on the roof, and forced by a great blower into the room below, where the temperature can be kept uniform, with little regard for the weather outside.

The National Bank of Arizona is preparing also for a new building, to be on its present location at the corner of Center and Washington streets. The design made by W. J. Bliesner, late of Los Angeles, calls for the completion this year of a four-story building, costing about $112,000. It will be [illegible]x137½ feet. Most of the ground floor will be occupied by the bank, which will use the old offices of the Valley Bank during the period of construction.

Actual construction work has been begun at last upon the Y.M.C.A building. The first site selected, on the corner of First Avenue and Monroe street, has been surrendered for the new Federal building, and excavation has been commenced on the corner of Second avenue and Monroe. It is probable that the building will cost about $60,000. It is understood that the plans for the structure have been much modified from the original designs. About $110,000 was subscribed, of this amount much remaining to be collected. The directors purchased a solid block of city property, and by the sale of the larger part of it and through bonuses from the owners of surrounding property, have cleared about $22,000 in addition, and expect to have ample funds for the equipment of the building and the purchase of athletic grounds near-by.

An appropriation of $140,000 has been made for the new Federal building, which is to be placed upon a 225-foot frontage on First avenue, facing west. No plans for the structure have been announced as yet. It is believed locally that a substantial addition to the amount already appropriated can readily be secured from Congress, assuring a structure not only ample in size, but architecturally beautiful. If concrete be not used as a building material, a high grade of tufa, the same as used in the walls of the Territorial Capitol, can readily be obtained from Kirkland Valley, on the line of the Santa Fé railroad.

The northwestern corner of the Y.M.C.A. block has been sold to the Salt River Valley Water Users' Association, which will build thereon a "water temple," costing about $24,000. This association is a permanent one, through which the irrigation affairs of the Salt River Valley will probably be conducted for all time, as to it will eventually pass the ownership and management of all the canals, dams, and other irrigation works connected with the Salt River irrigation project.

Work is to be commenced at once upon a concrete building costing $12,000 for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, for the housing of electrical machinery, already ordered which will cost $70,000. This machinery is for the transformation of the electrical currents to be received from the Roosevelt generation works of the Reclamation Service, which will be delivered at a voltage of 45,000 and which must be "stepped down" to be available for distribution in Phoenix for power and lighting uses. The first consignment of machinery will be here on May 15, and it is provided in the contracts that everything shall be complete by September 1.

Judge E. W. Wells of Prescott lately visited Los Angeles where he consulted with Harrison Albright in regard to changes to be made in the original design for the completion of the unfinished Noble building. The building thus far has cost about $100,000 and about $60,000 more will be needed to finish it. It will be occupied mainly by two large business houses, dealing in furniture and drygoods. The structure is of concrete, 100x137½ feet, four stories in height, with large basement.

Plans are being made by the vestry of Trinity Episcopal Church for a $30,000 church building, to be erected on lots already owned by the congregation on North Center street.

Arthur G. Munn, reports having closed a deal this week with a local syndicate, represented by W. W. Middlecoff, William Jacob King and four others, for 265 acres of land in the Inglewood division on the Los Angeles-Redondo Railway, thirty minutes ride from Los Angeles, a reported consideration of $211,800. The syndicate has appointed the King Realty Company managers and agents. The sellers were George A. Nelson and H. W. Nelson of the Nevada Realty Company of this city. Divine Rods

These rods are made on an entirely new principle. The strips of bamboo are twisted in such a manner that the strain is distributed equally on each strip and not confined to the upper and lower strands, as in the straight section bamboos. The rod is so twisted that it does not injure the fiber of the bamboo in the least, but makes ger, giving it additional backbone; it also improves the ing of the rod and will keep it straighter. It is superior to amboo rods for snappy, quick action.

Midnight Ride to Santa Barbara Brings Victory.

William R. Ruess, in a Pope-Hartford touring car, broke the road record in driving from Los Angeles to Santa Barbara yesterday by twenty-seven minutes.

From the Lankershim Hotel, at Seventh and Broadway, to the Potter Hotel, in Santa Barbara, a distance of 112 miles, Ruess drove his car in three hours and thirty-five minutes. The previous record was three hours and fifty-seven minutes, held by Ruess with an Oldsmobile. This record was made in March, 1906, and a score of attempts to lower it since have been unsuccessful until yesterday. It remained for the local driver, who knows every foot of the road, to turn the trick.

For reckless daring there are few stunts that can equal Ruess's performance. Handicapped by the loss of one of the big carbide lamps when less than ten miles from Los Angeles, Ruess kept on, the single searchlight serving to show him the road for 100 miles.

RUESS STARS.

The feature of the record run was the driving of Ruess. With his hands gripping the steering wheel and with eye glued on the road, Ruess did nothing but drive. Bent slightly over the wheel, with one hand ready to grasp a lever or slam on an emergency brake, Ruess took the road at top speed. He made as high as sixty-two miles an hour over the smoother stretches, and never slowed down until it was absolutely necessary.

Once when more than forty minutes ahead of the previous mark, and with victory well in sight, the run had almost to be abandoned. A wagon, bogged in the muddy highway, blocked the road. With twenty-two miles ahead of them the autoists saw defeat staring them in the face. After three hours of hard work their hopes for victory seemed blasted by a horse-drawn vehicle.

There was a conference. Then four husky autoists, the record-breaking crew, took hold of that wagon and fairly lifted it from its muddy bed and rolled it to the side of the road sufficiently to allow the Pope to move on. Ruess drove those last twenty-two miles in thirty-five minutes.

Like a noisy rocket skidding over the landscape the Pope-Hartford flew on. Hill and level looked alike. The Canejo and Casitas grades, made treacherous by recent rains, were passed at a lively clip. On one stretch along the mountainside planks have been laid where the water courses have washed the roadbed away. The car slid over the lumber and shot on its way to the Channel City. A spark plug delayed the autoists five minutes.

STORY OF THE RUN.

Precisely at midnight Ruess pulled out from the Lankershim Hotel. Along the smooth pavement of West Seventh street the Pope made careful time. Once on the outskirts of the city the autoists began to drive faster. The rough roads leading into Hollywood proved too much for one of the big lamps and it was abandoned at the side of the road, after it had bumped almost off.

The top of the Cahuenga Pass was reached 22 minutes after the start. Through the sleeping town of Calabasas the Pope flew 44½ minutes after leaving Los Angeles. This is a record.

Over the Canejo grade Ruess made good time and sped through Ventura 2hr. and 5m. after leaving this city.

STANFORD SWAMPS CALIFORNIA, WINS DESPERATELY CLOSE MEET.

Blue and Gold Has Hard Luck in the Water and Loses in Track by Few Points, But Wins in Tennis Several Records Are Broken.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERKELEY, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Stanford defeated California in the sixteenth annual dual track meet on the Berkeley oval this afternoon.

California put up a remarkable fight, but the record-breaking Stanford team could not be headed. It was not until Scott took first place in the pole vault that the result was certain, for California had a fighting chance to win all three places in this, and thus tie the meet.

Coleman of Los Angeles, Crawford and Miller were the men that cinched the meet for the Cardinals, as all of them scored over nine points. Coleman equaled the record in the 220, while Wyman broke the high mark for the quarter, and Miller duplicated his performance in the half. It was Miller who made up California's lead in the relay, and sent Wyman off on the last lap to set a new world's record of 3m. 18s.

The old record for a five-man team was held by Stanford at 3m. 19 1-5s.

McGregor was the only Stanford "dark horse" to come through, and his second place in the mile was a considerable surprise. E. F. Smith, Kant and Dignan were the unexpected California point winners. Several of the point winners on both teams were freshmen, but Stanford had by far the most veterans to score.

California took every point in both hurdles, while Stanford took everything in the two-mile run.

Munn of California scored but one point, and because of his failure to come through many a California man is "broke" tonight. Munn was supposed to be holding himself in reserve, but the reserve power was lacking.

The day was cold and foggy, a heavy mist falling during many of the races, and times were slowed as a result. Seven thousand persons witnessed the meet.

COLEMAN A STAR.

The mile run opened up the day. Bradford, the record holder, took the lead and held it for three laps, but a tumble on the curve took his strength. Smith (C.,) and Hemphill (S.,) fought for supremacy, but the Stanford man weakened, with McGregor and Erskine coming up strong. The last lap was a scrap between Smith and McGregor, breast to breast, Smith beating the Stanford "dark horse" by a short foot.

SPORTING RESULTS.

Stanford defeated California in the annual track meet, 66 to 56.

Stanford beat California in the annual intercollegiate regatta.

California won annual tennis tournament from Stanford.

Pomona College defeated the U.S.C. baseball team, 6 to 4.

Occidental College beat Whittier College nine, 8 to 5.

Los Angeles High School defeated Polytechnic High School in the relay carnival.

Lawton Wiggins won the Adios Handicap at Santa Anita.

Stanley Fay won the Rutherford Handicap at Emeryville.

The dashes brought forth some of the finest competition of the meet, with Coleman of Los Angeles the bright star. He beat W. R. Johns of Coalinga to the tape in the finish of the hundred by less than three inches, and Linn to the tape in the 220 by a yard and a half. Coleman equaled the record in the furlong. Billy Cline, the old Harvard star, taking third.

The hundred brought a surprise to California, when Kant took third away from Cline. Holman's leg went back on him in this race and he was out of the running at the fifty.

California took every point in both hurdle races. Cowles, Donald, Edwards and Johns finished the high sticks in a bunch, Johns being first out of the scoring. The time equaled the record held by Cowles.

The heats of the low hurdles brought the collapse of Capt. Horton of Stanford, when he broke a tendon in his leg while clearing next to the last hurdle. Wallace of Hollywood and Whitney tied in this heat and had to run another heat to decide the final entry. Wallace blew up in the second race. Edwards of Santa Barbara and Grubb and Johns in the finals had everything their own way, Whitney being left yards behind.

The half-mile was another thriller.

POLY LOSES ALL RELAY EVENTS.

LOS ANGELES HIGH RUNNERS OUTSTRIP MECHANICS.

First Relay Carnival to Be Held Here Is Uninteresting on Account of Poly's Failure to Hold the Pace. Throop Runs Speedy Lap in Half-Mile Race.

Los Angeles High School easily won the first relay carnival pulled off in Southern California, at Bovard Field, yesterday afternoon, defeating Polytechnic High School in every event by good margins. In all the races except the half-mile relay the blue and white sprinters beat the mechanics by more than half a lap.

The track was in poor condition. About two hundred rooters were present, and the lack of close competition made the races slow and uninteresting.

The first event was a half-mile relay of four men, each runner negotiating a furlong. Cohn and Jones ran the first lap. The men were even until the last hundred yards, when Cohn of Los Angeles High let out a link and gave an advantage of fifteen yards to Gadwood. McAleer held his own with Gadwood, but Rubio on the third leg added another five yards to Los Angeles High's lead. On the deciding leg Throop made up several yards on Geissler, but was unable to win. The time was 1m. 36 4-5s.

Los Angeles High again proved too strong for the mechanics in the two-

TRY, TRY AGAIN.

STEARNS-LOCO RETURN RACE.

Two Fast Cars Are Matched for Second Time.

Leavitt and Gordon Preparc for Track Struggle.

Machines Are to Go the Five-Hundred-Mile Route.

Ralph J. Leavitt's Locomobile is to race Gordon's Stearns again. The car is ready now, and Leavitt is willing to wager $5000 or a larger sum. His only stipulation is that the race be 500 miles or longer.

This time it is Leavitt who is challenged, and he has the right to choose the distance. He says he raced the Stearns at their own distance in the last track struggle. This time he wants a distance of his own choosing. He would not bar any driver. He would bring Murray Page here for a 500-mile argument, and would use more than one driver, in all probability.

"Yes, I accept the challenge of the Stearns people," said Leavitt yesterday. "I am ready to race on Sunday or any time after that date. The race must be for 500 miles or more. That is my only stipulation. It seems to me that it should be easy for us to get together again.

"The Stearns people gave us a great race. It was certainly a contest right to the finish. I am not looking for a cinch, but I do prefer a longer race, as I think it is fairer to both cars. The Stearns did well, and I don't think it could have been driven better.

"Some one said after the race that if Soules had been on the Stearns it would have been a different story. I suppose it would, but I'm able to tell just what the story would have been. If Soules thinks he could have driven the car faster, I'm willing to give him a chance, and I'll put Latham on the Locomobile. I'll show them what I think of Latham as a driver.

"This racing game is to my liking. Of course I want to win. I'm willing, however, to take a chance, and if I lose there are other races to come, the road race, for instance. I want to show the public what my car can do, and I don't know a better way than to get the machines out on a track where 8000 persons can watch their capers."

Huntley L. Gordon is anxious for a return race. He is willing to go 500 miles, he says, though he prefers a shorter distance if such a race can be arranged. Smarting from his recent defeat, which was close enough to allow him a portion of the honors, Gordon is aching to get into another tussle withe Loco.

It is possible that articles of agreement will be signed this week, and that the Loco-Stearns match will be pulled off within the next three weeks. The Stearns is now housed at the Thomas headquarters temporarily, and the racing machine is the same as the day it finished at Ascot.

There are no two cars in Los Angeles that can give a better race programme than the Locomobile and the Stearns. Should a 500-mile match be arranged, it is possible the cars will be started as early as 9 or 10 o'clock in the morning. The race would take about eight hours to run off, and the finish would be planned for about 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Charles Soules will drive the Stearns. There are no restrictions as to drivers. Gordon will not be mechanician. A factory man will ride on the Stearns, which will be equipped with extra gas and oil tanks. There will be no unnecessary delays, such as occurred in the last race, if Gordon can help himself.

Murray Page will come South again to drive the Loco. It is possible that Page and Bert Latham will be the Loco team. There are to be no restrictions as to the number of men allowed on each machine.

DEMANDS ROOM.

FACTORY NEEDS MORE SPACE.

CHALMERS-DETROIT PLANT TO DOUBLE CAPACITY.

Makers of Popular Low-Priced Car Expect to Put Out Twice as Many Machines in Nineteen-Ten as This Year—Car Selling Well in East and on Coast.

The Chalmers-Detroit Motor Car Company of Detroit, Mich., is to double the size of its plant. A new building, an exact duplicate of the present main structure, will be completed by September 1. The addition will be of concrete, and will be situated east of the main structure and parallel to it, making one more unit in the laying out of the plant which the factory people believe is to be one of the largest in the world.

This new unit will practically double the floor space of the Chalmers-Detroit company, as a number of minor buildings will also be erected. The 1910 output will almost double that of this year, according to the factory experts, and plans are already being made to put out cars on a scale never before attempted.

This season 3110 cars are being turned out. The demand for the popular machine through the East has been such that the manufacturers have been obliged to plan for a much larger output this coming year. The machines are selling rapidly on the Coast also, and more will be required in Los Angeles.

The Western Motor Car Company, agents for the Chalmers-Detroit, are selling a number of the machines, which are proving more popular even than the agents believed they would be. Numbers of the machines have been delivered in the outlying towns of Southern California, and the demand in Los Angeles is brisk.

The Chalmers has given a good account of itself on Southern California roads. Since the "Election Day" special run, when two Chalmers covered 200 miles each without stopping, the cars have made a number of runs and have returned in excellent condition. They have been bumped over the roughest of roads and have been brought back in as good condition apparently as when they started.

The factory is making a comfortable touring car model which seems to meet the requirements of local motorists. The roadster is one of the handsomest machines in its class in the local market. On the floor of the Western Motor Car Company is a model of the Chalmers-Detroit engine, which is kept running for those who want to study the mechanism of the trim little car.

MUDHOLES AND BOGS.

Motorists Are Given Timely Warnings by Driver Who Has Recently Traveled in Piru Country.

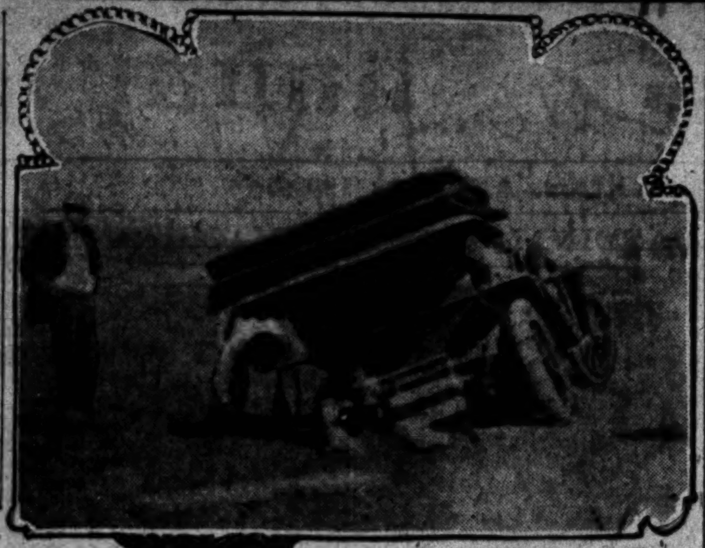
Motor-car people coming out of Los Angeles for the northern trip through Ventura county should look out for Piru Creek on the Newhall road, and an almost impassible mudhole at the foot of the Canejo grade.

The Newhall road can be traveled if drivers are careful at the Piru crossing. If they are not particularly cautious engines will be killed and teams must be employed for towing. The water in the stream is still high, owing to melting snows in the mountains, and this condition is likely to continue for some weeks.

Once across the Piru, cars can go almost anywhere in the county. Even the road to the Ojai Valley up Santa Paula Cañon can be taken, although the crossing of Sisar Creek, near Ferndale, is not easy.

The Casitas Pass is in good shape. The beach road to Santa Barbara, however, is not passable. There is still a lot of dirt at the slide at Punta Gordo, and the Ventura River at this town is high.

The Canejo road should not be taken at all. The mudhole at the foot of the grade is a bog, and there is heavy sand. The Moorpark road can be traveled.



Bucking the Mud and Water of San Diego County, in a four-cylinder automobile. Above is Charles B. Hopper and party trying to extricate the machine from a deep mudhole into which it dropped while trying to pass a ditch in the road. In the middle is the same car being snaked out of a water hole, and below the party is draining the water from the hood.

SHACKLETON'S SLEDGE.

Disappointment is felt in some quarters because the reports of the expedition of Lieut. Shackleton, who got within about one hundred miles of the South Pole recently, contained nothing about the motor sledge which he had taken along. Shackleton was confident the sledge would be of material assistance to him, but apparently, whether because of the nature of the country to be traversed or otherwise, is not yet known, it failed to prove useful.

MOTOR REPAIR SHOP.

A repair shop on a motor car has been put on the road by a firm at Oakland, Cal. A forty-horse-power automobile has been equipped with a platform and inclosed body. In the car is a lathe, two grinding and polishing wheels, emery wheel, key-cutting machine, glass rack, tool cabinets and benches, complete plumber's outfit, and the machinery is run by a three-horse-power motorcycle engine. The company claims to repair anything from a "stew pan to an airship."

DAINTY LITTLE HUPMOBILE.

Handsome Midget Low-Priced Car to Make Its Debut a Week from Today.

One of the daintiest little cars in the local market is the Hupmobile roadster. The "O. K." Auto Company, just organized, will handle the car, together with the Ricketts "Six." This line of autos should prove popular. The new concern will open at No. 433 West Seventh street, at Seventh and Olive streets.

H. B. Patterson, who is with the Thomas Motor Car Company, will manage the new firm. Patterson has had considerable experience in the automobile business, and should make good. The demonstrator will be here a week from today, and will be the first of fifty of the little Hupmobiles to be delivered to the agents in Los Angeles.

A.A.A. SANCTION.

The Contest Commitee of the American Automobile Association has granted a sanction to the Wilkesbarre Automobile Club, Wilkesbarre, Pa., for the annual hill-climbing contest up the Giant's Despair course. The event will occur May 31.

OMINOUS REPORT.

DEALERS AWAIT RACE COMMITTEE'S EDICT.

WHEN the committee appointed to draft rules for the Santa Monica automobile road race presents its report at the next meeting of the Dealers' Association, a set of rules that should satisfy the most ardent kicker will be read by the chairman, Ralph Hamlin. The two other members, R. J. Leavitt and William Bush, have both been working hard to prepare a set of bylaws that shall be ironclad.

One of the most important items which the committee is considering is a proposition to whitewash the center of the entire course. A wide stretch of white will be plastered along the center of the road, if one of the committeemen has his way.

Another proposition is to penalize any driver and car which attempts to pass another car within 100 yards of a turn or on a turn. This drastic rule will be made in order to avoid the possibility of accidents.

Signs, are to be placed 100 yards from each turn, warning the drivers to slow up. The word "Slow," in large letters, will be printed on the signs. Drivers will have to shut off at every turn, as it will mean death to take them wide open.

Much work must be done on the Santa Monica course before it is in shape for fast going. The turns must be banked if the drivers are to take them even at forty miles an hour. It will be positively dangerous to take them faster than twenty-five miles an hour in their present condition.

Already cars are being prepared for the great race. Leon T. Shettler is making one of the strongest bids, as Harris Hanshue, who is to drive the Apperson "Jackrabbit" in the race, will leave soon for the Apperson factory to watch the assembling of the racer which Shettler will enter.

The Auto Vehicle Company will enter a car in the big race if the piston displacement clause allows them the privilege. Don Lee is anxious to enter his Cadillac in the large event and will be peeved if his car is barred out of the star event.

F. C. Fenner will not enter a White steamer. He is content with his chances in this year's Baldy race. Fenner has withdrawn from the Automobile Dealers' Association and is not eligible to enter a car.

The race is restricted to members of the Dealers' Association only. Local drivers and no others can handle cars in either this light or fast car event. This will work a hardship in certain circles, as there are men here who would like a chance to figure in the meet.

There are those who want to see the bars let down concerning the drivers. Should the committee decide to let outsiders into the race such men as Herbert Lytle, George Robertson, Robert Burman and Louis Strang would start.

The Buick people are making special preparations for the race. They will enter the "White Streak" and should have an excellent chance for first honors. The Durocar people will have a machine in the light car race.

BRIGHT SPARKS OF MOTORDOM.

An active good roads association has been formed at Glenwood Springs, Col.

The new Boston Motor Club already has a membership of more than 230.

A movement is under way to introduce taxicabs into Newport, R. I.

An exhibition of agricultural motors is to be held at Amiens, France, from July 17 to 26 next.

Cows have the right of way over automobiles on public roads, according to a ruling by an Alderman at Wilkesbarre, Pa.

The German Imperial Automobile Club is subscribing the sum of $62,500 toward the cost of constructing a motor racing track at Potsdam.

An auto buggy factory is planned for Toledo, O., and a large motor-truck factory is about to be established at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Four steep hills and several minor ones will afford zest to the endurance contest of the New Jersey Automobile and Motor Club, May 22.

Although the contests on the Florida beach are not as well patronized as formerly, there seems no room for doubt about the beach being still the fastest course in the world.

Mrs. Taft is rapidly becoming expert in handling the runabout which the President gave her and bids fair to be one of the most enthusiastic drivers in the capital.

The Michigan Supreme Court has made an important legal precedent by holding that motorcycles come within the meaning of the law relative to motor vehicles generally.

JOY RIDING PENALTY.

"Joy riding" will be a hardy business in many States this summer, when the laws passed by various Legislatures making it a penal offense go into effect. In New Jersey, for instance, "joy riding" is now punishable by three years in prison.

GOOD ROADS FUND.

The new automobile act of Minnesota is expected to add from $150,000 to $200,000 to the good roads fund of the State. It provides a tax of $1 a horse power in lieu of all personal taxes on machines, and was supported by all nineteen clubs affiliated in the State Motor Association.

GRUELLING.

FAST BIKERS ON LONG GRIND.

MOTORCYCLE MEN WILL RACE OVER CENTURY ROUTE.

Prince's Coliseum to Be Mecca of Buzz Fans This Afternoon When Classic Motor Event Will Be Run. Speedy Riders on Good Machines Will Vie for Honors.

Motorcycle fans are anticipating a race that will have all the frills and thrills which bring delight to the saucer track devotee. The century motorcycle race at the Coliseum this afternoon should be one of the greatest motorcycle events ever pulled off in Los Angeles.

There is scarcely a possibility that the four men entered will finish the race. Speculation on the results of the contest is interesting to the fans. Derkum has apparently the best chance. His performance last Sunday in the fifteen mile event pleases his backers. De Rosier is undoubtedly the best at all distances to ten miles. Just what he will do in the long grind is problematical.

Gus Lingenfelder is anxious to show his ability. He may be able to give a good account of himself this afternoon. He seems to have plenty of nerve but does not get the speed out of his machine. Arthur Mitchell, who has been a disappointment heretofore is to make a desperate try today.

For a hundred miles Paul Derkum, Jake De Rosier, Lingenfelder and Mitchell, a quartette of the nerviest motorcycle riders in the world, will speed their fastest machines around the board track. There should be no idle movements in this long grind. An effort is to be made to finish the race in one hour and forty minutes.

De Rosier has heretofore beaten Derkum in every race, but the previous victories have all been at a considerably shorter distance, varying from five to fifteen miles. The hundred-mile grind is expected to show the real ability of the riders, and Derkum, Lingenfelder and Mitchell are all conceded a better chance to beat the demon frog-eater.

Derkum has always shown up better at the longer distances, and has an unlimited amount of endurance. He is confident of beating De Rosier over the century course, and expects to ride the race of his life. With mounts of equal power the local boy should win.

De Rosier will ride his fastest Indian, and has been training hard for the event. He has never ridden the distance in competition, but is confident he can trim Derkum. Lingenfelder will ride a Thor, while Mitchell will mount his N.S.U. Heretofore both Lingenfelder and Mitchell have ridden a trailing race. They have been unable to get the necessary speed out of their machines in the shorter distances, but over the 100-mile course they expect to break even with Derkum and De Rosier.

Other attractions will be two five-mile events for amateurs, and a four-mile match race. Fred Huyck, Graves, Balke, Seymour and Knappe will furnish the thrills, and the events should be interesting. In the recent matches have frequently bettered the records the amateurs have frequently bettered the records of the pros., and for nerve-testing exhibitions the youngsters have fully held the attentions of the spectators.

The first race is to start at 1:30 o'clock, an hour earlier than on the previous meets, owing to the extra length of the programme.

ACTIVE RUBBER CONCERN.

T. G. A. Middleton, a man of large experience on the road, has been made outside representative for the W. D. Newerf Rubber Company, covering Southern California. Manager A. C. Leonard of the San Francisco branch reports the largest spring business in the history of the concern in that city.

The Morgan & Wright Company has just placed an order for 2000 Twitchell air gauges with the company. This makes a total of 5000 gauges taken by this company alone.

FEDERAL LICENSES.

Nothing but Federal licenses will ever fully protect the chauffeur and public against reckless and incompetant driving, according to William F. Walters, president of the Professional Chauffeurs' Club of America. In the seven and a half years experience of the club only one of its members has figured in a fatal accident, and in that instance the chauffeur himself was the victim. Mr. Walters believes that the greed of the separate States for motor license revenues is productive of many incompetent drivers and resultant accidents.

Dealers and Council.

Almost every dealer in town has signed the petition which is to be presented to the Council asking that body to set aside Olive street for the exclusive use of automobiles. The long petition will be presented at the meeting of the Council tomorrow, and a committee of dealers interested in the hoped-for legislation will be on hand to make the request as urgent as possible.

AUTOFEST.

The Lowell, Mass., Automobile Club has begun preparations for a big carnival, to be held Labor Day week. The carnival events will include automobile and motorcycle races, and motor boat races in the Merrimac River. The auto events will include road races for light and big cars, and the motorcycle and motor boat events will be varied.

ANTI-SKIDDING.

As for ordinary purposes a single metal-studded tire on one of the rear wheels is sufficient to give reasonable security against skidding, it has been suggested that in the case of those who use removable rims or spare wheels the spare tire should have a studded shoe, ready for a change, if necessary.

AUTO TRAFFIC.

The French Parliament is considering the appointment of a commission to revise automobile traffic regulations. It is probable that the two leading motor clubs of France will be represented on the commission.

Tourist on Record Run.

F. M. Baird of Corona has made the run from Corona to Warner's ranch in 5hr., 43m. The distance is 180 miles, and the former record was held by a Reo. Baird was accompanied by Charles Miller, also of Corona. He drove a Model K Tourist fully-equipped stock car. Part of the distance is over a mountain road.

WESTON IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, April 17.—Edward Payson Weston completed the first big stage of his transcontinental tramp when he reached Chicago today. He entered the boundary of the city at One Hundred and Sixth street at 1:50 p.m.

BICYCLE MARATHON.

NEW YORK, April 17.—With the sanction of the National Cycling Association, the first bicycle Marathon race on record will be run here June 3. All amateurs in this country and abroad are eligible. Nearly 100 prizes will be offered.

CHOPS MINUTES.

This is the best time ever made by an automobile to the bean center.

Out of Ventura the Pope made fast time and on stretches of the road hit the highest clip of the journey. The highway from Shepherd's Inn to Santa Barbara is in wretched condition. The Potter was reached at 2:35 o'clock.

George Adair, who sat with Ruess all the way and swung the big searchlight over the rough roads, was on the former record-breaking run in the Oldsmobile. Adair knows the road. Time and again his warning saved the Pope and its passengers from ugly bumps. His knowledge of the route was one of the important factors in the run. Adair rode on the front seat all the way. In the tonneau were H. W. Curtis, expert mechanician, and B. E. Patnoe, tire expert, sent out by the Diamond Rubber Company.

Before leaving Los Angeles Ruess had planned to make the round trip to Santa Barbara. The condition of the roads prevented a speedy return and he came back to town leisurely, reaching here shortly after the noon hour. The car is in as good condition as when it left. Save for the shock-absorbers, which have shaken down the machine, it is ready for another such spin.

The Pope was not stripped for the road battle. Ruess used his 1909 demonstrator. The car is a stock machine carrying full equipment except the top.

NEW YORK-SEATTLE.

An excellent opportunity will be afforded by the ocean to ocean race from New York to Seattle, starting June 1. to compare the merits of solid tires with pneumatic for long distance racing or touring. One of the cars entered will be equipped with solid tires, and the vibration will be taken up by a specially devised equalizing lever suspension. The device is a horizontal lever working against a vertical spring, and the levers will be fitted to both front and rear axles.

Something tells me that we are about due for a challenge or two from the Stearns-Loco camp.

It really doesn't seem possible that the loser of this race is going to take his medicine without a "chaser" of some sort.

SAY, WOULDN'T IT MAKE YOU MAD if (after you had advertised your car as "the fastest car built in America") you had been licked to a standstill by the Apperson in New York, St. Louis and Pasadena, and had finally been beaten by a car that couldn't make a single mile in better than one minute and four seconds on Ascot Park track?

WOULDN'T IT RATTLE THE CRANBERRIES ON YOUR GRANDMOTHER'S EASTER BONNET? Eh, what?

Never mind, children, if it makes you feel bad, let us drop into cheerful song and never fear the weather:

Money Talks

(The same old story.)
What's this I hear? Another race?
Between the same old cars, in the same old place,
And the same old drivers, tried and true,
And the same old bet, that ne'er came through?

In the same old stand sat the same old crowd,
'Neath the same old sun was the same old cloud,
The same old tank ran dry once more,
It's the same old race, and nothing more.

We hope you'll drop that same old talk
'Bout how you'll win in the same old walk,
And forget to make that same old bluff—
That same old "conversation stuff."

In the same old town, 'ere long, you'll hear
The same old story, never fear;
And we'll fall for it, in the same old way;—

BIG GUNS LOADED.

CHAMPION PUGS WILL FIGHT FOR COFFROTH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Coffroth sends this wire to the Chronicle from Chicago today:

"Have arranged bouts for all championship classes. Coulin-Monte Attell, bantamweight match for June. Jem Driscoll for Abe Attell on Thanksgiving Day. Driscoll has already signed and Attell will sign the articles later.

"The winner of the Nelson-Hyland match is to meet Packey McFarland July 5. McFarland thinks Hyland will beat Nelson, and has contracted to meet the California lightweight in case Hyland should win.

"Ketchel, who has won the welterweight, middleweight and light heavyweight titles, meets Jack Johnson for the world's championship on October 12. All forfeits have been posted, save Papke, Monte Attell and Hyland. Will arrange them on my arrival Wednesday night. Am arranging a world's championship Marathon race for Portola wek, and have practically closed with all the men. Wish I had some more open dates.

"JAMES W. COFFROTH."

This wire shows Coffroth has six matches practically closed, and they will keep him busy during the entire summer. In addition to the championship contests that are scheduled above, he will start with the Hugo Kelly and Papke contest May 15. Then will follow the Battling Nelson-Dick Hyland match for Memorial Day, which has not been called off. Here are the championship matches Coffroth has arranged:

Monte Attell and Johnny Coulon, bantamweight championship of the world, June 10.

McFarland and the winner of the Nelson-Hyland match, lightweight championship of the world, July 5.

Jem Driscoll and Abe Attell, featherweight championship of the world, Thanksgiving Day.

Stanley Ketchel and Jack Johnson, heavyweight championship of the world, October 12.

CALIFORNIA SWAMPED.

and John O. Miller lowered the old record of 1m. 59 3-5s. by one and three-fifths second. Dozier of California finished less than three yards behind the victor.

E. F. Smith and Hemphill fought it out hard, falling over the line a foot ahead of the Stanford man. Wyman of Santa Barbara lowered the 440 record by 1-5s., Miller finished at Wyman's heels and Freshman Butler of California came in a fighting third.

TWO-MILE GRIND.

Dad Moulton's hopes were realized in the two mile for three Stanford men, Newman, Worthington and Sweet, finished four yards ahead of Gaines, California's first man. Newman set a new record of 10m. and 9s., lowering the old mark 1 2-5s. Worthington missed taking first by a foot.

Though no records were broken in the field events, some good marks were registered and the pole vault proved to be the deciding event. Scott, Stanford's only athlete who has won an "S" in three different branches of athletics, won the vault, 11ft. 2 1-8in. Scott was hardly expected to win or even get second because of a bad ankle and he has neglected track work for baseball, having played in the final game Friday.

Crawford was in form for the weights, taking both in good style. The hammer he won with a throw of 144ft. 5½ins. and the shot put with a distance of 44ft. 2½ ins. Woolley, a freshman, who only weighs 160 pounds, took second in the hammer at 142ft. 8¾ins.

Munn was obliged to take a third, and he did place in the shot put. Capt. Horton captured second in the shot, with the good boost of 43ft. 3½in. Dignan of California, after rowing in the 'varsity boat race in the morning, with a few hours' rest, captured the third point, thus winning two sweaters in one day, a feat seldom accomplished in any university.

The high jump nearly went California's way. Poor of Stanford, the only dangerous competitor, slipped in third to Bull and Taylor's tie at 5ft. 11in.

Vilas won the broad jump at 22ft. 2in., Stoltz taking second.

GREAT RELAY.

The relay was the race of the day, and if not for the veteran Miller and Wyman it would have been California's on the first lap. Rathbone led Stoltz of Stanford by four yards; Newsome, a youngster from Los Angeles, increased it to five. Excitement at its highest, the bleachers a raging, howling mob, H. Johns ran away from Coonan, turning over at least twelve yards to Cheney. Twelve yards was nothing to Miller, who lengthened out to his limit. With but two yards to make up, Wyman gave Butler a mighty chase and caught him at the lower curve and finished with a lead of four yards. Fayette Lewis of Anaheim was last night elected captain of the California 'varsity baseball team for the season of 1910. Lewis, who is now a junior, has played for the past two years, filling second this season and shortstop last.

BOTH BOATS SINK.

INTERCOLLEGIATE REGATTA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERKELEY, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Stanford 'varsity crew was the victor in the annual intercollegiate regatta on the Oakland estuary this morning. The California the finish. The Stanford boat sunk immediately after crossing the line.

For the first time in months the estuary was rough and when the shells pushed off from the California boathouse a head wind was blowing against the tide. The result was that the water was very choppy and soon after the start both boats began to ship water.

Coach Murphy of Stanford had provided his shell with wash boards and his forethought gave the race to the Cardinals. Coach Witter of California explained the lack of washboards on his shell by saying that never before had the crew been unable to row on the estuary and he didn't realize that the water was so rough.

An hour before the race the water was like glass. The California men were much disappointed by their accident as they felt themselves capable of beating Stanford and the showing made before both boats became water logged promised a very close race.

California was in fine physical condition and when the men came aboard the press launch after five minutes in the water they were not in the least worn-out. After the race Coach Witter said that he had much confidence in his men and that should the race be repeated on Monday, he was sure that California would be victorious. The veterans in the boat were of the same opinion and were so confident of their stroke and oarsmanship that before the press boat reached the boat house they had decided to go North and row both Stanford and Washington at the end of May, paying their own expenses if necessary.

SHORT STROKE.

The Stanford quick short stroke seemed to be well fitted for rough water and the Cardinal boat, protected by its washboards, went straight up the channel. McSpadden, the California coxswain, sent his shell in nearer the mole for the smoother water but in so doing Stanford was able to increase her lead about a length. The wisdom of McSpadden's decision was shown by the way California began to make up the lost distance until the shell became water-logged.

When the Blue and Gold sank Stanford was leading by about three lengths and rowing a stroke of thirty-four. California was rowing thirty-three when she went down.

Both shells got an uneven start but Stanford hit it up to forty at the very first and gained a lead of nearly a length. This California cut down until at the mile she was leading by a quarter of a length and was rowing thirty-two. The constantly increasing weight of water in the California boat began to tell and the Cardinal drew away as the California shell began to settle in the water and the men were unable to get full power into their oars. Stanford did not row less than thirty-three during the entire race.

No attempt was made to row the freshman race, which was postponed until Monday morning, weather and wind permitting.

BLEND TO GREEN.

The Blue and Gold of the State University literally sank in the bay, and by the common phenomenon of nature the two colors were blended to green. The winning was not the kind of victory the Stanford student body wanted, and while knowing the outcome of the race was a legitimate victory, many Cardinal supporters would like to have seen the race rowed over again, such faith had they in their set of sturdy, long-ranging oarsmen.

Fifteen hundred strong, the Stanford rooters journey over to the estuary, expecting to root their lungs out as the two shells sprinted by the finish. Strong and smiling, the Stanford 'varsity eight rowed a loafing thirty-two strokes to the minute, with the California shell flounding in the brine a mile behind. Every Cardinal oar-puller expected a victory, and the swamping of the rival shell was a disheartening feature, even to the Stanford men.

Conditioned to perfection under the practical eye of Coach Dan Murphy and every man feeling in top notch, health and spirit, it hurt them to see their blue and gold opponents snatched away by the unfriendly Neptune. This feeling was warranted, as they led at the time of the disaster by a good five lengths, pulling an easy thirty-four stroke, with tons of strength left to exert a thirty-eight or forty stroke at the finish.

To the Cardinal students it was a disappointment to see their idols far in the lead, and then the disappearance of their rival's shell, and then the little inglorious victory. So strong and hearty were the men at the finish that they ignored the aid of launches to get aboard, but swam to the mole.

Coach Murphy's years of experience had taught him enough to put on storm aprons. Though adding but little weight, the canvas wash boards served to avert the danger of swamping, and it was greatly due to these that the Cardinals' shell did not fill with water. Even with them the bay was rough enough to splash buckets of water into the shell, and at the finish the craft was so heavily laden that the deck was flush with the sea.

Though Stanford was not obliged to agree to postpone the freshman race, it was fair enough to do so. Then, if the bay's roughness warrants the putting on of wash broads, they will have ample opportunity to do so. The student body has all the faith in the world in their "baby" crew, and have for some time felt optimistic over the outcome. So much faith has Dan in the first year rowers that he expects them to endanger Cornell's freshman record of 9:29 2-5 in the two-mile race.

Stanford is thoroughly convinced that it has the better eight, and a better coach, and are heartily disappointed that the misfortune of swamping overtook the California crew. The rowers themselves are disheartened, for every one was confident of winning.

trainer could have done. In December he began working the men on stationary rowing machines, then in January and February, when Stanford's miniature lake was filled up, he put the oarsmen on the four-oared work boats, later to take them day after day to the bay, where they indulged in long rows over the rough waters. The hardships the men went through were many. Being handicapped with the lack of a shell and mediocre facilities, the men, night after night, would not return from Redwood until 8 and 9 o'clock. Murphy has every tactic of crew training at his command. For twenty-five years one of the best-known eastern coaches, he came West and entered the service of Stanford. Murphy, at the age of 34, won the national skull race at Boston, and a year later took the famous Winnipeg four to England, which took second place in the international race. The stroke the 'varsity uses is Murphy's original "straight-back," with the hard pull just before the oars leave water.

LONG BROTHERS INVINCIBLE.

Have no Trouble in Winning the Intercollegiate Tennis Championship for California.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERKELEY, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The State University made a clean sweep on the tennis courts today, defeating Stanford in all three events.

The Long brothers were unsurmountable, defeating the Cardinals' crack double team composed of Jordan and Arthur Gowan of Los Angeles by the score of 6-1, 6-1.

In the singles Herbert Long beat Jordan 6-3, 6-2, and his brother, Melville, won over Gowan by 6-2, 6-1.

The Misses Ara and Lillian Brown of Santa Monica of the California team proved too much for the Stanford women's team composed of Miss Sadie Bundy of Los Angeles and Miss M. Hayward. The same players were the representation in the singles, California winning handily.

Though the men's scores may seem overwhelming, the Stanford racket wielders did some good playing. Gowan and Jordan, who gave Bundy and Bell at the Ojai tournament a hard fight, showed flashes of brilliancy at times, but hard, steady hammering of the Long brothers was too much for them.

Gowan put up a grand fight with Melville Long, but the State champion was at his best, in fact he was in perfect form and the southern boy played well enough to land three games.

POLY LOSES EVENTS.

mile relay. Seccombe, Clark Wilson and McClure formed the winning combination, "Mickie" beating Kirchoffer in the final lap by nearly half a lap. The time was 8m. 34 3-5s.

The mile relay of quarter-mile laps brought out the best runners of both teams. Simpson took the first lap for Los Angeles, beating Blosser to the string by five yards. Ward Dawson increased the intervening distance to ten yards over Gillette, and Lugo added another five yards against Munz. In the last quarter Franklin loafed and Robertson romped in a winner by twenty yards. The time was 3m. 38 2-5s.

The final event was a five-mile relay of half-mile laps. Ten men for each team lined up at the start and plugged off the laps in jog style. Los Angeles established a lead in the first lap. Simpson beat Seccumbe twenty yards, and Taylor and King added more yards. At the finish of the fifth lap the mechanics were trailing just a half lap behind the Los Angeles runners, and this advantage was held till the finish of the race. The time was 23m. 20 2-5s.

Summary:

One-half-mile relay (220-yard laps)—Won by L. A. High (Cohn, Gadwood, Rubio, Geissler;) Poly (Jones, McAleer, Stanley, Throop,) second. Time, 1m. 38 4-5s.

Two-mile relay (880-yard laps)—Won by L. A. High (Seccombe, Clark, Wilson, McClure;) Poly. (Vedder, Whalen, Chamberlain, Kirchoffer,) second. Time, 8m. 34 4-5s.

SWEEPING CHARGES AGAINST SWIMMERS.

GEORGE FREETH, the well-known swimmer of Redondo, brought charges of professionalism against thirty-eight men, who are prominent in Southern California swimming circles at a meeting of the Registration Committee of the local commission of the Amateur Athletic Union, Friday night, at the Y.M.C.A.

The charges by Freeth are the most sweeping ever made in the West, and in case the commission suspends the men whose amateur standing Freeth attacks, the local amateur swimming ranks will be almost wiped out.

The names of the men against whom Freeth filed charges of professionalism, and the alleged breaches of the amateur rules, are:

Frank Holborow of Los Angeles, alleged to have competed with Wilbur Kyle for money at San Diego three or four times; paid life guard at Venice, 1908.

Elt Brown of Los Angeles, now at Stanford University, dove for money at Catalina Island; competed with professionals.

Jack Watlington of Los Angeles played in game against Cowan, said to be a professional swimming instructor.

H. Crum of Redondo acted as paid life guard at Venice, 1908.

George Wild of Los Angeles, life guard at Venice, two seasons.

H. Marco of Ocean Park, employed as life guard at Venice, 1907.

L. Hammell of Los Angeles, paid life guard last summer.

A. Scholtz of Venice, employed as relief life guard at Venice.

Fred Bassett of Los Angeles, paid life saver at Ocean Park.

W. Barton of Redondo, employed as paid life guard, and alleged to have entered into a swimming race with A. Christie for $5, and competed in professional foot races.

W. O'Malley of Ocean Park, said to have competed in amateur races at Naples, while employed as a bath-house attendant.

Wilbur Kile of San Diego, alleged to have raced for money, and to have challenged Frank Holborow to a race for a purse of $100.

Keating brothers of Ocean Park, employed as life guards, 1907.

C. Grindley of Ocean Park, employed as life guard last summer.

Dave Wilson of Ocean Park, employed as life saver last summer.

Mike Cannon of Long Beach, employed as life saver.

D. Gray and P. Gray, competing in six-day Marathon dancing race for cash prizes.

Gordo Whelan, diving for money at Catalina Island.

A. Walton of Redondo, competing with professionals.

G. Cotteral of Redondo, diving for money at Catalina, and alleged to have played baseball for money.

S. Kinney of Venice, played on same team with Jake Cox, an alleged professional.

A. E. Tongues of Venice, also said to have played with Jake Cox.

Trevilla of Los Angeles, said to be a professional diver.

Ben Watlington and Walter Abegg, alleged to have competed in a swimming race at San Pedro, July 4, 1908, for a prize of $25.

Charles Bassett of Los Angeles, said to have competed against two members of the Olympic Club for cash prizes.

Edwin, Edward and Everett Lechner of Redondo, alleged to have played professional baseball.

B. Abbott of Redondo, said to have played professional baseball.

R. Fair of Venice, alleged to have competed with professionals.

Collins of Los Angeles, alleged to have played with professionals.

D. Wollacott of Redondo, alleged to have played with professionals.

The men against whom Freeth made the charges of professionalism will be asked to appear before the A.A.U. Commission, May 4, to answer the accusations. Practically all the members of the water polo teams of Venice, Redondo, L.A.A.C. and Bimini are included in the list of swimmers, whose amateur standing was protested, as well as nearly all the men who hold the amateur swimming records of the south, and were being counted on to represent Southern California in the Coast championships, July 14, and in the national championships at Seattle in August.

Although the local commission is of the opinion that a paid life guard cannot be classified as an amateur, a final ruling is to be requested from the national headquarters of the Amateur Athletic Union, and the action of the local commission regarding Freeth's charges will be based upon it.

The charges were brought by Freeth in order to show that his status is no more professional than that of practically all the so-called amateur swimmers in the south. Freeth says that all his charges are based upon personal knowledge and the statements of the swimmers themselves, and that he believes no one will deny his charges.

The water polo league will not open its season until a definite decision is made by the A.A.U. commission, and the commission will take no action until the men have been given an opportunity to defend themselves, and until the final ruling regarding the status of a life guard is received from New York.

Freeth did not bring the charges in a spirit of malice, but said that inasmuch as he had been refused amateur standing, the other men whom he had been playing with for several years should take the same medicine.

If the men against whom Freeth has brought charges of professionalism are "set down" by the A.A.U. commission, local amateur swimming will have to be built up again, as all the local champions will be barred from amateur contests. The water polo league would continue as a professional organization.

in the Naud Junction ring against other opponents, and are anxious to get at each other.

KAUFMAN'S CHANCE.

TO MEET JACK JOHNSON.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 17.—A verbal agrement for a match between Jack Johnson, the world's heavyweight champion, and Al Kaufman of San Francisco, was reached here today between Johnson and Billy Delaney, representing Kaufman. The fight is to take place when Johnson returns from England and before the Johnson-Ketchel fight.

Johnson will sail for England May 25, and expects to return about September 1. No articles were signed, and Johnson posted no money. Delaney on behalf of Kaufman deposited $5000 to cover any forfeit money that might be put up by Johnson.

JOHN L. TALKS.

COMING TO LOS ANGELES.

"Back to bare knuckles and London prize ring rules" is the latest from John L. Sullivan, who says that the fighting game will soon die if the use of present methods is continued.

Sullivan is expected to arrive in this city soon. Since his last visit here he has taken a front seat on the water wagon, and is said to be in good physical condition.

Sullivan believes that a boxer who gets a decision without knocking out his opponent and taking a beating himself deserves no credit for his victory.

Old John thinks Jeffries made a bad move when he retired. "If a champion is going to be a champion he should remain in the ring and give everybody a chance, and not retire, as Jeffries did, when he was 27 years old. What kind of a champion is that? No game champion can retire at that age and do justice to himself and others.

"I suppose if I had stopped when I licked Kilrain I would have been the greatest man in the world, but I did not stop until nature asserted itself and I fell in exhaustion. I would like to see the public get a better run for its money."

AMATEUR BOUTS.

The Broadway Athletic Club will give its next entertainment on Thursday evening and five bouts have been arranged. Five of the boxers are members of the Broadway club, two from the Los Angeles Athletic Club, and three are unattached. E. Van Pelt and two other jumpers will give an exhibition of broad jumping during the evening. The boxing programme is: Berry and Kahn at 150 pounds, Beachamp and Clark at 133 pounds, Baloinger and Long at 128 pounds, Dip Long and Kyle at 118 pounds, Snyder and Stanford at 110 pounds.

Columbia

Another carload of the famous COLUMBIA'S has just arrived. We have for immediate delivery, one touring car and two toy-tonneau roadsters. Remember that these roadsters are convertible into two, three or four-passenger rig.

These machines have been manufactured for fourteen years (not the ones we want to deliver to you) but automobiles bearing the name COLUMBIA. Their greatest popularity is where they are best known; throughout the east, where competition is much keener than here, they have held their pace with buyers who seek refinement of construction and finish.

The price of Twenty-seven Hundred and Fifty Dollars, here, gives you a motor capable of developing over forty-horse power; this motor is equipped with Bosch low tension magneto and the famous make-and-break system used only in high grade and much higher priced machines.

Herreshoff

If you would appreciate an "exclusive" light car of class—one that you knew and one that everybody would soon know possessed every quality which enters into the perfect car, place your order at once for the wonderful HERRESHOFF. The finest finished light car in America. Think of using the best projectile steel for all gears and imported F & S bearings throughout, in a car that sells for Eighteen Hundred here; there is nothing lacking except surplus weight; it has all the comforts of a Five Thousand Dollar car with economy added.

Our regular equipment consists of double ignition system, the best Bosch magneto, storage battery, two sets of spark plugs, prestolite tank, special Michelin tires giving the service of a thirty-three-inch wheel on a thirty-two-inch rim. Thermo-syphon system of cooling.

We charge a little over a dollar a pound for our cars; you may get more pounds elsewhere but no better value has ever been offered than is found in the COLUMBIA and HERRESHOFF.

We invite you to make any comparison you choose regardless of price.

Both lines will be found at our permanent quarters, 1231-33 South Main St. Join the crowd of visitors, or phone and we will call.

Touring Car Tops $50.00

This isn't the $50 top that competitors talk about, but a first-class automobile top for $50.00. The history of the bicycle is repeating itself today in the automobile top. You got a better wheel when you paid from $30 to $50 than you did when you paid out $100 or $150. I am offering you a more perfect top today for your automobile than when you were handing out your $150 to $175 to other makers. I don't ask you to buy this top on handing you a 4-inch square piece of the material, but come to the shop and I will show you the top made up and fitted as it would look on your car. These popular priced tops are making lots of friends, and some enemies, which is very natural, too. 'RIPLE PLAY AROUSES FANS.

'ernie McCay Turns Pretty Trick on Hogan's Team.

,ocal Lot of Players Roll Up Costly Errors.

'ame Protested for Alleged Technical Reason.

Oakland, 4; Vernon, 1.

A lightning triple play by the Hard ucks and their protest of the game hey won on the ground that the hutes Park diamond was not laid out roperly, were two of the features yesrday of the ball game that the Oakland team grabbed from Hap Hogan's unch and if any one of the fans present did not get all he wanted it must ave been because he was blind and ould not see.

There was nothing sensational in the at line but there was some beautial fielding and then some that was earful to look at. Altogether the attle was an exciting one and the ans were not sure of anything until he end came.

Bernie McCay, shortstopper of the Hard Lucks, was the big thing of the ay, for he started the second triple lay of the season on the local rounds, made two swats, had six outs nd four assists, and was the real life f the game. He not only did more han his share for the victory but filed verbal protest on the game over a ecision of Umpire McGreevy in the ighth inning, but he will probably not ress this, as his team won the game.

McCay's triple play in the seventh nning was a lightning striker and unoubtedly stopped one or more runs, or the Perhaps had men on first and econd and no one out. Mott had ingled to left and ran on to second hen Duffy Lewis booted the hit. Then Wiggs passed Haley. Hap Hogan ollowed with a hard poke over second ase, with the ball on a curve toward ight field. As soon as it left the bat Mott and Haley started to run to third nd second base and McCay dashed or the ball. In three steps he had eared second base and leaped into he air and sticking out his left hand, rabbed the ball. In another second e had stepped on second base doubng Mott, and then throwing the ball o Cameron at first completed a triple lay, Haley not being able to get back o the bag. It was a wonderful exibition of fast work and Bernie was ustly applauded as he deserved to be.

PROTESTS GROUNDS.

With the game practically settled in avor of the Hard Lucks in the eighth ning, came McCay's chance to proest his victory, but he probably did it uring the excitement of the moment. le opened the eighth by flying out to Stovall in center. Lewis followed with grounder to Eagan at short, who made a wide throw to Brashear at rst. The ball reached Brashear about he time that Lewis did, for Kittie ad to dance toward the plate in his ffort to get the ball. Lewis dodged ast Brash and was called out at first, ot for interference as the fans hought, but because he had run out f the base lines. It was then that McCay protested the game because he aid the grounds were not laid out roperly.

Aside from McCay's brilliant work t short special notice must be made f fine running catches by Caffyn and Murphy, the latter in particular dashng at top speed in back of first base nd grabbing a high foul that Eagan it in the sixth inning.

Wiggs and Newlin were the heavers nd Wiggs had much the best of the attle, for he had the Perhaps guessng after the first inning. The only un they made was due to Martinke's ingle, Stovall's sacrifice and Haley's uggle of Brashear's grounder.

With two out in the first inning for Oakland, Van Haltren walked and ran o third when both Haley and Stovall ooted Cameron's grounder through econd base, Van scoring a moment ater when he and Cameron worked double steal. In the fifth, a double, hree singles, a pass and Brashear's nuff of a high fly ball, netted the visiors three runs.

The score:

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Griffin's initial appearance on the local grounds this afternoon was marked by so complete a lack of control that what should have been a San Francisco victory was turned into defeat for the Seals by a final score of 3 to 2.

At that baseball luck was somewhat against Danny Long's hirelings, but headwork would have overbalanced that feature of the game. And George Wheeler, who never did anything like it before in his life, was chiefly responsible for the victory with his home run, which netted two runs that tied the score, and later, after Griffin had walked two men with two out, Thompson hit one that struck the wire netting in right field and the winning run crossed the plate.

It was a cold, miserable afternoon, with what was half fog and half rain drifting across the grounds. This may have affected the work of Griffin, who was none too strong as a result of a recent operation, but his ten free passes kept his club on the anxious seat from start to finish. The Seals outhit their opponents almost 2 to 1, but their base running was deplorable and on two different occasions when they had a good chance to score, they hit into double plays.

Frank Dillon, the Angel captain, was unintentionally spiked by McArdle in a mix-up at second base when the ball was thrown wild and had to be carried to the clubhouse. Wheeler, who had been substituted at short for Delmas, was moved to first base while Hosp was sent in at short. Even with that crippled infield, the Angels played tight ball when it was necessary and really deserved to win.

Daley started off in the first inning with a three-bagger for the Angels, but was held there while two men were retired and was finally caught off the bag.

The locals did all of their tallying in the first two innings of play. In the first, Mohler walked and was forced at second by Zeider. Jimmy Williams came through with a double that scored Zeider and advanced when Tennant hit to left. Williams, however, tried to come home on the single and was thrown out at the plate. Melchoir followed with a single but Tennant was caught between the bases and the chances were at an end. Lewis started the second inning with a single and reached second because Howard dropped the throw from the plate. The next two were easy outs but Griffin hit to center field for three bases and Lewis tallied.

The Angels tied it up in the fourth. With Dillon out Howard walked. Smith hit one to left but Wheeler put the ball over the right field fence and everything was even.

The winning run came in the eighth. Tennant had distinguished himself with an unassisted double play but Griffin walked Smith and Wheeler. That was the beginning of the end, for Thompson hit one to right and Smith made the circuit.

The Seals had all sorts of chances in the eighth and ninth. In the eighth Zeider started off with a two-bagger but Williams hit into a double. Tennant and Melchoir singled in rapid succession but the damage had been accomplished. Berry opened the ninth with a single, and was sacrificed but was caught off the bag and a double play retired the side.

KLING HAS BALL TEAM.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 17.—John Kling, who has thus far failed to report to the Chicago National League club, threatens to invade Chicago as the featured star of a troupe of "semipros" gathered at Kansas City.

No action has been taken by the local clubs in the proposed series. An offer was discussed at a meeting of the Chicago League, but the home magnates are reluctant to oppose organized baseball by booking games with the Kansas City team.

The matter was finally tabled until the next meeting, with the prospects favorable for Kling and his team eventually landing dates here.

OCCIDENTAL WINS.

WRANGLING MARS THE CONTEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WHITTIER, April 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In a protested baseball game, Occidental won from Whittier this afternoon by the score of 8 to 5. The contest was a poor exhibition of ball throughout, both teams playing ragged ball, Occidental making nine errors, and Whittier eight.

The game was held up for more than half an hour while the coaches, captains and umpires wrangled over ground rules. A rank decision by the umpire at second, and a piece of work that looked a bit shady on the part of Thomas caused the trouble.

The two captains came near having a mix-up when Thomas blocked Renneker at the home plate. Renneker proceeded to give Thomas his opinion about dirty play, and only the intervention of other players prevented further trouble.

Occidental hit when hits meant runs, and forced four men across the plate in the first inning, and three in the third. Short settled down after the third inning, and pitched great ball, striking out ten men.

The Quakers could not connect with the curves of Lockwood at the proper time, but started a batting rally in the ninth and brought in three runs before the side was retired. The score:

OCCIDENTAL PREPS.

PREPARING FOR BIG SEASON.

The Occidental Academy baseball team is rapidly getting into good shape on the new diamond that the management provided for them and have arranged a game with U.S.C. Academy to be played at Highland Park Wednesday afternoon. Several games with high school teams are to be arranged.

Hiasch has been elected captain of the Tiger "prep" team, and he will play first base. In the absence of a regular coach, Hiasch is conducting the practice. He played at Occidental last year and has a good knowledge of the game.

Walters, who played with Riverside High School last year, is showing up well behind the bat and probably will catch in the interscholastic games. Curtiss, Gilkey and Young are trying for the position in the box, and Gilkey and Curtiss probably will alternate.

Hiasch will play first base and Trask, who also played last year, will be at second. "Sammy" McClung is playing a fast game at third and seems sure of the position. Several men are trying for shortstop.

Underhill, E. Young and Haynes are leading in the contest for outfield positions.

The "preps" raised enough money through an athletic benefit to buy new suits and other equipment, which will be put into use tomorrow.

Try It on The Hills
Test this car at half speed on a hill or sand road where power and every ounce of it is needed. Notice how steadily and powerfully it pulls when running slowly under load.
The capacity of the Rambler engine for doing this extra work is most noticeable at low engine speeds. This is because of the offset crank shaft.
Rambler
The Car with the Offset Crank Shaft
All that power which in other engines is lost through friction on the bearings and cylinder walls, is added to the driving force by the Rambler offset crank shaft. It reduces friction, eliminates hammer on bearings, gives more power. The straight-line-drive delivers the power direct and with least frictional loss to the rear axle.
Let us demonstrate these features and the silence and comfort of this car.

"Durocars"

Our ambition is "build cars to satisfy every Durocar owner and keep him satisfied"
That we are successful in this we have had splendid proof the past few days in selling the second or third car to four former owners of "DURO'S," who have tested them out for thousands of miles under very trying conditions.
An owner may say he likes the car he is driving and not mean much by it, but when he buys the second, or six, or eight more "DURO'S," we know he likes them. This is the kind of success we are having.
We invite you to visit our factory, see the high-class work we put on the cars and get acquainted with a "Home Product." WE SPEND OUR MONEY HERE.

SCHOOL BOYS RIFLE MATCH.

Harvard and Urban Academy Make Good Scores.

Contest Under the National Rifle Association.

More Clubs to Be Formed to Promote the Sport.

The first regular schoolboy rifle shoot ever held on the Coast was pulled off Friday, when ten-man teams from Harvard school and the Urban academy shot their official scores for the interscholastic championship of the United States. Harvard led by the score of 844 to 674.

All through the country last week schoolboy teams were shooting their scores on the targets furnished by the National Rifle Association, and the winners will be decided when the results are forwarded to the association headquarters at Washington.

The shoot is to mark the beginning of rifle shooting in the local public schools. The Southern California Rifles and the Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club are endeavoring to interest the local schoolboys in rifle shooting, and negotiations are pending for the construction of an indoor government rifle range at Fiesta Stadium.

The local shooting clubs intend to use the Fiesta Stadium for their indoor work with the rifle and revolver, and purpose to hold National Rifle Association shoots in general for school and college clubs.

The conditions of Friday's shoot called for teams of ten men from each school, ten shots per man standing and ten shots prone, range fifty feet, reduced military targets with bullseye one inch in diameter, counting five points, with the next ring counting four points, and the following two, three and two points respectively.

HEAVY STRAIN.

The Harvard school team included some men who are ordinarily good shots, but the strain told, and their scores fell far below their practice average. The Urban academy entered probably the youngest team in the match, the average age being 12½ years, and several of the competitors being under 10 years. Eighteen years is the age limit imposed by the conditions of the match.

The Harvard boys practiced long for the match, and shooting in their usual form, would have given the Eastern teams a good fight for the trophy, but their off-hand scores pulled their team total down enough probably to put them out of the final count. The winning team last year took the trophy with a total of 925 points, seventy-nine points better than Harvard school's total, and it is probable the score of the winner this year will be much higher than last on account of the greater number of teams entered.

The Harvard team shot its scores in the morning on its indoor range, using a .22-caliber rifle and .22 short cartridges, as called for by the conditions. E. C. Crossman of the Rifle and Revolver Club acted as National Rifle Association judge and representative at both the Harvard and the Urban academy branches of the shoot.

Capt. Hague acted as team captain for the Harvard team, while Col. elly, formerly of the New York National Guard, handled the shoot for the Urban academy.

It is planned to arrange a series of matches between the different local schools, to be shot on the new indoor range being built in this city.

BUILDING IT UP.

The National Rifle Association has been making an effort for two years to encourage rifle shooting in the schools, along the lines followed by Japan, Canada, England and Australia. The matches have been held in New York City and Washington, D. C., but it was impossible under this plan for outside schools to participate in the shoot. This year the conditions allow the teams to shoot on their own galleries, using targets furnished by the association, and certified to by a local judge. An intercollegiate match was shot from March 20 to March 27, along the same line, but open to colleges and universities.

More than 400 schoolboys took part in a recent tournament at Washington, D. C., 138 of them qualifying as "Junior Marskmen" and winning the bronze medals.

In New York City more than 900 boys took part in the shoot, held during the Sportsmen's Show.

An "outdoor member's medal" and the "indoor members' medal" are awarded to each club annually. The members of these affiliated clubs are entitled to shoot for the Junior Marksman's medal, which is awarded to every boy making 82 at fifty feet in twenty shots, half of them fired prone and half off-hand.

Both plans will probably be used in Los Angeles, clubs to affiliate with the National Rifle Association, to be organized in the grammar and High schools, as well as the colleges, while the boys not members of clubs will shoot on the range under the supervision of the Southern California Rifles and the Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club. Both clubs will allow the use of their outdoor ranges to schoolboy clubs wishing to compete for the "outdoor member's medal."

Secretary Crossman of the Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club has written to the Board of Education, asking its coöperation in the proposed plans for teaching the boys rifle shooting. It is desired that Los Angeles High School and Polytechnic High will organize teams.

Rifle shooting in general has taken a new lease on life in Southern California. A club is being formed in Santa Ana, the Glendale Club is reorganizing, the Redondo boys are working back into the game, and a series of matches is being planned for the coming season.

Lieut. Jones, secretary of the National Rifle Association, has written Crossman of the Rifle and Revolver Club, urging that a State Association shoot be held here, and the matter has been taken up with Nichols, secretary of the association, at Woodland, Cal.

This State match carries with it a handsome hammered copper cup with the national coat of arms thereon, to be taken by the winning team. It is probable that this match will be arranged, and that nearly all of California's fourteen affiliated clubs will take part.

AGONY ENDED.

BOOKIES MAKE LAST TRIMMING.

BIG CROWD OF GAMBLERS OUT TO PLAY PONIES.

Suckers Looking for "Long Shots" Drop Their Coin When Nags Held at Medium Prices Win Five of Seven Races—Outsiders Finish Second in Two Events.

The bookmakers made their usual clean-up off the gambling suckers at the Arcadia merry-go-round yesterday in the final race meet on the Coast, and the boobs can now put in the remainder of the summer figuring up their losses and which nags were not held in and which were pulled.

A big mob of gamblers was out to try the game for the last time, and this crowd was about the only feature of a rather poor card. Only two favorites won in the seven races, and one of these, Friend Harry, was at the prohibitive price of 9 to 20, which the ordinary sucker does not bite at. He was looking for something to be "put over" the last day at a long price, but there was nothing doing in this line, for the longest price of any winner was 7 to 1, on Pio Pico in the second race. The other winners were Wistaria, Ppohn and Green Seal at 3, John Louis at 7 to 5, and Lawton Wiggins at 6 to 1.

An old plug called Tavora was second in the third race at odds of 20 to 1, and one called Silver Knight was second in the sixth race, at 20 to 1, and the few boobs that might have been given the tip probably won a little money on these nags. There were no "ringers" yesterday, as far as the general public could learn, but there were some "funny" races, as the suckers naturally expect on the last day of a meeting.

OAKLAND, April 17.—One of the greatest crowds ever assembled on a California track was on hand at Emeryville today to witness the closing of the racing season. Cloudy weather prevailed and there were a few light showers, but the track was in fine shape.

Three handicaps were the features and the sport was of a very interesting order. One of the best finishes came in the second, when Meelick beat Gypsy King a neck. The Travers Handicap went to Turret, which, coupled with Sonia, ruled second choice. Stanley Fay, the favorite, was an easy winner of the Rutherford Handicap.

Results:

Six furlongs, selling: Anna May, 106 (Ross,) 6 to 1, won; Bucolic, 108 (McBride,) 17 to 5, second; Hereafter, 109 (Sullivan,) 8 to 1, third; time 1:14. Adena, Cadichon, Marian Casey, St. Francis, Harwood, Giovanni Balerio and Native Son also ran.

Six furlongs, selling: Meelick, 118 (Burns,) 1 to 2, won; Gypsy King, 104 (Taplin,) 5 to 1, second; Gemmell, 111 (Borel,) 13 to 1, third; time 1:13 4-5. Early Tide, Tony Faust, Fordello, Sewell and F. Neugent also ran.

Charlie Hargrave, Penn, Pretend, Sonia, Quality Street, Coppertown, May Genevieve, Judge Quinn, Old Mexico, Eddie Graney and Asahel also ran.

Mile and seventy yards, Rutherford Handicap: Stanley Fay, 112 (Mentry,) even, won; The Peer, 93 (Ross,) 5 to 2, second; Dandelion, 111 (Burns,) 14 to 5, third; time 1:44 3-5. Woodcraft and Cressina also ran.

One mile and fifty yards, selling: Rockstone, 102 (King,) 2 to 1, won; Tennessee Boy, 95 (Taplin,) 6 to 1, second; Colbert, 103 (Russell,) 20 to 1, third; time 1:45 2-5. Elevation, Taunt, Tommy Ahearn, Celeres, Blanche C., Cabin, Mabel Hollander and Joe Nealon also ran.

The Type "G" Tourist
Cannot Be Matched at Its Price

Unbiased, expert comparison has proven that the entire equipment of this $1650 Tourist is equal in every respect to the equipment of cars costing from $2000 to $2500. This is not an idle statement—but a fact that we stand ready to back up. We made this car to supply the demand for a moderate-priced 4-cylinder car that would meet the specific requirements of Pacific Coast use. If you are in the market for a car, you owe it to yourself to compare the engine—the transmission—the ignition—every feature of the equipment of this car—with the equipment of other cars. Prove for yourself that our claims are indisputable facts.

And consider, too, that the Tourist is made in Los Angeles and guaranteed by a factory right here at your very door.

STEINWAY

American firm appointed Piano Makers to the Royal Courts of Portugal. This makes 17 Royal Appointments held by Steinway & Sons.

A cablegram was received Saturday last from Lisbon, announcing that King Manuel of Portugal has appointed Steinway & Sons piano manufacturers to the Court of Portugal. This brings the total number of royal appointments now held by Steinway & Sons up to seventeen, and is certainly a tribute to the American piano, of which every citizen of this country can well feel proud. In many of the Royal Courts the Steinway piano is not only used by the King but by the Queen, and the Crown Prince and Princess, in their private apartments, thus manifesting their individual liking for this creation of a republican country. This appointment, following so many others from Royal Courts is unquestionably the highest form of tribute that can be paid to the excellence of the Steinway product. It is in harmony with the position the Steinway piano has won among leading artists and "the uncrowned kings" and prominent personalities in the United States and in foreign countries.

Distinction in Clothes for Gentlemen's Wear

Distinction in Clothes is not due alone to handsome fabric or the latest cut of fashion. Distinction lies in the thorough correspondence between the suit and the man who wears it. When a man wears a suit that emphasizes the good lines of his figure, when the fabric fits in coloring and pattern, when it belongs to him, he is UNCONSCIOUS of his clothes—then that man has attained real style distinction. That is the hall mark of our clothes—attained through a perfect knowledge of the best tailoring methods.

CALIFORNIA'S LAST RACE STIRS WITH ITS HUMOR AND TRAGEDY.

Game Has Picturesque and Appropriate Finish at Santa Anita, Cleaning the Great Crowd Up in Easy Style. Graphic Story of Wind-up.

SHORTLY before sunset yesterday evening a musician with a silver bugle stood out on the gravel slope in front of the grand stand at Arcadia and sounded the call for the last race that will ever be run in California. He not only sounded the funeral dirge of racing in California, but blatted out a warning to the race men of the world that the "sport of kings" is almost done.

As the horses were led out blanketed for the last time, the band sent the mournful notes of "Auld Lang Syne" wailing out over the crowd.

For a moment it looked as though the rotten old gambling hell would close its doors with a touch of real sentiment, but the sharp jingle of the bell in the betting ring suddenly interrupted the sorrowful music. At the sound all sentiment was forgotten, and the eager, excited mob almost plunged headlong down the grand stand stairs to get to the bookies for the last bet. The band was left to toot its sad remarks out into the empty air.

Their occupation gone, hundreds of touts and race men left the city last night; hundreds more are here stranded and desperate. One old stableman killed himself yesterday. For the next few days, the track will be in a bustle and stir of preparation. They are packing up for the last time; the horses are to be shipped in padded cars. By Thursday, Stabletown, which has housed a little city of people, will be empty. The barns will be filled only with memories. It will be a sure-enough deserted village.

FINIS.

BY HARRY C. CARR.

Santa Anita Park preserved its sense of humor and its delicate touch to the very last.

California's last running race had a bad smell. An enormous crowd that packed the grand stand and jammed the betting ring was bunked out of its money.

Uncashed tickets adorn inside pockets of some illustrious clothes today. Half of official Los Angeles seemed to be present—sports, civil-service employés, professional men, officials and society people were out to buck the last race.

Just before the horses were called out for the last time, a little square-faced jockey boy, with hard, quizzical eyes, was called to the judges' stand and received a beautiful silver cup as a token of his having ridden more mounts to victory than any other boy.

But while he was blushing and bowing to the lady who handed the trophy to him, a less romantic event occurred.

A dirty-faced stable boy slipped up and plucked at the sleeve of a sport standing in the crowd in front of the grand stand.

"Fer the love of Mike," he said, "git down on Lawton Wiggins. They fixed it fer him to win the last race."

The boy with the dirty face was the seventh son of a seventh son. Lawton Wiggins won the race, and cleaned up the crowd in style.

THRONG SITS UP.

Nevertheless, the last and to-be-remembered race was picturesque.

The sixth race had been run, and the tired horses were being led away. A track attendant slipped out and moved the hands of the announcing clock around to 4:15.

The crowd in the grand stand seemed to pull itself together, and sit up with a more eager anticipation. This was to be the funeral of the race tracks.

Out across the field came the stable boys leading the blanketed horses to the paddock. One or two horses whirled by the grand stand, fighting for their heads and ridden by trainer boys—the warming-up gallop.

Meanwhile a tense, excited crowd of several thousand men were fighting, pushing and shoving in the betting ring, where the odds were being posted for the last time. Rialto was posted as favorite, with Lady Irma second. The horse that was to win was not in the hot betting.

Lawton Wiggins was the first to arrive in the paddock. He is a slight, delicate, nervous colt. In his stable he has a chum in an old pony. To soothe his fears, a stable boy rode the pony into the paddock with him.

It was funny to see them, for the old pony couldn't understand why men with soft clothes and scrapers should be "gentling" his stable mate and soothing down his hide and fastening his leg wrappings with such tender care. The old pony arched his neck and began prancing a little on this account, but all he got was a punch in the ribs.

Then the stablemen led in Rialto, the favorite, with a long gray blanket that looked like one of the gowns of Nazimova. Then Lady Irma and the rest of the horses, dancing, tossing their heads and fidgeting in their bridles—delicate, useless animals.

Somewhere at the end of the paddock a bell rang and a company of boys in khaki coats came in carrying the saddles—mere patches of pigskin.

Then another bell rang and in marched the little weazen-faced jockeys in silk garish-colored clothes. It was like waiters at a banquet arriving with the different courses.

HORTICULTURAL BOARD ISSUES TIMELY WARNING.

Appearance of Aphis on Peach, Apricot and Prune Trees Near City Causes Alarm—Drastic Measures Adopted to Prevent Spread. Ranchmen Asked to Aid.

As the aphis, a pest that attacks stone fruit trees, has made its appearance near this city, A. R. Meserve, chairman of the Board of Horticultural Commissioners of this county, has issued a timely warning to ranchmen, which is, in part, as follows:

"Any person who has planted peach trees within the last three years should very carefully examine the young and tender growth for this aphis. It is a small, shining black bug in the adult form, and a sort of yellowish brown in the immature condition. Do not confound this black species with the black aphis of the orange, or green lice on plants.

"Two years ago several hundred peach trees, infested with the pest, were found in a Los Angeles fruit-tree sales yard, and promptly destroyed. As they had been purchased from another nurseryman, who does an extensive business to the east of this city, an inspection of his stock was made at once, and all trees believed to be infested were likewise destroyed. Other trees of eastern importation may have been sold prior to our discovery, to individuals and other nurserymen.

"The seriousness of this infestation, aside from the great injury arising from damage to trees, lies in the very great difficulty in eradicating the aphis when once established. Like its family, in general, it has a root form asserted the year through, and during the fall and winter confined to the ground. With the start of new growth in the spring, the insect emerges from the soil and ascends the tree to this new growth to commence its round of mischief. It propagates on leaf and root with tremendous rapidity.

"A thorough inspection of the trees in the vicinity of the outbreak men-

"SHAKE-UP" BEGINS.

NEW CAPTAIN TO BE NAMED.

Police Lieut. Dixon Will Go a Notch Higher.

Chief Dishman Starts Things in the Department.

Law-Breakers Run to Cover, Fearing New Regime.

Chief of Police Dishman five days on the job and not a head dropped yet! A brand-new Police Commission and no shake-up in the department, which Mayor Alexander recently declared "isn't much good!"

When will the trouble begin? What's to be done and where will it start?

The Chief says some changes are to be made, but he isn't a very good newspaper reporter any more, and won't tell all he knows, and he doesn't know all that is to be done before the task is completed.

Only one bit of news came out yesterday: Lieut. Charles Dixon is to be promoted at once to a captaincy, to which he long since became eligible, standing at the top of the civil-service list.

This change has been agreed upon by the Police Commission, and the formal promotion will take place within a few days, maybe tomorrow.

Dixon now is in charge of the East Side Police Station, where he has been since its opening at the Stockade. He may remain there for a time after his promotion, or he may be placed in some other command. It depends upon the wishes of the commission.

NO SUDDEN SHAKE-UP.

Other changes, especially in the heads of departments, probably will not be made for a week or ten days; it may be even longer. There seems to be no disposition on the part of the commission or the new Chief to leap into the center of things and smash right and left without studying conditions a bit.

Neither the Chief nor the members of the commission will discuss the case of Capt. Broadhead, who succeeded Kern as Chief, and who resumed his old position when Dishman was placed at the head of the department.

Broadhead has been accused by Nick Oswald of "standing in" with Harper, Kern and others in the red-light scandal under investigation by the grand jury. It is reasonable to suppose that no action will be taken by the commission with reference to Broadhead until the official inquiry is ended. If the grand jury finds no accusation against him it is hardly likely that he will suffer at the hands of the commission.

There are to be changes in the detective and other departments of the force, but they will not come at once.

At present there is not a member of the department who knows what the Chief and the commission have in mind. Naturally, there are many uneasy heads.

LAW-BREAKERS WORRIED.

There also is a good deal of worriment among a large class of law-breakers, some of whom have been in the practice of fracturing the ordinances for years, knowingly, too. They'd like to know what the new policy is to be.

For instance, there are the saloon-keepers who have restaurant liquor licenses under which they operate on Sunday. They fear a dry wave on the first day of every week—at any rate, a general tightening up on their privileges.

This trouble will be principally over what constitutes a meal, with which liquor in original packages may be sold.

For several years a light lunch, served free, has aided in the sale of liquor on Sunday, though the ordinance requires that drinks can be served only with such meals as are provided at hotels or restaurants. Former police commissions have winked at a good many violations of this ordinance.

This matter of the kind of meal to be served with Sunday drinks is one of the first that the Police Commission will take up. Except for flagrant violations of the law, there will be no immediate action on the part of the Chief and his men. When the new policy is definitely fixed—if there can be any "policy" in the interpretation of an ordinance—the force will get busy.

The saloon-keepers already have a new trouble on their minds—the decision of City Attorney Hewitt to the effect that retail liquor licenses cannot be transferred.

ACTIVE IN MANY LINES.

While the matter of changes in the department and the manner of enforcing the Sunday liquor laws are still pending, Chief Dishman has been active along many other lines since the first day he stepped into office.

The first thing he did was to go over the accounts of the department. His experience of more than a year in the Sheriff's office taught him that this is a fine place to look for leaks. He plans a system of accounting that will correct any evils that may exist. This is a tremendous task in itself, for the annual expenditures run close to $400,000.

One of the first faults that Dishman discovered, and to which he applied an immediate remedy, was at the Stockade. With scores of prisoners coming and going every day, there was no arrangement for cleansing the blankets and the prison clothing of the inmates. The Chief has arranged a simple method by which garments and bed clothing will be cleaned at frequent intervals, promoting the sanitation of the building and guarding the health of the prisoners.

Then he took a whack at the City Jail, where soap and the scrub brush have had little play of late.

"I'll have it scrubbed out if we have to bring every prisoner from the stockade to do the work," declared the Chief, and the scrubbing has started.

OLD JAIL TO BE WARM.

Another improvement to be made at once at the old jail is the repair of the heating system, which has been out of commission for a long time. There now is no way of heating the place, and prisoners suffer intensely in the winter months. An old boiler that long since went out of service is to be replaced with a new one, heating pipes are to be renewed, and the unfortunates who are thrust into prison will not have quite so cold a deal in the future.

While he has started these and other improvements, the Chief is reluctant Festival of Flowers Rival of La Fiesta.

Tilting Tournament Will Be One Attraction.

Things are humming out Hollywood way, getting ready for the second annual Festival of Flowers, which will be held from the 28th inst. to May 1, inclusive.

What is now destined to become to Hollywood what La Fiesta is to Los Angeles, and the Tournament of Roses to Pasadena, was started last year under the title of "Plant and Flower Show." The title was perhaps a little too humdrum for the broad scope and great success of the show, and this year the badges read, "Festival of Flowers," with the programme divided into three parts, as attractions of the week.

The plant and flower exhibit is to be kept a leader, under the management of the Woman's Club; the floral parade will be in charge of central committee, and the tilting tournament, in charge of the Men's Club.

Started as a local show, to secure funds for the betterment of the streets of the foothill suburb, those having it in charge were astonished to see how it drew thousands of people from the city and from throughout the Cahuenga Valley. Large tribunes were erected for the comfort of those who wished to witness the expert horsemanship of riders in the tilting tournament, and this proved an unexpectedly successful drawing card of the show.

"Tilting" is a sport introduced from the South, and consists of an attempt to spear small rings suspended from overhanging supports, by means of long poles held in the right hand, the horses going at full speed over a 300-foot course. It was taken up by the Men's Club of Hollywood three years ago, being consolidated with the flower show of last year. M. C. Nason is in charge of the sport.

FUND-RAISING SCHEME.

In order to finance the Festival of Flowers this year and cover the expense of advertising, street decoration and the purchase of trophies for the week's events, a Board of Trade membership contest has been inaugurated. The $5 initiation fee obtained for each new member under this contest, to be placed in the treasury of the central committee of the Flower Festival. The contestants are Mrs. Alfred Leonard, Mrs. H. G. Bentham and Mrs. M. M. Elkin, representing the Woman's Club; E. Winterer, Alexander Schlosser and M. C. Nason, representing the Men's Club; A. Z. Taft, C. C. Hall and J. J. Gibson, representing the Board of Trade. These several committees are raking the Cahuenga Valley for new members and the contest is a lively one.

Meantime, preparations are being pushed along all lines to make the festival an eminent success, and the flower show will particularly be along much broader lines. While there will be ample space for professional exhibits, the aim of the Hollywood women will be to more especially encourage the amateur florist.

"The Hollywood flower show," they say in their announcement, "remains, first of all, an amateur exhibit, existing for the pleasure and profit of the amateur gardeners of Hollywood and vicinity, and in the main, furnished by them. The enterprise is educational rather than commercial, and aims to influence every home garden in our valley."

The juvenile exhibit will be a special feature and will represent the children's work in their own gardens, or with the wild flowers of the region. They are expected to contribute largely to the "Nature's Garden" that will be a notable feature of what they hope to make the most notable flower show of Southern California. The flower show committee consists of Mrs. W. C. Parcher, chairman; Mrs. George Dunlop, treasurer; Mrs. A. R. Schloesser, secretary; Mrs. S. P. Rhoades and Mrs. A. G. Schloesser. W. O. Howard is superintendent of the exhibit.

The central committee, having in charge the street decoration and the floral parade, consists of E. O. Palmer, chairman; Mrs. S. P. Rhoades, vice-chairman; G. G. Greenwood, treasurer; Mrs. W. C. Parcher, secretary; Mrs. George Dunlop, A. Z. Taft, Frank Hance, J. J. Gibson and L. G. Somers.

SCHEDULED EVENTS.

Flowers will be judged on the afternoon of Wednesday, April 28, the opening day of the Flower Festival, and the formal opening will take place at 8 o'clock that evening, when Maj. Dunlop will deliver an address, and a grand concert will be given by the Los Angeles and Pasadena Maennerchor. Thursday, the show will be open all day and a concert will be given in the evening by the High School Orchestra. Friday evening there will be a concert by the High School Glee Club and orchestra combined.

The floral parade will take place on Saturday, May 1. Participants will assemble at Vine street and Sunset boulevard at 12 o'clock, and prizes will be awarded before 1 o'clock, the parade moving promptly at that hour. The Out West Riding Club has consented to appear in the parade. The line of march will end at the tilting grounds, in front of the Hollywood National Bank at about 2 o'clock, when the tilting tournament will take place.

M. C. Nason, who is in charge of arrangements for that event, said yesterday that the site secured for the tournament is one of the very best, and will give ample room for much more extensive tribunes than those erected last year. They are anticipating at least 10,000 spectators.

Mr. Nason also said that there will be valuable prizes to the winners of the contests and that he is desirous of having many more riders, both ladies and gentlemen, but particularly ladies. Those wishing to enter can communicate with him at Hollywood.

ECHO PARK TRACK MEET.

Events Planned for First Day in May for Playgrounds Boys and Girls of All Ages.

A track and field meet for grammar schoolboys and girls is to be held at Echo Park Playground May 1. Charles B. Raitt, superintendent of playgrounds, is arranging the tournament, and it is the intention to have athletic contests for children of all ages and both sexes, classified according to their age and height.

In connection with the May Day games, Raitt is planning to have a gymnastic exhibition by college and High School men in the gymnasium of the playground.

If the entries are large enough, special races for children of different nationalities also will be held. There will be flag races, potato races, jumping, relay races and all sorts of games suitable for grammar schoolboys and girls.

tioned, has located the pest upon an area equal to one city block, and we are in hope that it is confined to this section.

"These trees were fumigated last night by the cyanide process, and the soil for three feet around each tree will be treated to bisulphide of carbon today. If this action fails to finish the pest's career in this plot of ground, more drastic measures will be taken. A careful watch will be continued over this infected district, for any reappearance of the insect until all danger is apparently passed.

"In the printed matter concerning this insect in the East, its ravages are confined to the peach tree, while in this case of ours, it has been found upon the peach, apricot and prune, establishing the knowledge that all stone fruits may be subject to its attack.

"If the aphis manifests itself in any portion of our county, a prompt notification to this office may prevent widespread injury; in fact, almost disaster to our extensive peach-growing industry. Unless it has secured a general diffusion over a large area, we may be able to stop its further spread.

"Until our nurserymen cease importing stock from the East, and planters, also, this danger will always exist. The nurseryman who will advertise local-grown trees only will have the advantage in future."

Maybe the bookies had arranged it, though; one comes to suspect everything. At any rate, the betting during the last few moments was simply furious. More than one sport bet the list of horses straight down from top to bottom.

OFF FOR LAST TIME.

At last a dull sound like the menacing yell of a mob of rioters just before the fight breaks, obsessed the grand stand. It was a hoarse, moaning cry that seemed to lift the place. It meant that the horses were off for the last time.

At the sound, the bookies turned at their blackboards and threw away the chalk. Their work was done; it was all over.

Yet it was odd that they did not seem bitter. No one at the track seemed bitter. In the paddocks the jockeys' boys, to whom this closing means so much, looked just as they always looked—sorrowful and watchful.

For some reason, the habitual expression of the professional race track men—the ones who live with the horses—is one of gentle melancholy.

The attitude of the bookies was one of gamblers' philosophy. During these last few "get-away" weeks, they have skinned the public at a massacre such as they never dreamed of. Next year there will be no racing; but next year is next year.

Meanwhile the horses were turning into the stretch for the last time. For the last time, the enormous crowd surged up against the fence and frantically climbed the grand stand stairs.

For the last time, the frenzied voices of women were heard entreating some horse to "come on." For the last time, a stampede of horses burst madly past, each with a little silken figure fastened to his neck like a banderillo on a bull.

For the last time, the click of the figures announcing the race winners read out the ruin of men who could not afford to lose.

And for the last time the hoarse yell of the crowd floated across the track; but one man who had heard that cry so often before did not hear this time.

Santa Anita left one ghastly memento. In one of the stables lay the poor dead body of old George Poole, one of the stable men who did not win this season—shot to death by his own hand.

DONE FOREVER.

As the horses came in under the wire the great crowds in the grand stand stampeded for the cars and racing was done forever in California.

It would be almost the truth to say that it was the end of racing in the United States.

Next Thursday morning special trains will carry the horses and the camp followers in a great trek to Salt Lake City for the race meet there; but it will probably be the last one.

The "sport of kings" is almost done.

Some of the race-horse sports are now in the City of Mexico trying to arrange to open a track at Tia Juana; but this seems to be a very cheap scheme to run a gambling hell with a racetrack for an excuse. It is not very probable that many of the big stables will go there.

Some of the thoroughbreds which raced at Santa Anita yesterday will be sent to Europe; others will be scattered around the country.

It is not unlikely that the thoroughbred racehorse will be allowed to die out and to vanish from the face of the earth.

What particularly interests Los Angeles, however, is that they will disappear from this county and from California—and that almost between a night and a day.

LIKE A PEOPLE'S PASSING.

The break-up of Santa Anita is much like the passing of a tribe of gypsies; or like one of the old Biblical migrations.

It is not at all like the closing of a business enterprise. It is like the passing of a people.

Across the track from the grand stand is a clutter of long, low buildings, arranged on streets like a village. Few persons outside of the racing world realize that this strange racing village has had a population of 800. Upon this population a decree of banishment has been passed.

To them it is as though a line were drawn about one of the wards of the city and notices were posted:

"Every person living within these boundaries will be forbidden to work at his trade after April 22."

They cannot see the beauties of the anti-race-track reform.

From the standpoint of the inhabitants of this village across the infield, the anti-race bill is a cruel and outrageous thing.

They have no interest and little knowledge of the wrongs done by the racetrack bookies.

To these stable boys the "sport of kings" means having one's soul wrapped up in a spindle-legged horse.

It means to get up at daylight or before and comb and nurse and massage a nervous, fidgity thoroughbred; to bandage his legs and braid his tail and walk him up and down the village streets; to sit on the fence anxiously watching while the jockey "works out" the four-footed king; to lead him hooded across the infield on race days and help whip off his blanket and strap on the patch of pig skin that serves for a saddle; to lift the silk-clad jockey aboard the quivering horse and then stand in the middle of the field with his heart in his mouth while he tears around the track with the other horses. Then to rush up to the finishing post with the blanket and fling it over the sweaty thoroughbred and lead him away, not complainingly because he came in last after all he's done for him; but forgivingly—like a patient mother with an erring offspring.

TRAGEDY TO JOCKEYS.

To the greater world of business concerned with feeding and clothing a great city it seems very odd that there should be men and boys whose whole business and career in life is concerned with trying to make a horse run faster than another horse.

To the jockeys the closing of Santa Anita Park, coming on the heels of the end of racing all over the country, means a bitter tragedy. To them it is as though the lawyers were to wake up some morning and find the courts abolished.

It means to some of them that they have starved and stunted themselves from chilldhood and worked through the successive grades and social castes of Stabletown to the "colors" and a mount—in vain.

To some of the owners it means the annihilation of their business and the virtual confiscation of their property.

Many of them are rich men, like Gen. Carmen and Spreckels and Barney Schreiber; but some of them are queer old codgers, with only one or two horses at the track.

LONG-COATED CHARACTER.

One of these, the owner of one of the fastest horses at the track, is an old man with a long beard, a Prince Albert coat that comes to his knees, and an air of clerical solemnity. He makes a funny appearance among the ratty-eyed sports in the paddock.

His horse, which can run like greased lightning, looks as singularly out of place among the slick thoroughbreds as his owner. He is a homely, raw-boned, stolid brute of an unfriendly disposition. His specialty is trying to kick the side out of the paddock. He doesn't even kick in a joyful manner of exuberance, but as one who has a duty to perform.

When it comes time to saddle up, the old man in the long-tailed black coat plants his enormous, shabbily-shod foot on the ribs of his shabby racer and cinches him up like a pack burro, while the racer hammers the paddock with his heels.

Another odd character among the owners is a limping, ragged old fellow who walks with a cane. He looks like a ragamuffin, but owns a wonderful horse. Sometimes, it becomes unmanageable, after the manner of race horses, and the old man thumps it in the ribs with his stick in a most unscientific manner.

One of the interesting characters of the paddock is Butch Covington, the former trainer for Rudolph Spreckels, the bright star of San Francisco's so-called graft prosecution, who was shrewd enough to see the doom of racing and get out while he could still get a good price for his horses.

Butch has never had such good luck since he left Spreckels, who was a marvelously slick racing man, and knew the game.

To the bookies over in the betting stand, it means that the license to fish for suckers has been revoked; signifies the end of a "soft snap"—$20 a day for writing out tickets for the foolish bettors.

These men are not worth writing about, and it is because of their gala performances in the betting ring that the uniformed police force is going out of business; that the shriveled-up jockeys are thrown out into the world; that the population of Stabletown is banished.

BALDWIN ESTATE'S PROBLEM.

To the Baldwin estate, the closing of the track is the most perplexing problem of all. The heirs will be left with the deserted racing village on their hands.

Opinions very widely differ as to their ultimate disposal of it; but it will certainly not be left in the present state.

There is something almost uncanny in the death of "Lucky" Baldwin and the closing of this track that had been to him a lifelong ambition.

It is as though the light that lit the place had gone out. Although several of the heirs of the estate are sportively inclined, it will not be necessary to their happiness, as it was to "Lucky's," to have a race track right in the back yard.

The establishment of the track at Santa Anita has, however, served to advertise one of the loveliest spots in the whole world. No other scenery can compare with the view of the mountains from the grand stand.

It is not at all unlikely that the track will be left as it is, and a genuine village built about it. What more brilliant scheme could there be than to leave the big circular track for a boulevard and sell building lots facing it both from the infield and from the outside?

To the town of Arcadia, which belongs to the Baldwin estate, the closing of Santa Anita Park means that it has sown its wild oats and must reform. As a matter of business enterprise, it has now become necessary for this tough little debauched municipality to reform, and that speedily.

The curtain has gone down on racing and at Santa Anita the end of the drama has been not without true dramatic effect; not without heartaches, despair and "human interest."

BIRD BILL SIGNED.

Lovers of Feathery Tribe Delighted With Action of Gov. Gillett in Behalf of Songsters.

Bird lovers of Southern California were delighted yesterday upon receipt of the news that Gov. Gillett had signed Assemblyman Collier's bill for the protection of wild non-game birds, their nests and eggs, declared by W. Scott Way, secretary of the Audubon Society, to be among the best laws of the kind in the United States. Mr. Way and Frank Miller, proprietor of the Glenwood Inn at Riverside, were among the active lobbyists for the bill during the recent session of the Legislature.

Many birds heretofore unprotected are covered by the bill, and the strong arm of the la wis raised once more in defense of the meadow lark, which was seriously threatened by another bill introduced in the Assembly, but killed in the Senate. Birds not protected include bluejays, English sparrows, the California linnet, the great horned owl, the sharp-shinned hawk, Cooper's hawk and the duck hawk.

The taking or keeping of nests or eggs of such protected birds is forbidden by law, and there are other provisions that aim to protect harmless birds valued not alone for song but for their aid to ranchers in exterminating destructive worms and insects.

The only ominous feature of the new administration at Washington that we can see is the threatened activity of the Cabinet ladies.

An avalanche of new spring plays has fallen on New York. Later, we have no doubt, the worst of hem will be staged in Los Angeles.

It was only incidental, and hardly worth his while, that Col. Roosevelt took the time while at Naples to call a French newspaper man a liar.

Col. Roosevelt has the secret of youth and is making good use of it. It is, now and then, well to break oose and go away to new scenes and adventures.

Members of Congress have been doing their best o vindicate the late Gen. Winfield Scott Hancock n his declaration that "the tariff is a local issue."

"Cheaper American breakfasts" is a poor cry for the tariff reformers to put forth at a time when the "no breakfast" plan is making such great headway.

A great many people are not tempted to engage in intensive farming, because they are not sufficiently intense in their dispositions to tackle the job.

King Peter is willing to abdicate the throne of Servia if the powers will pension him. We give notice beforehand that the United States will not chip in.

It is said that women are already tiring of the monstrous styles of spring hats now the vogue. Even women must sometimes bend before the force of public opinion.

As the people of the East now begin to wonder what the price of summer ice will be, they think of all the big cakes they let go by in the rivers during the past few weeks.

Japan, on the same area as California, supports a population of 50,000,000 people. California can do better than that, but we must confess that we like it better as it is.

A lot of people in this country seem to be much more talkative in their opinions than they were prior to the departure of a certain great hunter for the wilds of Africa.

A movement is on foot in many of the Eastern States to abolish toll bridges. After awhile the East may become so progressive that it will even do away with horse cars.

A new political species known as "Cannon Democrats" have made their appearance in the East. Like most Democrats they may be counted on to make a roar, we suppose.

President Taft has caused a stir by selecting an editor for an office instead of a lawyer. And while he was at it he picked a good editor, which the same is Harvey Scott of the Portland Oregonian.

Diaz started in to be President of Mexico away back in 1877, and, with the exception of one intervening term, has been President ever since. The grand old man has made some history during those years.

As we understand the liquor interests, it is their desire now to make the saloon a place of such carefully guarded morality that the bartenders can be relied on to make the whisky in the bottles live up to the labels.

Instead of getting anything from this country, poor old ex-Queen Liliuokalani has been ordered by the Supreme Court of the United States to pay back to her former "court physician" the sum of $11,600. She is due for promotion in the Down-and-Out Club.

WHEN SUFFRAGETTEISM PREVAILS.

One of the large strides toward the millennium, we are told, is to come when our sisters, sweethearts and wives get the franchise. Now, we have no objection in the world to woman suffrage if the women want it. It will come whenever and wherever the women of the country or community ask for it. The reason why it has not come is because women generally do not wish it and would not vote if they had the opportunity.

This fact is not to be controverted by pointing to some particular city where women vote. That fact only proves the correctness of our theory. They have the franchise here and there because they asked for it; they asked for it because they had a determination to make use of the privilege.

But we do not think there is any good ground to look for the dawn of a millennium just because the women vote. They may be superior to men in many things—bearing and nursing children, for example. The churches may number more women than men in their congregations. Fewer women than men frequent saloons.

But there are features of political life that will not be bettered by female suffrage. When we attend political meetings and put up tickets with our sisters and sweethearts at our elbows, and the wives of our bosoms on our arms, cabals will not have ceased, wire-pulling will not have ended, nor will intrigues be unknown.

Look at the rumpus in progress among the Daughters of the American Revolution. Consider the "machine and its uses" as exemplified in that organization of all that is most refined, proper and intelligent in American womanhood. There is a pretty cabal; two sides are arrayed under skillful leaders. The association documents are denied to the opposition, and the "organization" is used for all that can be got out of it by those in control. And the "ladies, God bless them," are not averse to a little trickery to reach their ends.

In fact, partisanship is inherent in the female heart. Since she learned to laugh at locksmiths by the aid of that wily boy Cupid, woman can practice deceit in a way that makes "mere man" look like a diplomatic bungler.

With women in politics the game will be the same, no worse, but not much better. How will it be with woman? Will she be the same? By no means. We are all results of environment and cannot resist change when the environment changes. No more will woman be able to remain the same when she adds the practice of politics to her duties.

THE TROUBLE IN TURKEY.

It is evident that the loudly acclaimed constitutional government in Turkey rests rather upon the whim of the army and the people than upon any clearly recognized principles of reform. When the army threw in its lot with the Young Turks and broke the despotic power of the Sultan it apparently recognized that it could similarly break any other power that might be displeasing to it. Its real hostility was directed against discipline in any form, seeing that it has now overthrown the Cabinet for no better reason than an intimation that military orders must be obeyed. The Young Turks who engineered the revolution of last year are, of course, well primed in the hackneyed catchwords of liberty and representative institutions, but they themselves could have done nothing without the aid of the troops, who happened at the moment to be smarting under the delay of their wages and ready for any move against the existing order of things. A combination of fortuitous circumstances was favorable to a revolution that represented a great mass of fretful discontent but a very small modicum of actual enthusiasm for reform.

The overthrow of Hilmi Pasha as Grand Vizier is hardly to be deplored, although any other man in his place would have been similarly overthrown, no matter how wise and good he might have been. It will be remembered that Himli took the place of Kiamil as Grand Vizier some few months ago. Kiamil is a Moslem Jew, famous for his sagacity and devotion to the Sultan, but he incurred the wrath of the chamber because of his action in defeating a plot to dethrone Abdul Hamid in favor of Prince Jussuf-Isseddin, the eldest son of the late Sultan Abdul Aziz. Achmet Riza Bey, the President of the chamber, went in person to the Sultan to demand the dismissal of Kiamil, and it is said that the Sultan received him with every sign of anger, and perhaps it was well for Achmet that he was accompanied to the palace by one of the very Macedonian regiments that was responsible for the original revolution. The Sultan acceded to the demand of the chamber because he had no opinion in the matter, but the incident serves to show the strained relations—to put it mildly—that exist between the Sultan and the Chamber of Deputies.

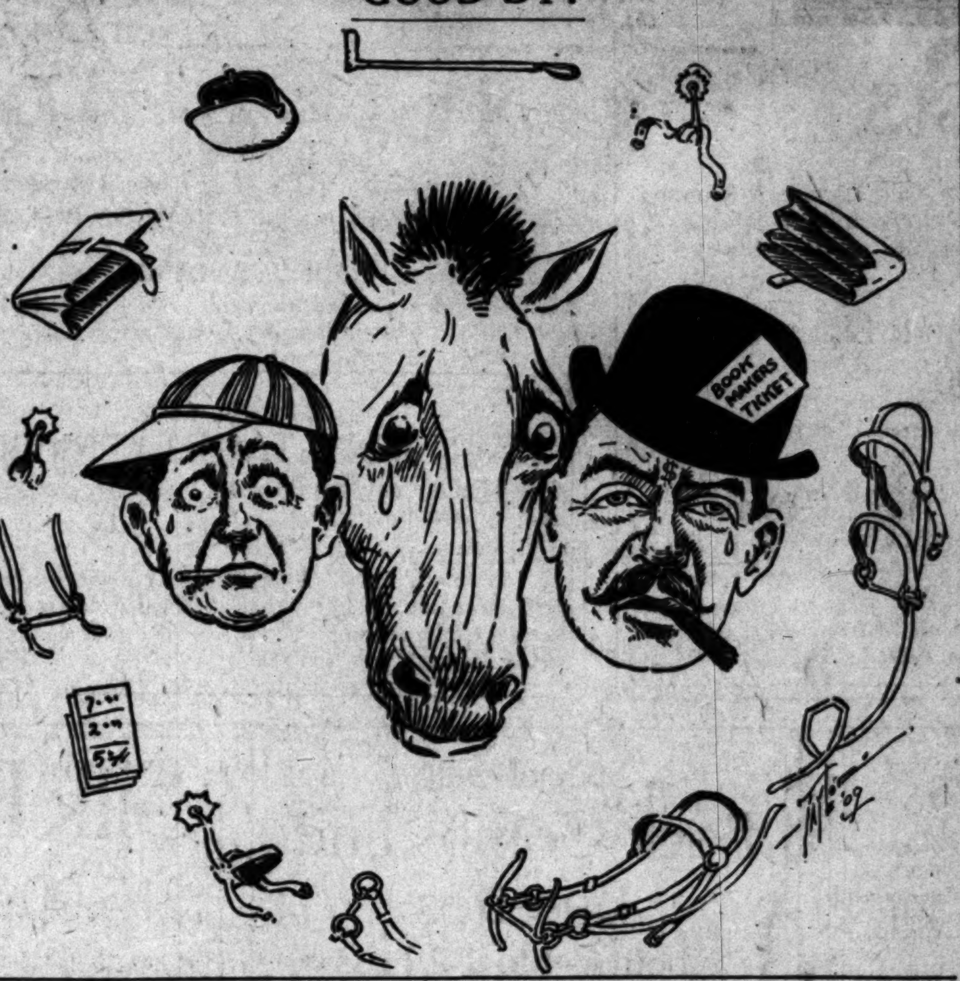
Hilmi Pasha, who has now been overthrown in his turn, was appointed to succeed Kiamil, and a worse choice could hardly have been made. It was Hilmi Pasha who succeeded again and again in throwing dust into the eyes of the foreign representatives who were sent to inquire into Turkish outrages in Macedonia and elsewhere. His bland and exquisite suavity never deserted him, and it was always the cover for the most astute diplomacy of deception and treachery. It never occurred to the Sultan to question the loyalty of Hilmi until he received the fatal news that this favorite general had gone over to the Young Turks with the whole of the force under his command. It was a bitter humiliation for Abdul Hamid when he was forced to place Hilmi in the high position of Grand Vizier, and his situation became still more ignominious when he was compelled to reinstate the various officials whom Kiamil had dismissed for the treasonable plot to vacate the throne.

The fall of Hilmi and the sanguinary outbreak have probably no serious political significance in themselves, but the reactionary party may easily turn them to their own ends. To suppose that the Turkish populace has any intelligent aspirations toward constitutional government is an absurdity. The average Turk does not know the meaning of the words and would abhor their meaning if he did know it. He has no other desire than to be let alone, to be relieved from the burdens of excessive taxation, and to be safe from the more brutal activities of despotism. Because the aggressive propaganda of the Young Turks assured him of these things he gave his tacit approval to the new order and for no other reason. At the point of sentiment the Turks are Asiatic and for them the highest form of political wisdom is a benevolent despotism.

There cannot be much doubt that the present situation will result indirectly in the removal of the Sultan, and if this could be done in a straightforward way, and a good man put in his place, no consummation could be more desirable. Achmet Riza, the leader of the Young Turks, is certainly working to that end and he will succeed unless the fickle populace should throw its weight against him and toward a restoration of the autocracy. Achmet Riza has been so sure of his hand that he has hardly cared to hide it. But for the loyalty of Kiamil he would have deposed the Sultan months ago and his recent action in causing the dismissal of the Sheik-ul-Islam was clearly a preparation for the coup d'état. The Fetvah of the Sheikh is required by Mohammedan law for any change in the Sultanate and nothing could have persuaded the late Sheikh to lend himself to any plot or revolutionary change. For these reasons he was removed from his office at the demand of Achmet and some unknown priest from Macedonia, who could be trusted to obey orders and to ask no questions, was put in his place.

Jussuf-Issedin, whom it is intended to place upon the throne, seems to be a scoundrel of the first water, and the malign nature of the so-called constitutional movement is sufficiently shown by the fact that such a man as this should be chosen to the exclusion of Prince Rechad, the Sultan's younger brother, who is a man of exceptional character and ability. The reason for Prince Rechad's exclusion has a sinister simplicity about it. It is well known that should he reach the throne through the assassination of Abdul, his first care would be for the punishment of the murderers.

GOOD-BY!



MISCEGENATION.

The marriage of a San Francisco white girl to the Japanese servant in the house, a few weeks ago, caused an unnecessary hubbub. There was no law against the marriage, in the first place, and in the second place such marriages are so infrequent as to make them hardly worth notice.

The intermarriage of persons of different races is considered extremely inadvisable by sociologists, and wisely so, we think, if for no other reason than that it is difficult enough for married couples of the same race to get along together in life, as our own divorce records all too sadly prove. If a white man and a white woman in a Christian country, reared under Christian influences and surrounded by Christian customs "spat" their way through life, as it often happens, there is small chance for couples who are of different races to be happy.

An eminent American sociologist lately went so far on this subject as to even advise against people of different nationalities intermarrying, saying that it is far better, for instance, that Germans marry Germans, that English men marry English women, and so on. Certainly it is at least hazardous for persons differing in religious convictions to intermarry. While it is true that there are many husbands and wives who worship at different altars and still get along happily together, the fact remains that the chance for harmony is increased when they both belong to the same church.

No consideration that might cast a shadow over the happiness of the marriage state should be slighted by those about to enter into that state. Matrimony is the most serious and the most important step in life. And because it is so often undertaken lightly is the reason that there is so much marital sorrow in the world.

But, as far as miscegenation is concerned—that is to say the marriage of a white person to a person of color, whether the color be black, brown, red or yellow—there can be no question that it is a grave mistake and one that, in some instances, is not to be tolerated. But it is a danger little to be feared for the reason that nature takes care of the matter a great deal more surely than man would be likely to do.

It is a great error to suppose that, for instance, every negro, or every Japanese, Chinaman or Indian wants to marry a white woman. The fact is that, as a general rule, they much prefer their own women. God has taken care of that. It is as Kipling said:

> "The white moth to the closing vine,
> The bee to the open clover,
> And the gypsy blood to the gypsy blood,
> Ever the wide world over."

Yes, the gypsy lad for the gypsy lass, and it is the same with us all. Now and then a Japanese marries a white girl, and now and then a white woman marries a negro or a Chinaman, but they are isolated cases. There could be much more of it; but the reason there isn't is that every race loves its own the best. There will never be any danger on that score.

WHO ARE THE CORPORATIONS?

It is a popular fallacy, all too popular, to suppose that all the stock of all the corporations in the United States is held by a few persons, and that the "capitalists" are but a small fraction of the population.

The latest statistics report 500,000 shareholders in railroad corporations. Railroad stocks and bonds to the amount of $2,000,000,000 are held by banks and insurance companies.

The commercial banks handle the money of 15,000,000 depositors. The savings banks of the country, in whose prosperity the depositors are interested, number 8,500,000 depositors and have $600,000,000 invested in railroad securities. There are 25,000,000 policy holders in the life insurance companies, and these companies hold hundreds of millions in railroad securities. Fire, accident and guarantee insurance companies have immense sums in the same investments. In the industrial corporations of the country we are told there are over 2,000,000 stockholders, and to these we should add the 8,500,000 depositors in savings banks and stockholders in life insurance companies.

This holding of corporation stocks and bonds by the people is spreading rapidly. Even the great octopus, alias Standard Oil Company, is extending its corporate partnership at the rate of 250 new members a year. Eleven railroad corporations show 180,000 stockholders, an increase of 65,600 or 57 per cent. in the last five years. In sixteen of the large corporations, including some called trusts, there are 353,600 shareholders, an increase of 98,200 or 38 per cent. in two years.

As illustrating the effect of industrial depression on the interests of the average people it may be noted that eighteen months ago the savings banks of Massachusetts held in deposits $24,000,000, and that a recent report by these banks showed that only $2,000,000 of the money remained on deposit. Laboring people, people doing small business, women and others whose funds are all invested in corporation stock and whose living comes from the dividends, have been forced by lack of employment, by unremunerative business conditions, and by curtailment of the semi-annual dividends, to withdraw the money they were keeping for emergencies in the savings banks of the State.

The complicated machinery operating the business reaches every part of the country and touches vitally the interests of the whole population. You cannot meddle with this complicated and delicate machinery in any way which will affect simply the capitalist whose wealth is great or the stockholders whose shares number hundreds and thousands. You may cut the dividends in railroads, industrials and banks in two, and yet the holder of large numbers of shares receives a very substantial sum on dividend day, knows no want, is never pinched for a dollar or one hundred dollars. These people of large wealth never close their mansions, never cut off a single domestic servant from their retinue, have the latest automobiles and repaint their yachts for every summer cruise. But the great army of people whose stock is represented by a few hundred shares or even less, when the dividends are diminished, are in severe straits, and when the dividends are passed they are in absolute want.

And this aiming at a trust and hitting the average citizen is not so satisfactory as the effort of the boy who threw a stone at the pig and hit his stepmother. He reflected that the effort was not altogether wasted.

IS THIS RACE SUICIDE?

We read that a few years ago a Canadian French family came across the frontier and settled in Lewiston, Me., and the result of this migration of a single family has increased the population of that city by forty persons.

Alexander Coté is the paterfamilias of twenty-four children all his own, fifteen boys and nine girls. He is at the present time only 55 years old and these children are all the product of one wife, who is in perfect health, like her husband.

Coté was not quite 20 years old when he married, and his eldest child is now 35 years, while the youngest is only eight months. They are all alive and in a state of robust health.

With Alexander Coté came a cousin, Ernest, by name. This is rather an unproductive member of the Coté family, as he rejoices in barely a dozen children, six boys and six girls. The oldest of these is 16 years and the baby six months. The father is 38 years old and his trade is that of a stone mason.

The Yankee families of New England are reported to be rather barren of results. But as long as these French Canadians come into the country and the Irish crowd into Boston so rapidly, the census man is likely to find an increased population in all the New England States.

The French Canadians are evidently different from those in the original habitat of the race in Europe, where race suicide threatens the national existence. Fifty years ago, when the potato famine started the immigration of the Irish from the Green Isle, the population of that little country numbered about 8,500,000 inhabitants. Half of these have migrated in the fifty or sixty years since the movement began, but in spite of the fact that the emigrants were mostly the young and robust, the population of Ireland is as large today as it was when this movement began. If we could follow the 4,000,000 Irish youths who have left the "owld sod" to all the remote parts of the earth where they settled and take a census of their progeny, we would find at the end of the half century not eight or nine but probably twice that number of millions of beings of Irish blood.

TWO PROTECTIVE DEMOCRATS.

Hon. Michael Francis Tarpey enjoyed a Statewide reputation as a Democratic wheel-horse for many long years in California. He was a Hancock Democrat and shouted aloud for Gen. Hancock's tariff views when that splendid warrior and poor politician told the country the tariff was merely a local issue. He was vociferous in his acclaim of Cleveland's famous free-wool message to Congress in December, 1887. He followed the fortunes of William Jennings Bryan in two of his campaigns and approved with much eloquence the Nebraskan's arraignment of the "robber tariff."

Since then Hon. Michael Francis Tarpey has invested his belongings in a vineyard in Fresno county whose crops are converted into raisins. Now behold the light which has broken upon this Democrat's mental vision! His vote in the election last fall was very wisely cast for William Howard Taft.

Now which is the real Democrat, Michael Francis Tarpey, indorsing the views of Gen. Hancock, vociferating for free wool and inveighing against the "robber tariff," or Mr. Tarpey voting for a Republican President committed by the party platform to protection to American industries in the tariff schedules? This question is one of far-reaching interest. Sure Mike!

Let that doughty champion of real Democracy, whose views no person of the party of the unterrified will dare to dispute, one Gen. Jackson of Kentucky, sah, answer the question. The answer is found in the following letter, written by Old Hickory from the Hermitage:

Hermitage, near Nashville, May 17, 1823.—

biographical sketches of are running in the to the evident biographers. to find something picturesque in the career of the great Democratic President would be hilariously amusing if they dealt with a different subject.

Each biographer was evidently suspicious last month that the other was about to picture Cleveland as a humorist.

So one told of this instance of Mr. Cleveland's humorous disposition.

One day a visitor was elaborately explaining to the ex-President at Princeton how to cut the end of a cigar—slicing down the two sides alternately.

When the visitor was through, Mr. Cleveland calmly cut off the end in the usual manner.

I have studied over this wonderful joke with deliberate and painstaking care. What I can't find out is this—did the joke consist in the calmness with which Mr. Cleveland cut off the end of the cigar; or did it lie in the fact that he didn't follow the advice of the man with the theory about cutting cigars!

At any rate, it is clear to my mind that if Mr. Cleveland had chosen to bite off the end of that cigar, Mark Twain would have best looked to his laurels as our foremost humorist.

Another incident from one of these striking biographies relates to the assassination of President McKinley.

The biographer says that Mr. Cleveland was fishing at the time and a man rowed out and told him the news.

Mr. Cleveland made no comment and went on fishing for several hours, at the end of which time he remarked that it must have been an anarchist.

The biographer makes this announcement with triumph as though it were a wonderful thing for the ex-President to guess that it was an anarchist and not a man in the act of collecting a milk bill who did the deed.

One touch of real humor glints through this remarkable pair of biographies, however. Each writer remarks with delicacy these incidents were withheld during the lifetime of the ex-President.

Grover Cleveland was a great man; but picturesqueness was not wherein he shone.

In his day, politicians had not yet realized the value of picturesqueness. It was Roosevelt who discovered the power that lies in being the center of the news sensation of the day.

The old-fashioned politician kept out of the limelight and depended upon the verdict of the editorial page. The new-fashioned politician does business with the meek and lowly news reporter.

Gold Lace Amputation.

A whole crop of generals and staff officers were mowed down in the State militia the other day, leaving Gen. Wankowski at the head of the whole works.

This means business. It was not long ago when the National Guard of California had enough militia generals to have commanded the armies of Europe.

No respectable family was considered complete without a militia general or two.

By the recent decapitation, the guard is reduced to a practical military basis—a sort of hopeful skeleton. Sometimes it seems like a pretty forlorn hope.

Our people hurrah for battleships and such because it is easy and rather pleasant hurrahing, especially if the "hurrahee" is a good way off.

But they don't furnish the necessary men to wear the equipment furnished by the national government.

Naud Junction—Art Center.

While our artists are mooning over Europe in search for artistic atmosphere and things, the foreign artists seem to be making a hot trail to America.

Ramon Casas, the great Spanish portrait painter, is the latest artistic immigrant.

Two features of American life he finds to be entrancing. Girls? No, he isn't interested in American girls! It's Bronx cocktails and prize fights—especially prize fights.

The cab fares in America, he says, are outrageous, but the prize fights are cheap at $10 a seat.

Ach! Such a disappointment. Some of us have been saving our money to visit the art galleries in Yurrup, when all we had to do was to get a ticket to the next scrap at Naud Junction. As a patron of art, Uncle Tom McCarey would appear to be about all there is.

PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Charles Saddler, chairman of the liquor zone initiative petition, says it has been completed and will be filed with the Council Tuesday.

T. J. Garwood, in Judge Wilbur's court, yesterday, was found guilty of complicity in the robbery and attempted murder of Frank G. Johannsen. He will be sentenced Thursday.

George Allen Beatty pleaded guilty in Judge Willis's court, yesterday, to having robbed the Monrovia bank. He will be sentenced Saturday. The cases of Martin and Sundin will be called Tuesday.

The famous Walcott land grant in Johnson county, Kentucky, is again in the public eye because of the filing in the Superior Court, yesterday, of an action brought by Gus Hansen against Jacob Stern to recover money paid for alleged worthless title to some of the property.

Minnie Hines was granted a divorce from Charles E. Hines, who had sent her a telegram, telling of his death by a boiler explosion at Camarillo.

AT THE CITY HALL.

CANNOT STOP INITIATIVE.

LIQUOR ZONE PETITION TO BE FILED TUESDAY.

Chairman of Committee Says Over Six Thousand Signatures Are Now on Lists and Action by the Council May Not Be Evaded — Brewers Neutral.

"Our petition is ample. We will have over 6000 signatures when we file it with the Council Tuesday," said Charles Saddler, chairman of the committee of wholesale liquor dealers that is promoting the initiative ordinance on the liquor situation.

Saddler made this statement last night. It had been the impression of the wholesalers' association and the Royal Arch officers that efforts to complete the petition had ceased, but Saddler declared last night they had not, and, instead, had been more active in the past two days than before.

"We have moved quietly," said Saddler, "because we did not want our progress known. But the petition is sufficient, and will be filed as I have stated. It now has over 5000 names."

To make the petition mandatory on the Council, it must have 4600 signatures of registered voters. Saddler says scarcely 2 per cent. of the names will prove defective, but the excess will be ample to insure the petition.

Committees from the Royal Arch and the wholesalers' association have sought to deter Saddler and his associates, but in vain. A conference was held yesterday which brought no result in the way of change. Saddler and his committee visited the brewers, and were told that they would not participate in the fight, preferring to remain neutral for the present.

T. W. Roulo, Valiant Commander of the Royal Arch, said yesterday that he believed the petition would fail, and that it would never be presented to the Council. He declared Los Angeles was the best regulated saloon city in the country, and that the men in the business would not permit the situation to be disturbed.

If the petition is filed and verified the ordinance will become effective at once, unless the Council calls a special election to vote on it. If the vote is deferred to the regular election in December, the ordinance would be in force for about seven months, even if it should be defeated at the regular election.

WHO'S WHO HERE?
LIQUOR PERMIT ROSTER.

"Who's who in Los Angeles" is to be a work in which Charles McKeag, secretary of the Police Commission and Edward F. Dishman, Chief of Police, are now collaborating.

The work will probably not be ready for editing by the Police Commission at its meeting tomorrow because the Chief has yet to ascertain the most important facts.

"Who's who" is a list of all the holders of saloon permits in the city and contains 200 names. The work of McKeag was to make this list with the location stated in the permit. Now the Chief is to answer as to each, "Who owns" and "Who controls." That is the milk in the saloon cocoanut, for the commission wants to know how many dummies are on the list, how may holders of licenses are dead or living elsewhere, or have gone out of business.

When this information is furnished the commission is expected to indicate its policy toward the present status of the business. If a number of licenses are shown to be illegally held they will be revoked, it is understood, and the decks cleared for the debate as to whether the commission will receive bids for permits or open the door to all applicants and select those it prefers.

The list was suggested by John Topham, a member, and the use the commission may make of it is giving some alarm to holders of permits. The commission seems to be making a campaign against the brewery trust, as it calls it, and this list is regarded as the first step in a serious conflict.

Discusses Modern City.

John D. Works, the new president of the City Club, was placed in office at the meeting at the Westminster Hotel yesterday and Rev. Matthew S. Hughes of Pasadena, spoke on "The Problems of a Modern City." The problem, according to Rev. Mr. Hughes, is the disproportionate growth of the cities in the last half century and the depopulation of the rural districts. With such concentration of population he found the home life disappearing and the moral tendencies degenerating.

Mules to Hurry By.

The army of mules bought for aqueduct use will not stop in Los Angeles. It was hoped to give them the acme of tourist travel in "seeing America," but the transportation rules of the Southern Pacific require a stop at Colton for feed, water and rest, and the mules will "Sunday" in the cement city. If a stop had been ordered at Los Angeles it would have made a large difference in freight cost, as this city would have been treated as a transcontinental terminal point. The animals are reported in excellent condition and all arrangements have been made to receive them at Mojave Tuesday. New harness has been purchased for the 400 mules now owned by the city in the aqueduct district.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

CONTEST OVER KENTUCKY LAND.

FAMOUS WALCOTT GRANT AGAIN IN LITIGATION.

Fullerton Plaintiff Demands Refund of Money Paid for Alleged Worthless Title to Half Interest in Thousand Acres—Sharpers Using Property for Swindling Purposes.

According to a petition filed in the Superior Court yesterday, the famous Walcott land grant in Kentucky, over which there has been much litigation, is involved in a real estate transaction in which two citizens of Fullerton play a leading part.

The land is located in Johnson county, Ky., and is the old grant made to Alexander Walcott by Virginia in 1800, eight years after Kentucky became a State. It has been declared void, and as of no effect by the highest courts, supplemented by an act of the Kentucky Legislature in 1904.

The present plaintiff is Gus Hansen, who sues to recover $1500 from Jacob Stern, for a half-interest in 1000 acres, alleged to be a part of the Walcott grant, that, according to general information, has been employed by sharpers all over the country to inveigle innocent persons.

It is alleged that on October 12, 1906, Stern offered to sell Hansen the interest in the land at $3 an acre, and that Stern represented to Hansen that he was the absolute owner in fee simple of the property, and had perfect title.

Hansen paid the $1500, he says, and the deed was recorded March 15, 1907, in Johnson county. It is now charged that Stern did not own the property, part or interest at any time, and that he fraudulently misrepresented the matter. On the 2d inst. Hansen tendered to Stern a reconveyance of the property, but the latter refused it. The plaintiff prays for judgment against Stern, with interest, from October 12, 1906.

In a letter to Hansen, James Breathitt, Attorney-General of Kentucky, writes: "We have had many complaints to this department relating to transfers in different parts of the United States of lands, which were originally granted to Alexander Walcott. It seems that somebody is making a business of going over the United States and transferring titles which are absolutely worthless."

There is no evidence to show that the defendant had any knowledge of the worthless character of the deeds when he made the sale to Hansen, who brings simply a civil action for the recovery of money.

GUILTY OF ROBBERY.
JURY CONVICTS GARWOOD.

T. J. Garwood, jointly charged with Charles Gavin and James Pfeifer with complicity in the robbery and attempted murder of Frank G. Johannsen at the latter's store on the evening of December 23, was found guilty by a jury in Judge Wilbur's court, yesterday afternoon. He will be sentenced Thursday.

The jury spent several hours in arriving at a verdict, and for a number of ballots one member voted for the acquittal of Garwood on the ground that his identity had not been sufficiently proven.

The defendant did not go on the stand in his own defense, fearful that his prison record might be exploited. It is said that he has already served four penitentiary terms—two in Colorado for burglary and grand larceny. He was subsequently convicted of safe blowing in Washington, and of burglary in California. The crime in Washington is shown in his face, which was severely torn by the explosion of powder.

Garwood will probably be sent to Folsom, to keep him as far as possible from Pfeifer, whose confession implicated Garwood in the Johannsen robbery.

Gavin is serving a fifty-year sentence at Folsom.

BOGUS MESSAGE.
AIDS IN SECURING A DIVORCE.

In the hearing of the divorce petition of Minnie Hines against Charles E. Hines, yesterday, a fake message, purporting to tell of the blowing up of the defendant in a boiler explosion, cut a figure in the judgment of the court. Mrs. Hines testified that while she was attending a performance at the Mason Operahouse, she was handed the following "telegram:"

"CAMARILLO (Cal.) Feb. 21, 1909.

"Mrs. Minnie Hines, No. 412 South Hope street, Los Angeles.

"Mr. C. E. Hines was killed today by a boiler explosion. What shall be done with the body? Wire at my expense.

"H. KANE."

She hurried out of the playhouse and to her home, only to find her husband, whom she had supposed had departed this life, calmly sitting on the front door step, very drunk. Officers were summoned, and he was taken to the city prison, and a police justice sentenced him ot serve fifty days in the workhouse.

Mrs. Hines had not noticed that the telegram was written on a sending blank of the Western Union Telegraph Company, and with a lead pencil, or she would not have been distracted. She was given a decree.

Beatrice I. Griffith, who has been conducting a ranch at Downey on her own account since her husband, Howard Griffith, deserted her in March, 1907, was given a decree. She said that on that day he told her plainly that he did not care for her, and that he was going away. Since then he has often called at the house and taken lunch, but only on business errands, Mrs. Griffith declared on the stand.

Bertha Ashton was divorced from Alden P. Ashton, by Judge Hutton. It appeared that the defendant was sent to San Quentin, in 1905, for five years, for grand larceny.

CRIMINAL CASES.
MANY BEFORE JUDGES.

In Judge Willis's court, yesterday, six informations were filed against J. F. Bushnell, the alleged defaulting collector of the E. K. Wood Lumber Company, and Tuesday was fixed as the day when the accused shall plead to the charges.

Mike Lorenzo, charged with the statutory offense against Carrie Morse, pleaded not guilty, and his trial was fixed for May 10. A motion has been filed to set aside the information.

Reed Reynolds pleaded guilty to passing a fictitious check, and was given three years' probation. It transpired that in hunting up the history of the accused evidence was found that he passed eight worthless checks in sixteen days, but that most of the money was returned by his wife.

In the case of Paul Molyneaux, convicted of robbery, a motion for a new trial on the ground that the prisoner had not been properly identified, was asked, and the court released Molyneaux on his own recognizance, awaiting a disposition of the motion. Molyneaux insisted upon making a speech to the jury in his defense a few days ago in Judge Willis's court.

Attorneys for Charles McCarthy, found guilty of giving a check on a bank where he had no funds, interposed a motion for a new trial. The case went over until May 1.

J. R. Veach, found guilty of forging a $500 check, asked that his case be postponed until tomorrow. L. Willcutt, guilty of grand larceny, asked for a continuance until next Saturday, and both requests were granted.

MONROVIA BANK CASE.
ONE ROBBER ADMITS GUILT.

Another chapter was added to the story of the Monrovia bank robbery, yesterday, in Judge Willis's court, when George Allen Beatty, one of the thieves, pleaded guilty.

Charles Martin and Ernest W. Sundin were also arraigned. As Sundin said his attorney was not present, and Martin declared that he was trying to secure one, both cases were postponed until Tuesday.

The complaint against Beatty was read to him, and in reply to the query of Deputy District Attorney North, as to what he desired to do in the premises, the accused said that he pleaded guilty.

"This case will go over until Saturday," said the court.

HE WAKES UP.
WANTS MARRIAGE ANNULLED.

Cyrus C. Kester brought an action in the Superior Court yesterday for an annulment of marriage that took place in Los Angeles March 29, last. He alleges in the petition that he and his wife are cousins, and that the ceremony was solemnized while he was of unsound mind and under the influence of intoxicating liquor and a narcotic.

Kester sets forth that after he recovered from the debauch on the 10th inst., he refused to recognize the defendant as his wife.

READY LETTER WRITER.
GETS IN SERIOUS TROUBLE.

Thomas Penney, who pleaded guilty in Judge Davis's court to passing a fictitious check for $21 on the Commercial National Bank, will probably never again invite an investigation of his record. When up for sentence a week ago Penney asked for probation, and immediately it was found that he had certainly been a bad Penney. It was learned that he had previously forged three checks bearing the name of O. A. Lingott of Harvard boulevard, and to add insult to injury, had written the following letter to the man he had wronged:

"Mr. O. A. Lingott. Dear Sir: I am leaving Los Angeles for British Columbia, and if you can catch me you are the first one that ever did. I will not tell you what my name is. It has been R. H. Ormsby, H. R. Porter and J. Q. Asher. Take my advice, pay in cash and don't give checks; it is bad business."

R. W. Richardson made a strong plea for the leniency of the court, and Penney testified that he was drunk when he wrote the letter. His wife and infant child sat near him, and the poor woman seemed to be in the depths of despair. Judge Davis sentenced Penney to three years in Folsom.

Francesco Torres pleaded guilty to petty larceny with prior conviction, and he was given ten days in the County Jail.

The sentence of Frank P. Swinney, convicted of rape, was postponed for one week.

In the case of Harry Murphy, who had pleaded guilty to assault with intent to rob, an application for probation was made.

Action in the cases of Bert Carter, robbery, and John F. Waehrer, forgery, were postponed one week.

James Carroll, guilty of burglary, will be sentenced Tuesday.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.
BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

FOOD LAW VIOLATORS. In Justice Ling's court, J. H. Staten was fined $25 yesterday for selling adulterated apple cider, and A. Vignoli contributed a like sum for selling orange syrup not up to pure food standards.

ILLEGAL POOLROOMS. I. Fugimoto and K. Higa were each assessed $100 in Justice Summerfield's court yesterday, on the charge of conducting poolrooms at Moneta without license.

The following incorporations were filed in the office of the clerk yesterday: Young & Hough Building Company, capital stock $20,000; Dividend Investment Company, capital stock $125,000, by Max Reimbold, Theresa Tenk, Albert P. Johnson and Herman A. Meyer; Crown City Investment Company, capital stock $25,000.

HOROSCOPE.
Sunday, April 18, 1909.
BY COZETTE.

Saturn gleams fitful on the way of man,
Mars gives keen knowledge to the healer's plan.

The moon is in perigee on this 108th day, and in Aries.

Saturn is in conjunction with the moon. The sun is in square with Uranus.

Mars is in sextile with the moon and occupies a benefic aspect. Jupiter is in parallel declination with the moon.

There is a sign of great spiritual and mental unrest and activity in English-speaking countries.

An excellent period for traveling, especially for short trips.

Visit old friends on this day. The issue will be good.

Saturn retains much of his power to plague and trouble man, but his conjunction makes him rule favorably for stability and power.

Mars occupies a position always held to govern surgeons, physicians and other scientific specialists with much force, giving them unusual power for good.

There will be a tendency this day leading the strenuous and the energetic to rush headlong into tempting schemes.

Self-control, wise language and a generous view of others' faults will take women and men with this birthdate successfully through an affair during the twelvemonth that will prove ill for the prejudiced, hasty or selfish.

Children are born this day under aspects suggesting that they will follow highly noble impulses or evil ones according to their early training. Frankness, generosity, patience and adherence to high ideals are the important virtues for them.

Hot Milk for Bad Tempers.

When it rains in the London Zoo hot milk is fed to the lions, tigers and monkeys. It has been found that rain "gets on the nerves" of these animals, and that the hot milk produces contentment and sleep. The hot milk treatment might be tried on our grumpy friends, and we wouldn't have to wait for rain, at that. The London Zoo man says the wolf perks up the minute his instinct tells him rain is approaching, and when the rain comes down he is so happy he would't hurt a fly. The snakes also are in their best humor when the weather is wet. As soon as the monkeys are seen clasping their hands over their heads the keepers know it is time to put the milk on the fire. The hands in this position are described as the primitive umbrella, the hands over the head forming the only shelter the money knows.—[New York Press.

OUR MARBLE GAINS RENOWN.

SUCCESS IS SCORED IN ITS EXPLOITATION.

Chamber of Commerce Gets Results from Campaign of Education for Southern California Deposits of Granite and Hard Limestone—Declared Superior to Italian Product.

The Chamber of Commerce is scoring success in its exploitation of the stone industry in this section of the State. Secretary Wiggins is receiving many inquiries about the possibilities of developing the granite and marble deposits, and he believes that quarrying will become one of the important branches of industry in this and neighboring counties.

"The chamber is ready to lend a hand to all worthy enterprises," said he yesterday, "and it seems to me that there is a great opportunity for capitalists to invest in lands where building stone abounds. I have learned from several reliable sources that the ground has hardly been scratched. There is no reason why we should bring granite and marble from the East, when valuable deposits lie almost at our doors. I am ready to give what information I have on the subject, and can refer interested parties to those more competent to give advice."

Joseph Scheerer, a member of a large firm of contractors, is the owner of marble, granite and cement properties in San Bernardino county. In years past he has furnished much of the stone used for street paving in this city, and has supplied many of the local contractors with marble. He says that there is enough high-grade granite and marble in Southern California to supply the whole country, if not the world.

"The rich deposits should be developed," he said. "So far the field has been neglected. We can supply not only all sections of the country with marble and granite, but can also ship abroad, provided the fields are worked properly.

"Our marble is superior to the Italian product, for the reason that it is white crystallized stone, impervious to the elements. It is more enduring than any other kind of marble known, and is susceptible of a high polish. Our granite and sandstone are also of a superior quality."

While many deposits of stone are in lands owned by private parties, it is said that there are thousands of acres of government land that are honeycombed with rich marble and granite. This land can be purchased for a low price, and much of it can be entered under the land law.

The Chamber of Commerce believes that this is a good time to exploit the mineral wealth of this section. Modern buildings are being erected and the demand for building stone is constantly increasing. If the local product is quarried in sufficient quantities the contractors will be able to purchase their building material close at home, instead of sending East, as is now frequently the case.

Many contractors explain that at present there is a delay in getting stone from local quarries, and that is the reason that they make contracts with big eastern firms. With the field properly worked, it is predicted that Los Angeles will, within a few years, be known as a center for marble and granite. The quarries in New England are becoming exhausted, and the freight rates are high to points in the West. Discounting the predictions of enthusiasts on the question, there seems to be no reason why this section cannot supply all the West with granite, marble and sandstone.

The Chamber of Commerce will continue to agitate the proposition until capitalists can be induced to develop the hitherto neglected mineral treasures, that promise nearly as great returns as gold and silver mines.

LITTLE TRAGEDIES OF THE CITY'S WEEK.

BY WARREN M'INTYRE.

The Juror and the Law.

He was only a farmer, callous of hand and burned of face, and he was merely doing what others have done and must do—sit in judgment on a fellow man when the law calls for jury duty. He was just one of twelve of his countryman's peers, who sat to mete out justice to one who had committed a breach of the laws; a felony.

There was a brief interruption—just a momentary recess while the court sentenced to a prison dungeon for ten long years a youth who had wandered from the path of a mother's training; ten long, weary years of prison gloom and toil for a youth who had eaten too deeply from the flesh pots.

The old farmer sat with averted face, but those who saw knew that he was weeping. And those who saw were not surprised when, hours later, in the case at bar, the foreman reported:

"We cannot agree. We stand eleven for conviction and ONE for acquittal."

Eleven men sat with faces raised, and looked upon the judge. But one, a farmer, faced the spot where had stood the youth who had gone the long, long way to the dungeon workshop. And those who looked saw that even yet his cheeks were damp with tears.

The Girl and the Viper.

"And the bonds in this case will be fixed at $5000," said the magistrate, in calm, dispassionate voice.

The girl staggered a step and caught herself. It meant jail! Where in the world was there one who would give $5000 bail that a girl charged with theft might go free? Jail!

Through the crowd a smirking little human writhed his way, snake-like, until he stood, unnoticed, at her side.

"Shall I go your bond?" he whispered. "Understand what I mean?"

The girl turned, with a start of hope. Then—she saw the leer.

"Yes," she said, with a gasp. "I—I think I understand what you mean," and, as her shoulders straightened and her eyes took on a glance of defiance, she said, aloud: "Officer, I am ready to be taken to—to jail."

The Woman and the Cradle.

The lights in the Third-street tunnel burned low. The woman crouched close against the wall, hurrying along with downward face. Two youths, fresh from their midnight carousal, passed. They knew her type. One cast a slurring remark. The other laughed coarsely.

The woman brushed by, almost running lest she be seized. Across the downtown district she hurried, turning, with a sigh, into the blackness of an alley, painfully clambering up two flights of dark, creaking stairs. The door slammed behind. A moment later her sobs broke aloud as she kneeled, with outstretched arms, above a tiny cradle. It was only a woman of the street, returned to her home—and the world could never know, nor understand, that she who laughed for money could sob above a baby's bed.

The Mother and the Verdict.

The jury filed in with solemn mien. The foreman cleared his throat, huskily. "Guilty," he said. "Guilty, and we fix the punishment at imprisonment in the penitentiary."

A hundred eager eyes were fastened on the youth at bar. Stylishly groomed, with multi-colored waistcoat, with soft blue eyes, and fresh from the attention of barber and manicurist, he nonchalantly twirled a heavy gold fob and gazed unconcernedly around the courtroom. A look akin to satisfaction came over his face—satisfaction that he was the cynosure of all eyes and had won a certain brief fame by this verdict. And again, was he not a gambler, an adventurer, one who had played with fate and lost an inning, one who had juggled with women's hearts and drank deep from the wine cus at the witching hour—who was he, to take this set-back as more than an episode in the career of "a man of the world?"

The crowd, gay with women and men of the semi-smart set, stood hushed. The silence was broken by something like a suppressed sob. It was just a whimper from an old woman, who sat inconspicuously huddled in a far corner. It was just a gasp from a poor old woman, plain of mien, shabby of garb, red of eyes and grizzled of hair. It was only the mother of the defendant—only an old woman who had worn her fingers sore that the boy might have education and fine feathers and mingle with those of the brilliant cafés. It was just the mother, so the crowd turned away to gaze with awe on the youth who could nonchalantly twirl a gold fob as he heard his prison fate.

FIFTEEN YEARS WEDDED.

In honor of the fifteenth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. K. V. Redpath, the Mountaineers' Club of Bungalow land met at their Laurel Cañon residence Friday evening. Numerous gifts, testimonials of esteem, were presented. The rooms were trimmed with floral work in keeping with the occasion.

There was one little girl who remained in jail a long, long time and she didn't get any sympathy, except from the officers and the matron. Why? Just because she wasn't an interesting crook. Her life was blackened by others. She never had a chance.

This little person's name was "Julie." She probably had another name but no one knew, or cared what it was. She lived a happy, peaceful life in a vilage of sunny France. She had a good mother and father, simple peasants. Then, one day, there came a man who wanted a girl to work in a big store, way over the water. Golden-haired Julie listened to the gleaming verbal pictures he painted. Her parents consented. She was brought to this country when she was just 14 years old. The man is known in the "red light" district by an ugly name. The place where they put Julie is known by a still uglier name. Officers finally found her, after she had been compelled to live a life of shame for several months. For months more she was in jail, while officers worked hard to arrange for sending her back to her home in France. She needed sympathy, poor little friendless waif, but didn't get it from the "sympathy crowd."

"Women are the finest creatures in the world," was the chivalrous remark of an official, yesterday. "The world could not get along without them, but the jails and police department could. They mean well and they try to do good, but nine times out of ten, they work hard to save the worthless hide of some crook who belongs in the penitentiary. They are continually getting in the way in a case where a criminal needs a long term of punishment. They listen to his tale of woe and then do everything in their power to gain him liberty. These same women could do real good, probably, by devoting the time wasted in jails to their husbands and children.

Galbraith, Past Junior Vice-Commander, has charge of the banquet arrangements, and a "big feed" and smoker is assured. He will be assisted by the Rally Day Committee, of which Comrade E. R. McDonald is chairman.

A One-Armed Prodigy.

The remarkable achievements of William George Collins, a one-armed postman, who received a presentation at Rochester on retiring after forty years' service, are worthy of a chapter in Smiles's "Self Help."

Bereaved of his father, and having the misfortune to lose his right arm in a gun accident at an early age, he set to work to learn to write with his left hand and became an expert penman. He learned shorthand and taught the art to his brother and his schoolmaster's son, the former becoming a reporter and the latter official police reporter at Scotland Yard.

Want of means prevented him from realizing his ambition of becoming a schoolmaster, so at the age of 19 he obtained an appointment as a rural postman. His duties left him free for some hours in the middle of the day, and this spare time he devoted to remunerative work in photography and carpentering. He was a pioneer in small holdings and farmed an acre of land for pleasure and profit.

Then he decided to build a six-room cottage for himself, being his own architect. Although he had only one hand, he first of all molded thousands of concrete bricks and then built the house with them. This task occupied ten years, as he did all the internal fittings himself.

The introduction of the parcels post necessitated the use of a conveyance, but Collins was equal to the occasion and built his own mail cart, which he painted and varnished with the skill of an artist.—[London Chronicle.

He Accepted the Hint.

They tell of an Atchison man who was going down street with a girl. She was one of the kind who believes in the power of the gentle hint, and as they passed a candy store she said:

"Doesn't that candy smell good?"

"Yes," the man replied, "let's stop here and smell it a while!"—[Atchison Globe.

NEW CAPTAIN.

to outline any policy in the conduct of the department.

"It would be foolish for me to say what I intend to do," he said, "because I do not know yet just what is to be done. Let the deeds speak for themselves. The law will be enforced to the best of my ability, and every man in the department will be expected to do his whole duty. There will be no persecutions, nor will any favoritism be shown. Violators of the law, whoever they may be, must expect to pay the penalty. My personal feelings will not enter into the matter at all. My best friends must expect no favors from me if they violate the law.

NO MORE SUBSTATIONS.

"There will be no more substations if my wishes are followed. Instead of more stations, we need more men. New stations have been proposed for Vernon, Boyle Heights and West Seventh street. It would cost much to build them, and, in operation, each would require three sergeants and three desk sergeants, all of them at higher salaries than are paid patrolmen. The same money would supply us with probably twenty-five or thirty additional patrolmen, and there is use for far more than that number.

"The total membership of the department, as allowed by law, including officials, detectives, patrolmen, matrons and all other attachés, is 332. Out of that number we are allowed 286 patrolmen, though we have not that number on duty.

"This gives a percentage of less than one patrolman to each 1000 of the city's population. In other cities of relative size the ratio is one patrolman to each 600 to 750 of population, and it must be remembered that Los Angeles covers a far greater area than other cities of approximate size.

WHAT WE SHOULD HAVE.

"On the 600 ratio, Los Angeles should have 500 patrolmen, and because of its great area, even more than that number. It would be idle, however, to look for an increase of the department to that extent at this time, though we certainly should have a large addition to the force."

As to his plans for the discipline of the department, the Chief has not yet made any announcement. There is a book of rules that has been in more or less general use in the past. The men will be expected to become thoroughly familiar with its contents. Officers in uniform are prohibited by rule from entering saloons except in discharge of their duty. Some of them disregard this rule, though inviting a siege before the Police Commission. The goblins may get 'em if they don't watch out.

There are to be regular meetings of the captains, lieutenants and captains and the Chief, in which department affairs will be discussed and ideas exchanged, and in this way it is expected that much can be accomplished for the benefit of the service.

JOB HAS ITS TRIALS.

Being a chief of police has its trials, as the new head of the department has learned in the few days he has been in office. He has been besieged by all sorts of callers—beggars who want permits to ply their calling; peddlers who seek concessions; business men who want unusual favors; fight promoters attempting to get on the "right side" of the department; personal friends, in trouble, seeking "influence;" Chinamen trying to "fix" things for gamblers in their section, as they always do at every change of administration, and all sorts and conditions of people, all after something.

The new Chief has a happy way of handling people, and, if any of these visitors "got the boot," they left with the impression that the "boss" is "square," anyway.

Probably the most painful experience to Chief Dishman has been the flood of complimentary newspaper notices. Men who spend years in active newspaper work, as he has, are not very strong for "puffs," and he is no exception. Hundreds of congratulatory letters and telegrams have poured in upon him since his appointment.

His greatest trial is yet to come. He is undergoing the agonies of being fitted for a uniform, and he will be obliged to don it tomorrow or next day!

The Model's Secret.

A STORY FOR FAT FOLKS

The Cloak Models' Association has raised their calling to the status of a fine art. The development and retention of a perfect figure is made the study of their lives. As a result they receive high salaries and, of course, live correspondingly well.

But good living and a perfect figure are seldom contemporaneous in the same lady. They are so only when that lady is willing to pay for her good times by most strenuous and persistent physical effort to keep her fat down. So the premier models, some of whom are middle-aged, have had to fight a good fight hitherto.

Hitherto is used advisedly, for now the struggle is less keen. Instead of dieting and exercise being their reliance, the following mixture is asked to do the work of keeping these ladies professionally fit: One-half ounce Marmola, ½ ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and 3½ ounces of Peppermint Water.

This is taken a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime, and reports indicate it does not violate the trust put in it. Those with a tendency to fatten up keep their figures stationary by its means, while many finding themselves overfat have lost as much as a pound a day by its use.

DON'T WANT IT.

PHOENIX MEN GIVE UP BOND.

"Glory Hole" at Salome Is Not Taken.

Development Shows Less Than Expected.

Very Rich, But Will Cost to Operate It.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 16.—Last night in Phoenix was surrendered an option, locally held, on the now famous "Glory Hole" mine near Salome, together with the seven claims of the Arizona Northern group. This is the property whence came, a few weeks ago, the $200,000 gold rock that started a rush of prospectors into what has become known as the Winchester district, northwest of Salome, near the line of the Arizona and California Railroad, in Northern Yuma county. Within a few days after the strike an option on the group was given an expert in the employ of the George Mitchell interests, but the deal was not completed within the week given for the first payment. Then the property was turned over to a Phoenix company, under a working bond, understood to have been for something more than $100,000, the ore extracted to go to the purchasers. The greater part of the stock in the purchasing company was held by J. W. Sharpe, George W. Halm, David Shear and Homer King of Phoenix. Two relatively small payments have been made, and $3000 has been spent in development work, probably something more than that value of ore having been taken out.

The main development thus far has been an open cut, crossing the rich zone where the specimen rock was taken. The purchasers were not surprised to find that this enriched area had its limits, but they failed to find quite the quality of ore across the ledge matter they had hoped for, considering the price they had agreed to pay for the property. They say they believe the mine a great one, but one which will have to be worked by the usual methods of sinking and drifting. To make the earlier payments would have been too much of a burden, therefore. The owners, Griffin & Algier, refused to allow any additional time, and so it was believed good business policy to drop the bond. Another factor was a budding prospect for litigation, there being conflict about a side line and an adverse claim for the richest of the group, the latter made by Tom Griffin, brother of one of the sellers, who alleges a prior location.

Mr. Sharpe and his associates have a controlling interest in the Hillside group, adjoining the Arizona Northern, and propose to continue its development, where they aver the indications are favorable for the opening of one of the best gold properties of Arizona. Griffin & Algier will proceed on their own account with the further development of the Arizona Northern.

SPENT MORE THAN INCOME.

OCTAVE GETS SMALL RETURN ON LONG RUN.

Gross Yield of Fourteen Months Little Over the Expense—Nevada Men Flock to Winchester-Salome Country—Good Sale Near Parker, in Various Camps.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 16.—A large meeting of stockholders of the Octave Mining Company was held in Prescott Saturday, following a visit to the company's property in Southern Yavapai county. An immense amount of money has been spent on the property, on new machinery, running new shafts and drifts and for new machinery for the forty-stamp mill, and in building, by a collateral company, an electric generation plant at Wickenburg, practically complete. The transmission line to Octave is finished. The electrical operating machinery in the mine and mill is nearly complete and operations start again May 1 under the new conditions. Plans even are being made to double the reduction capacity, as officers and stockholders are sure that with the improved facilities production and reduction costs will be so cut down that every pound can be handled at a profit. During the past year there has been invested $464,525. The mill closed last August after fourteen months operation, from which the gross income was $258,832. The mine has been opened by three shafts, respectively 1900, 1800 and 2000 feet deep. The ore is mainly an iron sulphuret.

Many Nevada men are quietly drifting into the Winchester country, as the district northwest of Salome is beginning to be called. Winchester camp is growing daily, though no very substantial buildings have yet been erected, possibly because a wagon road is only being completed to the townsite. Thousands of visitors have come and many have remained. Every foot for miles around is located, whether it shows a hopeful stringer of quartz or not. Work is being energetically prosecuted on the shallow cross-cut started on the Bonanza mine, and along most of the length of the cut there are occasional stringers practically as rich as that which started the excitement. One ordinary panful of rock worked down to $30 worth of gold. Similar wealth is being sought energetically on fifty near-by claims and the sound of surface blasting is almost continuous by day. Some well-defined veins of quartz are yielding good results and free gold has been found in a number of the new mines around the camp. Prospectors who have failed to locate in the immediate vicinity are scattering into the near-by Harcuvar and Harqua Hala hills and the country is being investigated as never before.

Late information from the Little Butte mine, near Bouse, is to the effect that four feet of ledge in a lately made crosscut will run better than $100 a ton in gold and copper.

GOOD SALE MADE.

The Billy Mack mine, a short distance northeast of Parker, has just been sold for $125,000, though the owner three months ago offered the same property for $90,000. Mack is 73 years old, but as athletic as a youngster, and has worked on his mining claim for the past few years with as much energy as any of his hired men.

George U. Young, lately appointed Secretary of Arizona, has returned for a time to the Derby mine, six miles west of Prescott, of which he has been manager several years. He states that he is preparing to open a four-compartment shaft, on which will be installed a large hoisting plant to explore the property to the depth of 2000 feet. The main shaft is down 368 feet.

At eighty feet, a fine sulphide body has been encountered in the Grand Island mine, the south extension of the Copper Chief, seven miles south of Jerome. The high grade is four feet thick, 22 per cent. copper and $90 in gold.

The ten-stamp mill of the Etta company, lately installed at the Etta, in Verde district, is working steadily on high grade, with a six months' supply in the bins and stopes.

In sinking the main shaft of the Expansion Gold Company in Gold Roads district, in Mohave county, high grade tellurium has been found.

Eight miles west of Castle Hot Springs, William Kaples has a new placer discovery, on Castle Creek, below the well-known old Whipsaw mine. The gold is dull brownish in color, and ranges as large as a marble, very different in appearance to the ordinary run of placer gold. Kaples has been working alone for several weeks, and realizing handsomely. George Sayre and George B. Upton have prospected the creek above the mine, and have located a good-looking quartz ledge, from which they believe the placer values have come.

In the near-by Humbug district, the Flour Gold Mining Company is erecting a great dredge to work on the gravel banks.

The shut-down of the Ray concentrating mill at Kelvin was short, only to install the new dry washer. The Kelvin country is waking, and more than 1000 men are employed in the various mines along the Gila River.

YEAR'S DEVELOPMENT.

During the past year about $100,000 has been spent in development by the Copper Creek Mining Company on its mines fourteen miles from Mammoth. Interests identified with the Copper Creek lately bonded the old Mammoth-Collins gold mine at Mammoth.

It is told that the Copper Queen Company at Bisbee has paid in all dividends not less than $40,000,000. Last month's production of its smelter was about normal, close to 9,000,000 pounds, including the Nacozari concentrates. Eighty per cent. of the ore is hoisted at the Sacramento shaft. While there seems no disposition to enlarge the smelter output, extensive improvements are being made around the furnaces. Four McDougal roasters are being put in, as well as a plant for cintering flue dust and lighter ores for better smelting. Seven of the large furnaces are being kept warm.

The Calumet and Arizona Company turned out about 6,000,000 pounds of copper during March. A fine office building is being erected at Warren of reinforced concrete, with two floors and basement.

The Hoatson shaft of the Superior and Pittsburgh Company is 1670 feet deep, the deepest workings in the Bisbee district. The main ore shipments being made by the Superior and Pittsburgh Company to the C. and A. smelter come from the 1000-foot level of the Cole shaft and the 1300-foot level of the Hoatson. The Denn's main shaft is being deepened, being at present 1350 feet, the formation being a sort of white limestone.

Forty men are working on the Shattuck property, from which 1200 tons were sent to smelter last month. A strong rumor has been current for some time that the Copper Queen was about to purchase this. It is absolutely denied, however, by General Manager L. C. Shattuck.

JAPANESE STUDYING.

During the past week the mines at Bisbee and the smelter at Douglas have been critically examined by Kinkichi Nakada of Osaka and Shumjiro Tanaka of Kobe, heavily interested in the Sumitoma Company, which controls some of the largest copper mines in Japan, with a product of 5500 tons of bullion a year, and with a pay roll embracing 6000 workmen. They are looking particularly into labor-saving machinery, stating frankly that it takes about sixty men in Japan to do the work of about five around Bisbee. They will go from Bisbee to Clifton and Morenci to make a special study of concentrating works.

The Courtland Mining and Milling Company is a late corporation started by G. W. Dobyns, who has secured control of forty-seven claims one mile from the Courtland townsite. Carload shipments from the property to the El Paso smelter have given net returns of $55 a ton.

In cutting through the side of a hill on one of the claims of the Leadville mining claims near Courtland the Mexico and Colorado Railroad graders have cut a body of cargonate ore for sixty feet, at a depth of from ten to twelve feet from the surface. Assays of the ore show it to be a carbonate, running as high as 7 per cent. in copper.

The water level in the Tombstone mines is being lowered about twelve feet a month, the great pumps having entire control of the situation.

By the utilization of surplus heat of a reverberatory furnace at Cananea, Manager Rickerts has secured and is utilizing about 100 horse-power hitherto wasted. The March Greene production was about 2000 tons of copper bullion, with 540 ounces of gold and 90,000 ounces of silver. Since last July the plant has produced about 30,500,000 pounds of copper, at an approximate cost of 10½ cents a pound.

The production of the Arizona Copper Company for March was nearly 3,000,000 pounds, the Shannon nearly produced 1,550,000 pounds, the Detroit something over 2,000,000 and the Old Dominion nearly 3,000,000.

AS TO TAXES.

The Imperial Copper Company at Silver Bells statement as a basis for taxation on the valuation of one quarter of the value of its annual production of bullion places the value of the copper and silver last year at $924,252. The Twin Buttes gives its total valuation as $13,759, El Tiro at Silver Bell only $5255.

At Tombstone yesterday, Judge F. M. Doan gave decision for defendent in the noted tax suit of Cochise county against the Copper Queen, for back taxes since 1901, about $200,000 being involved. The suit had really been fought by Gov. Kibbey and Atty.-Gen. Clark, who was denied the right of the County Supervisors to compromise with the corporation.

The old Total Wreck near Pantano has been bonded for about $100,000 to John T. Roberts of Buffalo, N. Y.

The property of the Little Jessie Mining Company near Pearce has been sold by the sheriff to satisfy judgment of $1200 and costs secured by E. E. Griffield for money advanced. The company was mainly capitalized in Los Angeles. Considerable money was spent but with no very large results. Mr. Griffield bought in the mine and states that if he retains possession he will extend a tunnel with the intention of cross-cutting the ledge at a considerable depth. He says he has the largest faith in its value.

A three-stamp mill is being run on ore from the mines at Camp Bonita near Oracle, properties in which "Buffalo Bill" Cody is interested.

Still another large cave has been struck in the Centurian mine near Benson, lined, like that struck several months ago, with rich copper.

Chalcopyrite averaging about 20 per cent. copper has been developed in a large sized body on the Copper King claims, twenty-four miles from Sasco.

A working fund of $50,000 has been raised for further development of the Vekol mine in the Casa Grande district.

GOLDFIELD.

HALF-MILLION IN ONE WEEK.

HIGH-GRADE TO BE HELD AND LOWER MILLED.

Forty-five Dollars Is the Mill Gauge and That Grade Is Handled More Economically With Greater Saving Than the Sixty-Dollar Variety—Wonders Continue.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) April 16.—With an estimated production of $580,000 this week the mines of Goldfield are not doing so badly although the output is not up to the record-breaker of two weeks ago when the Consolidated shipped a carload of high-grade every day to the smelters in addition to what was turned out by the mill which never ceases in its monotonous grinding. Even the latter was cut by the management bringing the ore down to $45 instead of the $60 average, which has been maintained for some time. Manager Mackenzie is not partial to running ore above the ratio for which the mill was adjusted and it was his desire to get back as quickly as possible to the $45 base. It is difficult to convince the average layman that the Consolidated suffers from a surfeit of riches but it is a solemn fact that cannot be gainsayed. In preparing the ore for treatment the several superintendents have to exercise no little ingenuity to keep down the value to the gauge of the mill. There would not be any difficulty in sending quartz that would average $60 to $100 per ton but that is not what is wanted in the economical treatment. With the lower grades of ores the percentage saved is better than with the higher grades.

Last week the Consolidated stopped shipping from the Hampton stope and the public first learned that the shipments had been made solely to clear the dead rock and allow the miners to go ahead with development of the stope, what would have been called dead work in any other mine. The values were taken out in upraising on the bonanza ledge and only enough was removed to permit the miners to proceed with the blocking. Today shipments were resumed and may continue for ten days or more, possibly for a month. The rock will be taken largely from an upraise on the fifth level representing a depth of 280 feet. The ore is so rich that only one shift will be employed and it is not likely that more than four or five hours will be devoted in each twenty-four to removing the values. The importance of this can be readily understood. The ledge matter in the stope is about forty feet in width with two or three feet that runs clear across about $800 to the ton. The average day in and day out will not vary very much from $800 to $1000 in gold. The production from this stope starting yesterday will not be far from twenty-five tons or at the rate of $22,500 per day. This average could be maintained throughout the year so the reader can easily calculate what an enormous reserve the company has. For one recent ten-day run the company sent out 341 tons that netted $233,000. This high-class stuff is not particularly desired at this time. It will keep and its extraction will be conducted from time to time as the conditions warrant. The ore has been encountered in the fourth and sixth levels as well as the fifth but the latter will probably be the scene of operations for the present and for some time.

FLORENCE BUSY.

The Florence has been keeping up with the Consolidated so far as milling and mining are concerned as that company is sending out occasional carloads of high grade taken from a point close to the old workings of the Engineers lease that yielded $2,000,000 in the course of six months. During the week another strike was scored by the opening of twelve feet with an average of $260 as broken down on the fourth or 200-foot level of the main Florence vein about 400 feet from the main shaft and toward the Little Florence ground. There is 200 feet of unbroken territory above it and its lateral extent is as yet unknown. The ore is of an oxidized character of darkish red brown color that does not show its value to the eye. The body was first entered ten days ago but the drift did not show as high a value as is becoming evident in the big stope that has just been started. The first stulls fourteen feet long have been put in and the stope will be sent up with power drills at a rapid pace. There is a wonderful improvement in size and values within the last two days and there is every indication that it will prove a bonanza of great proportions. This is not the only body in the Florence for over at the Engineers' lease there is a seam that has been opened seven feet wide with a three-foot streak with picture values. This is close to one of the faults that cuts through the Florence and which invariably make enormous values.

The Gold Bar is sending forty tons a week high grade, average of $200 per ton. This property which is considered one of the best in the camp has been handled without regard to the opinions of local critics but it has been developed in such shape that when the company erects a mill before the end of the year there will not be any trouble about getting ore at the lowest possible cost of production. Yesterday the work of taking out ore was abandoned and the force was put to work sinking another hundred feet to crosscut to catch the same ledge at a distance of only about twenty-five feet.

On the Velvet good work is progressing. The Kansas City Velvet has started a tunnel northeast of the big dyke that crosses their ground and is going directly in toward the shaft which has opened the ore shoot. The Chicago Velvet has given orders to resume work after a year of idleness and the shaft will be sent to the 1000-foot level from its present depth of 500 feet. Pumpers are taking out the water that has accumulated but it is expected that sinking will begin this week.

ATLANTA HAS HOPES.

The Garrison lease on the Atlanta is improving with every round of shots and it is looked to as the first one of the numerous companies on the Atlanta estate that will reach the ore after a persistent campaign of two years. This news will be refreshing to the stockholders, most of whom live in Pasadena and San Bernardino, but it will be welcomed by all those of the parent company, which has never produced a pound of ore, although it is located in the very best territory of the camp. Between twenty and thirty sets of leasers have tried from time to time to find the mineralized zone without success. Some found small bodies of rock with values, but in a broken formation that did not last. The Garrison lease is known as the Precious Metals Mining Company, and its work is distinguished from that of others by the fact that the company is drifting north from the 425 level when the best engineers advised crosscutting south. Those in charge of the work, which is being done by contract, state that there is no certainty just where the values may intrude, as the ledge is constantly improving and shipping quartz may come at any moment.

HORNSILVER IN GOLD.

Eighteen inches that will break $100 per ton is the streak that was reported to have been opened on the May claim which adjoins the Great Western at Hornsilver. This is significant, as it is strictly a gold product, the rest of the camp carrying the pay values in silver. The ore shows plenty of free gold and the values were taken from a depth of only twenty feet. The formation is white, brown and yellow talc. Two tons were sacked yesterday, and it is said that some will run as high as $2 a pound.

As the Great Western, another Hornsilver proposition, is opened its riches increase. It appears to be gradually coming into the gold class as against the former silver-lead values. A cold-blooded average across the winze will show $165 per ton, of which three ounces are in gold. An engine has been installed at the 300-foot level and it is proposed to sink to the 500, where, if the oxidized ore continues the company will erect a mill. It is contended that the company has 100,000 tons of ore in sight that will justify the mill construction. The long wagon haul to Cuprite takes all the profits. The company has plenty of water for milling, as it owns one of the best water locations on Magruder Mountain, whence Goldfield draws its domestic supply.

HAWTHORNE DISTRICT.

Adams & Miller, the lucky discoverers of the Lucky Boy district near Hawthorne, have laid out a townsite at the mines which is called Lucky Boy, and already lots to the extent of $9000 have been sold. The camp's development is progressing quickly, and it is expected that another shipper will be added to the list. The Alamo continues to send out forty to sixty tons a day that nets $100, and the other leasers are going down as fast as men and money can hasten the work. Mitchell & Fairchild are reported to have some excellent prospects and may enter the shipping list any day. Automobiles have taken the place of the old stage that did faithful service for fifteen years between Thorne and Hawthorne and passengers are rushing in at the rate of thirty to forty per day. A custom mill is being erected in Hawthorne to care for the straight gold and silver ores being found in the vicinity.

WINGFIELD'S COMING?

The camp has been waiting for Wingfield for such a length of time that all of the calculations of the speculators have been disseminated and the crowd at large does not know where the game is going to end. In any event it is patent that Wingfield is carrying out his promise to make things lively when he reached the coast.

Through his personal influence he has exalted a number of dead stocks from the pit of despondency to the front rank of the speculative world. The principal deal was with Silver Pick, which lies in a good territory, but which has suffered from an injection of an element that did not pay much attention to the intrinsic value of a stock proposition. It is not impossible that it will catch the dip of the high-grade body on the Combination. The deposit lies in a fractured territory and the ore body may be projected either north or south of the present tendency, and on that proposition the Silver Pick may pick up the shoot. If it does, the stock will be the best buy in the market, but there is a tendency to discount the chances by shorting Silver Pick at the present prices.

In the field of speculation it must be borne in mind that no man has a better knowledge of the geological formation than Wingfield, and he must be credited with an underground knowledge that is not possessed by any rival in the field of Goldfield speculation. He has the maps of the Consolidated at his disposal and the information in possession of its engineers give him an advantage that cannot be controlled by any other man. When George Wingfield decrees that a certain stock must advance it must be accepted that he knows whereof he talks. Take for instance the other day when he got under Silver Pick. See what happened. The stock could not have been donated to a rummage sale on the basis of 10 cents a share, yet when it was known that Wingfield had placed a buying order there was no limit to the ascension. In less than two days the stock had advanced from 8 cents to 30, and the brokers were not able to fill their orders at the latter price. Every stock that Wingfield chooses to touch is the same.

IN THE EARTH.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY AND CHEMISTRY.

To Correspondents:

This department is not conducted for pay. Its object is to convey reliable information of interest and value to the public, and it is not for the private benefit of any miner, collector, speculator or prospector. Correspondents are particularly cautioned to take careful note of the statements and injunctions contained in the paragraphs below.

(1.) Specimens must be small and bear a tag giving name and address of sender, and the general—not exact—locality from whence the specimen was taken, also the name of it as nearly as the sender knows. Send, also, with the specimen a clearly-written letter briefly describing the find and what the finder wishes done with it. The letter must be properly dated and plainly signed.

Letter and specimen must be in one package, not in separate inclosure.

(2.) No attention will be paid to anonymous letters or to letters signed merely with initials.

(3.) No examinations of samples or specimens will be made in cases where The Times may decide that the specimen and inquiry are not of public interest. This office does not undertake to perform the work of an assay office.

(4.) Inquiries relative to matters of purely personal interest will not be answered.

(5.) When no response to an inquiry made or specimens sent appears in these columns, the inquirer will understand that his inquiry does not come within the purview of this department.

(6.) It is impossible to return specimens, as they must necessarily be destroyed or impaired in the process of analysis.

Address invariably, The Times.

Zinc Carbonate.

LAS VEGAS (Nev.) March 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am sending you by separate cover three samples of ore from Inyo county, California, southeast of Shaw's Peak. It certainly gets me and all of the prospectors at the locality named. It may be a sort of tungsten, or maybe, an ore of silver.

Please inform us through The Times what the mineral is? Thanking you in advance for the courtesy, I am.

Yours very truly, G. C.

ANSWER: Your samples are mammillated and compact Calamine (carbonate of zinc.) Color gray-whitish yellow. Of vitreous, and pearly luster. White streak. Of uneven fracture, and brittle. Hardness 5. Sp. gr., 4.2. Approximate contents of the mineral 35 per cent. carbonic acid with nearly 60 per cent. zinc oxide and impurities. Before the blow pipe decrepitates, and is infusible alone or with borax. Dissolves with effervercence in nitric acid.

The name, Calamine, "is derived from Calamus, a reed, because during the process of smelting it adheres to the bottom of the furnace in the form of reeds."

Tellurium Present.

WICKENBURG (Ariz.) March 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I read with pleasure your "In the Earth" columns in the Los Angeles Times, and am aware of the great educational advantages to be derived therefrom. That it is doing good is evidenced from the knowledge which the prospector of today possesses as compared to those of the olden days who knew only: "two kinds of rock—ore and waste."

The three specimens enclosed herein come from the Dome Mountains, in Yuma county, Arizona.

No. 1, which please classify, carries high in gold and it is possible to get assays at times running into the thousands, and I am beginning to think that this is the possible source of the placer gold in this range.

Nos. 2 and 3 were handed me by an old prospector who is awaiting the glad tidings which will enable him to realize his dream.

I will appreciate these determinations and will also ask if "In the Earth" is familiar with the formation of the South African gold fields, and if so will send him some information which may be of value "to the boys in the hills."

Yours truly, J. B. G.

ANSWER: We appreciate the tone of your letter. Personally, we are not familiar with the formation of the South African gold fields (other than as shown by specimens in our collection.) If you have information which may be of value to the boys in the hills, why not give it?

Sample No. 1 is hornblendic, carrying quartz, iron (oxide and carbonate,) with copper carbonate (malachite) and manganese dioxide, very low percentages.

No. 2 is made up of purple fluorite, carbonate of lime and silica. What are the cuneiform characters in this rock? Are they sylvanite (graphic tellurium,) They are not sylvanite (telluride of gold and silver,) but the characters prove on analysis to be lead telluride.

No. 3 is micaceous and titaniferous iron ore.

Test for Zinc.

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am an assayer, and know that the determination of many minerals is beyond my knowledge. Is there such a thing as a test for zinc? I mean a simple field test. I would be glad to have you give such a test if you know of one.

I have works on chemistry and, after reading chemical manipulation, often end up in confusion—why? I do not know.

Yours gratefully, C. L. D.

ANSWER: None of us has too much knowledge. It is well to master, thoroughly, anything you undertake. It's hard work that always wins out.

Get a vial of c.p., hydrochloric acid. Powder your supposed ore of zinc. Place a little of the powder in a test tube; if it goes into solution, or partly into solution, pour off (after effervescence, if any) the liquid into another test tube, and use a few drops—as reagent—of cobalt nitrate solution. If zinc is present as carbonate, the solution immediately becomes green. Zinc silicates go to a jelly in hydrochloric acid. Blende (zinc sulphide) is soluble in nitric acid evolving hydrogen sulphide (odor of rotten eggs.) B. B., zinc present, is noted by white oxide crust around the assay, heated a second time the crust becomes yellow and hard to volatilize.

Magnetite.

BROWN'S BOULDER WELL, March 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I enclose you two samples found in a hematite (iron dyke) near this camp. The black one I thought might be manganese, and the yellow one I could not attempt to classify. Will you kindly do so through the "In the Earth" columns of The Times, and oblige?

Very truly yours, W. W. B.

ANSWER: The dark-iron gray sample is magnetic iron ore, and not an ore of manganese. The yellowish substance is impure calcite, with zinc and iron present, together with a very low percentage of vanadic acid.

No Tungsten Values.

BARNWELL, March 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I send you seven samples from my claims located in the New York range, near Barnwell.

Some of the samples I believe to be tungsten. Please give me your opinion on them in the "In the Earth."

Oblige, W. D.

ANSWER: Your letter was carefully read and noted, and the questions you ask will now be replied to. Sample No. 1 is iron oxide (hematite and limonite,) and would make a fairly good grade of paint. No. 2 is manganese and iron oxides. No. 3, titaniferous iron ore. No. 4, streaks of iron (black oxide.) No. 5, iron granite (porphyritic.) No. 6, quartz, with iron oxides. No. 7, iron quartzitic-sinter. All of the samples "look very lean" for precious metal.

Low Percentage Asphaltum.

LOS ANGELES, March 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Has the enclosed sample of asphalt any especial value? It seems peculiar.

There is a bed of this about ten miles square in Mexico about fifteen miles from Texas line.

Would this indicate oil in these lands?

Respectfully, W. H. O.

ANSWER: Asphaltum lake beds have been known to rest on bodies of mineral coal.

The presence of paying wells of petroleum are not indicated by coal croppings. Nature does not yield her secrets by surface indications; indeed, as a rule, where asphalt shows up at the surface in more or less quantity it is a poor sign for petroleum of asphaltic base. All along the line of the D. and R. G. R.R., from Salt Lake to Rifle, Colo., and many miles north and south of the line, asphaltic surface indications appear with here and there proven deposits.

It would be well to prospect the rocks at the locality. If so-called oil shale and fossil limestone are present the indications would be good for oil.

It is to be regretted that the writer cannot again publish his "Petroleology," showing the oil localities from parts of Mexico and north to Canada; with map by Dr. W. J. McGee.

Zinc Carbonate.

SAN BERNARDINO, March 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I now submit some samples of ore from a locality 40 miles from Las Vegas, Nev. Will you name the rock in your "In the Earth" and oblige four prospectors.

Yours respectfully, D. C. B.

ANSWER: The samples are calamine with approximately 60 per cent. zinc, oxide, and, say, 35 per cent. carbonic acid. The samples are nearly pure.

Quartzitic Rock.

LOS ANGELES, March 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Sample from near Lemon, Cal., what is it?

Yours truly, J. L. W.

ANSWER: Carbonate of lime is present, with traces of lead and graphite.

Chlorite and Lava.

SIERRA MADRE, March 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Will you please tell me what the dark substance on S. No. 1 is? Is it a poor grade of mica? What is S. No. 2? It looks like lava to me and was found in some granite north of here. What causes the greenish vein in S. No. 3?

Respectfully, E. F. T.

ANSWER: Dark substance on No. 1 is a talcose coating; the rock is feldspathic. No. 2 is lava. No. 3 quartz with greenish vein—chlorite.

Low-Grade Copper and Iron Oxides.

LOS ANGELES, March 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] This rock was found about 19 miles east of Salton in the Chuckawalla Mountains, from a ledge cropping out of the surface.

Yours truly, E. I. W.

Tellurium Not Present.

HELIX, March 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] This piece of ore is from a claim a few miles east of Silver Lake, San Bernardino county, California. What I desire to know is if the yellow particles in the ore are tellurium, or what is it?

Yours truly, W. H.

ANSWER: The yellowish particles represent a very low percentage of vanadic acid.

Not Sylvanite.

Answer to Rebus

A stranger from Leavenworth Kan
Met a well known Los Angeles man
When asked "What d'you smoke?"
He replied "That's no joke"
"A St Elmo when ever I can"

The St Elmo Cigar is known near and far
As a clear "Havana made Kind"
Where ever you stay
You will hear the men say
That a better you never can find
There's a reason for this
Which will be hard to miss
And you'll understand what I mean
When I say that they're made
For the best class of trade
In a factory modern and clean

The Leaf mild or strong,
For the filler is long
And is of Havana the best,
And those men who know
A few thousand or so)
Have tried it by every known test;
If you want to know more
Just cut into the core
With a knife, and you'll find that each grade,
Is true to account
And to any amount;
They are fresh and "Los Angeles made

If the factory boss
Says that I've won the toss
In this rebus contest so fine
I'll do a clog dance
For the sake of the chance
To smoke the "St Elmo Brand"
For I Like a smoke
That is free from all dope
The kind you detect from afar
That's filled with Havana
In workmanlike manner
And that's the St Elmo Cigar

plant, for which the railroads have made a rate of $1 per ton from Lee station. Hauling to the cars is estimated at $1.15, and the mill charge at $6 per ton, making the cost of delivery and extraction, without that of mining at $7 to $8 per ton. There is a quantity of good rock in sight on that property, as the dump alone is stated to carry 200 tons of shipping stuff. On company account the present disclosure is rated at $400,000.

Prof. Kimball is expected back from Los Angeles Monday with news of his success with the Gold Bullfrog affairs. The mine has not been doing anything, and it is hoped against hope that with a resumption of activities that something will be forthcoming from the property.

On Montgomery Mountain a crosscut for the ore has been started on the 100-foot level, where a bunch has been tapped that looks like pay matter. A bunch of talc and quartz came in abreast that is regarded with much consideration. The crosscut is in eight feet today. Superintendent Kilker is testing some of this material today. In the pan it shows heavy concentrates. The contact of the Shoshone is expected to be reached in fifty feet.

The strike in North Springdale which caused the sensation of last week, is still active. A number of men have been in the field, but, as there is little opened, a curb has been put on the rush. The men who were in on the strike ground are plugging along, saying nothing. While no sensational samples have been encountered in place such as were obtained in the prospect work, the situation is very encouraging.

The Greenwater Death Valley Copper Company, whose property is about eighteen miles southwest of Death Valley Junction, has struck a great deposit of rich copper ore on the 1000-foot level. This company is one in which Schwab and Bob Montgomery have large holdings.

Alive, But Inactive.

J. F. Hubbard, president of the Copper Czar Mining Company, mention of which was recently made in The Times, says the company is still in existence. It has done no work for the last three years, and making no attempt to develop the claims in the Weaver district, Arizona, except doing the annual assessment work. This, he asserts, has been kept up. Mr. Hubbard gives the capitalization as $1,000,000, par value $1. Six hundred thousand shares was promotion, and treasury stock. Half the promotion and 25,000 treasury shares have been sold at from 2½ to 5 cents a share, the last sale being two and one-half years ago. Mr. Hubbard asserts that mismanagement by previous officials left the company financially stranded, with no funds for development.

Railroad to Mines.

The Chemung Copper Mining Company, in which Thomas F. Cole of the Cole-Ryan syndicate, and I. N. Merrill of Los Angeles are interested, plans to build a railroad from Whitewater on the Santa Fé, Grant county, N. M., to its mines, twelve miles distant. A mill will be built to handle the output of the mines, where a large tonnage is developed. The properties are near the town of Tyron, between Silver City and Deming. It was planned to build to Deming, but it is said satisfactory rate concessions were secured, and this project abandoned. At present only the branch from the railroad to the mine will be constructed.

ANSWER: The rock is mottled with iron oxides specks. Tellurium is not present. Very doubtful as a gold ore.

WHAT'S DOING IN SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—There are so many people here of late that three years after does not mean anything to them, and most of the old-timers would like to forget it. Time has softened the memory of the big fire, and when the Press Club strives to rekindle it by a theatrical benefit Editor Flynn of the Wasp stings it. He writes that the organization will be obtaining money under false pretenses, as its members are not newspaper men, to which they reply "et Tu Thomas."

The Press Club has a laugh on "Jerry" Lynch, Egyptologist and plutocrat, to whom it owes $2000 in rent. The club is going to move to new quarters on Market street because Lynch leased the rest of his building to a French restaurant, and the moral uplift of the organization was endangered. Lynch threatens to sue, but as the club is a voluntary organization, of which he is a member, the gay blades tell him to go sue himself.

Under the good of the order the Labor Council debated the topic of free lunch. The waiters wished it abolished because Japs cooked and served it. The butchers, the bakers and the candlestick makers opposed the waiters. The iron molders came out strong for the ancient custom. It may result in splitting the council, as Secretary Gallaher eats anything in sight, whether it is free or not, and as he is going to run for Mayor, a free lunch plank in his platform will be a tasty thing.

Promoter Gleason cannot get fight permits because Gavin McNab thinks that he is a bad actor, so Gleason in order to eat, drink and smoke fat cigars has written a play. He plans to revenge himself on the big Scotchman by sending him complimentary tickets and forcing him to see the performance through.

Five men who live up-State are going to start a Democratic daily newspaper in San Francisco. There are seven dailies here now of all shades of political complexion, and the competition for advertising is something fierce; but of course the five angels know nothing of this—they are from up-State.

The charter says that all people on the city pay roll must live in the city. A number of schoolteachers do not approve of this. They have bought small homes across the bay and are trying to convince the Board of Education that the charter does not mean what it says, it's only foolin'.

President Bourn of the Spring Valley Water Company is the best loser in the world. He has made a gallant struggle to get the drop on the city in the matter of a water supply and has played his cards gamely, but the city held the better hand and now on the show down Bourn is not whimpering, but cheerfully admits that he has lost.

Admiral Evans says that it was not as hard to bring the fleet out here as people think and he gives all the credit to the men under him. He does insist, however, that the Pacific Coast needs at least twenty-four battleships and as "Bob" is such an infernally positive old duck we dare not suggest a smaller number.

Former Vice-President Fairbanks looked as natural as ever the other day and was so sincerely glad to be in California again that no one was mean enough to suggest cocktails or iceburgs. The tall man from Indiana is much more genial out of office than he is in and by the time he is ready to try for the Presidency he will be a hail fellow well met.

Jack London is too ill to continue his trip around the world in the Snark but he is not too sick to write. He has written five books and a novel regardless of health and he is coming home to publish them regardless of consequences. This is another triumph of mind over matter.

Before the fire D. H. Burnham, a noted architect perched in a little bungalow way up on twin peaks, drew plans to beautify the city at a cost of $50,000,000. A beautiful book was published telling all about it, and that seemed to be as far as the beautification got. Now come the Supervisors with a proposed bond issue of $8,000,000 for a civic center to conform to the Burnham plans, and Satan came also in the shape of an editorial knocker who has other plans for the money.

Negroes used to say that the white man in the South was "moughty onsartain," and we must say the same thing of the farmer. Just as we are getting ready to eat up all the raisins to help the Fresno ranchers, along come the Santa Clara orchardists and want us to eat up all the prunes and we are daily expecting a request from Alameda county to eat up all the horse beans.

Fred Hogue of the Globe said that Blacksmith Tom McGee was a disreputable person, and the brawny one haled the editor to court and then smote him. Hogue is not on to the metropolitan editorial vogue of having a bodyguard handy for angry citizens.

Seven bankers petitioned to have the slot machines continue, as their abolishment would disturb finances. As nearly all of the seven lived out of the city their petition did not prevail with the Supervisors, who gave the street gamblers until July 1 to make their pile.

It was a lovely Easter. There never were so many beautiful hats exhibited here. The churches were crowded with them. The main event of the day was lost sight of and the Methodist minister who said that he would like to shy a hymnbook at the 1909 turban would not have missed his mark in any church here.

3 REASONS WHY

You Should Wear B. & K. Made to Measure Clothes Instead of Ordinary Ready-Made Garments

1st--The Clothes

—are individual creations: are cut in exactly the right proportion to fit every part of your figure: are made by skillful tailors from start to finish, thereby insuring garments that will hold their shape and hang properly to the very last.

2nd--The Cost

is no more than you pay for ready-made garments that are made to fit a dummy somewhere near your size. Many men have an erroneous impression that tailor-made garments are higher in price than ready-mades. This idea is entirely wrong. Whether your price be $20, $25, $30 or more, we can give you better value than you can possibly find in any ready-made suit at the same price.

3rd--The Satisfaction

There's a sense of satisfaction in wearing tailor-made garments that comes of the knowledge that your clothes are right in style. They fit right and feel right—a feeling which does not come to the wearer of ready-mades if he be a man of good taste in dress.

EXTRACTION SPECIALIST, who does nothing but extract teeth absolutely without pain.

CROWN AND BRIDGE SPECIALIST, who knows all the latest means of restoring lost teeth without plates.

NO BEER BUSTS FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS.

The New California Laws Insure a Drought in Territory Surrounding Big California Universities — Carousals Things of the Past.

BY HAROLD FRANCIS.

THE moral atmosphere in the neighborhood of California's two largest educational institutions, after July 1, will be all that any anxious parent can desire. Gov. Gillett has just signed the bill passed by the Legislature making it a misdemeanor for any person to sell, give away, or expose for sale, any vinous or alcoholic liquors upon or within one and one-half miles of the grounds or campus of any university having an enrollment of more than 1000 students, more than 500 of whom reside or lodge upon such university grounds or campus.

This bill was originally introduced at the request of the faculty of Stanford University, and was intended to protect the students from the wiles of the saloon men of Menlo Park. Later it was deemed advisable to make the bill general so that in future, any educational institution with a large enrollment might be freed from obnoxious saloons that tend to unfit the students for their work.

The fight, which has finally ended in making all the territory within a mile and a half of Stanford University a dry section, has been a long and unpleasant one. From the time the University was started eighteen years ago, the students were able to quench their thirst by a short walk to Mayfield. Some acquired the habit of frequenting this nearby village too often and drunkenness began to make its appearance. The faculty succeeded in getting the authorities to clean up Mayfield a few years ago and then a new crop of saloons suddenly sprang up a mile and a half away at Menlo Park. Stanford had had the misfortune to be uniformly successful in intercollegiate contests and this attracted a class of young men more interested in athletics and other amusements than in work, not at all the Stanford type of student. "Beer busts" and midnight carousals became the custom.

MENLO PARK'S LURE.

Menlo Park has a population of about 300 inhabitants. Fourteen saloons were concentrated in a few blocks and here at dusk the students gathered to enjoy a merry evening over the flowing bowl. One of the saloon keepers fitted up a clubroom with Stanford colors and posters, comfortable lounging chairs and card tables and made a specialty of importing the finest whiskies, beers and other wet goods to satisfy the thirst of the discriminating student drinkers. It was not at all uncommon for the college lads to return to their fraternity houses in an intoxicated condition, and scenes of dissipation and vulgarity disgraced the campus.

The faculty was indignant and the students themselves said that something must be done about it, but when the Committee on Student Affairs attempted to do something they took offense. Various demonstrations of revolt took place, and a general strike was threatened.

PENALTIES.

The final result was the suspension of forty-one students and the penalizing of 157 more by adding five to ten unit hours to their requirements for graduation. The punishment was considered so severe that a large number of decent and well-meaning students were led to rebel against the university authorities in defense of a vice for which they had no sympathy.

But the Stanford faculty were firm in their stand. They were determined to wipe out drunkenness at any cost. They prohibited the presence of alcoholic liquors in all student boarding-houses or chapter houses and threatened to cancel the registration of students frequenting saloons. To cap the climax they announced they would revoke the license of all fraternity houses in which liquors of any form were used. This action was a direct blow at the sixteen fraternity houses, as in nearly every case either the ground or the building, or both, are leased from the Stanford University authorities.

The enforcement of this rule effectually put an end not only to all "beer busts," but also tabooed the private and moderate use of liquor by the residents of the campus. The students at once complied with this rigorous action, as they realized the revocation of a lease would force a fraternity to leave the campus, with the probable resulting loss of its charter, and that a violation of the dictum of the trustees would end the existence of the guilty organization.

MORE RIGOROUS.

The last resolution of the trustees of the university went stull further in its application of this rule and extended its provisions to all student clubs and lodgings, including those in Palo Alto, which has a population of 5000 inhabitants, as well as those on the campus, even if the prohibition of liquor was not a part of the lease. Palo Alto, by the way, has never permitted saloons, but liquor is delivered into the homes.

The university faculty did not rest on their laurels. No sooner did they have the students residing on the campus and at Palo Alto under control than they planned to reach out for the saloons at Menlo Park. It was to preserve the good name of Stanford University and to protect the students who lacked power to resist that they therefore had Senator Black introduce the bill that was recently passed and signed by the Governor. While the saloon keepers of Menlo Park say they will test the constitutionality of the law in the courts, the general consensus of opinion is that they are doomed, and outside of liquor circles there is general rejoicing. Menlo is in the heart of one of the most aristocratic suburban residence sections of California, and owners of the beautiful country estates adjoining are delighted that, after July 1, there will be no midnight hilarity or drunken orgies to mar the quiet of their exclusive neighborhood.

The Leland Stanford University is only an hour's ride from San Francisco and students are discouraged from visiting the metropolis any oftener than is absolutely necessary. In the old days it was the custom to hold the great Stanford-Berkeley football game on Thanksgiving Day at San Francisco, and Stanford University alternately. When the game was played in San Francisco, thousands of students from the University of California and Stanford wound up the day in a wild celebration at the hotels, theaters and restaurants. Many of them suffered so severely from the effects of their jollification, that they were days in recovering their equilibrium and a mental condition that permitted them to take up their studies again. In order to put an end to this state of affairs, it was decided to change the day of celebration to the Saturday preceding Thanksgiving and substitute the Berkeley campus for San Francisco. This move has had the desired results. The games are just as largely attended and the aftermath is less injurious to the heads and purses of the students.

The thriving college city of Berkeley, which has a population of 40,000 people, has been practically dry ever since 1872, when our California law makers decided to protect the students who attended the University of California. No saloons are permitted to exist within a radius of two miles of the university grounds, although there is not a fraternity house, hotel or private boarding-house in which wine or beer is not served quietly. All the citizens have to do, if they want to replenish their stock, is to telephone to any liquor house or grocery store in Oakland, which is immediately contiguous, and in a few hours a delivery wagon will promptly deliver the desired supply. There is no attempt at strict enforcement of the law. The delivery of "wet goods" is done openly and no one makes the slightest protest. There is little or no drunkenness and the students are orderly and sober.

The "two-mile" radius includes practically the whole of Berkeley, for the university grounds cover 250 acres of land on the eastern side of Berkeley—undoubtedly one of the most beautiful college sites in the United States. The slope of the grounds from the bay towards the hills is gradual at first, rising finally to an elevation of 900 feet, where a large letter "C," built in cement in the hillside, stands guard over the sacred legends and traditions of the University of California. Groves of ancient live oaks, fir and acacia cover the campus. In their midst are the university buildings, many of them buried in ivy and Virginia creeper, while the newer structures of everlasting granite stand out in white contrast to the green around them. The college societies, such as Psi Upsilon, Alpha Delta Phi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Alpha, Phi Kappa Psi, Delta Upsilon and Beta Theta Pi, have beautiful homes at the edge of the campus. Directly opposite Berkeley, on the sea side, is the Golden Gate—that great thoroughfare through which the trade of the South Pacific and Far East passes into the United States.

TWO PRESIDENTS' CUSTOMS.

The writer had a good opportunity to study the presidents of these two great universities the other evening at a banquet given in honor of James Bryce, the British Ambassador to the United States. Dr. David Starr Jordan, who has been foremost in wiping out the drinking habit at Stanford University, evidently believes in setting a good example to the students. Hardly had he seated himself at the guest of honor table, when I noticed he turned his wine glasses upside down, to prevent the waiters from serving him either the white or red wine that was poured.

Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, of the University of California, on the other hand, seemed to enjoy the wine, although he drank sparingly. The dinner was given by the Commonwealth Club, composed of San Francisco's most representative citizens who are to purge our civic affairs and make San Francisco clean politically, socially and morally.

I called the attention of my neighbor to Dr. Jordan's empty glasses and he was immediately up in arms. "If he thinks wine is harmful, why doesn't he advise the sale of the Vina vineyard and stop the manufacture of brandy on ground owned by the university?"

THE 'VARSITY VINEYARD.

I must explain that one of the most valuable assets of the Leland Stanford University is the Vina vineyard in Tehama county, which was bequeathed to the university by its founder. It comprises about 3500 acres of vines, some of which were planted as long ago as twenty-five years.

It was the desire of Leland Stanford to make wine on a large scale and thus show the people of the world what California could produce. While he understood financiering and the building of railroads, he did not understand the viticultural industry and the result was, unfortunately for this State, that he selected a place where only a fair wine grape could be grown. Besides he was never especially fortunate in securing an A-1 wine maker. Stanford set out a vineyard of about 3000 acres of a stretch of valley land that produced about 8500 tons of grapes per year, but the quality of the wine was such that it was best fitted for distillation into brandy, which is now made on a large scale and is of a superior quality.

That the university trustees do not object to drinking by the public at large is evident from the fact that they are taking steps to increase their output instead of getting out of the business. About 500 acres were planted in new vines last year and I understand they now have in the nursery over 500,000 cuttings to be planted next year.

BERKELEY'S WINE INTEREST.

Strange to say, the University of California is also indirectly interested in the manufacture of wine. It has only recently come into possession of the valuable Kearny ranch of 5400 acres which lies on the west side of Fresno. One of its principal buildings is a winery which, for years, has been used by George West & Sons, one of the largest wine manufactures in the State. The ranch is in a high state of cultivation and was left by Mr. Kearny to the universit pose of an experiment gated farming. It con acres of grape vines grapes, a large portion cially the second and crushed at the winery ing, muscat-flavored br sumed more largely kind in the United Stat

Peace Oratorical Contest Participants.

Representatives of local colleges, who will deliver orations for the creation of peace sentiment, at Simpson Auditorium on Friday night.

AN ORATORICAL feast of more than ordinary interest has been arranged by Robert C. Root, the indefatigable secretary of the Southern California Peace Society, who seeks by every means to cultivate sentiment in behalf of universal peace and arbitration.

Leading clergymen of all denominations have been enlisted in a contest between representatives of the different colleges, which will take place at Simpson Auditorium on Friday evening, April 23. The entertainment will be free to the public, and in addition to the orations by the students, there will be a quartette or glee club from each of the colleges, and with a contingent of "rooters" in their wake, it is anticipated that there will be lively times.

Bishop Johnson of the Episcopal church will preside, and Rev. Matt S. Hughes of Pasadena, will present the prizes, while other leading ministers and college men will occupy the platform.

The contestants, each of whom will deliver an oration on the subject of universal peace, have been selected, after a preliminary try-out in their respective colleges, the winner having been named as the representative of the college in the contest. They are W. W. Mather of the University of Southern California; G. F. Spaulding of Occidental College; W. C. Fankhauser of Pomona College; and E. B. Healton of Whittier College. The young men are all said to be polished orators, and it is expected that Simpson Auditorium will be filled to overflowing, and college songs and college yells will add more or less hilarity to the occasion.

As indicating the general interest in the end sought for, through this somewhat novel contest, cash prizes worth while have been offered as follows: By the Friends churches, $100, for the best oration; by the Methodist churches, $75, for the second best oration, and by the Christian churches, $50, for the third best oration.

A large audience is assured, owing to the college following of each of the speakers, but it is much desired by the officers of the Peace Society that the general public take a deep interest in the matter and pack the house. Zest will be added to the contest by the knowledge that one of the four contestants will fail to win a prize, and after the audience has heard them all, speculation will be rife while the judges retire to prepare their report. Each person in the audience will probably prepare a slate of the winners, according to individual opinion, before the official winners are announced. During this period of waiting, there will be music and plenty of college fun to entertain the crowd.

How People Face Death.

A British medical man thus tells his experience of how men and women face death: Tell the man of higher type and greater intelligence, he says, that he is facing death, and he begins to fight, demands a consultation, talks about going to specialists and fights grimly to the finish. Tell a woman the same facts, and she lies back to await her fate. All women are fatalists. On the other hand, tell a man that he has one chance in a thousand to recover if he will undergo an operation, and he will trust to his own strength and endurance rather than undergo the knife. The woman will choose the thousandth chance, and submit to the operation with astounding calmness.

Chamber of Commerce Excursionists to Leave Los Angeles Next Wednesday to Go to Many Points of Producing Interest—Opportunities for Jobbers and Investors.

The "glad hand" business getting excursion under the auspices of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce through the famous San Joaquin Valley above the Tehachepi, April 21 to April 25, is to be one of the most notable trips in the history of the organization. Considerable enthusiasm has been aroused among the wholesalers and jobbers of the city, as well as many of the investors, who will enjoy exceptional opportunities to meet friends and visit a section of the State which has made wonderful progress in recent years.

This will be glad-hand excursion No. 112, with President Booth and other members of the official family of the chamber in charge of the special train, which will include not less than three sleepers, possibly four. Leaving Los Angeles at 9:30 p.m., the special will proceed direct to Porterville, from where the party will also visit Lindsay and Exeter, comprising the famous orange belt of the valley, where oranges ripen sixty days earlier than at Riverside.

About Visalia, the seat of Tulare county, is the beet-sugar district, where there is a large sugar factory in operation; also a fine section for deciduous fruits. The excursionists will have opportunity to note the marvelous developments which have been made in the vicinity of Dinuba, the great vineyard district. Thousands of miles of vineyard may be seen.

Entertainment is promised at Fresno, the best known raisin section on the Coast. There are many points of interest at Fresno, notably the great Kearney property. The visitors will be surprised to observe the progress made at the town of Hanford, county seat of Kings county, where the total bank deposits now aggregate $3,000,000.

Corcoran will be one of the principal points of interest on the trip. Here is located the million-dollar beet-sugar factory, built and operated entirely by Los Angeles capital. Tulare is one of the old towns of the valley, notable for dairy products, two carloads of fresh butter coming from that town daily to Los Angeles.

Delano is a flourishing town that is being developed by Los Angeles capital. Orchards and vineyards abound in the region of Delano. Opportunity will be given about Bakersfield to view the great Kern oil district, the stock farms, dairy and alfalfa fields. At this point the Kern County Land Company owns and operates the oldest of the old-time ranches in California. There are 450,000 acres in the ranch, 55,000 acres in alfalfa, and 60,000 to 80,000 acres devoted to stock raising and grazing.

One of the special sights of the trip will be shown at Pixley, between Tulare and Delano, where there are one thousand acres planted to eucalyptus. The plants were set out in March. Some distance away is more acreage in eucalyptus, planted a year ago.

It is urged that those intending to enjoy the privileges of this trip should send in notice for tickets without further delay. The menu on the dining car will be composed of California products.

LAST WORD IN LIBRARY FUSS.

Librarian Lummis in Retort to Miss Blandy.

mported Her Himself, But Is Sorry for It.

ives Some Figures on His Comings and Goings.

One more "last word" in the city li- ary squabble that was started and rried on by Miss Julia Blandy, re- ntly legislated out of the position of perintendent of branches.

Librarian Lummis, just back, he ys, from a vacation on the desert— s first rest, he declares in two years says the word, 5000 of 'em.

He says some things about Miss andy that have not been said before, d makes a detailed defense of him- lf and the institution against the arm charges that she incorporated in r latest outburst.

"Like Grant," says Lummis, "the blic library intends to have peace, if has to fight for it.

"The present attack on the whole in- itution is of a piece with the charges ought before the Civil Service Com- ssion against the Assistant Libra- an and three other employés. These arges ranging from misdemeanor to nal offenses (like falsification of records) were patiently tried out— d miserably fell flat."

On one side in the late unpleasant- s, he says, were ranged the five rary directors, and the three-score men, whose earnest and effective rk "has made this the most active d useful public library of its size America."

"OBSCURE IMPORTATION."

"On the other side," he continues, one employé, recently imported an obscure position in the East. ericans are supposed to have a e of humor; we even have a prov- about the tail wagging the dog. is needless to answer categor- the astonishing allegations of ex-employé, who has come to a rude frontier how to do busi- and to whom the prerogative of Civil Service Commission, the ncil, the charter, the library board the librarian are as nothing.

No one doubts the sincerity of the intiff. Sincerity is also the most nimous quality at Highland. We do not let the cook run the se, nor the porter administer the e. This employé has been given a er chance than any underling ever oyed here. Her employers are dis- isfied with the results; they have her so, after most patient trial for and one-half years of the largest ortunity ever given any employé this library. The reply is an at- pt to discredit the institution with credulous."

HIS OWN PROTEGE.

ummis admits that Miss Blandy is importation of his own; he fought ast the Civil Service Commission, library board and the staff, and ed her in a position, and now, he s, "it is only upon this outlandish tier that her criticisms venture to ly."

iss Blandy," he continues, "was r a librarian, an assistant libra- nor a head of a department un- she came here. No eastern library ever 'reformed' by her. She was of a multitude of 160 clerks in the ary of Congress." Here he quotes the chief of her department in library to show that her work a cataloguer was not up to the dards set by assistants of her le.

reviewing the events that led up he rumpus in the local library, the rian says Miss Blandy had made continued demands for special ileges, "delivered in a manner to h no employer was ever recon- l."

o far as the record shows," he , "no other employé of this library ll its history has been insolent to er associates and all her principles. . No other has ever shaken her under the librarian's nose—per- no other librarian has ever had privilege. More hours have been ted in trying to teach Miss Blandy certain modesty and patience h belong in all public service than been needed to direct any other artment of this library."

LUMMIS AND LIBRARY.

t, enough of Miss Blandy. What Lummis and the library. Taking of the librarian's statements at dom—or, rather, taking at random e of the librarian's statements— run thus:

hile 1908 is not a typical year, be- e it was a steady wrestle with ness (perhaps from overwork,) we take it. I was thirty-six days he East attending the annual con- nce of the American Library As- ation and visiting the principal lic and reference libraries of the ntry to learn what might be of use our own service. I took a type- ing machine along, and worked on ary work—correspondence, consul- ons, plans, reports, etc.—on an rage of over eight hours a day for whole absence.

uring the year I was also absent day in San Diego, three days in erside, two days in Lompoc—all by nal permission of the board; all matters as to which this library ally consulted, all including not less eight hours a day of actual li- y work.

MUMPS, ET CETERA.

lumps were ten days and other nesses were twenty-four more. thirty days more of sick leave, was in the library from one to five s on each of these days—and king on the library a full day when in bed. For every day of year—including holidays, sick s and absences, my average work my duties as librarian was nearer teen hours than twelve daily. Sun- , holidays—Christmas, Thanksgiv- and New Year's—are the same.

very day that I have been in the I have been in close telephone munication with the Library d and the library, using the tele- e from five to thirty times per The board, the library and any who asked always knew where to me.

uring the year I dictated and d over seven thousand library rs; read the proofs of printed and written reports to the extent of y thousands of pages; made inves- ions and censuses which resulted he removal of the library; made architect's plans for floor space n acre—marking every stack, ta- and electric lamp to the inch, and aged the removal. No other li- y in America, I believe, ever d without shutting up. It was ke to move 120,000 volumes as we moved them, without real interruption to the service.

HIS PROUD BOAST.

"There is on record in black and white for this one year to prove that I have done as librarian more than is contained in the archives of this library for the thirty-four years preceding my incumbency.

"Besides this, and the other many activities of such a service when it grows big, I held 106 consultations with members of the board outside board meetings, and 476 consultations of from ten minutes to three hours each with business houses, city officials and others outside the library quarters for the prosecution of business necessary to the library.

"Since taking charge of this library August 1, 1905, I have not written an article for pay. My market is 5 cents a word. I have had to abandon my own magazine which I founded here for other than mercenary reasons. Eight books were then on the stocks, and any one of them could have been finished with the time and effort I give this library each month. Not one of them has been touched since I took the library. Any other citizen or official could engage the expert services of our reference department to prepare the material for such work. I cannot, being librarian and of some conscience.

"I have even had to abandon the great work of my Encyclopedia of California and Spanish America. But I have given this library freely a duplicate of my five years' prior work—a gift larger in money value than this library ever received from any other source, and worth several thousand dollars.

"I like amusements also; but no one sees me anywhere except at the grindstone. In the last four years I have been but twice to the theater, three or four times to a club, five or six times to dinner at the house of friends. No one has seen me at the baseball games, football games or other diversions, all of which I can appreciate.

AS TO EXTRAVAGANCES.

"The finances of the library are intrusted by the charter not to the superintendent of branches, but to the Board of Library Directors. Miss Blandy's whole attack upon the institution—confessedly for revenge, for she was willing to draw her salary as long as she could, even in this wicked institution—may be judged by her allegations as to our extravagances. She declares that 'during the year 1906-7, $3000 was paid for one work on Indians.' This is $3000 out of the way by the calendar. We did subscribe that year for Curtis's monumental work on western history; and in October, 1908, paid $300 for volumes received; and will pay the same rate until the conclusion of the series, some ten years from now. It is a work which every self-respecting library has to purchase—in Portland and Seattle there were fifty-two subscriptions. In Los Angeles it seems advisable that the public library at least should furnish this work for its patrons. The work now sells for 50 per cent. more than we paid.

"We did pay last year $350 'for twenty-six little Japanese prints.' We can sell them within a month for $1200. It seems to escape some people that this library has an art department of over 8000 items; that women's clubs, teachers, scholars, art students, architects make enormous use of it; that this is a recognized function at public libraries everywhere and that the Los Angeles public library is peculiar only in the fact that it is more useful than most of its fellows.

NO SUCH MACHINE.

"Miss Blandy charges that 'an accounting machine was bought that sells in the market for something like $375. It is an extravagant luxury.' No accounting machine has ever been bought for this library at any price.

"No department of this library 'squanders' money. The problem of proportion—as to population served and as to the value of the service—is pretty carefully worked out. The only foolish expenditures in any department that I have known of during my incumbency were made by Miss Blandy last year. Without authority and through a routine abused by no other principal, she secured for the branches a large number of expensive textbooks which have no place there until the library shall be far better endowed—like the European 'Who's Who.' The heads of other departments have some judgment as to the value of books in money and proportion. It was Miss Blandy's serene independence in ordering the books on her own account which forced the board to adopt the rule that no card of the 20,000 we now process annually should go through without my personal O. K."

MISERIES OF LONDON LIFE.

Nothing Done to Cool the Heat of Summer or to Warm Rooms in the Winter.

A caustic correspondent of the Gothenberg Svenska Dagbladet has given his views on the miseries of London life. He says:

"I have heard much of English comfort, but when I came here I failed to discover anything of it. It consists principally of an old armchair, both with the rich and the poor. The Englishman seeks an infinitessimal amount of comfort. seems indeed to be able to be at ease anywhere, as well on the floor as in an easy chair.

"In the suffocating heat of a London summer nothing is done to cool the streets, and in the bars and restaurants beer and soda water are served warm. The arrangements in an English house in winter are completely incapable of keeping the rooms warm. Double windows, used by the poorest in Sweden, unknown.

"In the very best hotels it is true that one finds comfortable chairs, but they are usually placed where no one would think of sitting. I have never yet succeeded in the best hoteds in London in getting a room where the electric light switch was anywhere near the bed.

"English cleanliness is much spoken of. The Englishman must have a great deal of water to wash with. A quantity must be splashed all over the room, and in particular there must be a great pool near the washstand. When an Englishman washes his face in seventy-eight cases out of a hundred he simply takes the water in his hands and blows it all over the floor.

'Englishmen are made over fresh air. The expression may seem ironical to those who know how in London one does not so much breathe the air as swallow it. Tramway car windows stand open the whole year round, and there is no country like England for the prosperity of dealers in cough and cold medicines.

"Hygiene may appear to be perfect in London, but they still say that much remains to be done. Spitting is not allowed in the parks, at least not near the seat. I have found that one of the cheapest and best places for spitting is the British Museum, where it only costs $10. On the Great Eastern Railway it does not cost more the first time, but afterward the price is $25 a time, in direct opposition to the usual business principles of discount."

The Doctor's Orders.

"You must drink hot water with your whisky," the doctor told his patient; "otherwise you musn't take it at all."

"But how shall I get hot water?" the patient queried plaintively. "My wife won't let me have it for the whisky toddy."

"Tell her you want to shave," the doctor said, and took his departure.

The next day the doctor called and asked the wife how his patient was.

"He's gone raving mad," his wife replied. "He shaves every ten minutes."—Washington Star.

It is presumed to be infallible, and highly efficient in quickly restoring health and strength to those suffering from "nervous exhaustion," weak vitality, melancholia and the functions.

First get 50 cents' worth of compound fluid balmwort in a one-ounce package and three ounces syrup sarsaparilla compound; take home, mix and let stand two hours; then get one ounce compound essence cardiol, and one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom.) A Word to the Theater-Goers of Los Angeles

Seven weeks ago the Belasco Theater Company gave the first performance on any stage of a new play by George Broadhurst, called "THE DOLLAR MARK." The success of the play was of the most sensational sort. In twenty-four hours the word was spread over the entire city that here, at the Belasco, was the most remarkable play of the century.

Since that memorable first performance seven weeks ago the Belasco Theater has been jammed to the doors at every performance. Thousands have been disappointed because they tried too late to get tickets for this admittedly great play. Up to date, exactly [illegible] persons have witnessed "THE DOLLAR MARK."

Out of this enormous number of playgoers not a single dissenting voice has been heard. No such unanimous chorus has ever been heard in praise of any play. Some captious person can usually be found to discover faults in the most perfectly constructed play, but in the case of "THE DOLLAR MARK," this critical element has been lacking.

The management of the Belasco Theater finds it necessary to continue "THE DOLLAR MARK" FOR ANOTHER CROWDED WEEK, COMMENCING TOMORROW NIGHT. This means that those who have been unable to get seats for the past performances may still have another opportunity. The Belasco management urges every one who wants to see what is positively the greatest play of the day to take advantage of this last chance to see Mr. Broadhurst's sensational triumph.

You will never have another opportunity like this one—certainly not until "THE DOLLAR MARK" will have finished its successful career in New York and after the Syndicate companies that will be sent to all parts of the country at the $2.00 a seat scale of Syndicate prices, have got through with the piece.

Take our honest advice and don't overlook this grand opportunity to see this world record breaking play.

Greet Altschuler

Ben Greet, Modest Altschuler,

and several of the principals of Mr. Greet's company, which will give Shakespearean performances at the Auditorium this week, augmented by the Russian Symphony Orchestra of New York. The affair is under the auspices of Al Malaikah Temple, A.A.O.N.M.S.

TOPICS OF THE STAGE.

By Julian Johnson.

Ben Greet is an energetic man of peculiar artistic temperament, who started out some years ago to carve his name upon our contemporary dramatic record in an entirely individual manner. He has succeeded.

Greet's first idea of Elizabethan productions, in which realism was made quite subservient to meager historicism, ran hard afoul of the managerial profession. The managers said that Greet, husbanding his resources and carrying entire productions in a trunk, was trying to get by his poverty with a pretense of art. In street phraseology, he was putting one over on the rest of the theaters. They had to give productions or be hammered, Greet could slump the production and the affairs would be called historic.

However, Mr. Greet did some very good things in his Elizabethan way. In his Los Angeles season he gave a remarkable representation of the old morality "Everyman," and also one of the best-rounded, most intelligently conceived performances of "Hamlet" that we have ever had in this city.

Mr. Greet went East, and attained quite a vogue with pastoral plays. His success was much more than ordinary, and among other things, he gave a pastoral production on the White House grounds in Washington, under executive auspices. It was a great success.

More recently, Mr. Greet has allied himself with Modest Altschuler, director of the Russian Symphony Society of New York. Mr. Altschuler, as I learned in New York, though I did not hear him, is accounted a musicianly, intelligent and preëminently forceful conductor—one who has really added something solid to the immense substrata of art in the metropolis.

Mr. Altschuler has an orchestra on this tour of about fifty men. It is probably an orchestra arranged especially for this journey, but from criticisms of its performance en route, I should judge it to be a capable and well disciplined body of players.

The Greet-Altschuler engagement at the Auditorium this week, commencing tomorrow night, is under the auspices of Los Angeles notable Shrine Temple, Al Malaikah, with the more immediate supervision of Manager L. E. Behymer.

Mr. Greet's actors and actresses include D. T. Crittenden, A. Hilton Allen, Frank Darch, Edward Arnold, Leon Brown, J. Sayer Crawley, Percival Seymour, Redmond Flood, LeGai Robinson, Earl Q. Snider, Grace Halsey Mills, Irene Rooke, Violet Vivian, Milton Rosmer, Ruth Vivian and George Vivian.

The bill for the opening performance is the "Midsummer Night's Dream," with the entire Mendelssohn music. Grace Clark Kahler will sing the two incidental songs. Mr. Greet himself will play Bottom, the weaver.

On Tuesday evening, and at the Wednesday matinée, "Romeo and Juliet" will be given, with Mr. Rosmer as Romeo, Violet Vivian as Juliet, and Mr. Greet as Friar Laurence. The music will include many excerpts from the Gounod opera of the same title, and the Tschaikowsky fantasia and intermezzo.

Wednesday evening "The Tempest" will be seen, with Sullivan's music and the Tschaikowsky overture.

Thursday night "Everyman" will be revived. The player of the part of Everyman is not named in the programmes issued so far. The orchestra will prelude the Morality with the "Parsifal" prelude and the Good Friday music, from the same work.

On Friday evening and at the Saturday matinée "As You Like It" will be given, with the musical accompaniment in excerpts from the Beethoven Pastoral Symphony.

The Saturday night—closing—bill is not announced. It may be "A Midsummer Night's Dream," or it may be "As You Like It."

No provision has been made for separate orchestral concerts. This is somewhat singular, as there were many inquiries and a frequently-expressed desire for the same.

Some one remarked, the other day, that no orchestral concerts would be vouchsafed by Altschuler for the reason that the local management wished to save all orchestra patronage for the local symphony. This is not believable. It is too silly, narrow and closed-shoppish for belief.

Meanwhile, it is to be hoped that at least one afternoon may still be set aside for Altschuler's exclusive use here. There will be many who will be disappointed if some such provision is not made.

THE LOCAL WEEK.

George Broadhurst's play, "The Dollar Mark," will continue at the Belasco Theater. This play, which is the hit of the spring season, seems imperatively demanded by the entire Belasco patronage, and accordingly "Miss Hobbs," in which Miss Reed is to make her début, is postponed for the 'steenth time.

The appearance of Tom Nawn is one of the Orpheum's yearly events. Mr. Nawn's traditional Celtic comedy is well known, and his announcement for the first week of his stay will be well received by his old admirers. The piece to be used is a revival of "Pat and the Genii," in which Mr. Nawn will be remembered as being very, very funny. His company includes Mrs. Nawn and Miss Charlotte Apelle.

The four Poncherrys, in a new acrobatic act, are European aërial artists, said to be very fine. James H. Cullen, monologist, is making his eleventh tour around the circuit. Herr Silbon's trained cats are said to be the best troupe of the sort upon the stage today.

The holdovers include the Eight Palace Girls, Ray L. Royce, the Blessings and McDonald and Huntington.

Florence Stone and Dick Ferris will return to the Majestic stage for the week, beginning with tonight's performance and including the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinées, in a revival of Harry B. Smith"s dramatized version of "The Lightning Conductor." The play proved a popular feature of the last Ferris season at another house, and its repetition at this time doubtless will attract good audiences. Miss La Cigale Ferris, whose stage début was made in "Friends," a fortnight ago, will be in the supporting company, which will include, also, Carrie Clarke Warde as Aunt Mary, the part she played upon the comedy's former presentation; William Yerance, Harry Mestayer, Willis Marks, Hale Studebaker, Margo Duffet, Carol Marshall, Jessie Jordan and others.

The story of the comedy sets forth the misadventures that befall Miss Molly Randolph, a young, pretty and rich American girl, who, under the chaperonage of her aunt, undertakes a motor car tour through France. Their car breaks down and they are abandoned by their rascally chauffeur on the road between Dieppe and Paris. In this predicament comes the Hon. John Winston, who repairs the break, and then, in a spirit of fun, engages himself to Miss Randolph as mechanician. The Hon. John is kept fairly busy thereafter extricating his employer from numerous scrapes, but he finds time to fall in love with her and she with him.

"Salomy Jane," first presented at the Burbank a year ago, will be revived at that house during the present week, beginning with the usual matinée performance today. The play is an idyll of early days in California, based on Bret Harte's famous story, "Salomy Jane's Kiss," and prepared for the stage by Paul Armstrong, author of "The Heir to the Hoorah."

Duplications in the two casts are noted in the assignments of Blanche Hall as Salomy Jane; William Desmond as "the man"—a character to whom neither story-writer nor playwright gave a more distinctive designation; A. Byron Beasley as Jack Marbury; John W. Burton as Yuba Bill, the stage driver; Henry Stockbridge as Col. Starbottle; H. S. Duffield as Madison Clay; David Edwin as Red Pete, and Louise Royce as Mrs. Red Pete. Charles Giblyn will play Larabee, formerly assumed by Gerald Harcourt, and Frederick Gilbert, a newcomer to the Burbank stage, will be seen in H. J. Ginn's old role of Rufe Waters.

Harry Glazier II, the young son of the late Harry Glazier, will return to the stage to play Willie Smith. His last previous appearance at the Burbank was in the original production of "The Halfbreed."

Richard Carle's comedy, "The Mayor of Tokio," will be given this week at the Grand Operahouse.

The story of "The Mayor of Tokio" concerns the adventures of an American theatrical manager who has taken his organization on a tour through Japan in the hope of reaping a substantial harvest of yen. In Tokio they are mistaken for a royal train and are received with princely courtesy. The Mayor is continually hounded by a Japanese conspirator and his boon companion, a Russian spy, who never appears on the scene without an Indian-rubber bomb.

There is a chance for much effective costuming, a good deal of Carle's characteristic patter-comedy, some tuneful music, and good parts for Mr. Hartman, Oscar Walsh, Miss Neilsen and Walter de Leon.

Next week will be the Hartman company's last this season, and the concluding piece will be a revival of "It Happened in Nordland"—which they will produce en route to Seattle.

Coin's canine comedians, presenting "It Happened in Dogville," will head the vaudeville bill at the Los Angeles Theater this week, beginning with the usual matinée performance tomorrow. The dogs enact an entire one-act comedy without the appearance of a human upon stage, being directed entirely from behind the scenes. The stage is set to represent a street in Dogville and the dogs are clothed to indicate the characters they are supposed to portray.

Of local interest will be the first stage appearance in this city of Sarah Louise Cogswell, a young soprano. The young woman's grandfather, now dead, was the celebrated California portrait painter, William Cogswell, who painted the portraits of every Governor the State ever had and whose full-length oil of Lincoln now hangs in the White House.

Other acts include Mareena, Nevaro and Mareena, novelty equilibrists; "Lightning" Hooper, a cartoonist, who illustrates his own monologue as he talks, and Black and Grant, singing and talking comedians.

"Billie Ken," a new musical comedietta built around the "Billiken" fad, will occupy the Unique stage this week, under Frank Blair's direction. The plot of the piece concerns one Felix O'Grady, burdened with a handsome but nagging wife. O'Grady is addicted to the Great White Way, and is caught by his wife while in the company of a Salome dancer.

The results are of the usual la able sort.

Will Armstrong plays O'G while Miss Elwood is Mrs. O'G with Miss Atkins as Cornelia E um, the O'Grady's servant. Ben lar, John J. Martin and Miss P have good character parts.

Miss Irene Earle will sing th lustrated songs.

The Booth-Garden trio, said t phenomenal bicyclists, head the er Theater bill this week. The brothers bring an act said to something in head balancing, Ro ring work and posing. Warren W son is a bird imitator, and his a illustrated by a number of pic made especially for him. Mi Manning, soubrette, will introdu variety of new songs and dances. Shields will give an exhibition aërial cycle riding on the slack Stanley and Uline, comedians, wi some character impersonation. Jo Manley, in new illustrated songs, new motion pictures, conclude bill.

The Sugomotos, Jap acrobats Fischer's, have scored an unusual and will remain to lead the vaude bill for another week.

There is also another acro novelty in the Fowlers, who do a tumbling act. Winnie Baldwin Komar are the fun makers of the the former doing dainty songs dances, while the latter distrib farcical comedy from a slack Mlle. Syma is featured in co tionary dances, while Robert The prestidigitator, has some varia in feats of magic. Trevathan W. S has some new illustrated songs.

Kolb and Dill will open their sp season at Hamburger's Majestic ater next Sunday with the first entation in Los Angeles of amusing musical comedy, "The ticians." The Teutonic laugh eners closed their season at the Donough Theater, Oakland, night. They will thus have days in which to prepare for Los Angeles opening. When Frédéric d'Erlanger's opera, Tess of the D'Urbervilles," based on Thomas Hardy's most popular novel, is given for the first time in England at Covent Garden in June, the name part will be created by Emmy Destinn, who has made her principal successes with her London public as Valentine in "Les Huguenots," Madam Butterfly and Aida. "Tess" has not met with sufficient success the few times it has been performed in Italy to justify its production at Covent Garden without the interested influence of a director. In this case the director is the composer himself. An earlier opera of his, "Ines Mendo," was introduced there eleven years ago. No one has the faintest recollection of it now.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS.

By Julian Johnson.

The professional standing of the musician—why is it so often infringed upon, dragged down, made as nothing?

Art may be art in all the senses of the word, but unless it is a business, and a very thorough one at that, the artist has very little chance to live. We except, of course, the rare cases where the artist has an independent fortune and pursues the divine entirely for its own sake.

The truth is, however, that a large part of our professional musicians here in Los Angeles, industriously working at teaching, public engagements or class instruction, are continually nagged by selfish people who should know better—nagged to give their valuable time, or their services, which are their only capital, for either nothing at all or a return which is merely nominal.

I can recount a number of instances which have come under my observation in the past month.

In one case, a bank president sent for two professional women singers to dispense comforting melody at the funeral of a near relative. Rehearsal and actual attendance, of course, consumed the better part of an entire day. And the bank president sent them a nice letter of thanks. He was not a personal friend, or even an acquaintance. He only attended church where they sing each Sunday.

Again, a society woman who poses as a patron of the arts, had met a local violinist of very promising talent, who, through serious illness in his family, is very reduced financially. The society woman asked him to play at an afternoon affair for her. He played, as he considered it—on account of her position—almost a command from the throne. He canceled two lesson hours to keep the engagement. The society woman, as he left the house, told him that he played very nicely, and that she was greatly obliged.

Once more, a woman's educational institution, having a class exercise of some sort, asked one of the pupils to use her influence to procure the donation of Mrs. Blank's services for the affair. Mrs. Blank has every hour of the day profitably filled. She is finishing the payments on her home, and is supporting an aged mother. The institution in question has been conducted on a paying basis for years, and has a reserve fund of perhaps $50,000.

John Jones, or so we will call him, is a man worth a million. He has a sick mother. He asked Mrs. X to give his mother an afternoon of song last week. Mrs. X is an industrious teacher, who had to cancel several lesson hours in order to oblige John Jones. The next day John Jones called up Mrs. X and said that his mother thought her a very nice singer. Thanks. That's all.

Yet, in the same way, John Jones would not think of asking the physician to whom he nods every noon at the club, to prescribe for his mother—for thanks.

And the woman's school would be shocked were Mrs. Blank to ask them for some tuition favors for her daughter. They would call her simply, and without hesitation, a grafter.

Perhaps these people feel that influence repays the artist lavishing his or her gifts without monetary recompense. But influence, though beneficent and at times quite priceless, does not buy bread at Broker Patten's increased figure, nor pay for residence

"From Far and Lonely Bivouacs of the Night."

From far and lonely bivouacs of the night
There fell the challenge that the crickets cry,
And now the expectant maples stir and sigh,
Green hills assemble, and behold, the light
Spreads out a sheaf of arows keen and bright,
And flings his banners to the gladdening sky;
White conqueror is he; before him fly
Grim myrmidons of darkness and affright.

White conqueror is he; his arrow stirred,
Yet did not wound, the heart of yonder rose;
They wove enchantment round the mocking bird,
Till all the air grew vibrant as a lyre;
They touched a soul that slept, and lo, it glows
With love, with duty, and divine desire!

At the Kanst Gallery.

An exhibition of pictures by various painters, American as well as foreign, opens at the Kanst gallery tomorrow, to continue for two weeks. The chief exhibitor will be Rustom Vicaji, an English artist, who will show twenty canvases, landscapes of France and England and canal scenes painted at Bruges. Unfortunately, Mr. Vicaji's pictures were not yet hung when this article went to press. They will receive more extended notice next week.

Among the other exhibitors will be Norman St. Clair, who will show some of his beautifully painted water colors of Southern California. Frank Coburn will have two excellent street scenes of Los Angeles, one, painted on a rainy night, being Grand avenue looking toward the Walker Theater; it glows with color. Another scene, also wet, but in daylight, skirts Central Park on Sixth street, and looks toward the huge white Pacific Mutual Insurance building; this is very pleasantly cool in color, as befits the theme.

Frederick Frieseke will exhibit a well painted nude, low and quiet in tone, "The Blue Bowl." F. C. V. Ede, a Canadian painter, who lives in Ottawa, and who is a member of the Royal Canadian Art Society, will show two cattle pictures, one in water colors, the other in oils, both fine in feeling and color.

There will be three oils, very different in mood and technical expression, by Ida J. Burgess, a pupil of William M. Chase and Walter Shirlaw, a member of the Woman's Art Club, New York, and the Society of Artists, Chicago. The view in Central Park, New York, showing the buildings on Fifty-sixth street in full sunlight, has the shimmering light of a Childe Hassam, and was done with Raffaelli dry sticks of paint very much in Hassam's manner. The picture of two French peasant girls posed among slim trees against a background of quiet sea, is correctly if somewhat perfunctorily painted; it is evidently the work of an "advanced pupil," and bears the signs of academic training. However, it is pleasing in color, and is not without sentiment. The third picture, a ship at anchor on a gray sea, with a line of shore in the distance, is freely and delightfully painted, full of light and atmosphere. In composition, however, it leaves something to be desired. Composition, indeed, is not this artist's strong point.

Portraits of John H. Rich.

The exhibition of recent pictures which John H. Rich is holding in the Greene gallery, at No. 384 Colorado street, Pasadena, and which closes tomorrow, contains seven very interesting portraits, all of them, I believe, of Pasadena people.

Of these, the most pleasing one to me is that catalogued "Portrait Study of My Brother." Perhaps my liking for this particular canvas is largely due to the fact that when painting it the artist was allowed "full swing." He had no patron to appease, he made no concessions to prettiness. The sturdy young fellow was quite good-looking enough in himself to make an appeal to any artist. He sits with resolutely folded arms, and wears with ease and dignity the blue coat and trousers of the local militia. The hands, in white cotton gloves, are beautifully drawn, and the head is well modeled. The background is a flat, dull brown wall, and a sharp shadow is flung upward at the left. In tone the picture is quiet and restful.

But the other portraits, though perhaps more conventional than "My Brother," still express the artist quite as much as they do the sitters. It is but fair to state that Mr. Rich makes his sitters interesting to us without "concessions to prettiness." He chooses his backgrounds with discriminating care. Two of the women recently painted by him are placed against dull browns and reds, well calculated to bring out the delicacy and refinement of their coloring. These are the portraits of Mrs. Adalbert Fenyes and Mrs. Thomas Curtin.

The portrait of Mrs. Curtin is full of reality, with special regard to the modeling of the hands and arms, which are bare. The pose is easy and natural, and all the accessories are painted adequately and without over insistence. We know that the lady is holding a charming fan of pink-flowered lace, and feel, with the artist, only a casual interest in the exact pattern of the flowers.

The portraits of both Mrs. Curtin and Mrs. Fenyes are beautiful in their flesh tones. The latter shows us a gray-haired lady, with a face that is full of character, sitting in a carved chair and fondling a Mexican lap dog. The lady is dressed in a lilac gown covered with lace. Her gown, as well as the ermine robe flung carelessly over the back of the chair, are painted with Mr. Rich's usual suggestiveness. They have color and texture that are lovely to the eye, but they do not claim your attention at the expense of the wearer.

Mr. Rich also shows a charming child portrait, Miss C., and a fine portrait of Miss Ruth Hoyt, a young girl of fourteen. The portrait of Miss Hoyt is especially rich in its coloring. The face, with its direct and candid gaze, is that of an unusually fine type of the American girl.

The portrait of Dr. Fenyes has dignity, and shows a keen appreciation of character. The flesh tones are rich and "juicy." The white collar and tie, and the gray coat, are painted with a direct and sure deftness of touch which in itself gives great artistic pleasure to the beholder.

It is Mr. Rich's intention to give more and more of his time to portraiture. Most certainly he has the true instinct of the portrait painter, and we may be sure that future portraits that come from his brush will never degenerate into the perfunctory and obvious. They will be pictures as well as portraits.

Adventures of Borg.

Carl Oscar Borg, the well-known landscape painter, who went to Guatemala some six months ago, has at last been heard from. His letter to me was written at San Francisco on April 9. He is now in Santa Barbara. In a few weeks he will be with us in Los Angeles once more.

Some doughty mortals seem born to adventure, and some have adventure thrust upon them. Mr. Borg evidently belongs to the first and more fortunate class. Wherever his instinct brings him there is "something doing." Here is a list of his very recent adventures, enough to color half a dozen shilling shockers:

"I am back again in God's country," he writes, "and think I had better stay here some time now before I start out on another adventure. I have been very busy the last six weeks. Have been arrested for taking photographs in Guatemala; fights with Indians came near breaking my leg; had fever in La Union; was taken for an American spy in Salvador; shipwrecked on the Mexican coast; rescued by a United States warship and taken to San Francisco. I think that will do for some little time. A whole lot of things can happen in a few weeks. Don't you think so?"

The young artist also adds that he has a big stack of sketches to show when he finally reaches Los Angeles.

ART NOTES.

The paintings and charcoals of Helen Chandler were shown in the first floor studio of the State Normal School on Friday and Saturday of the past week. Further notice of these charming pictures will appear in next week's Art and Artists.

Next Wednesday evening a tea will be given at the Kanst gallery, No. 642 South Spring street, in honor of Rustom Vicaji, the English painter, twenty of whose pictures are being exhibited. All interested in art are invited for Wednesday evening.

At the Blanchard gallery, opening on Wednesday and continuing for two weeks, there will be an exhibition of portraits by California painters, the most of them being local. About twenty pictures will be shown. Among the exhibitors are Rob Wagner, John H. Rich, John W. Clawson, Joseph Greenbaum, Jean Mannheim, Helma Heynsen Jahn, etc.

The collection of portraits from the brush of H. C. Shriner of Denver closed at the Gould gallery yesterday.

The exhibition of pictures by American painters held at the Steckel gallery under the auspices of the Fine Arts League of Los Angeles closed yesterday.

At Keppel & Co.'s, No. 4 East Thirty-ninth street, New York, there is now being shown an interesting collection of engravings after pictures by Watteau, Lancret, Pater, Chardin, Boucher, Van Loo, Fragonard and other artists of the eighteenth century in France.

Kind Hearts--Good Deeds

"How far that little candle throws his beams!
So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

So much is said about the evil, the corruption in the world, that it is a good thing to say a word now and then about the good there is in the world. Perhaps the "muck-rakers" are needed, but there is an equal need of keeping before the people the fact that there are thousands of good people in the world, and the record of their good deeds makes pleasant reading, and gives one much more of an uplift than the reading about so much that is evil.

The great-heartedness of many of the rich people in America was made manifest last year in their very large gifts to religious, charitable and educational enterprises. Statistics prove that they gave away the enormous sum of $132,000,000. Of this great sum, $70,000,000 was given for the cause of education. Charitable homes and orphanages received no less than $6,000,000, and nearly $9,000,000 was given for home missionary work. Of course, there were many thousands given of which there is no record, for it is only the large gifts that are made public.

The small salaries paid college professors is not being lost sight of by friends of education. We have already noted several very substantial gifts to different educational institutions, the income to be used for professors' salaries. Another one is made to Harvard University by Frank Gordon Thompson, to the amount of $50,000, the money to be used for salaries in the department of history and government, with the special intention of improving the instruction in municipal government.

MR. AND MRS. F. P. MORRISON gave a ball at the Country Club on Tuesday evening. The guests numbered about two hundred. The clubhouse was converted into a tropical bower by the use of date palm branches, bamboo, potted palms and ferns and masses of pink and white roses. DEAF? Or, Maybe, Slightly So? Use an Aurophone

It is the one thoroughly successful invention for your purpose. Read what Mr. F. I. Hubbard of Alameda says: "I have been deaf for near twenty years. . . . My business is that of a commercial traveler, and I lost a good position through my inability to hear. Later I tried several other so-called helps. . . . Those that were of any use whatever were so inconvenient or conspicuous that I could not use them. THE AUROPHONE IS CONVENIENT AND EFFICIENT. I can do business now, can enjoy a lecture, can go to church or hear a play. Sounds that I had not heard for years are again familiar."

How to Get Fat Free!

No Longer Need Men Be Skinny or Women Scrawny.

50c Box Mailed Free to Any Thin Person.

Thinness can be called a disease just as much as rheumatism, fever or cancer. And in many cases it is dangerous to life, for the thin, emaciated, skinny frame is not as capable of resisting many diseases as the fat, well developed man or woman. Consumption, for example, finds its greatest number of victims among those who are under weight.

Fortunately, science has at last found what may well be called the fat-making principle, Sargol.

The Happy, Successful World Turns Its Back on Thin Folks.

At any rate, those who use Sargol soon find themselves gaining in weight, filling out their clothes in good, solid flesh, and gaining the flesh and development that take them out of the class of skinny men and scrawny, unnatural women.

Do not think from its name that Sargol is an oil or greasy preparation that is disagreeable to take, like cod liver oil and other remedies prescribed for thinness. Far from it. In dainty tablet form, it can be taken like candy, and is so pure and healthful that it may be given to delicate children or those infirm with years.

To spread as quickly as possible the knowledge of this simple treatment, that without special diet or exercise will put flesh on the thin and scrawny, a 50-cent package will be mailed free to any one who wishes to weigh more, desires a better development, or who feels the need of greater vigor and strength. All that is necessary is to write the Sargol Company, 64-D, Herald Building, Binghampton, N.Y.

Cut out this coupon and pin it to your letter. Please enclose ten cents to help pay distribution expenses.

COUPON

This certificate and 10 cents to help defray distribution expenses entitle the holder to one fifty-cent package of Sargol tablets, the home treatment which makes thin folks plump and attractive.

Issued through Los Angeles Times.

GOOD FOR TEN DAYS.

A Skin of Beauty is a Joy Forever

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

PURIFIES as well as beautifies the skin. No other cosmetic will do it.

Removes Tan, Pimples, Freckles, Moth Patches, Rash, and Skin Diseases, and every blemish on beauty, and defies detection. It has stood the test of 60 years, and is so harmless we taste it to be sure it is properly made. Accept no counterfeit of similar name. Dr. L. A. Sayre said to a lady of the haut-ton (a patient): "As you ladies will use them, I recommend 'Gouraud's Cream' as the least harmful of all the skin preparations." For sale by all druggists and Fancy-Goods Dealers in the United States, Canada and Europe.

One Last Great Oriental Rug Event!

¶--The most important, far beyond comparison, of all Oriental Rug Sales ever held in the West. One of the largest and choicest collections in America, to be offered without a single reservation or exception, beginning tomorrow, (Monday) morning, at eight-thirty o'clock, at

½ Regular Price--½ Real Worth

¶ Conditions have arisen which force this sale. We have just taken over the entire Oriental rug stock of the Los Angeles Furniture Co. This, added to our own immense rug holdings, gives us a stock so enormous that even we, having the largest rug department of any western firm, find it impossible to handle it to advantage. This sale is therefore imperative. We have not room for this tremendous stock. We are forced to reduce it.

¶ Any one at all familiar with happenings in the Orient will know that the disturbances there are certain to curtail the production and shipment of Persian rugs. There is no doubt that with the difficulty of securing choice pieces, Oriental rugs of real merit must reach the highest prices in the history of the rug business, as the demand for meritorious and rare specimens is increasing far beyond the rate of supply.

¶ In the face of this absolute knowledge that Oriental rugs must increase in value and cost, the wisdom of taking advantage of this really extraordinary opportunity should not need emphasizing to any one. Those buying now will not only save one-half of present prices, but will also gain further by owning them before the certain increase which will come this next season. The inducements are unparalleled—incontrovertible.

Thousands of Rare & Beautiful Specimens to Choose From

$3500 Schnas, now $1750
$1200 Kermanshahs, now $600
$1100 Kermanshahs, now $550
$750 Kermanshahs, now $375
$1100 Tabriz, now $550
$750 Gorevans, now $375
$600 Gorevans, now $300
$500 Gorevans, now $250
$450 Kurdistans, now $225
$300 Mahals, now $150

Surrounded with every safeguard, the purchaser of Oriental rugs at Barker Bros. is assured absolute and complete satisfaction. We have no acid washed or chemically treated rugs in our collection. Every rug we sell is warranted in every particular; we guarantee accurate descriptions, honest values—no misrepresentations, no false statements. The genuineness of the price reductions and the bona fide character of the extra inducements offered now is also assured.

Rare Antiques

--a practically unlimited assortment, regular values ranging from as low as

$7.50 and Upward to $5000

All at ½ Price

—Fereghans, Serabends, Joshaghans, Kirmans, Ghirordes, Ladiks, Shirvans, Kazaks, Daghestans, Kashmirs, Youroucks, Etc.

No home is considered complete nowadays without its representation of Oriental rugs. In their luxurious beauty and incomparable colorings, they add a richness equaled by no other floor coverings. Their indestructibility makes them most economical. Age and wear improve them, as their pure vegetable colors become more silky and lustrous. As an investment they are even better than diamonds, having an ever increasing art as well as intrinsic value.

¶--Earliest selections are always best; even in such a sale as this, although the assortment is immense, there will be an advantage in early choosing. Do not let such an opportunity as this pass unheeded. This must and will be our last great half price Oriental rug sale. Be wise, buy now.

BEAUTIFUL BUST

50c Package FREE to Any Woman Who Lacks Full Development

The great physical charm of woman is a firm, full, well-developed bosom and nothing is so humiliating and makes her so self-conscious as a thin, flat, undeveloped figure.

One of the leading women physicians in New York State, trying to overcome the defects of her own figure, fortunately found a new principle or rather a happy combination of tissue-building elements that increased her bust some four inches, made her arms round and shapely, and her neck and shoulders plump and symmetrical.

This prescription was a real discovery, on far different lines from the ordinary, figure-developing treatment, and this explains its great success.

Dr. Catherine Kelly not only gained a beautiful form by her own prescription, but used it successfully with many of her patients. To show you why Dr. Kelly's Form Developer succeeds where the ordinary treatments fail, we want to send you a 50-cent package free of charge, feeling sure that it will prove that the Developer does all that is claimed for it. Women, this is a personal message from a physician of your own sex, and all we ask is the opportunity to show you, without any expense on your part, that her Developer will give you a perfect figure, beautiful complexion, and improve the general health.

HAIR REMOVERS ARE DANGEROUS

Dr. Wertenbaker Says:—"Don't Use Poisonous Depilatories."

In treating superfluous hair, it is of vital importance that the agent to be employed should be absolutely non-poisonous, antiseptic and germicidal, because if it is not so with frequent use it will produce eczema or blood poisoning. The trouble with the majority of ladies is that they don't do a little thinking for themselves. When an assertion is made by some unreliable concern they take it as gospel truth. They never consider the reliability, neither do they question or ask for any substantiating proof that a preparation is non-poisonous. They seem to think that the bare word of the manufacturer is sufficient. To the contrary, ladies should be most particular in choosing a hair remover and learn first what reputable authorities know about it.

Dr. Wertenbaker, the prominent physician, says: "For several years I said to my patients, 'Don't use poisonous depilatories, because they are bound to do harm. I have found De Miracle to be absolutely non-poisonous, antiseptic and germicidal; therefore, on account of these qualities, it is distinctly beneficial to the skin and under no circumstances can it produce eczema or blood poisoning. I have used the preparation in my practice for a number of years, and find that the principle of its chemical and physiological action is correct. I consider it the only satisfactory method for the removal of superfluous hair.'"

Better take a doctor's advice. Don't be deceived with the fake free treatments which are advertised so extensively in the newspapers. Remember, after you have used worthless concoctions it will be harder to remove the hair; therefore, isn't it better to investigate all hair removers first, before you try any of them?

We will send you absolutely free, in plain sealed envelope, a 54-page booklet containing full information concerning the remarkable treatment, as well as testimonials of prominent physicians, surgeons, dermatologists, medical journals and the principal magazines. You should read this booklet before you try anything. It treats the subject exhaustively. Write to the DE MIRACLE CHEMICAL COMPANY, Desk 546, 1905 Park avenue, New York, simply saying you want this booklet, and it will be mailed, sealed, at once.

Surprising What Kodol Will Do

For you, when you need it. But the longer you neglect Indigestion the more you will cuffer.

And, of course, indigestion if neglected long enough, brings on serious diseases in which Kodol cannot benefit you. Some of these there is no help for at all. There are, in fact, very few ailments which cannot be traced directly to impure blood. And impure blood is always due to a disordered stomach. Use Kodol and prevent Nervous Dyspepsia. Kodol will effectually assist Nature to secure a complete restoration of good digestion. It does this by at once digesting all food in the stomach and keeping it digested, until the stomach is rested and can resume its own work. Kodol removes the cause—and the effect quickly removes itself.

When it is recalled that Apoplexy, Heart Disease, Cancer—and even Consumption—are due to poor digestion and poisons thus transmitted to the blood, and throughout the system—the importance of maintaining good digestion is at once realized. We knew what Kodol would do before even the first bottle was sold. If we did not know just what it will do, we would not guarantee it the way we do. Every tablespoonful will digest 2½ pounds of food.

Our Guarantee. Get a dollar bottle of Kodol. If you are not benefited—the druggist will at once return your money. Don't hesitate; any druggist will sell you Kodol on these terms. The dollar bottle contains 2½ times as much as the 50c bottle. Kodol is prepared in the laboratories of E. C. De Witt & Co., Chicago.

SKILLFUL POLYNESIANS.

OLD HAWAIIANS AS ENGINEERS.

MANY REMAINS OF ANCIENT TEMPLES ARE LOCATED.

Buildings Were Laid Out With Skill and No Two Were Alike. Great Sea Walls Were Built in Hundreds of Places, Sometimes a Mile in Length.

[Will J. Cooper in San Jose Times.]

The remarkable advancement made by some of the Polynesian races in the arts of civilization has been in late years a subject of much interest among scientists, and active efforts are now being made to systematically gather and preserve the data, which is now rapidly disappearing, concerning these peoples of the Pacific islands. Little is known of their origin, but their almost absolute isolation for unknown centuries made their development independent of any outside influences, and thus all the more characteristic and remarkable.

The Hawaiians were of the highest type of the Polynesian family, and their development was probably fully as high at the time of the discovery of the islands by the whites, as that attained by the Aztec Indians of Central and South America, whose wonderful works of architecture and carvings have fascinated anthropologists for many years. Moreover while the Aztecs had metals to work with, the absence of these substances in the Pacific islands make the accomplishments of the Hawaiians, for example, all the more remarkable.

The work of the Hawaiians in engineering and construction, probably affords the most striking evidence of the remarkable character of a race which, through ignorance and confusion with other peoples, has often been thought of as low type savages and cannibals. Allowing for the difference in size of population, the construction of the great pyramids of the Egyptians does not greatly overshadow the accomplishments of these islanders.

The construction of temples, or "heiaus," to the numerous deities, the remains of which are to be found in every part of the Hawaiian Islands, probably constituted the larger part of the works of the ancient Hawaiians. These temples were very numerous. Between 400 and 500 have been definitely located, and there were probably a great many, all traces of which have been lost. They were built of stone, either as great enclosures, or in the form of truncated pyramids, and some of the larger ones covered from two to five acres of ground. Walls fifteen to twenty feet thick, and thirty feet in height, built of close rubble work and from 100 to 500 or 600 feet in length, were not uncommon. Some of the platform type were solid rock structures fifteen to twenty feet or more in height. Cement was never used in these structures, but in some of them the stones were dressed so that the masonry would compare favorably with modern work of the kind. Blocks of stone weighing many tons sometimes entered into the construction of these buildings, though smaller stones were generally used.

Of all the hundreds of temples known, probably no two were of the same shape or size; but the skill with which they were laid out shows unusual engineering ability. Some were perfect squares or parallelograms. Some had one or more sides curved, and in these cases the curves were always perfect. Walls were in some cases built in terraces, and always in perfect alignment. While many of these interesting structures are still to be found in more or less complete condition, probably the greater part of them have been destroyed, the material in many instances going into the construction of roads, fences, or modern buildings.

Scarcely less in magnitude than the heiaus, are the great sea walls built in hundreds of places along the shores of all of the islands for inclosing fish ponds. The walls, occasionally a mile or more in length, were sometimes built across the entrance of a shallow cove or inlet; at other times built in a great semicircle enclosing from one to over 500 acres of shallow water. The walls are sometimes eight or ten feet high, and often wider at the base. They are built of loose rock, and must have involved an inestimable amount of labor, considering the fact that oftimes the material was brought from a long distance, and that the natives had no beasts of burden and knew nothing of machinery.

Within these great ponds various varieties of fish were bred with considerable skill, and many of the ponds, now managed usually by Chinese under lease, still supply a considerable portion of the sea food to be found in the various markets.

The remains of irrigation ditches on a very considerable scale are still to be seen in many parts of the islands, and bear witness to the ability and industry of the aboriginal Hawaiians. In many localities may also be traced the walled terraces by which the sides of valleys were made to hold the artificial ponds necessary for the growing of taro, the staple food of the race. Water conveyed by artificial ditches from mountain streams, was led into the upper terraces and was then drawn step by step to the lower ones. The fact that there is scarcely an arable spot in the Territory which has not evidences of these old agricultural works, gives some hint as to the density of the population which must once have inhabited the islands.

Through long stretches of marsh land one may even today ride over well laid stone pavement which was laid so many hundreds of years ago that the natives credit their construction (as they do also some of the older heiaus, and other works) to "menehunes," a class of gnomes, or fairies, having a place in the complicated Hawaiian mythology. So sound was the judgment of these dusky engineers of centuries ago in building their roads and constructing their not unpretentious irrigation works, that in various instances modern engineering has not disdained to recognize, and even to utilize for present day purposes the work of men unknown, except that they were "savages."

Mistake Collies for Foxes.

The Haydon foxhounds and also the North Tyne pack have lately shown a tendency to hunt farmers' collies. The first named pack ran a collie three miles the other day in the Allendale district, while the latter hounds put a collie up in the Hesleyside Woods, and despite the huntsman's efforts to draw them off they pursued the collie at a rattling pace for some five miles. When the dog reached the shelter of his master's home he was only a few yards ahead of his infuriated pursuers.—[London Mail.

Jews in New York.

In New York City alone there are more than 800,000 Jews, making the metropolis of America the greatest Jewish center in the world. The property holdings of the Jews in New York exceeds $200,000,000 in the single item of real estate, their wholesale trade is rated $1,000,000,000 per annum, and with few exceptions all the big department stores are controlled by the Jews—and yet they are not the money power in New York which they are popularly supposed to be.—[Wall Street Journal.

HOW I REMOVED MY WRINKLES AND WON A GOLDEN PRIZE

After Massage, Face Steaming, Masks, Creams and Beauty Specialists Had Failed, Woman of World-Wide Reputation and Influence Tells of a Great Discovery Which Removed All Her Wrinkles in Three Nights.

The saddest moment in a woman's life is when for the first time she realizes that care, sorrow or illness have prematurely placed the stamp of age upon her brow and robbed her of woman's most priceless possessions—youth and beauty.

Dependent on my own exertions for my support, I soon learned that in the struggle for a livelihood the plain or homely woman must fight an unequal battle with her more beautiful sisters. It was, therefore, with great anxiety that I noticed the appearance of those lines and wrinkles which are dreaded by all women. I knew my danger. The realization of all my hopes, the success of my plans, depended largely on my attractive and youthful appearance. I must fight for my youth; no sacrifice was too great, no demand too exacting. One after another I tried cold creams, massage, face steaming, mask, and as a last resort, beauty doctors, but all to no avail. Hopeless and discouraged by my repeated disappointments I was almost ready to give up the fight. But happening to mention my troubles one day to a scientific friend, he made a suggestion which gave me a happy idea. After many trials and several disappointments, almost by lucky accident, I discovered a marvelous, simple process which wrought a wonderful change in a single night. Amazed at the results, I tried again, and the improvement was simply marvelous. Again I tried it—three nights in all—and awoke to find my face transformed; every line and wrinkle had disappeared as if by magic and my complexion was as clear and fair as that of a child. You can imagine my joy; I wanted everybody to try it. My friends used it with wonderful success, and some claim that all their wrinkles were removed in a night, others that it made them look twenty years younger.

In a recent letter Mrs. J. H. Boylan of Allegheny, Pa., says: "Often I find myself gazing in the mirror with astonishment and amazement, for although nearly sixty years of age, your treatment has completely removed that multitude of lines and wrinkles that I carried nearly twenty years, and has made me look nearly twenty years younger." Yet, despite the wonders it performs, my treatment was extremely simple, absolutely harmless, and not even my nearest friends knew that I was using it. If you want to know how I removed my lines and wrinkles and restored the clear, smooth complexion of childhood, you may write me in confidence, and I will send you further particulars, absolutely free. Just address HARRIET META, Suite 526P, Syracuse, N. Y. It costs money to send this free information, so please don't write out of idle curiosity. To those who are interested, however, I shall gladly write fully and freely, for my own relief has been so great that I want to show others how to remove their lines and wrinkles, to have them enjoy with me the pleasure of defeating the approach of age, and turning back the hand of time.

NOTE.—The marvelous value of the treatment is shown by the fact that it was awarded a Gold Medal by the Paris Exposition International and a Gold Medal and Grand Prix by the Rome Exposition International.

Very early her special gift for music showed itself, and at the age of 5 the little girl was receiving lessons from her own father. Although, according to the regulations, she was too young to enter, she was admitted to the Conservatoire. Auguste Rennebaum, a pupil of Lina Ramann and of Liszt, became her teacher. Her scholarly and admirable method very soon brought maturity to the talent of her pupil. While at an early age, and wearing her black hair in a plait, she was playing repeatedly in public, finding new admirers and increased laurels on each occasion.

Could Polish the Canal.

Great as is the Panama Canal, with its fifty miles of length and 200 feet of breadth, there is enough liquid shoe polish made in this country each year to put a high shine on every square foot of its surface (if the surface had a leather finish.)

About the middle of January there was a meeting in New York of the principal manufacturers of shoe dressing. During that meeting reports were read that showed the combined output to have been 216,000,000 packages in 1908, and that is enough to give 21,698,427,000 individual shines. All this polish was sold in boxes of an average size of two and a half inches square and five inches high, so, if set side by side, they would extend from New York to San Francisco and back, in a double line.—[Leslie's Weekly.

When the Judge Failed.

A well-known New York judge invited a friend of his, a lawyer from Boston, to go for a short trip on his yacht. A storm came up and the boat began to roll and toss in a manner which the Boston lawyer did not relish.

The judge laid a hand on his friend's shoulder and said, "My dear fellow, is there anything I can do to make you comfortable?"

"Yes," was the grim reply, "overrule this motion."—[Brooklyn Life.

Wife of the Representative from Texas Is One of the Charming Circle of Literary Hostesses.

BY MARGARET B. DOWNING.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—In the complexity of circles into which official society is divided, there is a distinct set which may be called society by selection and not by official rule. It forms one of the most delightful features of social intercourse and knows no geographical boundaries nor political creeds. As a bright woman in the congressional set remarked, it is the one thing which prevents some of them from developing into mere card-leaving bipeds without any further end or aim in life. A woman who stands preëminent in this smaller sphere of social activity is Mrs. James L. Slayden, wife of the representative from San Antonio, Tex., well known in literary circles for her delightful contributions to magazines and papers and in social circles for her distinct talents along the lines which suggest the salon.

"It seems the proper thing for women in the congressional set to discuss the Congressional Club," said Mrs. Slayden, "and the experimental period of the organization seems past and we acknowledge that it has a distinct mission. I see beneficial results in the mere relief from the tremendous pressure of calling. Meeting on a common ground eliminates the routine of calling to a great extent and better still, it seems the club's mission to spread good feeling and real intercourse among the congressional women. While I do not advocate a ruthless sweeping away of traditions, with a vast number of contemporaries, I find the present system which holds in Washington somewhat benumbing to individual effort. The intercourse which comes from natural selection must of necessity be more valuable in its results than that which follows official dictum. From the acquaintanceship begun in the Congressional Club, it must follow as a logical sequence that congenial people will be attracted to each other and a society wherein people may enjoy themselves according to their bent looms up invitingly.

"Just now I am devoting some of my time to the commendable occupation of displaying the opportunities which Washington offers for instruction and entertainment, and this through the medium of some of its most eminent officials. Many new congressional people are here and to this end the at homes at the club are planned along a well-defined policy. We hope to have Dr. Wiley reveal some of the culinary secrets which have proved so important and convincing—to have Mr. Putnam tell of the treasures of the congressional library, how it is regulated, to explain the copyright law and many other features which are blank books even to old residents. Mr. Pinchot will talk about the glory of the forests and the government efforts for their conservation and the hundred contingent subjects. To the stranger coming to Washington for the first time, I note a disposition to look upon the government as something which grinds out laws, the custodian of curios and musty files and records. The delightful, one might say personal, side of the government is almost obscured. To study the work in the various departments, especially where it touches on the arts and sciences or on collateral culture and to hear it discoursed by one who is eminent in its development, this is one of the features which makes life in Washington worth while. It also justifies the existence of the Congressional Club that it should take this opportunity to discover Washington, as it were, for so many of its denizens.

"Another entertaining study for me is the contrasting conditions between life here and life in Texas. Yearly when I prepare for my flight to San Antonio, my friends commiserate and say that it is too bad that I should have to go to Texas for the summer. Now, the extent of Texas is rarely appreciated, nor the fact that we have seaboard and mountains and streams, and that climatic conditions are altogether as tolerable, much more so to my mind in the dogs days of San Antonio than at the same juncture of time along the Potomac. I can imagine no more idyllic summer than those I spend in Texas. I invariably accompany Mr. Slayden in his journeys through his district and as the district is a large one even for Texas, it consumes the greater part of what is popularly known as vacation. We ride in comfortable, roomy traps, and go far up into the small mountain towns, through scenery which has not its equal on the terrestial sphere. A visit to these hamlets is sufficient of an incident to make the entire summer pleasant, for we know every inhabitant and we generally spend a week in each place, and taste to the fullest extent what is meant by Texas hospitality. Then the expansiveness of Texas social ideas is something which makes the members of a more compact community gasp. I have gone ninety miles for a friend's luncheon and sometimes eight or ten hours' journey to attend a dinner party. My visiting list comprises names in all parts of Texas and if I send a special reason for asking their presence, my friends think no more of spending a night and part of a day on the fastest train to obey my request, than here in Washington we would think of attending a social function in Georgetown or the environs. This vastness gives Texas a charm not felt where civilization crowds at the doors. Then just beyond the great empire of the State is that fascinating country, Mexico.

"Texas' political troubles are causing some national anxiety, if the so-called racial trouble may be dignified into a national political issue. But in Texas we have given the entire negro problem up as hopeless of solution under present conditions. We simply point with pride to our records and let facts speak for themselves. Texas raises more than one-third of the entire cotton crop of the world, and it is raised with the aid of more than 85 per cent. of white labor with mixed negro and yellow for the remaining fraction. We have proved that our fields are fit for white men to labor in during the hottest seasons of the year, as much so as any State of the Union which comes within the torrid belt. That they have worked the cotton fields of Texas with such beneficial results for themselves and incidentally for the glory of the State is the best refutation of the calumny that only negroes can endure the heat. We do not wish the negro and we are eliminating him slowly, perhaps, but steadily. There are entire counties of Texas where Germans are in control and where not one negro may be found. They no longer attempt to penetrate into such communities. In fact, the negro of Texas, like that of Washington, is town abiding, and in my home city, San Antonio, he is a more superior product than usually prevails. The poll tax has practically taken the right of franchise from the negro, and we now calmly wait for the problem to work itself out.

"As for social conditions in the polite sense, Texas offers almost every advantage which more ancient commonwealths boast, with perhaps a little more sincerity and less pretence to be noted. The homes of the larger cities show every luxury of the age, and all evidences of a refined and cultured people. In educational matters we are forging forward. Our State University at Austin, though only a quarter century old, has gained laurels through its professors and students alike, and the public school system is excellent. As a truth, I think that Texas offers every educational advantage to be desired short of going abroad, and I regret that so many of our leading citizens send their girls and boys north to acquire knowledge. I find that this training puts them out of joint with conditions at home and rather adds to the problem of life than smoothing away its difficulties. The boy and girl reared in his home State, to know its greatness, its history, its aspirtaions, has in him the seeds of a more useful career in his home environment than if he had grown indifferent to these things through absence."

Representative and Mrs. Slayden are among the home loving kind and since their first sojourn in the capital city they have always maintained their own residence and dispensed a quiet but much appreciated hospitality. They have resided for several years in R street, near Seventeenth and here Mrs Slayden has gathered around her one of the most attractive groups of women to be found in official and resident circles. Mrs. Slayden was before her marriage a newspaper woman and one who gained more than local reputation. She possesses great force of expression and her narrative for purity of diction and vividness of coloring is unsurpassed among magazine or journalistic writers. Since coming to Washington Mrs. Slayden has written for some of the leading journals of New York and other large cities, sketches of social and official life which are considered as fine pen sketches of the capital as those classics of the antebellum days. Quite an amusing story went the rounds of Washington about two letters of Mrs. Slayden and their effect on the late versatile Chief Executive. It has been said of Mr. Roosevelt that he never missed a good thing which went into print. In verification of this statement a friend sent him a clipping which contained a breezy description of a reception to the diplomatic corps given at the White House. Mrs. Slayden had sent the description to her sister, who resides in Texas, not dreaming that it would be published, but it caused such a stir in the community and there were so many demands to read it that the sister permitted its use in a small rural paper. The members of the Roosevelt family were rather humorously described, especially the feminine ones with Mrs. Longworth in the foreground. T principal figures in the corps were sk fully sketched, together with the ma amazing features which character these official levees.

Though Representative and M Slayden figure but little in social chro icles they dispense a constant hospit ity and have the knack of collecting teresting people around them. M Slayden has a wide acquaintance w the most fascinating people in t literary world, and her small teas a dinners and luncheons are a distincti feature of entertaining during the se son. "I have a horror," she said, " great mobs of people getting togeth compelled to stand on their own f or some one else's, and never knowi what is in progress to entertain the I never ask more to my home than have chairs for them to enjoy. I fi it a safe rule in planning amenities limit the guests by the number your chairs."

Mrs. Slayden was before her ma riage Ellen Maury, daughter of t late Jesse L. Maury of Charlottesvil and she passed her girlhood in the d lightful environment of the Universi of Virginia. She shows the impre of that classic atmosphere, thou through her long residence in the Lo Star State she has acquired the bree nonchalance of the semi-western typ Her mother still resides in the o home outside of Charlottesville, and o of the delights of dwelling in Was ington is to Mrs. Slayden her pro imity to her old home and friends that historic region of the Old D minion.

Needed a Long Horse.

It is a curious fact that the invari ble first thought of a British jack t when landing from a cruise is to g on a horse. For purposes of econon one animal frequently serves for tw or three grinning sailor boys.

Recently a sailor from the fleet British warships that accompanied t Prince of Wales to Quebec approache the keeper of a downtown livery st ble and asked for a horse.

"For riding or driving?" asked t liveryman.

"We'll be goin' aboard of 'im," r sponded the sailor.

"What kind of a horse do y want?" continued the liveryman "black, white, chestnut, sorrel—livel or gentle?"

"Stow all that," said the sailo "what I'm after is a good long on There's eight of us a-goin' on 'im." [Success Magazine.

NATIONAL REVENUE.

EATH DUTIES; ARE THEY FAIR?

heritance Tax Presents Its Complications.

ncle Sam Would Be Hitting Some Heirs Twice.

rguments Pro and Con as to Proposed Law.

ECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VASHINGTON (D. C.) April 11.—ere being an inheritance tax in thir-six States already, is it fair for the deral government to superimpose the ath duties provided for in the Payne l? This is one of the most serious estions now confronting the country. ve you had time yet to give it much ught?

There are many arguments pro and . But let us first see just what

Andrew Carnegie, his heirs would be taxed $16,000,000
George J. Gould, whose heirs would pay $2,800,000
Col. John Jacob Astor his estate would pay $3,000,000
John D. Rockefeller his heirs would be assessed $24,000,000
Hetty Green, her heirs would pay $4,000,000

Rich pickings for the inheritance tax assessor.

th duties the Payne bill imposes. ou must pay the government 5 per t. of all property, real and per- al, which you may inherit from an le, aunt, cousin, or other "collat- l" relation, or from any stranger in od. Of such property above $10,000 ich you may inherit from a direct ative you must pay from 1 per cent. 3 per cent., according to a sliding le, depending upon the amount. Thus er cent. is assessed on from $10,000 $100,000; 2 per cent. on from $100,000 $500,000; 3 per cent. on all above 0,000.

DEGREES OF RELATIONSHIP.

nder relatives paying this smaller e of 1 per cent. to 3 per cent. on ,000 or over are included the lineal scendants of the deceased, including children, grandchildren or great- ndchildren, also his parents, broth- and sisters, sons-in-law, daugh- s-in-law, stepchildren, adopted chil- n and those to whom the deceased s been on the "mutually acknowl- ged relation of a parent." This last-med class would let in many protegés re it not for the fact that it is stipu- ed that this "relation of a parent" st have commenced before each such ld's fifteenth birthday, and for the ther fact that both parents of chil- n of this class must have died be- e such relationship commenced. Be- es these named, all other heirs must y 5 per cent—one-twentieth—of all eritances above $500. In other words, children whose father or mother has narried and left them to the care of cles or aunts, who have not legally opted them, are shut out of the aller rate on inheritances from ose uncles and aunts, provided the narrying parent has survived after eir fifteenth year.

HERE IT WILL DOUBLE TAX.

Now, as we said, thirty-six States—save ten—already have inheritance xes of their own, and these yield a tal annual revenue of about $10,000,-). In these States, therefore, the new l will impose a double tax. The only es which have none are Alabama, orida, Georgia, Indiana, Kansas, ississippi, Nevada, New Mexico, ode Island and South Carolina. In ese ten States and the continental rritories, including the District of lumbia, then, there would be only e inheritance tax to pay—the Federal should this provision of the Payne ll go through.

In the other thirty-six States, also rto Rico and Hawaii, which already ve inheritance taxes, the doubling ould have varying effect, due to the eat variety of State laws. There ould be no doubling in the Philip- nes, however, since the Payne bill ecifically excepts that dependency.

And let us see how some of these thirty-six States, already having inheritance taxes, would be affected by the doubling. In California, Idaho, North Carolina and Wisconsin the possible assessment on big legacies to collateral relatives or strangers would go up to a maximum of 20 per cent., or one-fifth, since those States have sliding scales, or "progressive taxes," up to a maximum rate of 15 per cent. This 15 per cent., added to the Federal 5 per cent., would make the 20 per cent. mentioned. In Texas and Washington State there would be a possible collateral tax of 17 per cent., since those States already have a maximum of 12 per cent.

In South Dakota the collateral maximum is 10 per cent., which, added to the Federal flat rate of 5 per cent., makes 15 per cent. As will be seen from the accompanying table, the remaining States have collateral rates varying from 1½ per cent. to 7½ per cent. In twenty States the collateral legacies exempted from taxation are $500, the Payne bill's limit, or below. In some cases there is no exemption whatever. So much for collateral heirs.

AS TO NEAR RELATIVES.

What concerns the great mass of the people more is the rate on inheritance from lineal heirs. As stated above, the Payne bill assesses none of these on less than $10,000. Not all the States with taxes on lineal legacies are as liberal as this. In Wisconsin and North Carolina and Michigan only $2000 is exempted; in California and Idaho, $4000; in Oregon and South Dakota, $5000, and in Montana, $7500. Sixteen of the States, however, have collateral but no lineal taxes. This leaves twenty where the assessments on direct heirs will be doubled if the Payne bill retains its inheritance tax feature. So what will the doubling on lineals amount to in these Etates? In California it can amount to from 2 to 6 per cent.; in Colorado, 3 to 5; Connecticut, 1½ to 3½; Idaho, 2 to 6; Louisiana, 3 to 5; Massachusetts, 2 to 5; Minnesota, 2½ to 8; North Carolina, 1¾ to 3¾; Utah, 6 to 8; Wisconsin, 2 to 6; Wyoming, 3 to 5, and 2 to 4 in the following, which have a flat rate of 1 per cent. for lineals: Ilinois, Michigan, Montana, Nebraska, New York, Oregon, South Dakota, Washington and West Virginia. The State which the proposed Federal law will hit hardest is Utah, which has a flat rate of 5 per cent. on direct inheritances above $10,000. In that State a man's widow and orphans will have to pay from 6 per cent. to 8 per cent. on what he leaves them above $10,000.

HOW STATE LAWS VARY.

In thirteen States the inheritance tax is progressive—on a sliding scale of percentages, increasing as the amount increases. In five States this progressive rate is for both direct and collateral heirs. In six it is progressive for distant relatives and strangers in blood only. Two—Minnesota and Utah—make no distinction between direct and collateral heirs. In all others in which direct heirs are taxed at all the rates are much lower than for collateral heirs or strangers in blood, and the amount exempted from taxation is much larger for direct than for collateral heirs, except in Connecticut, where it is $10,000 for both, and North Carolina, where it is $2000 for both. The new Constitution of Oklahoma expressly authorized progressive taxation for both direct and collateral heirs.

ARGUMENTS PRO AND CON.

Summing up the principal criticisms of the proposed death duty, we find it condemned because it would be class discrimination; because it would constitute not only double but triple taxation in States which have such a tax levied in the same year with a property tax; because it would cause hardships in cases of deaths in quick succession; because it would therefore be unjust to families with low hereditary rates of longevity; because it is a "tax on widows and orphans;" because it discourages industry and thrift and drives away capital; because it is easily evaded by gifts during life and because almost all estates are pressed for ready money at the time that it would fall due.

The arguments for it are quite as varied. It is praised because it would be a tax according to the ability of the taxpayer and a means of collecting taxes which have been evaded by property owners during their lives; because it would minimize chances of fraud, being payable while property is passing under the eye of the probate court, and would therefore be an improved method of reaching personal property otherwise easily hidden; because it would tax the stocks and bonds of big corporations upon the death of their owners; because its progressive feature would even things up with the rich, whose wealth, chiefly, a property tax fails to reach; because it would be a capitalized income tax paid once in a generation instead of once a year; because it would be paid after death and hence at the time most convenient for the taxpayer; and because it would encourage the distribution of large fortunes during the lives of owners and thus tend toward a better distribution of wealth.

One of its staunchest advocates is Andrew Carnegie, who once declared in favor of a schedule rising as high as 50 per cent. where big fortunes are concerned. And Theodore Roosevelt, in his address flaying the muckrakers, predicted that we should ultimately have to consider a "progressive tax on all fortunes beyond a certain amount, either given in life or devised or bequeathed upon death," an idea upon which he elaborated in his message of 1906.

WHAT MULTI-MILLIONAIRES WOULD PAY.

How the multi-millionaires would be affected by the proposed law is interesting to consider. On the basis of a table giving the alleged fortunes of our richest men—a table said to have been recently compiled by a New York financier—it can be computed that the following amounts of inheritance tax would result from a doubling of the New York State law and proposed Federal law, presupposing, of course, that these millionaires' estates at their present figure were entirely settled in New York and were left intact to their children: The heirs of John D. Rockefeller would have to pay $24,000,000; of Andrew Carnegie, $16,000,000; of William Rockefeller, $8,000,000; of J. P. Morgan, $6,000,000; of Hetty Green, H. M. Flagler and W. A. Clark, each $4,000,000; of John Jacob Astor, $3,000,000; of George J. Gould, $2,800,000, and of H. A. Havemeyer, $2,000,000.

Of these amounts the State of New York would receive one-fourth and the Federal government three-fourths the New York State inheritance tax for lineal descendants being a flat rate of 1 per cent., while the proposed Federal rate is 3 per cent. for legacies over $500,000.

New York State now derives an annual revenue of about $5,000,000 from inheritance tax. This equals the receipts from the same source of the other thirty-five States put together.

BITS OF VERSE.

Where the Shadows Dwell.

For of moonlight's thrall, nor the afterglow
Of the setting sun on the Alpine snow,
But of rustling deeps in the forest shade,
Away and away in a leafy glade,
Would I have you know.

Of the gentle play of the summer breeze—
It touches a myriad golden keys—
And the lullaby of the waterfall,
With the hush of the forest over all—
I would tell of these.

Now with gladsome note all the woodland rings,
A rustle and twitter and warblings,
The red squirrels chatter, the wood-thrushes song,
To the mountain brook as it purls along
A melody clings.

'Mid the great tree tops in the vaulted blue
How the sunbeams dance with an azure hue,
And glitter and fall in a tinted sheen—
A glory of gold and of waving green—
As they filter through.

Till the spirit you feel, the haunting spell
Of my far retreat in an eerie dell—
A spirit of peace—and you understand
All the witching charm of my fairyland
Where the shadows dwell.

A Song of the Sea.

I'll sing you a song of the sea,
The smiling, rippling sea,
That sparkles bright in the morning light
When the wind is from the sea.
The emerald, sapphire sea,
Bediamonded for me;
In the morning light when the sun is bright
I sing of the laughing sea.

I'll sing you a song of the sea,
The tearing, roaring sea,
That leaps on high 'neath lowering sky
When the rocks are on the lee,
The boiling, seething sea
That yawns and grasps for me,
In the gloom of night with no light in sight,
I sing of the cruel sea.

I'll sing you a song of the sea,
The sobbing, throbbing sea,
That glitters white in the dawn's gray light
As the dead men float by me,
As they drift o'er the desolate sea,
As they sink in the sibilant sea,
'Midst spume and sprew of the wild wind's brew,
I sing of the wandering sea.

An Eclipse.

A moon there was, a happy moon
Whose glow transcendent seemed;
It made of earth a paradise
Such glory from it streamed.

And gazing folk whose fortune 'twas
Its brightness to absorb,
Declared they ne'er before had seen
So radiant an orb.

But by and by a cloud arose
And, ominous and black,
It spread its pall directly in
That shining planet's track.

And o'er its fair and gracious face
A shade began to creep
Till all the earth grew dim and dark
The shadow was so deep.

Then gazing gossips wagged their heads
And smacked prophetic lips,
Declaring there had never been
So total an eclipse.

But lo, a widening thread of light
Appeared at last, and soon
In golden beauty from the cloud
Emerged that honey—moon.

Pilgrims.

Oh, host upon the dusty way,
Wherefore this pilgrimage, I pray?
The world is wide, this path beside,
Wherein to walk, wherein to ride.
Why do ye crowd these narrow gates?
For love, and gold, and delicates.

The country fields are misted white
With dewy webs strung overnight;
And love is there, and health, and prayer,
And gold for simple needs to spare,
Here on the pavement Sorrow waits,
And love, and gold, and delicates.

Too late ye'll rue, too late ye'll turn
To clasp the joys ye now would spurn;
For love is lust, and gold is rust,
And delicates are painted dust,
So wherefore tempt the bitter Fates?
For love, and gold, and delicates.

Work.

Let me but do my work from day to day,
In field or forest, at desk or loom,
In roaring market place or tranquil room;
Let me but find it in my heart to say,
When vagrant wishes beckon me astray,
"This is my work, my blessing, not my doom;
Of all who live, I am the one by whom
This work can best be done in the right way."

Then shall I see it not too great, nor small,
To suit my spirit and to prove my powers;
Then shall I cheerful greet the laboring hours,
And cheerful turn, when the long shadows fall
At eventide, to play and love and rest,
Because I know for me my work is best.

RAILROAD INTERESTS.

The richest transporation corporation in the United States is the Pennsylvania Railroad. The annual report to the stockholders, made by the directors March 2, shows its assets to be over $706,000,000, of which half is in road and equipments, one-third in securities, and the remainder in cash and miscellaneous property.

Its liabilities are a funded debt of about $300,000,000, the balance being in capital stock, and a profit and loss credit of $25,000,000. Its gross income for the year was $130,000,000; its total expenses $108,000,000; leaving $28,000,000 as net profits, out of which a dividend of 6 per cent was paid; nearly $9,000,000 was expended in improvements, and almost a million added to the profit and loss account.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has 157,823 freight cars, of which 47,775 are of all steel construction; 39,167 are wooden cars with steel underframes and the remainder are of wood, says the American Engineer and Railroad Journal. Thus 30.3 per cent. of the equipment is of all steel construction and 24.8 per cent has steel underframes.

The new subway under Washington Street, Boston, is the most costly line of railroad thoroughfare in the world. Its total length is only 5676 feet, a couple of hundred feet over a mile, yet its total cost was $10,000,000, which is approximately $1762 per running foot. Of this amount $7,500,000 was for engineering and construction and in payment of property damages. The bore is almost straight, avoiding disagreeable turns, and its deepest part is 48 feet below the street level. Above it at this point is the Ames building, which is 200 feet high. The tunnel also runs under the historic "Old South Church."

The Delaware & Hudson's annual report for 1908 shows that the company operated for 58.44 per cent. of its gross earnings, which is a remarkably low figure. Gross earnings were $18,500,731 a decrease of $1,664,708, and net profits $7,689,010, a decrease of $782,000. The Delaware & Hudson has the unique method of declaring at the beginning of the year the dividend for the entire year. Hence in the annual report appears the four quarterly payments for 1909 and the dates of payment.

The British railroads earned last year over £121,000,000, or nearly £5000 for every mile open. Expenses were such that the average dividend was less than 3½ per cent. Within the past ten years the total depreciation in the value of British railway stocks has been £350,000,000, or just about cent. The companies have every son to complain of the taxati their earnings. Income tax and senger duty are bad enough, local rates which press most upon them. The latter alone to over £5,000,000 annually. Wit past forty years the burden of upon British railways has by ten. Out of every pound four shillings and fourpence rates. The total taxation of ways has reached the terrific 12 per cent.

WHY I INVENTED THE ELECTRIC BELT

Twenty-five years ago we invented the first successful electric belt.

We had been treating people for years with drugs and were determined to find a better way of curing disease, for we knew just as well as every other doctor knows today, that drugs can't actually cure anybody of anything.

Our first belt was a crude affair compared to the one we make now. Even with all its faults it cured lots of people, and as we improved upon it from year to year, our cured patients increased in greater proportion. Today we make the most perfect electric body appliance known, and our twenty-five years' experience in treating people with electricity enables us to tell just what cases we can cure. If we can't cure you, we'll tell you so.

Dr. McLaughlin's electric belt is known the world over. In every city, town and hamlet of this broad land lives some one we have cured, and we can give names of people near you who have found health in our treatment.

Our belt cures weakness of any kind, whether in the nerves, stomach, heart, liver or kidneys, rheumatism, weak back, sciatica, lumbago, dyspepsia, and all other troubles where new life can restore health.

We want every man and woman to read our book, which tells how we cure with electricity—nature's way. It is beautifully illustrated, and gives a lot of information for every sufferer. We'll send it postpaid, free, if you will mail us this coupon.

Sir Edward Elgar, the famous musician, is very keen on chemistry, and spends some of his leisure time in analysis and experiment. He has been an enthusiastic cyclist and can tell a good story of adventures encountered on the highways and byways of Western England. S. C. SIMMS and F. C. Cole, curators of the department of anthropology of the Field Columbian Museum at Chicago, are to take up the museum's ethnological investigations in the Philippines, which have been suspended by the recent murder of Dr. William Jones in Luzon. Mr. Simms has traveled in the Philippines, completing a minor investigation in the islands for the museum two years ago. At that time he spent nine months in the investigation. Mr. Cole, Mr. Simms's co-worker, who is to follow early in the fall, will penetrate the southern islands of the archipelago. In these islands, including Mindanao and Palawan, entirely different races exist. The inhabitants, however, are said to be less savage than those of many of the other islands. Mr. Cole will study their customs, traditions and mode of living.

Dr. R. M. Anderson and V. Stefanson, explorers in Alaska for the American Museum of National History, New York, have recently been heard from. Dr. Anderson was at Flaxman's Island, and had been so short of provisions that for many weeks he did not see any bread, having to live on fish and flesh. Stefanson has suffered in the same way, being compelled to eat his mouse bait, a very unpalatable kind of oats. Both were hunting for game to carry them through the winter.

EDUCATORS.

PROF. BAILEY of the New York College of Agriculture says that an acre of water can be made to yield more food than the same area of land, and he advises the farmer to breed domestic varieties of fish "as he does now pigs or poultry." With Michigan's thousands of ponds and lakelets at present put to the least valuable uses, here is a suggestion that may mean much profit to those who follow it up with investigation and experimenting. Many a German farmer has his fish pond which he utilizes for his table and for the market just as he does the rest of his farm.

COUSIN OF THE CZAR OF RUSSIA FORSAKES FORTUNE FOR MONASTERY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

WARSAW, March 31.—Grand Duke Dimitri Constantinovitch, cousin of the Czar of Russia, has suddenly announced his intention of abandoning his immense fortune and entering a monastery.

As son of a Czar's brother, Dimitri Constantinovitch was born forty-nine years ago in the midst of unlimited luxury. Not only did his high rank give him unusual benefits, not only was he surrounded by an army of servants, courtiers and slaves, not only were the richest of rooms, the heaviest of gold plate, the most splendid of jewels, at his disposal, but large tracts of forests were his, mines filled with gems, farms populated with a thousand slaves belonged to him.

Grand Duke Constantinovitch who is about to enter a monastery.

The following story will give an idea of how rich Dimitri Constantinovitch is. Many years ago, when he first entered the army, he took a fancy to one of his adjutants, a gay young man. He noticed that Borys, the adjutant, suddenly grew sad and thoughtful, and asked the reason.

"I am in love with a beautiful girl, but we are both poor and it is impossible to marry her. If I had but one soul (slave) to my name it might be possible, but my father will not hear of me starting married life on nothing a year, and her family is of the same opinion."

"Then I will give you one 'soul,' and we will see if you will be able to do anything with it," said the Grand Duke, writing on a piece of paper: "The bearer of this becomes possessor of my slave, Ivan Ivanovitch Kopeich, who is henceforth to obey him in all things." Having signed his name he gave the slip to Borys, saying: "Go to Moscow and in such-and-such a street you will find this Kopeich. He belongs to you—see if you will be able to make a fortune with him."

Borys went to Moscow and drove to the street indicated. The sledge stopped before a large three-storied house in the merchants' quarter. "Is Ivan Ivanovitch here?" he asked, and was shown into an office where a man of about 50 was giving directions to half a dozen clerks. He bowed low when Borys gave him the card, and asked if he would like to see the houses. He was shown over warehouse after warehouse, piled with rich stuffs from the East, which went all over Russia and even Europe. Then he was shown the books, which proved that the warehouses brought in a princely fortune.

His eyes dazzled with all these riches, Borys at last cried: "But I have spent too much time here already. Where is my slave, Ivan Ivanovitch?" Again his guide bowed low. "I am your slave, and all these riches are at your disposal." It sounds incredible to western ears, but the Grand Duke had slaves who were rich men, who made their fortunes in trade and kept only a certain percentage for themselves. The rest went to their master. To the Grand Duke, the giving of such a "soul" meant nothing; but it made Borys's fortune.

When bondage was abolished, such lucrative slaves ceased to exist, but, nevertheless, they paid for their freedom and the grand dukes remained enormously rich men. It is easy to imagine the power of a man who could, without making any appreciable difference in his fortune, make such a gift.

Dimitri Constantinovitch enjoyed his wealth to the utmost. But it is said that satiety has brought a distaste for for things worldly. Were he an Anglo-Saxon he would talk about the simple life. As it is, he chooses to retire from the world altogether and live as a monk. He takes no evidence of his wealth with him. The endowments he will give to the monastery are not for his use, but for the poor. His earthly possessions are to consist of a wooden bed, without a mattress, a blanket of coarse brown wool to cover him, a pillow of wood, with a niche carved for the neck, a rush-bottomed chair, a wooden candlestick, one pair of wooden pattens, one hair-cloth shirt, one cassock of coarse wool, a cowl and a rosary. During more than three months in the year he will eat neither meat, eggs, butter, cheese nor fish. His fare will, at such times, consist of barley boiled in water, cakes fried in oil, and black bread. At other times he will eat broth, a slice of boiled beef or an egg. He will keep his own cell clean and cultivate, with his own hands, the little garden allotted to him. He will rise for prayers at 2 in the night, and get up at 6 for the day. He will not talk to his brother monks in the refectory, except on rare occasions, when called upon to do so by the abbot. His name, let alone his title, are to be left outside, and he is to be known to the other inmates by a new one, chosen on his entrance. This life, to one who has had all that wealth, birth and social position can give, would seem to be somewhat stern and narrow, and yet Dimitri Constantinovitch has deliberately chosen it.

OVER THE SEAS.

MAJ. F. BADEN-POWELL, an authority on aëronautics, anticipates that flying will be common in four years' time, and he points out that new laws and regulations will have to be adopted. He apprehends grave disturbances in customs circles, and foresees a complete rearrangement of tariff schedules, with a probable setting aside of all duties on small and easily transported articles.

President Cabrera of Guatemala has twice escaped the bombs of his enemies during the past few months, and now feels it necessary to maintain a close guard about his person. He even fears poisoning, and now has his mother prepare all his food.

Emperor William of Germany is desirous that impecunious aristocrats who cannot make a living in Germany should emigrate to German Southwest Africa and become useful members of that German colony. He has lent Baron De Schmid $12,500 to enable him to settle in German Southwest Africa and begin life again as a farmer. Baron De Schmid was a land owner in Alsace-Lorraine, whose estate was near that of the Kaiser at Urville, and with whom His Majesty was very friendly. The Baron lost his money and was obliged to sell the estate.

Herr Reuben Brainin, the Hebrew writer, has recently returned from a lecturing tour through the pale of settlement in Russian cities, and says that the tragic result of the massacres of 1905 still noticeable is in the increase of nervous disorders among the Jewish people. Fear and sorrow invaded every household. There are still 5,500,000 Jews in Russia.

Ida Falbe-Hansend of Copenhagen, one of the most brilliant women in Denmark, has just celebrated her sixtieth birthday. Her fame as an educator has spread all over the Scandinavian countries, and her influence in educational matters is everywhere conceded.

Lloyd George, Chancellor of the British Exchequer, is credited with originating an odd phrase. He is quoted as telling the House of Commons that he would as soon rely upon a protective tariff for permanent revenue as upon a tax on the British millionaire.

Gen. Lord Kitchener's term as commander-in-chief in India has ended, with the appointment of his successor, Gen. Sir Moore Creagh. Kitchener went to India immediately after finishing up the Boers. It is reported that he will go home by way of the United States.

PECULIAR PEOPLE.

MISS MYRTLE LAMBERT of Strong, Me., has a fondness for snakes, and was recently presented a boa constrictor from Asia, ten feet long, which she gives a milk bath every morning, and enjoys having it rub its head against her cheek when coiling about her. She has another "coral snake," three feet in length, whose favorite position is coiled in her hair, where it will remain for hours at a time.

Neal Fullerton of Mason City, Iowa, has established the ability of man to live with less than the necessary amount of machinery. He is living, feeling well and is getting fat, and he has had a kidney removed, a rib taken out, a five-pound tumor taken from his body, and it is also reported that one lung would not behave as it should, and it went on the junk pile with the rest.

FROM OUR CONSULS.

BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

Hayti has granted a fifty-year franchise for street tramways in the city of Port au Prince, of which a part are already in use; a concession for railroad, twenty-seven miles, extending from Port au Prince to the lakes; a concession for a railroad from Port au Prince to Leogane, twenty-two miles; also concessions for wharves, paper factory, printing shop, and three electric light plants, all of which are waiting capital. Two railroad concessions have been transferred to an American company. Concessions have been granted for two copper and gold mines and for coal mines, which are now controlled by an American company.

An exposition of American manufactures will take place at Santiago, Chile, during the latter part of 1909.

Central America bought $29,000,000 worth of American goods in 1907, against $6,500,000 worth in 1897, an increase of $22,500,000 in the ten years. Exports to the United States in the same period rose from $9,000,000 to $16,000,000.

American electrical engineers should not go to Peru without being previously engaged, as Peruvians are given the preference.

Columbia's revenue last year was $15,644,232 gold, including $4,457,486 from the salt mines, alligator fishing, liquor making, cigarette making, match making, tobacco production, public lands and buildings, state railways, and posts and telegraph monopolies. Expenditure totaled $15,993,836. The floating debt is $3,063,012. In general the financial progress of the country has exceeded expectations. That is the result of American "receivership." Imports reached $18,514,191, and exports $14,998,744, an increase of about $1,000,000 in each.

During the past twenty years Germany has spent $150,000,000 on her waterways, and has now, in navigable rivers, canalized rivers, and inland canals, over 8278 miles of navigable waterways. The German-Austrian and the Rhine-Elbe canals already begun, contemplate the expenditure of nearly $350,000,000. The mileage of the inland waterways of Germany, if possessed by the United States in proportion to our area as compared to that of Germany would be equivalent in lineal measurement to forty parallel waterways east and west from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and twenty parallel waterways north and south from Canada to the Gulf.

The Yokohama Railway Company is securing a loan of $1,000,000 gold for extensions.

The Tokio Electric Light Company purposes building an additional power station, to cost $5,000,000, and capable of supplying 35,000 horse power. This will give the company a total capacity of 57,500 horse power.

Mexico has completed arrangements with the Krupps to establish a plant for the manufacture of Mauser bullets, smokeless powder, and gun cotton.

Goods sent by America to the Far East total about 1,000,000 tons a year. Shipments the other way total 1,900,000 tons a year, of which 1,500,000 tons come over the Pacific Ocean, and 400,000 tons through the Suez Canal. It is on that 1,000,000 tons and that 1,500,000 tons that the American Panama Canal will come in, as well as, probably, the 400,000 tons.

Porto Rico buys from the United States, chiefly cotton goods, rice, iron and steel manufactures, meat and dairy products, breadstuffs, wood and its manufactures, leather manufactures, refined sugar, vegetables, soap, mineral, oils, paper goods, chemicals and drugs, soft coal, fertilizer, fish products, spirits, wines and malt liquors, cordage and twine, explosives, glass, and glassware, books, etc., earthen and stone ware, agricultural implements, cars, carriages and automobiles, candles, and fruits and nuts. Porto Rico's chief sales to the United States are sugar, tobacco, cigars, raw cotton, fruits, hides and molasses, and the sales are increasing.

In February, all exports declined more or less, except electrical goods. Earthen ware and glass fell off 25 per cent. Cotton goods exports decreased $10,000,000, mainly in Indian and Far East purchases. Exports as a whole dropped $19,000,000, and imports $9,500,000.

France has a number of good-sized cities and towns still without electricity. One of them, La Rochelle, has a population of 36,000.

In 1908, 4731 German corporate companies, with $3,197,000,000 capital, earned $370,000,000 net profit, or 11.58 per cent.

INSURANCE WORLD.

A clearinghouse was recently established by the Chicago Board of Underwriters, and is apparently working very satisfactorily. The total amount of premiums cleared in February aggregated $443,431, and sixty-seven members had their office work and banking business much reduced by settling all the month's transactions between themselves by the giving of a single check. This plan ought to work well in all the larger cities, in the opinion of the men responsible for it, where the volume of the business is sufficient to justify its establishment.

W. D. Vandiver, former insurance superintendent of Missouri, has become president of the new Federal Trust Company. The company proposes to handle industrial securities, foreign loans, surety and bonding.

The Car and General Insurance Corporation of London proposes to actively engage in employment insurance, the policies to cover loss of employment through fire, bankruptcy of employer, reduction of staff through bad trade or other causes, death of principal, accident to or sickness of insured; but the policy will exclude dismissal through the fault, misconduct or dishonesty of insured, and through war, civil commotion, pestilence or plague, national calamity, or through insured striking or being locked out.

To guard against fires in the Adirondack regions the railroads operating through the forest preserves are to be required to burn oil from April 15 to November 1, each year. The change will go into effect in 1910.

The fire losses for the United States and Canada for the month of March aggregated $13,795,400, against $16,725,300 last year.

The Chicago Underwriters' Surety Association proposes to stop the indiscriminate paying of commissions to persons, such as attorneys' clerks and others, who turn in an occasional application, but who do not make a business of soliciting insurance or bonds.

NEW SALT KING TO RULE OVER CARMEN.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

CITY OF MEXICO, April 10.—The salt concession held since 1903 by J. C. Bothin of San Francisco, Cal., the Salt King of Mexico, has been transferred to H. M. Crankshaw. Mr. Crankshaw is an American who has lived for some time in the Mexican port of Guaymas, Sonora. His salt beds are located on Carmen Island, in the Gulf of California, twenty miles southwest of Guaymas and nine miles from the mainland of the long insect-like peninsula of Lower California. Mr. Crankshaw purchased Carmen Island from James Viesca, of La Paz, Lower California, and Mr. Viesca for some time past has been associated with Mr. Bothin in the enterprise. The island embraces about eight square smiles, mostly a solid deposit of salt. The deposits are to be worked with Yaqui labor, and the new owners plan to ship some 50,000 tons of the product annually, thus adding another to the many industries of Mexico, kindling into strange activity at the present time. Mr. Crankshaw is associated with some other Americans in this novel enterprise and they anticipate good returns, given the limitless supply of salt, the cheapness of labor, the ease with which the produce can be mined and the contiguity to a fair port for shipment. So solid is the deposit that it almost amounts to a quarry proposition in many places on the island.

Old Mother Nature is the manufacturer on Carmen island. The art of man is not called into requisition, except for the transportation of the fast-accumulating salt. Nature furnishes the low-sweeping dunes of sand through which the ocean forces its briny waters into lagoons of pure crystalline salt, fed underground. With a nicety all her own, Nature coaxes the lapping waters of the Pacific, sifts them through the sands, each grain operating to screen the water; out of the silt and sieve and through the purifying sands, the salt finally reaches inland, and forms layer after layer of purest salt along the caking banks of the saline lagoons.

When Mr. Bothin, the enterprising Californian, bought the island, he says that people could not understand what he intended to do. For some time he himself was in a quandary how to proceed with his unique purchase. The floating piece of land looked like a large turtle with its bare back above water. It was not suitable for colonization schemes, and treeless and barren, it would not even have suited some stray Robinson Crusoe. The Californian had bought the island on faith, never having seen it. Finally, he visited it. From the point d'appui of a small hillock he could take in all the physical contour of the property, so small was it and so absolutely in the control of all-embracing ocean. There was no other land in sight save the Mexican mainland lying low along the horizon. As the sun dipped into the Pacific that evening, Mr. Bothin noticed that a whiteness lay all over the island. Descending from the hillock he walked into the whiteness, which crackled underfoot like hoar frost. Instantly he recognized the significance of his purchase. It was salt and by the ton. Tons of pure salt lay there, the accumulations of ages. Millions of tons in natural reservoirs, heretofore untapped in the interests of commerce.

Every man who makes such a discovery in the realm of nature, for the moment stops to take off his hat to the Old Dame. Franklin saluted when he discovered applied electricity. Fulton must have felt reverential when the God of nature showed him how to apply steam to a little boat. Likewise Mr. Bothin confessed to some sense of wonderment not wholly unmixed with awe upon making his discovery. But the average American is short on sentiment and long on enterprise. So he lost but little time in organizing his venture along the lines of commerce and equity. The shipments of salt from Carmen have been remarkable. So steady is the deposit made by sand and sea, that as fast as a thousand tons are taken out, the elements above mentioned get busy and in two to three weeks time the deposit is level again. It is presumed that the salt water is forced up from beneath, and in its upward course forces the salt to a level. Digging at any point on the island, very shortly the salt comes up and forms a perfectly level deposit. It is like pouring water through a sieve, says Mr. Bothin, it never fills. The excavations have been made to good depths, and nothing met in the work except a pure quality of salt. It is pronounced almost absolutely pure. Presumably it is the largest salt deposit in the world.

NEW BOOKS REVIEWED.

(BY A TIMES REVIEWER.)

Last of Wilde's Plays.

FLORENTINE TRAGEDY. By Oscar ilde. John W. Luce & Co., Boston.

Vilde's name, since his death, has n so enveloped in personal prosecu- that the real excellence of this ter's work has been lost sight of. waited with no little pleasure for publication of Robert Sherard's of Wilde in 1906, thinking this lit- ry man, in whose arms Ernest Dow- died, and whose "Twenty Years in ris" was one of my keenest liter- delights, would clear away the judices of conventional opinion and rt a Wilde revival. The book, how- er, as all who have read it know cepting, of course, the pious moral vengers,) was a disgrace. Obviously was written merely to make money; ry page was saturated with a sick- commiseration and a sham indul- ce. Sherard, who projected himself o every chapter, fairly exuded the ipid milk of offensive sympathy.

But despite all handicaps, the ex- llent beauty of Wilde's rare genius insinuating itself into the minds of ose for whom artistic accomplish- ent [illegible] a meaning. His poems em- dy some of the most perfect lyrics English; his prose is an example of purest and most finished style of y of the modern writers; his plays ve a technical and literary excel- ce found in but few modern drama- ts; and his aphorisms and para- xes form the foundation upon which K. Chesterton has builded his rep- ation.

When Wilde was arrested he left ree unpublished manuscripts, "The chess of Padua," "Mr. W. H.," and Florentine Tragedy." Of these, the st two were known; but several ars elapsed before Mr. Ross (Wilde's ecutor, I believe) discovered that he s in possession of some loose sheets, e arrangement of which made the t "Florentine Tragedy." He at ce assumed (though I cannot see y he should assume it) that the ening scene was missing. Even aft- receiving another copy of the play the time in possession of Mr. Wil- , the actor,) which corresponded h his own copy, Mr. Ross still clung the idea that an opening scene was , or had never been written. erefore, Sturge Moore (the humor it!) was called upon to complete the ay, a thing which this gentleman d. It is thus that "A Florentine agedy" is published. I do not know Mr. Moore succeeded, because I have t read what Mr. Moore wrote. In ct, I never intend to. I have cut the st twenty-four pages from my book, d as the second scene (Wilde's first) ens at the top of page 25, the book ntains none of Mr. Moore's poet- ing, and all of Wilde's.

To me, as the poet left it, the play is a perfect whole, beautifully bal- anced and artistically welded. To im- gine an opening scene is to think of ne of Cooper's introductions. There is ot a line, not a motive, not a situa- ion that is not obvious. The scene it- self gives us unmistakably the foun- dation of the action, and both Mr. Ross and Mr. Moore were confessedly deficient in artistic feeling to have deemed an opening scene necessary. The power of the tragedy lies in its brief treatment and compression. It is unfortunate that a great writer's work can be subjected to such bourgeois treatment. The play, as Wilde wrote it, is the work of a sensitive artist: as it now stands, it is the work of—well, the work of a Thomas Sturge Moore.

Arthur Christopher Benson, whose collected poems have recently been published.

The play itself will stand beside anything Wilde has ever written. It is almost a perfect piece of literary art, and gives further attestation to the fact that Wilde's was a rare genius. Simone, a merchant, returns home to find Guido Bardi, a Florentine prince, guiltily a guest of Bianca, his wife. He at once comprehends the situation, but subtly simulates an unsuspecting attitude; and here begins one of the most masterfully ironical achievements in English. He plays with his wife and her lover with all the fiendish prowess of a cat playing with two mice. They realize that he knows their true relations, and yet are unable to do anything but yield to his torture. The sustained suspense that runs through the whole play is developed and manipulated with such sure and overwhelming force that the effect becomes terrible. Every line of Simone's is fraught with a subtle and awful significance, and Guido and Bianca can only pretend not to understand, while all the time the accumulating irony is crushing the two trembling weaklings in its horrible vise.

At first Simone pretends he thinks Guido has come to purchase his goods, and brings out numerous garments to show him, cunningly urging him to buy. His wife's hatred is rapidly increasing, and when Guido offers him a hundred thousand crowns for a cloak, Simone replies:

"A hundred thousand!
Said you a hundred thousand? Oh! be sure
That will for all time, and in everything
Make me your debtor. Ay! from this time forth
My house, with everything my house contains,
Is yours, and only yours."

George Sterling,
author of "The Wine of Wizardry" and other poems.

He bids Bianca spin.

Bianca:

"What shall I spin?"

Simone:

"Oh, spin
Some robe which, dyed in purple, sorrow might wear
For her own comforting: or some long-fringed cloth
In which a new-born and unwelcome babe
Might wail unheeded: or a dainty sheet
Which, delicately perfumed with sweet herbs,
Might serve to wrap a dead man. Spin what you will,
I care not, I."

He tells of his horse falling: he says it is a bad omen. Bianca exclaims to Guido: "Oh, would that death would take him where he stands."

Simone:

"Who spake of Death? Let no one speak of Death.
What should Death do in such a merry house,
With but a wife, a husband and a friend
To give it greeting? Let Death go to houses
Where there are vile adulterous things, chaste wives
Who, growing weary of their noble lords,
Draw back the curtains of their marriage beds,
And in polluted and dishonored sheets
Feed some unlawful lust. Ay! 'tis so
Strange, and yet so. You do not know the world.
You are too single and too honorable."

Simone urges Guido to play the lute. "I have heard that by the simple fingering of a string. . . . Innocence puts vine leaves in her hair, and wantons like a maenad. Let that pass. Your lute, I know, is chaste. And therefore play." The tension grows higher. Simone asks Guido to drink, but the latter's hand trembles and the wine spills.

Simone:

". . . . What is this stain upon the cloth? It looks
As purple as a wound upon Christ's side.
Wine merely is it? I have heard it said
When wine is spilled blood is spilt also,
But that's a foolish tale."

Guido arises to depart. It occurs to him that Simone means to kill him. They clash without a spoken word between them of the knowledge and suspicions of the other, which each knows the other possesses. Guido is killed. Simone rises and looks at Bianca. She comes toward him, dazed with wonder and with outstretched arms.

"Why did you not tell me you were so strong?" she asks.

"Why did you not tell me you were beautiful?" he answers.

He kisses her on the mouth.

Lyric Eroticism.

THE POEMS OF ERNEST DOWSON. With a memoir by Arthur Symons. New edition, 1909. John Lane, The Bodley Head, New York. (Price $1.50 net.)

Sad little Ernest Dowson, one of the more pathetic, ineffectual wanderers in the twilight, were all his poems lost but "Cynara," would still be numbered among the geniuses of the Victorian epoch. He was not a great poet; there were too many alien influences in his work to permit this classification. Even "Cynara," I sometimes think, was a variation of Symons's "To One in Alienation," surely Symons colored most of what Dowson wrote—not technically nor verbally, but in feeling and in temperament. Later, Swinburne crept in.

To many, Dowson's poems will hold only the echoes of an affected and morbid melancholy; to many, he will be the singer of self-conscious decadence, By decadence I mean the love for the riotous, the ephemeral, the evanescent. But, to me, Dowson's poems, in all their frangible delicacy, in all their brittle beauty and sensitive lyricism, are the genuine and real products of a nature emotionally limited and temperamentally insufficient. He has always about him a sense of twilight—not morning, but late evening. He harbors an intimate, though nebulous, idealism. He walks in a land of dreams, among phantoms, where the trees and flowers are exquisite unrealities, where song and music are only heard in silence, where words are whispers:

"A land of silence
Where pale stars shine,
On apple blossoms
And dew-drenched vine."

The lasting, substantial things were beyond his mental grasp. Love was his theme; he sang of nothing else; but it was not the love that endures.

"Love stays a summer night,
Till lights of morning come;
Then takes her winged flight
Back to her starry home."

Again, he sings of the evanescence of love:

"Because thy lips grow pale, and thy breasts grow dun and fall?
I go where the wind blows, Chloe, and am not sorry at all."

And again:

"Wine and woman and song,
Three things garnish our way,
Yet is day overlong."

Dowson was a worshiper of beauty. He was essentially Latin in this, as in his passionate desire for youth and in his abhorrence of age.

"When I am old
And sadly steal apart,
Into the dark and cold,
Friend of my heart,
Remember, if you can,
Not him who lingers, but the other man.
Who loved and sang and had a beating heart,
When I am old."

It is odd that a man who lived such a vitally real life—a life filled with hardships, deprivations, miseries and unfulfillments—should write exclusively of a world full of perpetual dreams, a world both unreal and ghostly. But of this land of silence and dreams and pale roses, no one has ever sung more sweetly, more beautifully, more tenderly, than Ernest Dowson. His "Villanelle of Marguerites" is one of the most beautiful villanelles in English. His poem "O Mors, quam amara est memoria tua homini pacem habenti in substantiis suis" is as languidly perfect a lyric as any that has come from the modern writers.

Though not a remarkable poet, his poems will be read wherever English is spoken. They are fraught with an emotional lyricism, superficial but esthetically beautiful, and are filled with a "pathos of things too young and too frail ever to grow old."

It is with a feeling of gratification that I announce a new edition of his poems from the press of John Lane Company, a publishing house which will live in the memories of book lovers long after the others are forgotten. The book contains two pictures of Dowson, one, an etching, and one, a photograph; a memoir by Arthur Symons, and illustrations by Audrey Beardsley.

Poetry With Promise.

A WINE OF WIZARDRY and Other Poems. By George Sterling. A. M. Robertson, San Francisco.

Mr. George Sterling is a hot-house poet. I say this with regret after reading his book for, from occasional things of his which appeared in the magazines, I had gathered hope that the West was going to supply this country with a poet.

It is difficult to believe that the same man wrote all the poems in the book before me. They express a heterogeneity of viewpoints on life that contradict and baffle one another. I cannot tell if Mr. Sterling is a pagan or a puritan, a Nietzschean or an altruist, an esthete or a plebeian, a sentimentalist or a sensualist. Perhaps the poet himself does not know. Perhaps he has no homogeneity of nature, no definite philosophy. There is Rossetti in one poem and Longfellow in another; there is Poe on one page and Willis on the next. There is no unity of thought or of idea; Mr. Sterling is a reflection of a multiplicity of ideas garnered through reading. This is what I mean by his being "hot house." His temperament is the temperament of books; his influences are book influences; his poetry does not come from the personal application of self to his subject, but from an acquired idea of another's experiences. His work is of words and phrases, rather than of ideas and actualities. For instance, he has a waiting lover ask,

"But listen, O ye trees!
Are those her footfalls, or my leaping heart?"

Of course no one rightfully at large (not even a lover,) would ask such a question, because every one knows the difference between heart beats and footfalls in a wood. It is a pleasing question in poetry, but quite absurd. Nor are the trees going to listen. It is merely "making conversation." Much of Mr. Sterling's poetry bears traces of similar small talk. Once he invests an iris with human emotions and decadent philosophy and has the flower say that it will be meet for her to share the death-rest of a man who has plucked her, for by so doing he was the only living thing that gave love to her. Such things are poetic poppycock. On page 63 he remembers Rossetti's

"Under the arch of Life, where love and death,
Terror and mystery, guard her shrine, I saw Beauty enthroned."

and echoes this Platonism thus:

"High on her utmost tower of the West Sits Beauty, baffling an eternal quest."

Then on page 75, he switches to the other temperamental pole and writes a prosaic sentimental poem about John and Elaine sitting under a "rented roof"—a poem that Will Carleton could not duplicate.

"And John reread the news, till mute Elaine,
Her eyes grown tired with gazing at the fire,
Saw half its glowing temples fall to ash:
Then on the bitter silence of their pride
There came a knock, not timid. John arose
And lit their little hall, and turned the knob."

And this is all meant for serious poetry!

However, there are potentialities in Mr. Sterling. In "A Wine of Wizardry," he has many vivid pictures which attest an ability to visualize clearly and to express happily. The poem, however, is too long, and sags in spots. On page 77 he writes of walking by a graveyard, and

"Within its gates I heard the sound
Of winds in cypress caverns caught,
Of huddling trees that moaned, and sought
To whisper what their roots had found."

Any one who can write as remarkable a stanza as that is not to be brushed aside as a poetaster. His work is full of these flashes of genius—these striking, truly poetic coups. His sonnets, as a whole, are workmanlike and well-moulded, although I find much ambiguity of term in them. Pithiness and conciseness are necessary ingredients in good poetry.

When Mr. Sterling has defined himself, has thought more deeply, has analyzed emotions more keenly—when he has given over meaningless chit-chat, however pretty, to ideas which will carry in themselves a beauty beyond the pleasing beauty of their diction, there will be no reason why he should not write excellent poetry.

Complete Edition.

THE POEMS OF RICHARD WATSON GILDER. Houghton-Mifflin Company, New York.

It will be of interest to the admirers of Richard Watson Gilder to learn that the Houghton-Mifflin Company has publisred his collected poems attractively, and with a full-page photograph of our modern Longfellow. It will be disappointing, though (even to his admirers,) to learn that this edition has nearly 500 pages, and contains all of the poor work of Mr. Gilder, in addition to the good. On page 433 he has seen fit to include:

"And when Maria, and when Molly,
Frances, Alice, Grace, Cecelia,
Clara, Bess, and Pretty Polly,
Lolah and the dark Amelia,
Come with various other ladies,
Certain boys, and grown-ups graver—
Then, be sure, no one afraid is
To let his wit give forth its flavor,
With the fragrant odor blent
Of the Souchong, and the scent
Of the roses and sweet peas
And other blossoms sweet as these."

It is bad enough to have written such twittering (although it seems to be the common lot,) but he has seen fit to include it in his collected poems! There is an abundance of similar matter throughout the book.

He has written too much. For a busy man such as Mr. Gilder is he has written inordinately too much. His unbridled facility does much to obscure the poetic talent, undeniable evidences of which Mr. Gilder at times displays. One hundred pages (even less, perhaps,) would contain all the verse of this poet worth preserving. Everything Mr. Gilder sees (and numerous things he doesn't see,) inspires him with a desire to sing—and he sings. (I cannot repress the foolish wish that he had worn blinders.) Many of his songs are worth while, but to wade (now I know the meaning of the word!) through the pages of his book tires the intellect to such a degree that the reading becomes mechanical and the good is lost.

It is really a great injustice to the poet's genuine ability to include so many worthless and unthinking verses in the definitive value of his poems, and if it was the same as in the case of Mr. Stedman, I would blame his executors for over-zealousness. But Mr. Gilder was able to look after this work and to order the necessary expurgations. The poems, however, will give him (if they have not already done so) a place in American literature along with the names of Whittier and Longfellow. He cannot rank equal with the latter, because he did not write:

"A boy's will is the wind's will,
And the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts."

A Nature Poet.

THE POEMS OF ARTHUR CHRISTOPHER BENSON. John Lane, The Bodley Head, New York.

Those fastidious and sensitively-constituted people who make much of interesting titles, and love the happily chosen names of poems, will meet with keen disappointment in Mr. Benson's book. I suppose, however, that this poet had no great choice in the matter. If he writes a poem on a gentian or a grasshopper or a hawk, it conventionally follows that the poem will be named "The Gentian" or "The Grasshopper" or "The Hawk." This is the exact way things stand in regard to A. C. Benson. The result is his table of contents resembles closely a botanical and entomological dictionary.

Mr. Benson has studied nature. He is no dilettante on the subject of bugs, birds or shrubbery; he knows what he is talking about. One might justly think he was a botanist turned poet; an ethnologist given over to song. He knows the names of all the flowers he encounters; the habits and names also of birds and insects are as clear to him as to the naturalist. But it is not with the objective and cold scientific mood of the botanist that he enumerates and describes the nature life about him; he has a deep and tender poetic feeling for nature; he loves nature. It is a concrete love, moreover; the physical moods of the country do not arouse in him the emotional suggestiveness that they do in Clinton Scollard or in Bliss Carman, for instance. He could pluck an orchid or an azalea and carry it to his study, examine it under lamplight, and write a poem to it.

I do not wish to imply that Mr. Benson has not written of other things. He has given us many other themes, but never once has he struck a deep, vital note in his poetry. As far as I can see, he has not definite "outlook on life" (pardon me, G. K. C.;) he is without a doctrine or a philosophy; he touches life with a fleeting, ephemeral finger, flitting from the nasturtium to the thistledown with the calm, unthinking indifference of the bee. Unlike the bee, however, Mr. Benson has the unfortunate habit of attaching morals to his poems. To him a moral is the only real climax of any significant consequence. For me, much of his otherwise enjoyable verse is spoiled by his insatiable appetite for preaching.

I suspect Mr. Benson of thinking superficially, sometimes of thinking not at all. I suspect him, also, of having no great capacity for emotional enthusiasm. He is lulled away to a brooding semi-consciousness by a cultured self-sufficiency. But all the time he is the artist—the perfect, delicately-balanced artist; a superficial realist, perhaps, but always an artist.

As for his craftsmanship, the only adjective that comes to me now is impeccable. It is too impeccable, however. Dictionally, he is cultured to a degree of monotonous perfection. His style is as pure as that of any poet I know. Metrically, he is flawless; still there is but little music in his poems. He is fluent, occasionally colorful, and at all times pleasing.

The John Lane Company has gathered together what will probably be the standard collection of Mr. Benson's poems. They consist of selections from "Lu Cahier Jaune" (1892,) "Poems" (1893,) "Lyrics" (1895,) "Lord Vyet and Other Poems" (1897,) "The Professor and Other Poems" (1900,) and "Peace and Other Poems" (1905.) The volume contains a full-page photograph of Mr. Benson.

THE LION HUNTER.

Will Carleton frequently has to walk half the night, after lecturing, before he can calm down the excitement produced by the occasion sufficiently to sleep. He has been "held-up" two or three times by highwaymen in these night walks; but, as he takes pains to leave his valuables in the hotel safe at such times, he never loses anything—not even his self-possession. Once three burly robbers surrounded him and asked him what time it was: thus hinting that it was in order for him to hand over his watch. Carleton looked demurely up at the stars and told them it was nearly midnight. They were curious to know how he could tell that way, and he gave them a lecture on astronomy. At this, one of the fellows respectfully asked his name, and, Carleton having given it without hesitation, the robber exclaimed: "Thunder! Why didn't you tell me at first who you was? I've heard you read more than once, and my wife, when I had one, used to read your poems to me every night before I went to bed." Carleton then gave his new acquaintances another lecture—this time on the error of their ways—bade them good-night, and went on as if nothing had happened.

Another time he was arrested by an officious watchman, in one of the outskirts of the town, as a suspicious character, as he resembled slightly in form and height a party for whom the officers were looking. Carleton allowed himself to be conducted back to the city, pledging his word that he wouldn't run, and the officer threatened to shoot him if he did. On the way the "prisoner" amused himself by asking his companion all sorts of questions—as to who was the best attorney in town to get him out of the scrape—if the jail were comfortable, and so forth—to which the other gave, at first, gruff replies, but was finally won by his captive's conversational powers.

"He was the most charmin' feller to talk with that I'd seen for a good while," he said afterward, "an' it kept seemin' to me what a pity it was that such a man should be a criminal. I almost wanted to ask him over to breakfast with me the next mornin.' "

They soon came into the lighted streets, and happened to meet the Mayor, who had introduced Carleton to the audience a few hours before.

"I think I've got the feller we've been after so long," exclaimed the officer.

"Why, you big fool, that's the lion of the evening!" replied the other, laughing immoderately. "He's been playing with you."

The officer always went by the name of "The Lion Hunter" after that night.

MISS SUSAN GLASPELL.

Some weeks ago I reviewed "The Glory of the Conquered," by Susan Glaspell, a name unfamiliar to me. So good was the workmanship: so matured was its diction: so much literary excellence did the book contain—that I asked, "Who is Susan Glaspell?" I have since found out that she is, indeed, a new writer: and I predict a brilliant future for her if she but ignore the demands of publishers and write for herself.

Davenport, Iowa, is her home city. She was graduated from Drake University, in Des Moines. The day after commencement she went on the staff of a Des Moines newspaper as a political reporter. About the State House she found rich material for her first stories, which were published in several magazines, among them Harper's and the American Magazine. Later she went to Chicago and took graduate work at the University of Chicago, which furnishes such a good setting for much of her book. It was after this period that she wrote "The Glory of the Conquered." A very curious coincidence occurred while she was revising the manuscript. She had actually started on a chapter in which one of the characters fall ill with appendicitis when she herself had a sudden and severe attack of the same ailment; and she finished the chapter during her convalescence. Since the acceptance of the book she has been traveling abroad, and is now in Paris.

Baron von Birlepsch of Thuringia has turned his large estate into a bird sanctuary, many trees and bushes favorable to the birds he wants to cultivate have been planted, scattered among which are 3000 nesting boxes. Of these 3000 boxes, ninety-five out of every 100 were occupied last spring. In one thicket, a little stretch planted with low bushes, there were a hundred nests built by the birds at the rate of a nest to every foot of space. A close hedge of whitethorn and wild roses protects the grounds on the village side from the children who might want to come a-birdnesting, and ingeniously contrived traps await marauding creatures.

EDUCATIONAL DRIFT.

The nervous drain of a teacher's duties is recognized by the editor of one of the medical journals who in a recent article calls attention to the neurasthenia affecting the school teachers of New York. He says: "One of the most startling facts as to our public schools is the recent revelation of the large percentage of retired teachers in New York City who have neurasthenia recorded as the cause of their disability. If there is anything which unfits one for managing children it is neurasthenia. Even babies are excited or soothed as their nurse is nervous or phlegmatic.

"The cause of the teachers' neurasthenia is obscure when we reflect that teaching is the natural life of woman, who has developed a genius for managing children, as well as the result of the evolution of ages. None the less, it is a nervous strain. Nothing is harder to bear than the noise of other people's children. Much may be due to improper food and too much light in the schoolrooms also."

The University of Puget Sound, a Tacoma, Wash., institution, is in a turmoil because of the recent ruling of Lee L. Benbow, president of the college, forbidding the members of the faculty attending theaters.

Already one of the instructors, Harlan Glazier, has tendered his resignation, partly because he is alleged to have received a scoring for attending theaters and partly because of his alleged belief in transmigration of souls.

The poor physique of normal school graduates has been known for a long time, but Dr. Elizabeth Farrett has shown that many are unfit to take up the profession of teaching, for which they were trained. Much of this is known to be due to improper food.

Insufficient nintrogen has prevented proper growth and development. Poverty is at the basis of it, of course, and instead of advocating public feeding, we should advise these cases to do what is done by every boy too poor to attend college—to work thing else.

May is the month when the world is too fair and sweet for one to be anything less than good. Write of the simple, pure lives of the men and women who live and labor in the green byways of the country, holding close communion with nature; of quaint characters to be found there; of those who go from the crowded, hurrying city to the open of the country; of the little tenement children turned loose in the fields; of ill, pain-racked bodies eased and strengthened, of weary spirits refreshed, and of souls regenerated, in God's out-of-doors.

May is the month when the spirit of a young world steals pulsing through our veins with promises and visions, and Hope reaches down her white hands to us; write of the young maids' dreams, dreaming them with her; of the young man's ambitions, your own heart afire with his zeal, write of souls pushing up, up, blindly perhaps, but ever up, toward some high goal of thinking or living; of souls reaching up to God. Write of new life—of the little new soul that is born into the world; of the wonder of this which we call life, which can grow, and does grow, reaching out towards things, drawing elements it needs to itself, assimulating them, and with the power derived from them reaching out after larger and larger things. Speak of the wonder that this capacity should be in everything, that the seed should have in it the power to grow into the oak, that even the inanimate stone, disintegrating, should have the life-power to draw the air into its being, forming oxides that plants absorb as food and that later, through the human use of these plants, sustains and generates, in a physical way, the thought of man, becomes in truth a part of human thought that lays hold upon infinite things and is eternal—of the wonder that not only the lowest forms of physical life, by the process of evolution through centuries and cycles of centuries are developing into the highest forms of physical life, but that the lowest forms of inanimate matter are dissolving to become a part of something higher and still higher, until, in the far, far distant ages of eternity they shall have developed into the spiritual and there shall no longer be any material, any physical, any mortal, but all shall be spiritual and infinite.

Oh, May is such a beautiful month; such a wonderful month! It is beautiful enough, and wonderful enough for one to wish that it could last the whole year. Who can help writing upon some of the many themes the month inspires—more themes than one could adequately write upon in a dozen months. There are themes for light, pretty verses and for great, deep poems. Not half of the beautiful verses that might be written—about nature, have been written; not half of the great, deep poems have been even conceived of in thought. If you have a poet soul, write a poem for May Literary Day. If you are a weaver of stories, write a story for the day. If you are philosophical, compose an essay. If your talent is in little touches, draw a bit of a word sketch. If you are just you, and not the least particle of a poet or romancer or essayist, write a letter in which, in just your own informal, simple way, you tell us what you think of nature. I wish that we might carry the thought of out-of-door life through the month, discussing it in our letters when there are not other matters to be considered. There is so very much that might be said.

I wish all would write something for Literary Day, even those who have no ambition to be authors. Writing is only talking on paper—and everybody talks; talking is only thinking, and we all think—or do we talk without thinking? And thinking is just living from day to day, and so, why we should not all write is something which I cannot understand. Consider then, that you, no matter who you are, are most cordially invited to give us some thought for Literary Day, the first Sunday of May.

MARGUERITE WINNIFRED.

My Prayer.

If there be some weaker one,
Give me strength to help him on;
If a blinder soul there be,
Let me guide him nearer Thee.

Make my mortal dreams come true
With the work I fain would do;
Clothe with life the weak intent,
Let me be the thing I meant.

Let me find in Thy employ
Peace that dearer is than joy;
Out of self to love be led
And to heaven acclimated,
Until all things sweet and good
Seem my nature's habitude.

—[John Greenleaf Whittier.

Thoughts.

It is very important to cultivate businesslike habits. An eminent friend of mine assured me not long ago that when he thought over the many cases he had known of men, even of good ability and high character, who had been unsuccessful in life, by far the most frequent cause of failure was that they were dilatory, unpunctual, unable to work cordially with others, obstinate in small things, and, in fact, what we call unbusinesslike.—[Lord Avebury.

Likes the Society.

Mrs. Charlotte L. of Los Angeles will help spread doctrine of good cheer.

"I would like the address of the lady in Union City, Mich., as I wish to send her a cheery letter. I am very much interested in the Each and All girls."

The address will go forward to you at once.

Will Visit the Sick.

"Faith," a Los Angeles girl, sends the following letter:

"Please send me the addresses of Margaret, the sister who invested in hens to obtain an income, and the shut-ins and afflicted members who might like to write about their troubles, or shall I call it, experience, to a late member of the Each and All Society, and later on I may be able to meet some of them and bring reading matter or something useful for the sick room and the weary spirit."

The names and addresses you desire will be mailed to you as soon as possible.

The Secret of Happiness.

The secret of happiness in every life is to be doing what you feel you can do best, and to have your own inglenook. To do what you can do best includes the entire gamut, from housekeeper to society queen, though I should like to turn the gamut upside down by putting the homemaker at the top instead of the bottom of the scale. Your own inglenook you must have, married or single, if you would take into your life all the happiness it offers, and give out of your life all the happiness it owes the community.

The Love of Excellence.

Every little while, says Success, we hear of young men and young women taking sudden, tremendous jumps. Apparently, without any intermediary steps, they leap from the position of a stenographer or private secretary to a much more responsible situation.

EACH AND ALL MOTTO.

Golden thoughts, golden deeds,
Rid life's garden of its weeds.

OUR PLEDGE:

"To make one another happy, to lighten one another's burdens, to share one another's cares, to be lifters, not leaners, to make the world a little sweeter place to live in, to be mutual encouragers, never discouragers of any one, to start songs, not complainings, and to do every day something beautiful, some kindness which will cheer and strengthen another."

The acceptance of this pledge and sending of name and address to the Each and All department of The Times entitles any girl to the privileges of this society. There are no dues of any kind whatsoever. The official pin of The Times Each and All Society, represents the California poppy. Any chapter may be joined by sending stamped envelope with letter in order to put the applicant in communication with the chairman of the chapter.

If we investigated we should find that the person who seems to advance at a bound has been preparing for the higher position for years; by earning vastly more than he found in his pay envelope, by doing whatever was given him to do to a complete finish, thus building up a reputation for doing things in a superior way, and also establishing confidence in his employer that he is capable of filling a more responsible position.

Everything you do should stand for superiority, for excellence; should be proof positive that it is not done in a slipshod, slovenly way, but that it is done to a complete finish, just as well as you know how to do it, just as well as any human being can do it.

The Use of Slang.

"The use of slang is doing much to lower the American girl in the estimation of the foreigner," said Miss Frances B. Adams of Boston to the New York Telegram.

"I heard so many foreign men say that they thought American girls very beautiful, but that they did not like to hear them talk, because their profuse use of slang spoiled all their beauty.

"After I had heard this remark several times I began to notice that it is a fact the American girl traveling abroad does use a great quantity of slang—in fact, some that I have never heard at home.

"I believe they do this to attract attention. It is very notorious the world over that an American girl between 15 and 20 is fond of being noticed both at home and abroad.

"Foreigners have a great deal to say about our slang, and they still laugh at it and listen to it as long as an American will keep it up. This is perfectly natural. If we hear a bit of slang in Europe it amuses us a great deal more than the pure language.

"So, the American girl who is traveling in Europe finds she can attract attention by using a string of slang, but she is making a mistake if she thinks she is creating a good impression upon the foreign men. She is lowering her standing in the Old World about 80 per cent. And the way for her to avoid using slang abroad is not to get in the habit of using it at home."

A Pile of Magazines.

E. K. M. will gladly pass on a lot of interesting reading matter.

"Just a few lines from a Canadian girl," she writes, "to tell you how much I enjoy the Each and All page, and congratulate you on your good work. Owing to my mother's ill health, I have been unable to join, but have tried to live up to the pledge by doing something each day to make some one happy, and find that I, too, am much happier. I have quite a pile of magazines which I would like to pass on, so I am going to ask you what to do with them. They are the woman's Home Companion, Harper's Bazaar and the Saturday Evening Post. If you will kindly tell me through your department I shall be glad to send them as directed. I wish you much success in your good work and trust to become a member in the near future."

You may have those magazines sent to the editor of Each and All department, and they will be sent to the Invalid Cheer Chapter for distribution.

Should Women Vote?

The "Beaver" send in first response to call for opinions of Each and All girls.

"In response to your call for opinions upon the subject of suffrage (one of the topics in the splendid list suggested by Hope Russell,) I offer this: The attaining of suffrage means change, does it not?—evolution; what must be the full price we shall have to pay; for it means to give as well as to get. Will suffrage jeopardize courtesy? Will the men folk grow indifferent and forget to tip their hats to us? Ah, but I prize and cherish the lifted hat! Or shall we be compelled to acquire the habit ourselves? And, if so, may we wear a dinky little cap, or must we still obey the dictates of monstrous vogue?

"Then, another point—the point of the cartoonist's pencil: Will the artist be permitted to use his skill in grasping the salient angles and the curves of our physiognomy? Or may we play the 'baby act' during campaigns, and claim that we, being feminine, are exempt?

"And now, dear editor, may I exchange a string of initials for a pen-name? If the name chosen seems acceptable to you. A name has several meanings: It relates to the head; a face shield to a helmet; a worker; and lastly, in badgeology it stands for my native State—the land north of the "bear and the orange." The name desired is——"

The Beaver is evidently not in favor of woman's suffrage. May we not hear from other girls on this subject?

Will Help Cheer.

Mrs. D. P. D. of Los Angeles has had her sympathies aroused by the letter from our Union City member, and she therefore offers to add her mite in helping to cheer.

"Please let me know how to reach Mrs. M. A. S., of Union City, Mich. I am sure I can be of some help to her, also her husband. After reading her letter in The Times makes me feel as though I can and should be of some help to them. I will thank you very much for her address, wishing you all the success you can possibly have in your Each and All Society."

The address will be forwarded to you at once.

Interested in Society.

Mrs. J. C. P. is interested in the work of the Each and All girls.

"I am much interested in the Each and All department. Would you kindly mail me the post card list? Inclosed you will find stamped envelope."

The post card list has been discontinued.

Invalid Cheer Meeting.

Members of Invalid Cheer Chapter of Each and All Society met during the week at the home of Mrs. Daniels, No. 1412 Temple street. There will be another meeting at 2 p.m., April 20, at the same place. As there will be special work on hand members are requested to make an effort to attend this meeting and to report on time.

The chapter reports to the Each and All girls the case of Miss Annie Layman of R.F.D., No. 1, Conover, O., who is a cripple, and who would like to have birthday letters from the Each and All girls for April 22. She would also like to receive silk and woolen pieces from the girls for quilts.

Amy Jane and the Poppies.

[Written for The Times' Children's Department.]

There was a jolly little girl,
Her name was Amy Jane;
Her hair was lovely bronzy red,
Her face was rather plain.

She had the bluest of blue eyes,
Just like the bluest posey;
And then there were, I'm very sure,
'Steen freckles on her jolly nosey,
Oh—Oh Amy, freckled Amy Jane.

Now Amy Jane was pretty cute;
She knew a thing or two,
For she could tell a lovely story,
A story truly true:

Or she could sing a jolly song,
As slick as any bird,
And just about the very best,
That I have ever heard.
Oh—Oh Amy, jolly Amy Jane.

Now Amy was a daisy girl,
She loved her mother well;
She helped to do the morning's work,
And wiped the dishes well—

And when the baby cried, and cried,
She'd trill a little song,
Or tell a fairy storyette,
'Bout twenty minutes long.
Oh—Oh Amy, dearest Amy Jane.

* * * * * *

One springtime day she went to play,
To pick some poppy flowers—
She didn't know—how could she tell,
That springtime's full of showers?

The sweet breeze swept across the plain—
The flowers looked up and smiled—
Wild bees and flies went honeying on—
The day was Joy's own child.
Oh—Oh Amy, happy Amy Jane.

The poppy field was full of pops,
The grass was like a mat;
She picked some poppies just to trim
Her merry-widow hat.

And then she saw upon the ground,
A bird's nest hid away,
And in the nest sure's anything,
Three eggs on cotton lay.
Oh—Oh Amy, lucky Amy Jane.

But Amy didn't get the eggs,
The old bird wouldn't let her;
It flew and lit on Amy's head,
And pulled her hair and bit her.

And then it fell upon the ground,
And there it lay a-sprawling,
While other birds flew round and round,
A-screaming and a-squalling.
Oh—Oh Amy, scared Amy Jane.

Then Amy feared the bird was dead,
It peeped, and kept a-wiggling—
But still it limped away—away—
And then flew off a-giggling.

So Amy didn't get the bird,
Nor see the eggs again, sir;
She'd chased the bird so far away,
She couldn't find the nest, sir.
Oh—Oh Amy, foolished Amy Jane.

So Amy then sat down to rest,
And smooth her hair discreetly—
Up came some showers and spoiled the flowers,
And she got wet completely.

And then she wished she hadn't come—
She looked around in wonder;
And then next thing that Amy knew,
Came lighting and the thunder;
Oh—Oh Amy, frightened Amy Jane.

So then she ran, she ran for home,
As fast as she could patter;
She scared a rabbit into fits,
'T went off a-clitter-clatter.

Next thing she did, ker-flop she fell,
Into a water ditch, sir;
Tears in her eyes—how could she tell
The t'other side from which, sir?
Oh—Oh Amy, wetter Amy Jane.

The ditch was full of sand and mud,
And polly-olly-woggles,
And grass and weeds and other things,
'Sides efts and little frobbles.

Already she was very wet,
As wet as rain would wet her;
So truly I don't 'xactly see,
How she could get much wetter;
Oh—Oh Amy, unhappy Amy Jane.

* * * * * *

And when her mamma saw her come,
A-dripping and a-waddling,
She took her by one little ear,
And Amy got a paddling.

Then Amy cried—"a-wee—a-wee;"
Her heart went flitty-flutter,
Till mamma cried from sympathee,
Then got some bread and butter,
With jelly on it, happy Amy Jane.

W. G. WRIGHT.

Success.

Few people enter the city of Success in a Pullman sleeper; generally they climb a steep pathway by determined effort and undaunted will to attain their heart's desire and reach their goal. Looking about us, we are brought face to face with the fact that all growth is the result of effort. No one can develop our brain, our muscles or any part of us, mentally, morally or physically, but we ourselves, and so our success depends on our own ability to press on, in spite of all that may arise, permitting nothing to overcome us. Opposition should only serve to stimulate us on our way and draw us nearer our goal. We are told the gods help those who help themselves, and so no pull is worth as much as our own push. The helper always to be depended upon is self.

E. B.

Something Each Day.

Something each day—a smile,
It is not much to give,
And the little gifts of life
Make sweet the days we live.
The world has weary hearts
That we can bless and cheer,
And a smile for every day
Makes sunshine all the year.

Something each day—a word,
We cannot know its power;
It grows in fruitfulness
As grows the gentle flower.
What comfort it may bring,
Where all is dark and drear;
For a kind word every day
Makes pleasant all the year.

Something each day—a thought,
Unselfish, good, and true,
That aids another's need,
While we our way pursue;
That seeks to lighten hearts,
That leads to pathways clear;
For a helpful thought thought each day
Makes happy all the year.

Something each day—a deed,
Of kindness and of good,
To link in closer bands
All human brotherhood.
Oh, thus the heavenly will
We all may do while here;
For a good deed every day
Makes blessed all the year.

As a special Day treat the McKinley boys escorted in a body to witness performance, and they are looking to it with pleasurable excitement. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the will also interest other benevolent organizations, such as the Elks in an effort to induce to secure seats to accommodate children of other orphanages of the city who would like to see the performance. This would make the matinée performance of May 1 a real May fête for the children.

The entertainment is to be a spectacular two-act operetta entitled "The Mystic Midgets, or the Lilliputian Carnival of All Nations." The character of the Mystic Queen will be taken by Miss Pearl Teetzel; that of the Prince, by Mrs. Marie Sweet Baker; Psyche will be impersonated by Miss Louise George, and W. J. The "Queen Louise Gavotte" will be one of the very beautiful features of the entertainment. This will be danced by Mildred Kapfer, Mamie Voight, Maud Adams, Rowena Barney, Annie Lease, Eugenie Rixon and Frances Heyer.

The "Singing Sextette" will be composed of Sara Bonner, Florence Parker, Ethel Parker, Regina Malinow, Rose B. Clemens and Mrs. Zelma Wagner.

There will be a scene of warfare between the fairies and gnomes which will appeal to the tiny folk present. Mrs. R. E. Collins is directing the children for the entertainment, with the following ladies in charge of the different groups: Mrs. C. E. Payne, gnomes; Mrs. H. S. Hurlbut, butterflies; Mrs. W. F. Please, fairies; Mrs. E. W. Gilmore, jockeys; Mrs. Henry Morris, archers, and Mrs. H. S. Hurlbut, gavotte.

The Central Committee will be composed of Mmes. G. A. Bobrick, Florence Collins Porter and G. A. Brock. Mrs. H. S. Hurlbut is chairman of the Ticket Committee; Mrs. W. W. Neuer, of the flower booth, and Mrs. C. B. Nichols, of the candy booth.

Among those who will have parts in the operetta are Rosalie McDonald, Boraza Foley, Madge Slack, Charlotte Cox, Margaret McNeely, Louise Hyer and Ethelyn Carson.

Mmes. W. F. Hammond, S. F. Howland and E. Ashton are also among the tireless workers for the success of the home benefit.

Pictured here are a number of the boys of the home working in the potato patch. The other picture shows a few of the members of the brass band, that is surely destined to become famous. The band has only recently been organized. Twenty-five beautiful instruments have been given to the boys through the efforts of the Ladies' Auxiliary, and this organization is also paying to have the boys taught to become proficient players. The boys who have been chosen to make up the band are very proud of the distinction conferred upon them and are coöperating very earnestly with their instructor to become musicians.

As well as being taught different branches of industrial work, the boys of the home, who range in age from 6 to 14 years, pursue the regular public-school curriculum. All the boys of the home attend a pretty new public school which has been recently erected by the city, on two acres of ground, purchased from the home. They attend school all day, taking their sloyd there. The other branches of industrial work and manual training are taught the boys at the home. Even the two babies of the home, who are 6 years old, have their little chores to do, their particular work and one in which each one of these small boys takes great pride is keeping a small portion of the yard free of twigs and paper.

The larger boys of the home are taught to take care of the barn, to milk, keep the stables in order, churning, gardening both vegetable and flower; the care of chickens, keeping of corrals in order, etc. The boys put their own dormitories, dining and bathrooms in order, and the whole place through the efforts of the boys is kept spotless and sweet.

Miss Eugenia Drennan, who is assistant superintendent and in charge of the home during the absence of Mrs. C. J. Robinson, the superintendent, says the boys are all very lovable. They are always in the best of health and spirits, not a single death having occurred in the home during its seven years' existence.

Some of the Boys Who Will Form Part of the McKinley Home Brass Band, with the new instruments which have been presented to them by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the home.

There is a beautiful little hospital connected with the home and, although its elegant furnishings and perfect appointments are sufficient temptation to coax any fellow to fall ill and be taken care of therein, not a single bed is occupied. The hospital is closed tightly, for "Everybody's well, thank you." Miss Drennan reports that only one case of serious illness has occurred at the home during her four years' service there. All vegetables which are used at the home are grown there, and many are sold.

The ladies of the Los Angeles Ladies' Auxiliary of the home are anxious to raise $10,000 to better carry on the work. It is their wish to have a separate building for the chapel, and that the room now occupied by the chapel be annexed to the combination playroom and library of the boys, which is entirely too small and cramped for comfort.

Speaking of the library, it might be stated that the boys are very fond of reading, but all the books of the library have been read and reread many, many times, for the little library does not contain very many volumes. So the gift of a few good bound books from friends would be very welcome to the boys of the home.

On Easter Sunday the boys were given a rare musical treat by the choir of the Gardena Baptist Church, consisting of fifteen voices, directed by Mrs. Gertrude Campbell, and supported by Klingensmith's orchestra of five pieces. A feature of the Easter celebration was the Easter address delivered by the child orator, little Inez Bowers of Los Angeles. The little speaker's address was one searching in its directness and sweet in its simplicity, and made a deep impression on the boys.

Members of the choir who participated in the recital were: Sopranos, Gladys Jeffers, Jessie Byrum, May Burbank, Florence Forsberg, Gertrude Haslam, Marguerite Cooper, Los Angeles; altos, Rebekah Bristow, Inez Haslam, Beth Reese, Viola Zediker; tenor, John Bristow; bass, Herbert Wood, Orville Cary, Roy Burbank; orchestra, J. A. Campbell, cello; J. H. Bush, cornet; Charley Smith, clarinet; Roy Sibley, violin; R. M. Klingensmith, violin.

CHILDREN'S THEATER.

Much Interest Manifested in the Project—Letters from Some of Them.

That the movement for a children's theater in Los Angeles is creating much interest, and is earnestly being looked forward to by the children of the city, who are anxious to lend their young efforts to its establishment is evidenced by the following letters written in reply to "Aunt Betty's" request to the children for their views upon the subject.

Aunt Betty of The Times would like to hear from others of the young people of the city on this subject, and they are invited to write her in care of this paper.

"Dear Aunt Betty: Today I read The Times article on children's theaters. I think it is an excellent idea.

"Last summer I visited New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago. I stayed longest in Boston and New York. In Boston there was a little fairy play given at the Castle Square Theater by some little pupils of the first and second grades. It was quite a success, and all the characters and pictures were in the papers. I also saw a pretty little play in New York given by very small school children.

"When I was in Boston our school club gave three plays called, 'By the Light of the Moon,' a Turkish play, 'Janice Meredith,' a colonial play, and Shakespeare's play, 'The Merchant of Venice.' I was in all three plays. We raised a fund for the Chelsea fire refugees. If we organized for a children's theater here, I am sure it will be a success.

"Yours very sincerely,

"BLANCHE SPIELBERGER."

"Dear Aunt Betty: The girls and boys of our school have become very interested in the children's theater. This morning we read an article about it in The Times and enjoyed it very much.

"I think if all the children in the city would become interested in the children's theater plan it would be a great success.

"Yours truly,

"ELIZABETH WHITE."

"Dear Aunt Betty: I have just finished reading in The Times Aunt Betty's letter. I think it would be very nice to have a children's theater here. I am very much interested in it, and I hope it will be a success. I have read a number of books that I would like to see played. I think if every boy and girl would be as interested in it as I am, we would have one very soon.

"EDNA HARLOW."

Now She's Champion.

The boys used to refuse to run races with Clara Hanson, when she was 10 or 12 years old, because they never liked to be beaten in a 100-yard sprint by "just a girl."

Now most of the boys in the Iowa City High School refuse to contest with her in the high jump because she can put it over most any of them. She has crossed the bar at four feet nine inches in a practice jump, and, so far as the chronicled records are concerned, she is the champion woman jumper of the world.

Miss Hanson is the center on her class basketball team. She is 17 years old, and weighs 135 pounds, to her five feet two inches in height. She negotiates the 100 yards in 13 seconds.

The high jump record of four feet nine, which Miss Hanson has made, was the result of a report in high school circles that one of the State University co-eds had cleared the bar at four feet six inches. The university girls' record up to that time—and Miss Hanson's as well—was four feet four inches. The high school girl went at it to beat the university record; equaled it one day and shattered it the next, with her vault of four feet nine inches.

Germany's Little Prince.

The little 3-year-old son of the Crown Prince of Germany is not only the pet of his own household, but that of all Germany. Wherever there is a picture of the Emperor one may now be sure to find one of "Prince Billy." Billy is said to have his royal grandpa right under his tiny thumb, and he leads him a fine dance sometimes. The Emperor intends that his grandchild shall be first and foremost a soldier, and so he has given him a whole cavalry, infantry, artillery and naval outfit in the way of toys. Billy is almost too little yet to know one from the other, but he takes to them all as naturally as a duck to water. The Emperor spends much of his spare time teaching Billy to salute and to imitate the famous parade goosestep which the Prussian soldiers use. The other day the Emperor found him perched up on a chair waving a little nickel-plated sword and laying down the law in real imperial fashion to his baby brother. He'll be a soldier all right, never fear.

Fun from the Tots.

Boss—Haven't you swept the office out yet, Willie?

Willie—No, sir.

Boss—Then what have you been doing?

Willie—Sweepin' out the dirt.—[New York Mail.

Susie (who has been admitted for a few moments to her mother's afternoon tea)—Do you know why all the silver here today is like our new servant?

Guest—No. Why?

Susie—Cause they're both hired.—[Exchange.

Boyd is a bright little fellow of 3 years. One day his mother observed him vigorously scratching his head and asked: "What makes you scratch your head?"

"Because I'm the only one that knows it itches," he replied quickly.

Little Jennie was spending the day with the local clergyman's child and for want of a better topic of conversation her little friend's mother asked her, "Does your papa say a pretty grace, dear?"

"Grace?" asked Jennie, mystified.

"Yes, dear. What did he say the first thing this morning, for instance?"

"Oh, I know," replied Jennie, her face brightening; "he said, 'Darn it all! I've got only five minutes to catch my train.'"—[Puck.

"Pop, I was the head of my class today."

"That's my bright little boy. Here's a dime for you. Now was it because you studied harder than usual?"

"Nope; 'twas cause the other feller stayed home."

One day Tom came home, proudly bearing the first formal record of his progress in scholastic lines. His mother, having been a teacher, was pleased to note that her offspring's ratings were of a high order, but his lawyer father, having scanned the slip minutely, said gravely:

"I don't see any record of deportment here, Thomas."

For a moment Tom looked blank, revolving the possible significance of the unknown terms, then his face cleared.

"Oh," he said, "we don't have that in our room."

A SUNDAY SERIAL.

The Turn of the Tide.

By Horace Annesley Vachell.

Copyright, 1908, by Horace Annesley Vachell. Entered at Stationer's Hall. All Rights Reserved.

XVIII.

Next day he left Hernshaw Parva. A few words of explanation passed between Burgess and himself. The young fellow looked the worse of the two.

"She thinks me leprous."

"But that's absurd. After a bit ——"

"Young Mrs. Mottisfont was there. She gave me away."

"Oh!"

Hugo could not bring himself to go into details. And, purposely, he kept back what had followed after Mrs. Mottisfont had gone.

"I shall bolt," he said heavily.

"You'll bolt, too, eh? But, after a time, you'll come back. I wish you luck, Burgess. She's worth waiting for and fighting for."

Burgess raised rather a listless face.

"If she cares for you ——"

"Damn it, man, I've just told you I'm a leper in her eyes."

"I don't think I shall try again."

"Of course you will. Again—and again, if necessary."

He spoke almost cheerfully, but for the first time he eyed the young fellow with a certain contempt.

"Where are you going, Charteris?"

"Out of England. I may shoot a woodcock or two in the Adriatic."

"And then——? When that decree is made absolute, eh?"

Hugo hesitated.

"I suppose I shall marry Mrs. Tempest," he muttered.

"Ah! Well, when you marry her, I shall try again."

Then they shook hands and parted.

Hugo returned to his London flat in May. Three months spent in cruising about the islands of the Adriatic had tanned his face and his sensibilities. Health and strength are astounding assets, and unlike the great qualities of the mind, which may lie dormant under certain conditions, they have a habit of asserting themselves.

Hugo, for instance, believed that he was sound and sane because he could digest Cyprus beef and walk five and twenty miles in a day.

He came back to England to marry Angela Tempest. When he allowed his mind to dwell upon the future, which was seldom, he consoled himself with the reflection that, so long as foxes ran fast and pheasants flew high, he could kill time by killing them.

Pixton received him with a pleasant smile, which seemed to repeat itself upon the faces of the men at his club.

In Piccadilly, one or two charming women, leaning out of their motors, waved welcoming fingers, indicating absolution. Evidently all was to be forgiven and forgotten.

Twice, during the previous three months, he had written to Angela, telling her curtly where he was and what he was doing. In each case, knowing that he was on the move, she had replied by telegram. Upon arrival at his flat he had found another telegram.

"Am in Paris with Poppet. Cross tomorrow or day after."

Angela, of course, was buying "things," and therefore enjoying herself. Did it trouble her that within a fortnight Poppet would have to leave her? Perhaps. The child was a sweet creature specially designed to adore and to be adored. And she would take with her that dream of a cabinet with panels painted and signed by Angelica Kauffman.

The same afternoon, in Bond street, he came face to face with Lady Barnbogle. The august matron passed him by with exalted nose and averted eyes, but on her austere lips flickered a smile not easy to interpret. Why did she smile? Possibly a vision of Angela playing ducks and drakes with twenty thousand a year had been vouchsafed to her. He wondered vaguely what had become of John. John might have taken to drink. That was just the sort of gross, stupid thing John would do. And Poppet would have to live with him! He tried to drive the child from his mind and failed. She obsessed him: a tender, dainty little maid, with big, crystal-clear, innocent eyes, already beginning to ask questions, and alluring fascinating manners. To think of her alone in that huge Abbey with—John!

To get rid of this importunate Poppet, he dined at his club with the swashbuckling ex-major of Lancers who—it will be remembered—had predicted that Hugo's pals would stand by him. The Major had been one of the first to greet the returning sinner. And, as before, in his loud, jolly voice, he had proposed a bird and a bottle of the best, a magnum, of course.

They dined at a small table in the big dining-room. Close by, some young fellows were beginning a cheery evening by doing themselves "top hole." Everybody spoke to the Major, and he, you may be sure, had a word or a wink for each. The boys knew more about wine and tobacco than he did, but some of the older men were not too proud to ask for his advice in regard to these high matters; advice bestowed with fitting solemnity and invariably approved by the wine butler, a portly-well-matured individual, an understudy of the Major's.

After dinner, in the smoking-room, Hugo found himself surrounded by a group of red-faced roysterers, who, for reasons which they kept to themselves, chose to acclaim the wanderer as the hero of the hour. "I told you they'd stand by you, my boy," whispered the Major. "One more tot of the Old Brown, and we'll nip off to the Levity. I wired for a couple of stalls."

Hugo sat, with a pleasant smile on his face, now clean-shaven again, but through the ever-thickening clouds of tobacco smoke, he saw Poppet's delicate features and her large, interrogating eyes.

At the Levity, one of the most popular of the music halls, Poppet, so to speak, sat on his knee with her arm around his neck, strangling him. He couldn't get rid of the child. The entertainment was neither more nor less detestable than usual. The great British public laughed and chattered and smoked while fat women and greasy men shouted silly songs set to equally silly music. A so-called Venus displayed a figure that would have excited the derision of a Paris atelier in a series of poses plastiques. With one exception the entertainment was remarkable for its vulgarity and stupidity. A Scotch comedian came on to the stage. Instantly a roar of applause burst from the crowded house, succeeded by silence, as the conductor waved his baton. Not a note, not a gesture, escaped the audience. Hugo whispered to the Major: "They do know what is good when they see it; why do they put up with what is so bad?"

"We all do that," the Major chuckled fatly. "I like good wine, but I drink a lot of poor stuff, and the worst of it is that the poor stuff knocks us out."

After the entertainment, supper, at one of the famous restaurants followed. Some genial spirits joined them; prepared to "whoop her up" in Hugo's honor. A hundred years before, these young bloods would have disturbed the peace by wrenching off door knockers and bonneting watchmen. Today they disturbed nothing other than their own digestions. Turned out of the restaurant by the scandalous early-closing act, the party went back to the club to smoke more cigars, drink whisky and Perrier, and tell yarns. This was the Major's golden hour. With a huge perfecto in his mouth and a long tumbler at his elbow, deep in a big armchair, the ex-Lancer would deliver an autobiographical sketch, full of incident and nicely seasoned to the palate of his listeners. He seemed to have been everywhere, to have known everybody, and to have done everything. His capacity for enjoyment had increased rather than diminished with advancing years. It was colossal, Rabelaisian!

Towards the close of this memorable evening, the major described a kangaroo hunt with corroborative detail due to a vivid and inflamed imagination rather than a memory admittedly the worse for wear. At the end of the narrative, he said:

"Rather a rum thing happened next day. I ran across Wilverley. You boys don't remember 'Duffer' Wilverley. He was at Harrow with me and went into the Brigade. Amazin' chap! A thunderin' cricketer, and as clever as they make 'em. We called him the 'Duffer' because he was such a nailer at everything. Good-lookin', too, tall, fair cove, not very unlike you, Hugo, my boy. There wasn't a more popular fellow in London than the Duffer. He brought off a queer double event; won the National on his own gee and published a poem! I'm not a judge of poetry, but fellows in the know told me it was a bit of all right. Then he disappeared, dropped out entirely. Broke? Not a bit of it. He got what the Yankees call 'cold feet.' He told me all about it over my camp-fire. He was fed up with this sort of thing," the major waved an all-including arm.

"Call of the Wild?" suggested one of the company.

"That's it in one. So he cut loose. I found him on his own station, fit as a fiddle and as happy as a tom-tit. He told me solemnly that he was never coming back."

Half of the young men present said emphatically that they were damned. The major muttered: "'Stroanary thing—very!" and lit his fifth cigar.

Hugo returned to his flat late. Before he went to bed, he looked at his mother's portrait. Again he found himself wondering: "Did she know?" Then he laughed, thinking of Wilverley. In the Adriatic, trying to masticate Cyprus beef, for instance, he had anticipated with pleasure this first night in town; the plunge into the pleasures of the old life. And now he had made the appalling discovery that it bored him to tears. The fun of Mayfair was no longer fun for him. Why?

With a vague feeling of irritation, he stared at his mother's picture. She conjured up a vision of Cynthia Charteris. Then, quite plainly, he saw Joy, and then, at the last, Joy melted from his sight and the importunate Poppet held up her mouth to be kissed.

Angelo did not reach London upon the following day. Hugo spent the morning in the Zoölogical Gardens, being a Fellow of the society and well known to several of the keepers. As a boy, nothing amused him more than to stand opposite some magnificent beast and select the exact spot where he would try to place a bullet if the animal were charging. Since those days he had shot some splendid specimens, and more than one had come within an inch or two of killing him. Recalling these escapes, he wondered grimly whether the fitter animal had survived.

For a couple of hours he watched the restless creatures pacing up and down their ill-smelling dens. The polar bears, in particular, challenged his pity. One monster reared himself up and blinked at Hugo with uncanny, reproachful eyes. "You know what we are accustomed to," he seemed to say. "Isn't this sort of thing an outrage on your ridiculous civilization?" The eagles stared at him fiercely. Of all the unfortunate prisoners herded together their lot appeared to be the most unhappy and cruel. Certainly, it would be a kindness to fetch a gun and despatch these lords of the air condemned to sit for ever gazing into the sunlit spaces where once they had held undisputed sway.

Hugo searched in vain for a leopard presented by him to the society. A keeper told him that it was dead.

"I'm glad to hear it," said Hugo, cheerfully. "That's the best bit of news I've had today."

The man touched his hat, agape with astonishment.

"I'd like to kill 'em all," said Hugo, still smiling.

Again the keeper touched his hat, but as Hugo moved on, he muttered: "The bloodthirsty loonatic, reg'lar butcher!"

Hugo went home, sent in his resignation to the society, and wrote a letter to the Times. In it he suggested that the public might study zoology from subjects stuffed and classified, as in the Natural History Museums. The Gardens, being an inferno worthy of the Dark Ages, ought to be put down by act of Parliament. It occurred to him as a happy thought that the dens might be kept for wife-beaters, vivisectionists, sweaters of cheap labor, and slum landlords. The one reason which justified the existence of the Gardens—to wit: Its claim to be considered as a place of popular entertainment—would justify also its metamorphosis into an open-air prison for the criminals he had named. The lower classes and all the dear little ones would find it excruciatingly funny to throw bits of buns into the mouths of eminent surgeons, and no interfering keeper would rebuke 'Arriet for poking up a confirmed wife-beater with the end of her umbrella.

When he had finished the letter he read it through, laughed and tore it up, recognizing the fatuity of attacking British institutions.

During the afternoon he heard Esmé Burgess's name. Fortune had not behaved too kindly to Esmé in designing Joy Vennable to be a sister instead of a wife, but she was making amends in other ways. He had been triumphantly elected member of Parliament for a constituency in Lancashire, where the voters were not easy to please. Burgess, it seemed, had captivated the rough miners and factory hands. After the declaration of the poll an extraordinary scene of enthusiasm had taken place. Hugo's informant swore roundly that some of the lasses had surrounded the successful candidate and insisted upon kissing him, thereby following the examples of the young ladies over-seas, who tried so hard to make a spangled ass out of their national hero. Hugo thought of Burgess embraced against his will, turning a blushing cheek to these bold hussies. What irony! The one woman he wanted was in the Forest of Ys, and unwilling to leave it at his invitation.

Bidding Burgess good-by, Hugo had muttered a word of encouragement. Hope seemed to have oozed out of the orator, who was packing his suit case when Hugo returned to the cottage after that terrible night spent upon the moor. Now, three months had passed. Hugo wondered whether Burgess had seen Joy, whether the old pleasant relations had been resumed. It would be easy to call upon Burgess, but incredibly difficult to speak of Joy. So Hugo remained in his flat, thinking, thinking, thinking!

But his thoughts had not crystallized into definite conclusions when next day he found himself in a lift, ascending to Angela's flat, where Angela, in the demurest frock, was awaiting him. He hoped that Poppet would be there, to save the awkwardness of the first meeting. Angela, to do her justice, had a keen sense of the ridiculous, and a really unerring instinct for exits and entrances. She would not rush at him as those Lancashire lassies had rushed at poor Burgess. All the same, she might reasonably expect some exhibition of feeling, the right word, the understanding glance, the glad hand. But his knees became as wax when he thought of these things.

Laus Deo!

Poppet was there, prettier than ever, and overjoyed at seeing her darling Uncle Hugo. In his overwhelming gratitude he hugged her too hard.

"I knew you'd come back," she said. "Mummie said you wouldn't, but I knew you would, because you promised."

"Well, here I am," said Hugo, speaking and feeling like a clown in a pantomime. He had assumed a sort of reckless geniality, the broad grin with which the paladins of today face outrageous fortune.

With Poppet hanging around his neck, he held out his hand to Angela, who had a blush upon her cheeks. Then they sat down and began to talk.

"Begin at the beginning," said Angela.

He could see that she was rather excited, for the color remained in her cheeks and in her voice lurked an impatient, slightly petulant tone, often used in the old days when talking to John, but hardly ever to him. He found himself wondering whether it were possible that she had met Mrs. Giles Mottisfont. Mrs. Giles would certainly not hesitate to give him away, but as certainly she would be discreet for Joy's sake.

"I camped upon the banks of a river called Jordan. Ever heard of it, Poppet?"

"'Course. Go on!"

"Abana and Pharphar—not to mention the Seine—may be finer rivers, but I preferred Jordan."

"What does he mean, mummie?"

"I don't know; perhaps we shall find out presently."

"Upon the banks of the Jordan I lived the simple life."

"It seems to have agreed with you."

"Appearances are deceptive. You look remarkably well, Angela, but haven't you something on your mind."

She frowned.

"Poppet!"

"Yes, mummie?"

"Now that you have seen Uncle Hugo, run off to nurse, darling."

"Oh, mummie!"

"At once, my pet."

This was the voice of She-who-must-be-obeyed. Poppet disappeared in silence, with a tear on each cheek. The child had served a purpose, and was now summarily dismissed. As soon as the door had closed, Hugo said:

"You might have let her down easier."

She ignored this remark. When she spoke again her tone was sweet as Hybla honey.

"Hugo, do you underrate my intelligence? Or have I overrated yours?"

The man looked at her steadily. The pink upon Angela's cheeks deepened, her eyes sparkled.

"Do you suppose for one instant that you have taken me in? Six months ago you showed me pretty plainly that you were tired of me. Since then, you have written two letters. Would you like to compare them with the letters you wrote a year ago?"

Hugo gazed at her with a dim smile. Angela had this great gift of the gods. With a word, a glance, a gesture, she could convey the impression of being misunderstood, unhappy and the victim of unreasoning injustice. Lady Barnbogle could have testified that, as a child, Angela always appeared to be in the right, when, as a matter of fact, she was indubitably in the wrong. Upon such occasions she could and did assume an air and tone of injured innocence which made mother and governess forget that they were Christian women.

The smile upon the man's face became less dim, for, suddenly, he realized how admirably she was got up for her part. She wore a sort of sublimated dressing gown, a confection of lace, and tulle and pale blue baby riband. Innumerable little frills, dainty enough to have been fashioned by fairies instead of overworked, underpaid seamstresses, foamed about her neck, her wrists, and the lower hem of the garment. If Aphrodite had considered the propriety of consulting Worth or Paquin before rising from the sea, she might have burst upon an adoring world in just such a frock as this. In it, with a suitable background and a nicely-adjusted light from behind, Angela looked 17, a sort of May blossom, a veritable nymph of spring fresh from a bath of morning dew.

Hugo laughed.

It was disgraceful, unpardonable, even if we admit the provocation, and perhaps the one exhibition of emotion for which Angela was unprepared. Lady Barnbogle had hurtled texts at her; John, the brute! had used language heard upon the tow-path; poor young Tressilian had blubbered.

"How dare you laugh?"

"I beg your pardon," said Hugo, "but you did overrate my intelligence. I ought to have foreseen that you would find somebody else. Who is he?"

"I am going back to John. He loves me, he has been very kind; I have suffered horribly—please don't look so incredulous—and I have had to think of Poppet, darling, little innocent!—I have forgiven John—And he has forgiven me."

The phrases were spoken with odd intermittencies of silence. Then Hugo said stupidly:

"You are going back to John!"

The thing was so obvious, so amazingly apropos, so simple, that he gasped. Then, pulling himself together, he said with becoming gravity: "From the bottom of my heart I congratulate both of you."

He stood up. Angela bit her lip; the blush became a flush; she seemed to lose the babyish, innocent expression. A woman of 30 said viciously, with a sharp intake of breath:

"I knew you were always absolutely heartless."

"And an ass. What an ass I have been! Call me every name you can lay your tongue to."

Instantly, her eyes softened, for she saw that he was angry; a tribute she expected, and without which she would have been miserable. How angry he was, she did not divine. His anger welled up slowly with the natural forces so long suppressed behind it, and in front of it, restraining it, the artificial forces which we call convention, good breeding and gentlemanly forbearances.

This thing had stood between him and happiness; this counterfeit presentment of a woman, this "rag and a hank of hair." How agreeable it would be to kill her, to take her white neck between his hands, and with inexorable gentleness wring the life out of her! And then, afterward, to put her into a cardboard box lined with tissue paper, with pink frills at the edge of it, and to tie up with baby riband, and dispatch it, sealed and registered, to—John! Light pastry—This side up—With Care! !

"You are furious," she murmured, "and I thought you would be so glad."

She eyed him gratefully. For an awful moment she had feared that her power over men had ceased. Hugo felt his anger oozing from him. She was right. He ought to be glad, he was glad; she had severed his chains, enfranchised a slave. But for the moment he had not grasped this. Horror and rage possessed him, because at last he had recogni of those terrible, inhuman like monsters who, assum of fair women, lure men t and destroy them.

He went slowly to the As before, upon the called him back, unwill should leave in anger, thought that she was bly something she had
